The Paul D. Bowlen Memorial Broncos Centre

On March 5, 1990, the Denver Broncos moved into the Paul D. Bowlen Memorial Broncos Centre, the state-of-the-art headquarters for the National Football League team. The complex is named for the Broncos owner's late father and is the culmination of Pat Bowlen's desire to maximize a positive working environment for his football team, which captured back-to-back World Championships with victories in Super Bowls XXXII and XXXIII.

During the offseasons leading up to the 2004 and 2005 seasons, the Broncos made significant upgrades to the facility to make it one of the elite training centers in all of professional sports.

The Broncos spent much of the 2005 offseason completely renovating and redesigning their locker room while adding several state-of-the-art features to the spacious area. The club installed brand new maple-wood lockers that are 8.5 feet tall and 3 feet wide. All locker stalls include power and data outlets to provide high-speed Internet access. Additionally, the general layout of the locker room was enhanced to bring offensive and defensive players closer together while at the same time efficiently utilizing the size of the area.

This improvement in 2005 came one year after the club invested $4 million to the facility in an expansion project that significantly upgraded several areas of the complex. That construction project included:

- The Broncos Conditioning Center, which houses the team's weight room and an indoor conditioning area, along with a new home for the field-maintenance departments. The weight room is nearly three times the size of the previous one at approximately 9,000 square feet, which gives the Broncos one of the most comfortable strength-and-conditioning environments in professional sports. The indoor conditioning area—covered with FieldTurf™, which the team uses on one of its three outdoor practice fields—spans approximately 18,000 square feet.
- A training room that increased in size with additional hot and cold tubs for players' use.
- An eating lounge that seats approximately 120, allowing the team to conveniently handle the food-service needs of players, coaches and staff during training camp and throughout the year. The lounge is part of the existing building, taking over the space previously occupied by the weight room.

The Broncos' facility—situated on 13.5 acres in the rapidly expanding Dove Valley Business Park in south Arapahoe County—also includes an administrative building and three full-size practice fields to go along with the Conditioning Center.

The Bowlen Memorial Broncos Centre is a two-story building totaling 90,000 square feet, well over three times the size of the team's previous facility. The ground floor houses the main entry, visitor's area, trophy display area and media room in addition to the football-related facilities, which encompass the locker room, meeting rooms, training area, equipment room and video department.

It is on the second level, which is accessible through two stairways adjacent to the lobby area, that most of the administrative offices are located. These include the offices for Pat Bowlen, Mike Shanahan, Ted Sundquist and Joe Ellis, as well as those of all assistant coaches and football operations personnel. The second floor is divided into one wing for administrative offices and another for coaches and player personnel. The Broncos' extensive computer operation also is located on the second floor. The Bowlen Memorial Broncos Centre also includes a separate building that houses two racquetball courts for training and leisure use by players and staff members as well as a team store.

There is ample practice space available for use by the Broncos on the three outdoor fields, two with natural grass surfaces and one with FieldTurf™, completed in June 2003. FieldTurf™ is a synthetic blade surface with a rubber and sand infill. One of the two grass fields has a unique design system that includes underground wiring to prevent the turf from freezing and thus allows the Broncos to practice year-round on unfrozen natural grass.

Broncos Conditioning Center

Completed in the spring of 2004, the Broncos' state-of-the-art conditioning center is adjacent to the Paul D. Bowlen Broncos Memorial Centre. The weight room is approximately 9,000 square feet, nearly three times the size of the previous one, and affords the football team and its strength-and-conditioning staff one of the finest training facilities in all of professional sports.

Indoor and Outdoor FieldTurf™

In addition to having two natural grass fields on which to practice, the Broncos utilize both an indoor and outdoor FieldTurf™ field during training camp and in the season. The indoor field, located within the Broncos Conditioning Center, spans approximately 18,000 square feet.

Broncos Locker Room

The Broncos spent much of the 2005 offseason redesigning and upgrading their locker room. The club installed brand new maple-wood lockers that are 8.5 feet tall, 3 feet wide and 4 x 2 inches deep and all feature power and data outlets to provide high-speed Internet access. The general layout was enhanced to bring offensive and defensive players closer together while at the same time taking advantage of the size of the area.

Broncos Lounge

The Broncos' food-service lounge, completed in the spring of 2004, occupies the area where the weight room previously was located at the Paul D. Bowlen Memorial Broncos Centre. It seats approximately 120, allowing players, coaches and staff a spacious area to enjoy their meals.

Pat Bowlen

President and CEO

The Denver Broncos are the soul of the city, Pat Bowlen serves as the owner and steward of this sterling franchise, and the legend of both team and owner are marked by achievement and success at every level.

The only two-decade owner of a major league sports team in Colorado history, Mr. Bowlen in 2006 begins his 23rd year as the President and CEO of the Denver Broncos, and he does so presiding over a franchise that is one of the crown jewels among National Football League clubs. Whether judged by the measure of wins and championships, attendance, national television exposure, or by his and the Broncos' reputation locally and throughout the NFL, there are few parallels in the world of professional sports.

The Denver Broncos have grown from being Denver's first major league franchise in 1960 to Colorado's state religion, and Mr. Bowlen wants to continue that fervor for the coming season. His focus for 2006 is once again to have the Denver Broncos win a world championship.

The Broncos President and CEO has fashioned a powerful reputation among his peers as a bold, dynamic leader who is single-minded in his pursuit of excellence, whether representing the Broncos, the city of Denver, the state of Colorado, or the NFL.

For many years, Mr. Bowlen's reputation as an outstanding owner has been well known nationally. In 1987, he finished second in The Sporting News Executive of the Year balloting. In December 2000, ESPN conducted a fan poll asking which NFL owner would be the best for which to play. Mr. Bowlen finished first among all NFL owners with 44.7% of the more than 60,000 votes cast. Mr. Bowlen has been well respected for many years by fans, players, coaches, his peers and NFL executives.

Mr. Bowlen presides over a franchise that by any standard has been one of the NFL's most successful in his over two decades of club ownership (1984-2006). The Broncos are at the pinnacle of sports franchises by any definition.

Pat Bowlen was introduced as the majority owner of the Denver Broncos on March 23, 1984, and that announcement triggered a new era in franchise history. Mr. Bowlen and the Bowlen family acquired 100 percent ownership of the Broncos in July 1985, and currently his brother John Bowlen owns a minority interest in the Broncos.

Mr. Bowlen immediately put his own mark on the Broncos, establishing a solid administration and creating a positive atmosphere that was a major factor in the team's success both on and off the field.

Champions are built from the top and Pat Bowlen is a model of leadership in the scope of his drive and commitment. “I want us to be number one in everything,” Mr. Bowlen has often said in a recurring theme that marks his management style. Everyone knows that it is the owner who provides the financial backing that is integral to a championship team, but many fans are unaware that much of the heart, soul and drive of this championship organization comes directly from Pat Bowlen.

He has made all his managerial moves with one goal in mind—to aggressively position the Denver Broncos for another run at a Super Bowl championship. No one sets higher standards for the Broncos than Pat Bowlen himself, whose goals have always been to have his franchise regarded among the finest in pro sports, with victory being the measuring stick for that success. Thus, the goal of this dynamic and energetic chief executive remains firmly set on repeating the World Championship seasons of 1997 and 1998.

• The Denver Broncos won back-to-back World Championships in 1998 (Super Bowl XXXII vs. the Green Bay Packers 31-24) and 1999 (Super Bowl XXXIII vs. the Atlanta Falcons 34-19).

• Denver became the sixth NFL franchise to win back-to-back Super Bowls joining Green Bay, Miami, Pittsburgh (twice), San Francisco and Dallas. The Broncos became the first AFC team to do it in two decades. New England has since become the seventh franchise to do so.

• The Broncos own AFC Championships under Pat Bowlen in 1986, 1987, 1989, 1997 and 1998.

• The Broncos have had the best home record in pro football over the past 32 years.

• The Broncos won a record seven postseason games in a two-year period (1997-1998).

• The Broncos had 33 wins over a two-year period (1997-1998), at that time the most in football history.

• The Broncos had a record 46 wins over a three-year period (1996-1998).

• The Broncos became the second team in modern NFL history to go undefeated during regular season play at home for three consecutive seasons (1996-1998).

• His 1997-1998 teams performed the astonishing feat of going an entire calendar year without a defeat (12/15/97-12/13/98), at that time a league-record 18 consecutive wins.

• In 1998, Denver won a franchise-record 17 games, 14 in the regular season, including a 13-0 start that resulted in Denver going an entire calendar year without a loss.

• The Broncos have dominated the AFC Western Division by posting more division titles (8), conference Championship Game appearances (7) and Super Bowl appearances (5) than any other club in the division.

• The Broncos have had 13 playoff appearances and just two losing seasons.

• Denver was the only AFC franchise to make three Super Bowl appearances in the 1980s.

• In addition to winning eight division titles, Mr. Bowlen's franchise has had regular-season win totals of 14, 13 (three times), 12 (twice), 11 (four times), and 10 (three times). Thirteen of the 14 best years in team history have come during Mr. Bowlen's ownership.

• When the Broncos won Super Bowl XXXII, they were the first AFC team to win in 14 years and just the second wild card to win a Super Bowl under the NFL's present playoff system.

Pat Bowlen also has enjoyed tremendous off-the-field success as well.

• In Mr. Bowlen's 22 years of ownership, the Broncos have played 25 postseason games, all of which have been sold out.

• The Broncos have had a string of home sellouts for 37 consecutive years, longest in the AFC and second only to Washington in the NFC.

• The home game sellout streak is now at 292 consecutive regular and postseason games through 2005.

• Denver has led the NFL in attendance over that 22-year period. The Broncos have drawn nearly 15 million fans to their home games from 1984-2005, highest in the NFL.

• Mr. Bowlen ushered in a new era in Denver Broncos football history in 2001 when the state-of-the-art INVESCO Field at Mile High opened. Mr. Bowlen contributed more than $150 million to the construction of the new stadium.

• Mr. Bowlen has worked closely with Head Coach Mike Shanahan in maintaining the Broncos' roster in the era of free agency which has resulted in unprecedented player stability.

• In addition with his role with the Broncos, Mr. Bowlen was a key figure in securing the league's labor and TV contracts. He is currently Chair of the prestigious NFL Broadcasting Committee and is a member of both the NFL Compensation Committee and the NFL Finance Committee. He also serves on the NFL Diversity Committee and the NFL Ventures Committee.

• In his current role as Chair of the NFL Broadcast Committee, Mr. Bowlen was responsible for the negotiations on the NFL's $18 billion TV contract, the most lucrative single-sport contact in history.

• He was responsible for the Broncos’ headquarters, the Paul D. Bowlen Memorial Centre, a 90,000 square foot modern office and training facility located on the team's 13.5 acre complex in Dove Valley, Arapahoe County. The facility is named after Pat Bowlen's father. The Broncos moved into the new facility on March 5, 1990. During the 2004 and ‘05 offseasons, an extensive remodeling and expansion plan was implemented, assuring that the team headquarters would remain at the top level of NFL training facilities.

Pat Bowlen was born in Praire du Chien, Wis., where he attended high school. He went on to the University of Oklahoma, earning degrees in both business (1965) and law (1968). After successful careers in oil, gas and real estate, he purchased the Denver Broncos in 1984.

He is Chairman of the Board of Denver Broncos Charities and in that capacity has donated more than $25 million, which includes past philanthropic collaborations with McCormick Tribune Foundation. Mr. Bowlen served as the Honorary Chairman of the Colorado Special Olympics for 19 years and was the organization's Outstanding Celebrity in 1993. Mr. Bowlen has served as the Honorary Chairman of the Colorado Family Classic to benefit St. Joseph's Hospital for 21 years, and this is his 11th year as Chairman of the Capuchin Friars Brown Robe Benefit fundraising dinner. He also is chairman of the Cherish the Children Gala, chaired the 1989 Centennial Scholarship rally at the University of Northern Colorado in Greeley and was Co-Chairman of the Rose Medical Center Critical Care Campaign from 1986-89.

In addition, Mr. Bowlen was elected to the University of Denver Board of Trustees in 1987. He is currently a member of the DU audit committee. His previous DU committee memberships include the Institutional Advancement Committee and Institutional Advancement/University Relations subcommittee. He also was named to the Colorado Academy Board of Trustees in 1991. A member of the American Ireland Fund Dinner Committee for the past 14 years and a Trustee for the Irish Community Center for seven years, the Broncos' owner also is a member of Colorado Concern. He serves on the Board of Trustees of the Hawaii Maritime Center and was the 1992 honoree at the American Ireland Fund Dinner.

Mr. Bowlen is a member of several other clubs and societies, including the Chief Executive's Organization, the Alberta Bar Association and the Law Society of Alberta. He also was a past member of the Young President's Organization.

Mr. Bowlen maintains an active lifestyle and exercises extensively as part of his daily regimen. He has competed in the Ironman Triathlon - an event in which one must swim 2.4 miles, ride 112 miles on a bicycle, and run 26.2 miles, all consecutively - as well as in other triathlon races and several marathons.

Mike Shanahan is one of just six head coaches in the history of the NFL to win back-to-back Super Bowls, with Denver's victory over Green Bay in Super Bowl XXXII followed by its defeat of Atlanta in Super Bowl XXXIII. No head coach in the NFL has won more games than Shanahan's 122 victories over the last 11 seasons, and he has compiled a 70-18 home record in the regular season, including three consecutive undefeated campaigns from 1996-98 as well as an 8-0 mark in 2005.

Mike Shanahan

Executive Vice President of Football Operations / Head Coach

Mike Shanahan in 2006 begins his 12th season as head coach of the Denver Broncos, and his first decade of measurement against the game's all-time coaches places him among the pro football elite.

In the 86-year history of professional football, there are just four coaches who have spent at least 10 seasons with one team, and in that period have had more world championship seasons than losing campaigns.

That list includes only Paul Brown with Cleveland (17 seasons, three championships, one losing season, Hall of Fame member), Joe Gibbs with Washington (14 seasons, three championships, two losing seasons, Hall of Fame member), John Madden with Oakland (10 seasons, one championship, no losing seasons, Hall of Fame member), and Mike Shanahan with the Broncos (11 seasons, two championships, one losing season).

A dynamic and disciplined leader who completely revitalized the Denver organization and has made the Broncos a model of how to deal successfully with the current personnel and financial dynamics of pro football, he is the focal point from which the entire organization takes its energy and direction. When the success of a leader is achieved, and repeated, in an atmosphere of great pressure and expectations, that leader is elevated to elite status. Mike Shanahan has done that, is universally regarded at the highest level by the football community, and there is no proof of merit like the record itself.

Last year, he returned the Broncos to the AFC Championship Game after guiding Denver to a 13-3 record and another AFC West title, defeating the defending world champion New England Patriots and ending their NFL-record 10-game postseason winning streak in the process.

While the championship game loss to Pittsburgh was a grim disappointment, Shanahan has been widely praised for his off-season work in adding key player personnel pieces to the puzzle for 2006 and long-range success.

Every successful team has one key leader, and those organizations that have achieved the greatest success have an ultimate leader—an individual combining exceptional talent and organizational skills with the dynamic drive to lead others to success. One of the most brilliant minds in football, Executive Vice President of Football Operations and Head Coach Mike Shanahan is that lightning rod for the Denver Broncos' championship history, and few coaches in NFL annals have spearheaded as much dramatic achievement.

Under Shanahan's superb guidance, the Broncos have had staggering team accomplishments, the scope of which is dramatically outlined by the following:

- Posted the most wins in pro football history in a two-year period (33 in 1997-98; New England has since won 34 in 2003-04).
- Posted the most wins in pro football history in a three-year period (46 in 1996-98).
- Won the most postseason games in history over a two-year period (seven, 1997-98).
- Won 18 consecutive games over 1997-98 to tie the all-time NFL record at that time for consecutive wins. The Broncos went undefeated for a calendar year during that streak, from December 15, 1997, until December 13, 1998.
- Been undefeated for three consecutive regular seasons (1996-98) at home, just the second team ever to be undefeated and untied at home in three consecutive years.
- Posted a 22-2 record in its last 24 games during the back-to-back title years.
- Posted the NFL's best per-game scoring average (25.2 ppg., 4,440 points).
- The Broncos rank first in the NFL in rushing yards (25,022, 142.2 per game).
- The Broncos rank first in the NFL in total offense (64,235 yards, 365.0 per game).
- The Broncos' home record is 70-18 (.795) in regular-season play, a mark that is the franchise's best.
- Denver is 69-2 (.972) when scoring 30 or more points (including 4-0 in postseason).
- Denver is 41-0 at home when scoring 30 or more points (including 2-0 in postseason).

In 2004, he joined the exclusive club of head coaches to post 100 wins in his first 10 seasons with one club, finishing the campaign and decade tied for fourth on this ultra-impressive list of 12 coaches, six of whom are in the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

His stunning record as the Broncos' mentor places him in the legendary class of Vince Lombardi, Don Shula, Chuck Noll, Jimmy Johnson and Bill Belichick as the only six coaches with back-to-back Super Bowl championships. Lombardi, Shula and Noll already have been inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

No head coach in the NFL has won more games than Mike Shanahan's 122 victories over the last 11 seasons, and his Broncos come into 2006 determined to return to Super Bowl contention—both of those qualities are directly attributable to leadership by arguably the finest head coach and most fertile football mind in the game today.

Those 122 wins by Mike Shanahan include seven consecutive in the playoffs (he is the only coach to have produced seven playoff wins in two years) during the 1997 and 1998 World Championship seasons, years in which he firmly established himself among the game's sideline greats. His postseason winning percentage is .615 on an 8-5 record.

He also has brought great stability to the Denver franchise, with his 12 years with the club ranking as the third-longest tenure by an active coach with his current team (trailing only Bill Cowher of Pittsburgh, who is in his 15th campaign with the Steelers, and Jeff Fisher of Tennessee, who is in his 13th season as the Titans' head coach).

However, whether measured by record or tenure, he does not rest on his laurels, nor allow his team to, even though in the past 11 seasons his overall record of accomplishment has been unmatched. His accomplishments since taking command of the Broncos are far greater than most coaches have achieved in entire careers, yet Mike Shanahan does not live in the past but puts all his ample talents and energy into success for the present, thus stamping the 2006 Denver Broncos as a team to be reckoned with in the National Football League.

Despite the almost unparalleled level of success attained in the last 11 years, complacency and satisfaction are qualities completely foreign to Mike Shanahan, a brilliant coach and leader who is perpetually driven by the goal of taking his team back to the Super Bowl.

The Broncos stand as the perfect symbol of a team manifesting the personality of its head coach—maintaining discipline, focus, preparation, mental toughness and physical effort—all qualities indelibly stamped onto the franchise by Shanahan, whose superb guidance directed the Broncos to those victories in Super Bowls XXXII and XXXIII.

Shanahan elevated his career and the Broncos to new levels in 1997 and 1998 as the intense and personable Denver Broncos head coach made his mark on Super Bowl history, coming into the 2006 campaign as one of only 12 all-time National Football League head coaches with two Super Bowl victories, and one of four members of that exclusive fraternity actively coaching (along with Joe Gibbs of Washington, Bill Parcells of Dallas, and Bill Belichick of New England). Within that select group of 12 coaches, six have been inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame—the previously referenced Lombardi, Shula, and Noll, along with Joe Gibbs, Bill Walsh and Tom Landry.

Following his magnificent 1998 season, the Broncos' coach was named AFC Coach of the Year by the Kansas City 101 Club and by the Touchdown Club of Columbus (his second time to be so honored by each organization).

He is the first coach in history to win two Super Bowl titles in his first four years coaching a team, and he is the only coach to have directed two different teams to a 500-point season (the 1998 Broncos scored 501 points, and Shanahan's 1994 San Francisco offense scored 505). The 500-point mark has only been reached eight times overall in pro football history.

The architect of San Francisco's offense in the 49ers' 1994 World Championship season, Shanahan not only can boast of three world titles in the past 12 years, but he is one of only 11 coaches ever to win Super Bowls with two different clubs.

His winning percentage is the best by any coach in Denver history—not only did he reach the aforementioned 100-win plateau in 2004, but in 1998 he reached his 40th win faster than any coach in franchise history, and in 2000 he reached his 50th win faster than any coach in franchise history. Team President Pat Bowlen heaped additional praise on his brilliant coach by naming him Vice President of Football Operations during the 1998 campaign.

While his seal of leadership already had been permanently ingrained into the entire Broncos organization, Shanahan took his first steps in the direction of legend when he joined Tom Flores in 1997 as the only two coaches in pro football history to post four wins in one postseason.

In his third and fourth seasons at the helm of the Denver Broncos, Mike Shanahan not only led the Broncos to their first Super Bowl victories, but in 1998 he became the only coach in history to fashion seven postseason wins in a two-year period.

Mike Shanahan has that exceptional postseason record of 8-5, which added to a regular-season mark of 114-62 give him a combined record of 122-67 (an outstanding .646 percentage) in 11 years as head coach of the Broncos. Not only is that record the best among all coaches in Denver history, but his home record is a staggering 70-18 (.795) in regular-season play, as referenced above. His winning percentage in six years at Mile High Stadium (1995-2000) was .813, the third best by one coach, in one stadium, in NFL history.

Since Shanahan took over the Broncos' coaching reins in 1995, Denver has scored 30 or more points 41 times (twice in postseason) at home and 20 or more points 80 times (five times in playoff action) at home in 88 regular season and six playoff games. Including road games, the Broncos have scored 30 or more points 71 times (including four times in the playoffs) and 20 or more points 143 times (including nine times in the playoffs) in the 176 regular-season games and 13 postseason games under him. As noted above, Denver's record in the 71 games in which it has scored 30 or more points under Shanahan is an amazing 69-2 (which includes 4-0 in playoff competition), including a 41-0 mark (which includes a 2-0 playoff record) at Mile High Stadium and INVESCO Field at Mile High.

A dynamic and disciplined leader who has completely revitalized the Denver organization over the past decade, Shanahan is the focal point from which the entire organization takes its direction and energy.

Renowned for his organizational ability and recognized as one of the brightest offensive strategists in football, Shanahan has restructured both the team and the entire football operations department of the Broncos to deal successfully with the new personnel and financial dynamics of pro football.

Over the last 14 years (11 in Denver and the previous three in San Francisco), Mike Shanahan's offenses have finished number one in the NFL four times, second twice, third three times and fourth once; in two of those campaigns Denver was just 17 and 83 yards short of the number one spot.

Since 1995, his first year in Denver as head coach of the Broncos, Denver has stressed the running game as one of the keys to football's most prolific offense. In those 11 seasons, the Broncos have led the league in rushing yards (25,022, with the Broncos as the first team to go above the 20,000-yard plateau in that period) and posted the NFL's most points with 4,440 while leading the league in total offense with 64,235 yards. In regular-season games under Shanahan, the Broncos have averaged 142.2 rushing yards (best in the NFL), 25.2 points per game (best in the NFL) and 365.0 total yards (best in the NFL). As those statistics would indicate, this also has been by far the most prolific 11-year offensive period in franchise history.

In 1998, the defending world champions stormed to their second consecutive title with an offense that scored 501 points and finished third in the NFL in total yards while the defense had another spectacular postseason, allowing just 25 points and two touchdowns while sparking a remarkable 13-1 turnover ratio in the playoffs.

The 1998 Broncos set team records with 14 regular season and 17 overall wins, starting off with a stunning 13-0 record and marking Denver as a team that went an entire calendar year without a loss.

Ten Broncos were named to the Pro Bowl following that magnificent season, but throughout it all Shanahan's inspired direction was nationally recognized as the driving force behind the back-to-back World Champion Broncos.

In 1997, he directed a Denver offense that scored a total of 583 points (29.2 per game) during the entire 1997 season, the fifth-highest total in NFL history at the time (currently ninth all-time) and the second-highest total in AFC history at the time (currently third all-time) for a combined regular and postseason. Of course, in 1998 Shanahan's Broncos topped that mark by producing 596 regular and postseason points. The all-time high of 636 points came from the 1994 World Champion San Francisco 49ers, for whom Shanahan was the offensive coordinator.

He led his team to a 12-4 regular season record in 1997, marking the first time in franchise history that the team won 12 or more games in back-to-back seasons.

His high-powered offense reached 30 points a franchise record nine times during the 1997 regular season and twice in the postseason. Denver also broke the franchise record for most points in a season (previously 391 in 1996) in just its 13th game of 1997 and broke the record for most touchdowns in a season (previously 47 in 1996) in just their 14th game.

The Broncos stormed through 1997 postseason play to their eventual World Championship with a home win over Jacksonville and subsequent road victories at Kansas City and Pittsburgh, defeating those Super Bowl contenders in their home parks on back-to-back weeks, answering any lingering questions about the status of Denver as the best team in the American Football Conference.

It has been widely documented that the Broncos posted one of the greatest upsets in Super Bowl history, played in perhaps the best Super Bowl game ever, and ended the National Football Conference's 13-year domination in the NFL's Championship Game.

The Broncos earned their win—in fact, their four wins—in convincing style.

Under Mike Shanahan's steady control and forceful leadership, the Broncos had no question that they were the best team in football, and their postseason performance reflected that belief every step of the way.

In 1997 postseason play, Denver scored nine touchdowns in nine goal-to-go situations, including four-of-four in Super Bowl XXXII. Conversely, opponents started six drives in Denver territory in the postseason, netting just six points (two field goals).

Denver scored 13 touchdowns in 16 red zone opportunities in the postseason and of the Broncos' 46 postseason possessions, Denver scored 16 times (14 touchdowns and two field goals), accomplishing that feat against teams with a combined record of 51-16 at the time of each game.

The Broncos had posted the biggest win by a sports team in Colorado history and one of the most significant in NFL history, all with Shanahan pointing the way. The Broncos had entered the playoffs as a wild card, but their head coach never let the team's compass waver even slightly from the only goal he had ever set.

Under Shanahan's tutelage, the Broncos led the entire NFL in total offense in 1996 after having rewritten the Denver record books in 1995.

Shanahan in 1996 led his club to a 13-3 record that was the best in the NFL as well as the finest record in Denver history, earning both NFL Coach of the Year (Touchdown Club of Columbus) and AFC Coach of the Year (Kansas City 101 Club) honors for 1996.

His team's performance in 1996 gave notice that this is a regime driven by a single goal, that of taking the Broncos to the pinnacle of pro football success. The Broncos were undefeated in October and November as they ultimately built their record to 12-1 in clinching their division title and playoff berth on December 1, thus becoming one of the earliest teams to clinch in NFL history. In clinching home-field advantage on Dec. 1 as well, the Broncos joined the 1985 Chicago Bears as the only two teams in the past 27 years to accomplish that by Week 13.

While the disappointment of Denver's 1996 playoff loss to Jacksonville gripped Shanahan as much as it did the entire region, it also served to further his resolve to return the Broncos to that level once again.

In his first season as the Denver Broncos' head coach, Shanahan improved the team to a .500 record (8-8) and contention in the very competitive AFC West while immediately stamping the Denver offense with his signature as the most productive unit in the AFC, finishing third in the entire NFL. Under Shanahan in 1995, the Broncos had the best offense in franchise history, breaking team records in points scored (388), total yardage (6,040), total passing yardage (4,260), first downs passing (205) and highest average gain per play (5.7), while tying the team records for touchdown passes (27) and average gain per rush (4.5). At the same time, the Broncos' defense improved 13 positions, from last in the NFL the previous year to 15th under Shanahan's leadership.

Denver Broncos President and Chief Executive Officer Pat Bowlen named Mike Shanahan as Head Coach of his NFL franchise on January 31, 1995, ushering in a new era for a team that has made five Super Bowl appearances under Bowlen's ownership. The Broncos' head coach has complete control of all aspects of football operations.

Shanahan, 53, came to Denver from the World Champion San Francisco 49ers, where he served as offensive coordinator for three seasons (1992-94). The 49ers' offense reached astonishing levels under Shanahan's leadership. San Francisco's three-year offensive averages under Shanahan's direction were the most productive in the history of pro football. His three-year averages included being number one in total points (an average of 470 per year), total touchdowns (61), rushing TDs (24), passing TDs (32), third-down efficiency (49%), total offense (an average of 6,225 yards annually) and average yards per play (6.2 yards per attempt).

His three-year period as offensive coordinator included the 49ers setting numerous team records during Shanahan's tenure, including the first time ever that San Francisco led the NFL in total offense in consecutive seasons (1993 and 1994), along with remarkable records for most touchdowns (66), passing yards (4,302), total offense (6,435), first downs (372), completion percentage (70.3%), and average yards per play (6.30).

San Francisco quarterback Steve Young re-wrote many NFL passing records and was named the NFL most valuable player twice in his three years under Shanahan's guidance, in addition to throwing for six touchdowns and earning Super Bowl XXIX most valuable player honors.

During his NFL career, Shanahan has been a part of teams that have played in 10 AFC or NFC Championship Games, in addition to his six Super Bowl appearances, five with Denver and the Super Bowl XXIX game with San Francisco. In his nine seasons coaching at the collegiate level, Shanahan's teams participated in eight bowl games, winning two national championships.

A driving force behind the Broncos' offense for all three of their Super Bowl appearances in the 1980s (following the 1986, 1987, and 1989 seasons), he first came to Denver in 1984 as coach of the club's wide receivers. He served as offensive coordinator from 1985-87, and then returned to Denver as quarterbacks coach on Oct. 16, 1989, after serving as head coach of the Los Angeles Raiders in 1988 and through the first four games of the 1989 campaign. Shanahan inherited a team that was 5-10 in 1987 and improved it to 7-9 his first season. After starting 1-3 the following year, he was fired.

His second stint in Denver included not only the 1989 Super Bowl appearance by the Broncos, but the team's fourth AFC Championship Game appearance of the Bowlen era (1991 at Buffalo), with Shanahan again serving as offensive coordinator.

A native of Oak Park, Ill. (8/24/52), Michael Edward Shanahan attended East Leyden High School in Franklin Park, where he earned numerous honors. In a student body population of 2,500, Shanahan was voted athlete of the year as well as most valuable player in both football and track. He set a still-standing single-game school record with 258 yards rushing on 17 carries (a 15.2 average).

He received a scholarship to Eastern Illinois University, where he played quarterback and lost a kidney in the spring game of his junior year, which began his coaching career a year earlier than was intended. Mike also received his bachelor's and master's degrees at EIU.

He began his coaching career at Oklahoma in 1975-76, and the school won the national championship in his first year on their staff (1975).

Shanahan was Northern Arizona's backfield coach in 1977 at the age of 24, and the Lumberjacks averaged a school-record 391.1 yards that season. A year later, Shanahan returned to Eastern Illinois as offensive coordinator and helped guide his alma mater to the Division II title. The year before Shanahan's arrival, the team was 1-10. In 1979, he served as offensive coordinator at Minnesota, where he implemented the run-and-shoot offense, with the result being that the Gophers set 40 school offensive records.

Mike moved on to Florida the following year, inheriting the second poorest offense in Division I football, as well as a team record of 0-10-1. In Mike's four years, the team broke many offensive school records and went to four consecutive bowl games. During his stint as a college coach, his teams had a combined record of 77-29-3.

Recognized as one of the most dynamic offensive minds in the game, Shanahan thus was an assistant coach in college at age 21, an offensive coordinator at the Division I level by 25 and at the NFL level at 32 in his first Denver stint.

Mike and his wife Peggy have two children, son Kyle and daughter Krystal. Kyle is a graduate of the University of Texas and is the Houston Texans' wide receivers coach. Krystal also is a graduate of the University of Texas.

TED SUNDQUIST

GENERAL MANAGER

Ted Sundquist begins his 15th year with the Denver Broncos in 2006 and fifth as the team's general manager, having been named to that position in 2002 after 10 years in player personnel for the National Football League team.

Since being named the Broncos' general manager on Jan. 28, 2002, Sundquist has helped Denver post the NFL's fifth-best regular-season record (42-22 / .656) during the last four years. Denver is one of only four teams in the NFL to have reached the playoffs in each of the last three years, including the 2005 season in which the AFC West champion Broncos hosted the AFC Championship Game.

One of the youngest major personnel executives in the NFL, Sundquist holds the responsibility of negotiating player contracts and managing the football operations department's $110 million budget. He also oversees the Broncos' entire player personnel department, including all pro and college operations.

In addition to supervising pro and college scouting, Sundquist is responsible for salary cap and contract analysis, video and football technologies, equipment, operations, training and medical personnel, training camp and turf management. He is charged with establishing and implementing policies and practices within these departments of football operations.

Sundquist is involved in all areas of financial planning and with respect to personnel decisions related to the signing of free agents, the selection of players in the college draft, trades, waivers and other football-related activities, including the long-term management of Denver's salary cap.

For the past 10 years, during which time the Broncos have been one of NFL's most successful organizations, Sundquist has evaluated every draftable player and endorsed such standouts as Terrell Davis, Ashley Lelie, Mike Anderson, Trevor Pryce, Ian Gold, Al Wilson, D.J. Williams, Domonique Foxworth and Darrent Williams. He also has had success with several undrafted free agents such as Matt Lepsis and Lenny Walls, who both developed into starters for the club.

As general manager, Sundquist has been instrumental in the acquisition of many free agents who have made key contributions on the field, including Jake Plummer, Nick Ferguson and Mario Fatafehi in 2003 and John Lynch and Marco Coleman in 2004. He orchestrated the trade that brought six-time Pro Bowl cornerback Champ Bailey to Denver in March 2004, a move that paid immediate dividends as Bailey earned the first two Associated Press All-Pro selections of his career in two seasons with Denver.

The first day of the 2006 NFL Draft saw the Broncos' personnel department upgrade the club for both the present and future. Denver acquired Pro Bowl wide receiver Javon Walker from Green Bay in exchange for a second-round pick shortly after trading up four spots in the first round with St. Louis to select former Vanderbilt University quarterback Jay Cutler with the draft's 11th overall choice.

During the 2005 offseason, Sundquist led Denver's acquisition of two players who were recent top-3 NFL Draft choices in Cleveland defensive linemen Courtney Brown (free agent) and Gerard Warren (trade). The Broncos' 2005 NFL Draft class also made major contributions to the club's 13-3 finish last season with cornerbacks Williams (2nd round) and Foxworth (3rd round) starting nine and seven games, respectively.

Sundquist spent six very successful seasons (1996-2001) as the Broncos' director of college scouting before being named general manager. He apprenticed under the Broncos' late college scouting director Jerry Frei in 1995 and was a pro and college scout for the club from 1993-94.

At age 44, Sundquist has already established himself as one of the league's top player personnel evaluators. A testament to this first came in 1997 when Sundquist was selected to sit on the five-member Executive Committee of National Football Scouting, Inc., for which he now serves on the Board of Directors. He also is a member of the selection committee for the annual National Invitational Camp, which is commonly referred to as the NFL's Scouting Combine, and sits on the NFL's College Advisory Committee.

Sundquist, who earned a master's degree in public administration from the University of Colorado in 1992, joined the Broncos after working at the U.S. Air Force Academy. A graduate of the school, Sundquist was a member of the Air Force Academy's football coaching staff in 1989 and was the head coach of the USAFA Prepatory School from 1990-92.

Demonstrating a background more diverse than many in his profession, Sundquist was stationed in Berlin from 1986-88 as a flight commander for the 6912 Electronic Security Group. In that capacity, he supervised and directed 45 Air Force personnel as well as $35 million worth of equipment. He also reported highly perishable defense information to Theater Tactical Commanders and briefed general officers and state department officials regarding flight operations.

Sundquist also was a member of the U.S. National Bobsled Team from 1984-88 and competed in the 1988 Olympic Trials. After playing football at the Air Force Academy, where he participated on two bowl teams and was selected team captain as a senior, he began his career in football on the school's coaching staff in 1984.

A Texas native, Sundquist played at Spring Woods High School in Houston with major-league pitching great Roger Clemens.

Sundquist was born May 1, 1962, in Houston. He and his wife, Amy, live in Parker, Colo.

COORDINATORS/ASSISTANT COACHES

MIKE HEIMERDINGER

ASSISTANT HEAD COACH

Mike Heimerdinger begins his first season as assistant head coach for the Denver Broncos in 2006 and enters his 12th year as an NFL coach. Heimerdinger, who has 31 years of coaching experience, officially joined the Broncos' staff on Jan. 30, 2006.

Heimerdinger joins the Broncos after spending the last six years as an offensive coordinator in the NFL with the New York Jets (2005) and Tennessee Titans (2000-04). The 53-year-old will begin his second stint on the Broncos' coaching staff after helping Denver to victories in Super Bowl XXXII and XXXIII as its wide receivers coach from 1995-99.

In 2005, Heimerdinger directed a Jets offense that was forced to use five different quarterbacks because of injuries and one that lost two starting linemen—including six-time Pro Bowl center Kevin Mawae—to injured reserve. New York's offense showed improvement toward the end of the year with first-year starting quarterback Brooks Bollinger compiling an 87.7 passer rating and leading the team to a 2-2 record in its final four games.

Heimerdinger also worked with running back Curtis Martin as the Jets' offensive coordinator in 2005, a year in which Martin became only the fourth player in NFL history to reach 14,000 career rushing yards. Martin finished the season with 735 rushing yards in 12 games as one of eight Jets offensive players whose year ended early on injured reserve.

As the Titans' offensive coordinator from 2000-04, Heimerdinger helped Tennessee's offense rank among the NFL's most productive and consistent units. Several Titans players also received prestigious individual accolades under Heimerdinger, most notably quarterback Steve McNair and the Associated Press Most Valuable Player Award he shared in 2003 with Colts signal-caller Peyton Manning.

Heimerdinger directed Tennessee's offense to two top-10 NFL rankings in overall yardage with a 343.8-yard average in 2003 and a 334.5-yard average in 2001, totals that both ranked eighth in the league. His offenses also placed in the top-5 of league rankings in time-of-possession in all five seasons, including No. 1 rankings in 2000 and '02. In addition, Tennessee converted 40.6 percent of its third-down attempts under Heimerdinger from 2000-04 to rank seventh in the NFL during that period.

Individually, six Titans offensive players earned a total of nine Pro Bowl appearances under Heimerdinger. McNair compiled the highest quarterback rating (90.9) in the NFL from 2001-03 (min. 40 starts) while wide receiver Derrick Mason totaled the sixth-highest receiving yards total (4,611 yds.) in the league from 2001-04.

Despite McNair missing eight games in 2004 with a sternum injury, Heimerdinger's offense still featured a 1,000-yard rusher (Chris Brown) and two 1,000-yard receivers (Drew Bennett and Mason). Mason led all NFL wide receivers with 96 receptions and totaled his fourth consecutive 1,000-yard output as part of an offense that led the league in goal-to-go scoring (83.3 percent TD rate).

With co-MVP McNair leading the NFL with a 100.4 passer rating in 2003, Heimerdinger's offense flourished and became the third unit in the league since 1970 to score 30 or more points in six consecutive games. Tennessee finished the year with the second-most points (435) in franchise history, most since 1961, and ranked fifth in the league in scoring. Heimerdinger's offense also proved adept at protecting the football, committing the fourth-fewest giveaways (21) in the NFL, and helped running back Eddie George record his third 1,000-yard rushing season (1,031 yds.) since 2000.

In 2002, Heimerdinger helped the Titans advance to the AFC Championship Game with an offense that led the NFL with a 32:47 minute time-of-possession average. The Titans allowed the second-fewest sacks (21) in the league, a total that was the second-lowest in franchise history in a 16-game schedule. Heimerdinger's group also placed fifth in the NFL in third-down success (43.5 percent) and sixth in red-zone production (58.9 percent TD rate).

Heimerdinger helped McNair (21 TD passes, 90.2 rating) in 2001 become one of five quarterbacks in the NFL that year to throw for 20 or more touchdowns and compile a passer rating above 90. A year earlier, he made an immediate impact in his first season as Tennessee's offensive coordinator in 2000 with George running for a career-high 1,509 yards to rank third in the NFL. George's total was the third-highest in franchise history, and the running back was one of five Titans offensive players to earn Pro Bowl accolades in 2000.

Heimerdinger picked up a pair of Super Bowl rings with the Broncos during his time as their wide receivers coach from 1995-99, helping the team to victories in Super Bowl XXXII and XXXIII in consecutive years from 1997-98. His unit was a key reason why the Denver offense ranked in the top-3 in the NFL in overall yards during four of his five seasons, including consecutive No. 1 league rankings from 1996-97.

Heimerdinger was instrumental in developing Rod Smith from an undrafted free agent (1994) into a consistent 1,000-yard receiver who went on to become the NFL's all-time leading undrafted player in every career receiving category. Smith totaled three consecutive 1,000-yard receiving seasons from 1997-99 with Heimerdinger as his position coach while veteran Ed McCaffrey earned the first Pro Bowl nomination of his eight-year career in 1998.

Heimerdinger's tutelage helped Smith and McCaffrey both surpass the 1,000-yard receiving mark in 1998 and '99, becoming the first pair of Denver wide receivers to accomplish that feat in consecutive seasons. Smith had 1,222 yards in 1998 and 1,020 yards in '99 while McCaffrey chipped in 1,053 yards in 1998 and 1,018 yards in '99.

McCaffrey's 1,000-yard receiving outputs under Heimerdinger were the first two of his career with the veteran's first 1,000-yard season in 1998 coming in his eighth year in the NFL. McCaffrey earned the first Pro Bowl nomination of his career that season and was selected as a second-team Associated Press All-Pro.

Heimerdinger came to Denver from Duke University, where he was the offensive coordinator and offensive backs coach in 1994. In his one season with the Blue Devils, he directed an offense that finished 15th in the country in scoring (32.7 points per game), putting up more than 40 points on five occasions. Duke enjoyed one of the finest seasons in school history in 1994, finishing with an 8-3 regular-season record and earning a bid to the Hall of Fame Bowl to mark only its second bowl appearance in 35 years.

Heimerdinger also helped to develop the skills of Duke running back Robert Baldwin, who led the Atlantic Coast Conference in rushing with 1,187 yards while scoring 12 touchdowns.

Heimerdinger was offensive coordinator at Rice University from 1989-93 and ran an attack that produced 1991 Doak Walker Award winner Trevor Cobb along with quarterbacks Donald Hollas and Bert Emmanuel. The Owls produced the school's first back-to-back winning seasons since 1960-61 with Heimerdinger directing their offense.

Before his stay at Rice, Heimerdinger was the offensive coordinator at Cal State-Fullerton in 1988. Among the offensive records recorded by his unit that season was a new standard for points in a game (58).

Heimerdinger coached the University of Florida's wide receivers from 1983-87 and worked with Broncos Head Coach Mike Shanahan on the Gators' staff in 1983 with Shanahan serving as their assistant head coach/offensive coordinator. With Shanahan as offensive coordinator and Heimerdinger as receivers coach in 1983, the Gators ranked among the nation's top passing teams. They also enjoyed bowl success during Heimerdinger's tenure, playing in the 1983 Gator Bowl and 1987 Aloha Bowl while posting identical 9-1-1 records in both 1984 and 1985.

Heimerdinger's other collegiate experience came as the wide receivers coach at Air Force Academy in 1981 and as North Texas State's quarterbacks coach in 1982. He began his coaching career in 1975 as an assistant coach at Grant High School in Fox Lake, Ill., and worked there until serving for two seasons (1978-79) as the head coach at Johnsburg High School in Johnsburg, Ill.

Heimerdinger earned his bachelor's degree in history from Eastern Illinois in 1975 and his master's degree in administration from Northern Illinois. He played wide receiver at Eastern from 1970-71 and also played for the Panthers' baseball team as a centerfielder, participating in the Division II College World Series in 1974.

Heimerdinger was born Oct. 13, 1952, in DeKalb, Ill. His wife's name is Kathie, and he has two children: Alicia (24) and Brian (20).

RICK DENNISON

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR

Rick Dennison enters his 12th year on the Denver Broncos' coaching staff in 2006 and his first as offensive coordinator, a position he was named to on Jan. 30, 2006. Dennison, 48, spent the last 11 years working as an assistant for the Broncos, coaching the offensive line from 2001-05, special teams from 1997-00 and serving as an offensive assistant from 1995-96.

Assistant Coach 1992-94

He also brings a wealth of experience as a former NFL linebacker who played nine seasons with the Broncos from 1982-90 and appeared in three Super Bowls during that time.

As the Broncos' offensive line coach from 2001-05, Dennison oversaw a unit that annually was regarded as the best in the business. Anchored by five-time Pro Bowl center Tom Nalen, the Broncos' line helped the team rank among the NFL's top-10 in overall yards in each of the last four seasons.

The Broncos rushed for an NFL-best 11,644 yards and produced four individual 1,000-yard rushing seasons from 2001-05 with Dennison as offensive line coach. Denver's offensive line was equally adept at pass blocking under Dennison, surrendering the fifth-lowest sack total (151) in the NFL from 2001-05 and allowing a franchise-low 15 sacks in 2004.

Dennison's line paved the way for the NFL's fifth-ranked offense (360.4 ypg.) in 2005, helping Denver post a 13-3 record and capture the AFC West title en route to advancing to the AFC Championship Game. The Broncos ranked second in the league in rushing offense (158.7 ypg.) and totaled the second-highest single-season rushing total (2,539 yds.) in franchise history.

Denver's offensive line also was pivotal in 2005 to the Broncos nearly becoming only the fourth team in NFL history to feature two players with at least 1,000 rushing yards in the same year. Mike Anderson eclipsed the 1,000-yard mark (1,014 yds.), but Tatum Bell (921 yds.) fell only 79 rushing yards short of giving Denver that unique distinction.

The Broncos' offensive line continued its dominance under Dennison in 2004 by setting a franchise record for fewest sacks in giving up only 15 quarterback takedowns for the third-best mark in the NFL. Dennison's group was instrumental in the Broncos ranking fourth in the NFL in rushing behind Reuben Droughns' 1,240 yards, the converted fullback's first 1,000-yard rushing season and the third 1,000-yard performance by a Bronco in the last four years. Additionally, the offensive line helped quarterback Jake Plummer set a franchise record for most passing yards (4,089) in a season and tie the club's single-season mark for touchdown passes (27).

In 2003, the Broncos finished as the AFC's third-best offense (7th overall), which included the NFL's No. 2 rushing attack. The line cleared the way for running back Clinton Portis, who led the Broncos with 1,591 yards rushing and 14 touchdowns.

In addition, Dennison's 2003 line helped welcome new starting quarterback Jake Plummer by allowing the fourth-fewest sacks (25) in a single season in team history. Plummer compiled a 9-2 record behind the line and won more games in his first season as Broncos quarterback than anyone since Craig Morton directed Denver to 12 wins in 1977.

In 2002, Dennison's line helped Portis, who rushed for 1,508 yards and 15 touchdowns, win the NFL's Offensive Rookie of the Year. Denver's offense in 2002 finished the season ranked second in the AFC in total offense and third in rushing.

As special teams coach from 1997-2000, Dennison's group was instrumental in the Broncos' success that was highlighted by their back-to-back World Championships from 1997-98. His coverage units held opponents to a tie for the deepest average drive start (26.1-yard line) in the AFC in 2000. One of Dennison's most outstanding performers, Detron Smith, was recognized in 1999 for his excellence in an often under-appreciated realm, being voted to the Pro Bowl as the special-teams performer. It marked the third time in Dennison's tenure with the Broncos that he had seen one of his pupils earn a Pro Bowl invitation.

Kicker Jason Elam enjoyed the finest season of his six-year NFL career in 1998, earning his second Pro Bowl selection by setting a franchise record for PATs in a season (58-of-58) and converting 85 percent (23-of-27) of his field goal attempts. Elam also tied Tom Dempsey's 28-year-old NFL record for longest field goal with a 63-yarder vs. Jacksonville on Oct. 25, 1998. His career numbers continued to escalate as well as he became the all-time leading scorer in franchise history during the 1999 season while also establishing franchise dominance in field goals, field-goal attempts and PATs. He finished the 2000 season having converted an NFL-record 313 consecutive PATs dating back to his rookie year.

Punter Tom Rouen consistently performed at or near the top of the league rankings under Dennison's tutelage, posting a gross punting average of more than 46 yards per punt for the second year in a row in 1999 to lead the NFL. His career-best 46.9-yard average in 1998 ranked second while Dennison's kick-return unit ranked sixth in the NFL, staking the Broncos' opponents to an average drive start of their 28-yard line.

Under Dennison's guidance in 1997, the Broncos' special teams played an integral role in leading the franchise to its first World Championship. Darrien Gordon tied for the NFL lead with three touchdowns on punt returns and ranked second in the NFL in punt return average (13.6 yds.) while Elam ranked second in the AFC (4th in NFL) in scoring (124 pts.) and Rouen ranked fourth in the AFC (5th in NFL) in net punting average.

As a unit, Denver's kickoff and kick coverage teams in 1997 ranked among the league leaders as the Broncos recorded an average drive start of 28.6 (2nd AFC/4th NFL) while forcing their opponents to an average drive start of 24.4 (4th AFC/9th NFL). Denver also led the NFL in punt return average (13.5 yds.).

A former standout linebacker for the Broncos, Dennison joined the Broncos' coaching staff in 1995 after spending the previous three years coaching at the high school level for Suffield Academy in Suffield, Conn. He served for two years in Denver as an offensive assistant (1995-96), providing quality control work and assistance of all types to the offensive coaching staff before being promoted to special teams coach Feb. 12, 1997.

In Dennison's two years on the offensive staff, the Broncos' offense posted the most prolific two-year totals in franchise history at that time, including a No. 1 NFL ranking in total offense for 1996 and a bevy of franchise offensive records set in both seasons.

Dennison, 48, played linebacker for the Broncos from 1982-90, appearing in 128 games (52 starts) and three Super Bowls. In 1989, he received the Ed Block Memorial Courage Award. Dennison ranked second on the team in tackles in 1988 with 133 and led the team with three fumble recoveries on the year.

Perhaps the best performance of his career came in a 1987 playoff game against Houston when he registered eight tackles and one quarterback pressure. He also had an excellent season in 1984 when he had 164 stops and a career-high three sacks in his first full season as a starter. Dennison was a free-agent acquisition by the Broncos in 1982.

Dennison joined the Broncos after a fine collegiate career at Colorado State, where he was a second-team Academic All-American as a senior and earned three varsity letters. In 1979, Dennison received his bachelor's degree in civil engineering from CSU followed by a master's degree in the same field from CSU in 1982.

Dennison, born in Kalispell, Mont., on June 22, 1958, attended Rocky Mountain High School in Fort Collins, Colo., where he lettered in football, basketball and baseball. His father, George, is in his 16th year as president of the University of Montana. Rick, his wife, Shannon, and sons, Joseph and Steven, and 1-year-old twin daughters, Abrynn and Allie, reside in Centennial, Colo.

LARRY COYER

DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR

Larry Coyer enters his seventh season on the Denver Broncos' coaching staff in 2006 and his fourth in the role of defensive coordinator. In his 42nd year of coaching on either the collegiate or professional level, Coyer began his Broncos coaching career as the club's linebackers coach from 2000-02 before he was promoted to defensive coordinator.

Coyer's defense consistently has ranked among the NFL's most productive during his three seasons as the Broncos' defensive coordinator and has helped the club advance to the playoffs each year. The Broncos have placed in the league's top-7 in run defense in every year under Coyer and have allowed an average of 93.3 rushing yards per game since 2003 to rank second in the NFL during that period.

Denver also has ranked among the league's best teams in overall defense under Coyer, posting consecutive top-4 NFL rankings in yards-per-game allowed from 2003-04 and placing fourth in the league (289.5 ypg.) in that category since 2003. In addition, the Broncos have surrendered an average of 18.0 points per game since 2003 to rank fifth in the NFL in scoring defense with Coyer at the helm.

Coyer's defense was instrumental in the Broncos going 13-3 in 2005 and advancing to the AFC Championship Game. Denver, which sent cornerback Champ Bailey, safety John Lynch and linebacker Al Wilson to the Pro Bowl, ranked second in the NFL in run defense (85.2 ypg.) and posted the third-best such mark in franchise history. The Broncos allowed only 16.1 points per game to tie for third in the NFL and surrendered a total of 37 points in their final four games (9.3 ppg.) en route to capturing the AFC West title.

In 2004, Coyer's defense featured two Pro Bowl selections in Lynch and Bailey, who also earned the first All-Pro nomination of his career after joining the Broncos in an offseason trade. Coyer aided in the development of rookie linebacker D.J. Williams, who became only the second Broncos rookie and the first in 32 years to lead the team in tackles (114). Along the way, Williams was the only 2004 rookie to be named AFC Defensive Player of the Week (Wk. 16) and finished No. 3 in the NFL Defensive Rookie of the Year voting.

Coyer wasted no time in making a positive impact in his first year as the Broncos' defensive coordinator in 2003. Denver's defense allowed an average of only 277.1 yards per game under Coyer's direction to rank fourth in the NFL and help the team to its first postseason berth since 2000. Coyer, who also instructed the team's linebackers, worked closely with Wilson during his Pro Bowl season that saw him lead the Broncos in tackles (128) for the second consecutive year.

Coyer began his Broncos coaching career as their linebackers coach from 2000-02. In Coyer's first year instructing Denver's linebackers in 2000, John Mobley and fellow linebacker Bill Romanowski finished first and second on the team in tackles (133 and 121) while Wilson ranked fourth (104).

While at the University of Pittsburgh (1997-99) as its defensive coordinator, Coyer directed a defensive unit that showed significant improvement each season, culminating in a 1999 showing that included top-5 rankings in the Big East Conference in all major defensive statistical categories. Two of his standouts, safety Ramon Walker and defensive lineman Demond Gibson, earned All-Big East Conference honors that season.

In 1998, the Panthers ranked third in the Big East in total defense, and over the course of the 1997-98 seasons, the unit amassed 62 sacks, the highest two-season total at Pittsburgh since 1990-91.

Before his stint at Pittsburgh, Coyer was defensive coordinator at Iowa State University for two seasons (1995-96). That post was preceded by a one-year assignment as defensive line coach for the New York Jets in 1994.

Coyer's other professional coaching experience came in the United States Football League as linebackers coach with the Michigan Panthers (1983-84) and defensive coordinator with the Memphis Showboats (1985-86). Coyer helped Michigan capture the inaugural USFL championship in 1983 with a win against Philadelphia in a game played at Mile High Stadium in Denver.

Additionally, Coyer was the defensive coordinator in 1993 at East Carolina University, where under his guidance the Pirates improved in virtually every defensive category. He also served as defensive backs coach at Ohio State (1991-92), assistant head coach/defensive backs coach at the University of Houston (1990) and linebackers coach at UCLA (1987-89). Before his stint in the USFL, Coyer was defensive coordinator at Iowa State (1979-82), Oklahoma State University (1978) and the University of Iowa (1974-77) after serving as defensive backs coach at Bowling Green (1968-73).

A 1964 graduate of Marshall University, Coyer is a member of the Football Hall of Fame at Marshall for his achievements as a player. He began his coaching career at his alma mater in 1965 as secondary coach, a position he maintained through 1967. An additional coaching stint came at the acclaimed Massillon (Ohio) High School, where NFL Legend Paul Brown once coached.

A native of Greenbottom, W. Va., Coyer was born in Huntington, W. Va. He and his wife, Jan, make their home in Aurora, Colo. Their son, Matt, was a member of an NCAA Champion soccer team at Indiana University. He and his wife Kristin are the parents of Coach Coyer and Jan's pride and joy, 4-year-old Rachel and 1-year-old Ryan. Larry's son, Justin, was an Iowa all-state football player in high school.

Offensive Assistant

Jeremy Bates enters his first season as an offensive assistant with the Denver Broncos in 2006 and his fifth overall year as an NFL assistant coach. Bates joined the Broncos after serving as quarterbacks coach for the Jets in 2005 and working with the Buccaneers as their assistant quarterbacks coach (2004) and offensive quality control coach (2002-03).

As quarterbacks coach for the Jets in 2005, Bates instructed a unit that was forced to use five different passers because of injuries. Despite the adversity, New York's quarterbacks helped the club improve toward the end of the year with first-year starter Brooks Bollinger posting an 87.7 passer rating and leading the team to a 2-2 record in its final four games.

Bates, 30, was promoted to assistant quarterbacks coach for the Buccaneers in 2004 and worked closely with Head Coach Jon Gruden and Quarterbacks Coach John Shoop in the instruction and preparation of the team's passers. In that capacity, Bates helped Brian Griese lead the NFL in completion percentage (69.3%) in 2004 and set Buccaneers single-season records in that category along with passer rating (97.5) and yards per passing attempt (7.83).

Bates began his coaching career with Tampa Bay as an offensive quality control coach from 2002-03.

Tampa Bay's offense in 2003 was arguably the most productive in franchise history as Bates assisted a unit that set single-season records in total offense (340.8 ypg.) and passing offense (237.8 ypg.). In addition, the club ranked among the league's top 10 in both categories in the same year for just the second time in Buccaneers annals.

In his first season in the NFL's coaching ranks, Bates worked with a Buccaneers offense in 2002 that was pivotal in the franchise winning its first-ever World Championship with a victory over the Oakland Raiders in Super Bowl XXXVII. Tampa Bay's offense was particularly dominant in the postseason, averaging 35.3 points and 334.0 yards per game in three playoff contests that year.

Bates, who attended Sevier County High School in Sevierville, Tenn., began his collegiate playing career as a quarterback at the University of Tennessee in 1995. He transferred to Rice University, where he was a two-year letterman in football from 1996-99 and was a second baseman on the school's baseball team.

Bates' father, Jim, spent the last six years as an NFL defensive coordinator with Green Bay (2005) and Miami (2000-04), for whom he served as interim head coach for seven games during the 2004 season. He also has worked as a defensive coordinator for Atlanta (1994) and has 15 years of NFL coaching experience.

Bates' brother, James, was a linebacker and defensive captain on the University of Florida's 1996 national championship team and currently produces a variety of sports-related television programming in Florida.

Jeremy Bates was born Aug. 27, 1976, in Manhattan, Kan.

Vince Lombardi Trophy

The Denver Broncos claimed back-to-back World Championships with their 31-24 defeat of Green Bay in Super Bowl XXXII and their 34-19 triumph over Atlanta in Super Bowl XXXIII. The franchise now owns two Vince Lombardi Trophies, which are displayed in the lobby of the Paul D. Bowlen Memorial Broncos Centre. The sterling silver trophies are created by Tiffany & Company, named for the late Vince Lombardi before Super Bowl V. Each trophy is a regulation-size silver football mounted in a kicking position on a pyramid-like stand of three concave sides. The trophy stands 20.75 inches tall, weighs 107.3 ounces, and is valued in excess of $10,000. Each is engraved with the the words "Vince Lombardi Trophy" above an NFL Shield. Below that is the engraving of the particular Super Bowl (XXXII and XXXIII), "AFC vs. NFC," the score of the game, the date and the location.

John "Chip" Beake enters the 2006 season as offensive quality control coach for the Denver Broncos and begins his sixth year working in the NFL. He joined the Broncos after serving the last five seasons (2001-05) as an assistant with the New Orleans Saints and has gained extensive experience in NFL Europe as well as in the collegiate ranks.

Beake was an offensive administrative assistant with New Orleans from 2002-03 and served as an administrative assistant for the club in 2001. Before joining the Saints' staff, Beake spent six years (1995-2000) working for NFL Europe's Barcelona Dragons.

With Barcelona, Beake handled a variety of duties for the franchise and helped it capture the World Bowl Championship in 1997. Positions Beake held with the Dragons included stints as co-defensive coordinator, secondary coach and special teams coach. He also was involved in draft-day decisions and roster transactions for the NFL Europe franchise.

Beake spent NFLEL offseasons working in several NFL training camps, gaining valuable experience on both the offensive and defensive sides of the ball.

He worked as an intern under Titans Defensive Coordinator Gregg Williams during the 2000 training camp and assisted Packers Offensive Coordinator Sherman Lewis during Green Bay's 1999 camp. From 1997-98, Beake assisted with the instruction of the Cowboys' offensive line during training camps.

Beake gained a variety of experience coaching in the collegiate ranks. He worked as an assistant at Colorado School of Mines (1999), McPherson College in Kansas (1998) and the University of Kentucky as a graduate assistant (1993-94). He also handled administrative duties at the University of Oklahoma in 1995.

Beake graduated from South Carolina in 1992 with a bachelor's degree in international studies. He received a master's degree in diplomacy and international commerce from Kentucky in 1994.

Beake is the son of John Beake, who worked for the Broncos for 22 years, including as general manager for 14 years from 1985-98 and as vice president of administration from 1999-2000.

Born May 27, 1969, in Kansas City, Mo., Beake is married to Berta Gispert, who is from Barcelona, Spain. The couple has a 1-year-old daughter, Giselle.

Ronnie Bradford

Special Teams

Ronnie Bradford enters his fourth season with the Broncos in 2006 and third year as Denver's special teams coach. Bradford, who was a special teams assistant for Denver in 2003, has a wealth of experience after playing 10 seasons in the NFL as a defensive back, including three years (1993-95) with the Broncos.

COACHING EXPERIENCE
4th NFL Season (4th with Broncos)

Denver Broncos
Special Teams 2004-06
Special Teams Assistant 2003

Since he began working with Denver's special teams in 2003, Bradford has instructed a unit that has been pivotal in the club reaching the postseason in each of the last three seasons. During that time,

Jason Elam has tied for third in the NFL in both field goals made (90) and points scored (364) among all kickers. The Broncos' 43 touchbacks off kickoffs tie for the third-highest mark in the league since 2003 while the club's 9.8-yard average off punt returns ranks as the eighth-best mark in the NFL.

Individually, Bradford has instructed four AFC Special Teams Player of the Week winners and two AFC Special Teams Player of the Month winners in three seasons working with the Broncos' special teams.

Bradford directed one of the NFL's strongest special-teams units in 2005, a year in which Denver went 13-3 en route to capturing the AFC West title and advancing to the conference championship game. The Broncos tied for the NFL lead in fewest opponent drives started past the 50-yard line (10) while ranking second in the league in opponent starting field position (27.9-yard line).

In his first year working with punter Todd Sauerbrun, whom the club acquired in a trade during the 2005 offseason, Bradford helped the veteran tie for fifth in the AFC with a 43.8-yard gross punting average. Sauerbrun became the first punter in franchise history to be named AFC Special Teams Player of the Month for his performance during October, a month in which he also picked up AFC Player of the Week honors (Wk. 6). Elam maintained his standing as one of the game's elite kickers under Bradford in 2005, becoming the first player in NFL history to record at least 100 points in each of his first 13 seasons with 115 points on the year.

Bradford's 2004 unit featured an AFC Special Teams Player of the Month (KR Reuben Droughns) and two AFC Special Teams Player of the Week winners (Elam and P/K Micah Knorr) while playing a pivotal role in Denver's second consecutive playoff berth. Droughns became the first kick returner in Broncos history to win AFC Special Teams Player of the Month after averaging 30.5 yards per kick return in September. Elam, a model of consistency throughout his career, continued his success under Bradford by winning the conference's Special Teams Player of the Week award (Wk. 4) and becoming the fastest player (177 games) in NFL history to notch 300 field goals.

Additionally, Knorr's six touchbacks on kickoffs against Kansas City in the 2004 season opener were the highest total by a Bronco since 1983 and earned him the conference's weekly special teams award.

In his first year on Denver's coaching staff as a special teams assistant in 2003, Bradford worked alongside Special Teams Coach Frank Bush and helped guide a unit that finished fifth in the AFC in both punt return average and kickoff return average. The special teams were highlighted in Weeks 9 and 10 when Deltha O'Neal and Rod Smith scored on punt returns in successive weeks, marking the first time in NFL history that two different players from a team returned punts for touchdowns in consecutive games.

After playing for Denver from 1993-1995, Bradford made stops in Arizona (1996) and Atlanta (1997-2001) before finishing his playing career in Minnesota (2002). In that time, Bradford compiled 523 total tackles (387 solo), two sacks, 13 interceptions and 70 passes defensed. He played 133 career games while starting 99 of those contests.

Bradford, 35, was selected by the Miami Dolphins in the fourth round (105th overall) of the 1993 NFL Draft but was released during training camp. He was then signed to the Broncos' practice squad before being elevated to the active roster. That season, Bradford played 10 games, starting three, and made his first career interception against Kansas City (12/12/93). In 1994, Bradford saw action in 12 games with Denver before playing four games with the club in 1995.

After one season in Arizona in which he started 11 games for the Cardinals, Bradford moved to Atlanta and played five seasons for the Falcons. He posted a career-high four interceptions in 1997 while starting 14 games. In 1998, Bradford started 10 of the 14 games he played and helped lead the Falcons to Super Bowl XXXIII against his former team in the Broncos. Bradford's highlight of the game came when he intercepted a John Elway pass in the first quarter.

Bradford left Atlanta after the 2001 season and played his final year with the Minnesota Vikings, starting 15 games for the club in 2002.

A two-year starter and four-year letterman at the University of Colorado, Bradford was a first-team All-Big Eight Conference selection as a senior. His extra point block was the margin of victory as Colorado edged Notre Dame 10-9 in the Orange Bowl to claim the national title in 1991.

Bradford, born Oct. 1, 1970, in Minot, N.D., was named an honorable mention All-American by USA Today as a senior at Adams City High School in Commerce City, Colo. He and his wife, Trish, reside in Denver and have three children.

Tim Brewster enters his second season as tight ends coach for the Denver Broncos in 2006 and his fifth year as an NFL coach. Brewster, who has 20 years of coaching experience, officially joined the Broncos' staff on Jan. 31, 2005, after instructing the San Diego Chargers' tight ends for three seasons.

Before working for San Diego, where he developed Antonio Gates from an undrafted free agent with no college football experience into an All-Pro, Brewster coached for 14 years at the Division I-A college level. He helped produce six tight ends who signed NFL contracts, including four who were selected in the NFL Draft.

In 2005, Brewster's tight ends helped the Broncos post a 13-3 record and capture the AFC West title en route to advancing to the AFC Championship Game. Jeb Putzier ranked fourth among NFL tight ends (2nd in AFC) in yards per reception average, posting a 13.0-yard average on 37 receptions for 481 yards. The blocking of Brewster's unit helped the club rank second in the NFL in rushing (158.7 ypg.) and place third in the league in fewest sacks allowed (23).

Brewster in 2005 also tutored rookie tight end Wesley Duke, who like Gates played basketball only in college and was an undrafted free agent. Duke caught a 1-yard touchdown pass for his first career catch at Buffalo (12/17/05) and started for the Broncos in the AFC Championship Game against the Steelers (1/22/06).

Brewster, 45, served as San Diego's tight ends coach from 2002-04 and held additional responsibilities as the club's assistant head coach for the 2004 season. He oversaw the rapid development of Gates, who in 2004 earned first-team All-Pro honors from the Associated Press and a Pro Bowl selection after playing only his second year of football since high school. Gates set an NFL single-season touchdown record (13) for tight ends in 2004 while ranking third in receiving yards (964) and fourth in receptions (81) among NFL tight ends.

In Gates' first NFL season and first football action in six years during the 2003 campaign, Brewster helped the young talent rank third on the Chargers with 24 receptions. While his tight ends showed progress as pass catchers, Brewster's unit was adept at blocking in a potent rushing attack that gained more than 2,100 yards on the ground in each of his three seasons with the team.

Before joining the Chargers, Brewster enjoyed success at the University of Texas (1998-2001) and the University of North Carolina (1989-97), where he also coached special teams and was the Tar Heels' recruiting coordinator. He worked on Head Coach Mack Brown's staffs at both schools and developed six tight ends who signed NFL contracts.

In four years at Texas, Brewster's tight ends played a key role in the team advancing to a bowl game (two Cotton Bowls, two Holiday Bowls) each season. He tutored two tight ends who earned All-Big 12 Conference honors, including 1998 first-team selection Derek Lewis, and coached two players who signed NFL contracts in Lewis and Bo Scaife, who was drafted in the sixth round by Tennessee in 2005.

Brewster's tight ends at Texas blocked for a 1,000-yard rusher in each of his four seasons at the school, highlighted by Ricky Williams' 2,124-yard (sixth-most in NCAA history) Heisman Trophy-winning season in 1998. Also in 1998, Brewster developed Lewis into a scoring threat as the tight end finished the year second on the Longhorns with six touchdown receptions in a season that ended with a Cotton Bowl win.

He honed the skills of a pair of converted Longhorns defensive ends in 1999 as well as true freshman Scaife, helping the tight ends total 24 receptions for 267 yards with four touchdowns. Scaife became a 2001 honorable mention All-Big 12 selection under Brewster's tutelage only one year after missing the entire season with a major knee injury.

In nine years at North Carolina, Brewster mentored four All-Atlantic Coast Conference selections at tight end and helped the school advance to six consecutive bowl games from 1992-97. As recruiting coordinator, his efforts secured the talent that helped the 1997 team go 11-1 and win the Gator Bowl.

Brewster, who served as a volunteer assistant at North Carolina for the 1989 season before earning a full-time position in 1990, oversaw the development of four Tar Heels tight ends who signed NFL contracts: Alge Crumpler (Falcons, 2001-present), Freddie Jones (Chargers, 1997-2001; Cardinals, 2002-04), Greg DeLong (Vikings, 1995-98; Ravens, 1999; Jaguars, 2000) and Deems May (Chargers, 1992-96; Seahawks, 1997-99). Crumpler and Jones were second-round choices in the NFL Draft while May was a seventh-round selection.

Brewster guided Crumpler to second-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference distinction and honorable mention All-America accolades from Football News as a sophomore in 1997. He also mentored Jones to a first-team All-ACC selection in 1995 and again in 1996 when Jones set a North Carolina single-season record for receptions by a tight end (32) to garner third-team All-America honors from Football News.

His tight ends at North Carolina were critical to the team's rushing success as their blocking helped clear the way for five different 1,000-yard seasons, including Natrone Means' back-to-back 1,000-yard years in 1991 and '92. DeLong, a first-team All-ACC tight end in 1994, twice earned ACC Lineman of the Week honors for his blocking in 1996 under Brewster's tutelage.

Brewster spent 1987-88 as head coach at Central Catholic High School in Lafayette, Ind., directing a wide-open offense that won 15 of 23 games during that period. He developed Indiana's passing leader in both of his seasons as head coach.

He began his coaching career in 1986 at Purdue University, where he coached tight ends and offensive tackles as a graduate assistant.

A former two-time All-Big Ten Conference selection at the University of Illinois, Brewster led the nation's tight ends in receiving in 1983 and captained the Illini to the 1984 Rose Bowl vs. UCLA. Brewster, who graduated from Illinois with a bachelor's degree in political science, played in the training camps of the New York Giants (1984) and Philadelphia Eagles (1985).

Brewster was born Oct. 13, 1960, in Phillipsburg, N.J. He and his wife, Cathleen, have three sons: Eric, Clint and Nolan.

JACOB BURNEY

DEFENSIVE LINE/ENDS

Jacob Burney enters his fifth season coaching the Denver Broncos' defensive line in 2006 and his second year with specific responsibilities instructing the team's defensive ends. He joined the Broncos in 2002 following successful stints with Carolina (1999-2001) and the Cleveland Browns/Baltimore Ravens (1994-98). He has coached 12 seasons in the NFL and has forged a reputation as a vocal leader for his players and one who takes a hands-on approach to his teaching.

The Broncos' defensive line has been one of the strongest in the NFL against the run since Burney began working with the unit in 2002. Denver ranks second in the NFL in run defense since the 2002 campaign, allowing an average of only 93.3 rushing yards per game. In addition, Burney's defensive line has helped the Broncos tie for the fourth-fewest rushing first downs allowed (342) since 2002.

In 2005, Denver's defensive line was pivotal in the club posting a 13-3 record and capturing the AFC West title en route to advancing to the AFC Championship Game. As defensive line/ends coach, Burney instructed a group that helped Denver rank second in the NFL in run defense, allowing only 85.2 yards per game. Denver held two opponents to less than 20 rushing yards in a game, including its contest at Jacksonville (10/2/05) in which it allowed the second-fewest rushing yards (12) in a game in franchise history.

The Broncos' defensive line also generated a consistent pass rush in 2005 that helped the club record its most interceptions (20) in four seasons.

Burney's line once again proved to be one of the NFL's top units in 2004 as its play helped the Broncos' defense rank fourth in the NFL for the second consecutive season. The Broncos' run defense also ranked fourth in the league, surrendering an average of only 94.5 yards per game. Despite the absence of All-Pro lineman Trevor Pryce for most of the year, the Broncos maintained a solid pass rush throughout the season. Defensive end Reggie Hayward flourished under Burney's tutelage, racking up a career and team-high 10.5 sacks to rank third in the AFC.

In 2003, Burney's line was a major force on a defense that finished the season fourth in the NFL in total defense. Defensive end Bertrand Berry led the team with a career-high 11.5 sacks (52 yds.), and Pryce added 8.5 sacks (47 yds.). The defense only allowed 277.1 yards a game, which ranked fourth in the NFL and third in the AFC.

Similar results came about in 2002 as the line helped the defense finish the season sixth in total defense in the NFL and fourth against the run. Burney's line was represented in the Pro Bowl by Pryce, who made his fourth consecutive trip after leading the team with nine sacks. In addition, the Broncos were one of the toughest defenses in the league last year against the run, limiting their opponents to just 93.1 rushing yards per game.

During Burney's tenure as defensive line coach in Carolina (1999-01), the Panthers showed a knack for creating turnovers with the defense posting 74 takeaways from 2000-01 that ranked as the fourth-highest total in the NFL during that period. In 2001, Burney coaxed a breakout season from third-year defensive end Mike Rucker, who posted a career-high and team-leading nine sacks. Under Burney's tutelage, Rucker developed into a full-time starter and set a record for sacks by a Panthers defensive lineman.

Before his tenure in Carolina, Burney spent five seasons (1994-98) with the Cleveland Browns / Baltimore Ravens franchise as its defensive line coach. He was hired by the Browns in 1994 and oversaw a defensive line that contributed to a defense that allowed only 204 points, nine rushing touchdowns and 3.6 yards per carry that season.

With Baltimore in 1998, Burney helped develop defensive lineman Michael McCrary into a Pro Bowl starter and contributed to a Ravens defensive unit that ranked sixth in the NFL against the run.

Burney, 47, enjoyed a successful 11-year coaching career on the collegiate level before entering the NFL coaching ranks in 1994. It began at the University of New Mexico (1983-86) and continued with stints at the University of Tulsa (1987), Mississippi State University (1988), the University of Wisconsin (1989), UCLA (1990-92) and the University of Tennessee (1993). Each of those appointments was as defensive line coach with the exception of the Mississippi State job in which he coached the inside linebackers.

A standout player himself, Burney was a four-year starter on the defensive line at the University of Tennessee-Chattanooga, where he helped the Moccasins to four Southern Conference championships and a four-year record of 33-9-2. He picked up All-Southern Conference honors in each of his final three seasons and earned a bachelor's degree in physical education from the school in 1981. Burney had tryouts with the Detroit Lions in 1981 and 1982.

A native of Chattanooga, Tenn. (1/24/59), Burney was a three-sport star at Tyner High School in Chattanooga, earning all-state honors in football, wrestling, and track and field. He and his wife, Madrinna Patton, have two sons, Jacob and Benjamin. The family makes its home in Lone Tree, Colo.

KIRK DOLL

LINEBACKERS

Kirk Doll begins his third season on the Denver Broncos' coaching staff in 2006 and his second year as the club's linebackers coach. Doll, who entered the NFL's coaching ranks in 2004 with Denver as its defensive assistant/special teams coach, also worked for 27 years as a college assistant and has 31 combined years of coaching experience at the professional, collegiate and high school levels.

In two seasons working with the Broncos' defense, Doll has helped Denver become one of the strongest teams in the NFL against the run. The Broncos rank second in the NFL in run defense since 2004 (89.8 ypg.) and have posted a top-4 NFL ranking against the run in each of Doll's two years with the club.

Doll's linebacker corps in 2005 was regarded as one of the most athletic in the NFL and was instrumental in the Broncos going 13-3 and capturing the AFC West title en route to advancing to the AFC Championship Game. Free-agent signee Ian Gold joined middle linebacker Al Wilson and second-year player D.J. Williams in helping Denver rank second in the NFL in run defense (85.2 ypg.) and tie for third in scoring defense (16.1 ppg.).

Additionally, Wilson was named a first-team All-Pro (Associated Press) for the first time in his career under Doll in 2005 and earned his fourth career Pro Bowl appearance.

In 2004, Doll began his NFL coaching career by working closely with Denver's linebackers and secondary on a defense that finished the year ranked fourth overall in the NFL (278.7 ypg.). As a defensive assistant/special teams coach, he worked with Williams and helped the linebacker become only the second Broncos rookie, the first in 32 years, to lead the team in tackles (114). Doll took on additional responsibilities with the Broncos in early November 2004 as assistant defensive backs coach.

Doll joined the Broncos' coaching staff after a highly successful two-year stint (2002-03) as the assistant head coach/linebackers coach at Louisiana State University. He helped guide LSU to a share of the national title in 2003 when his linebackers played a key role in the SEC-champion Tigers' stout run defense. LSU allowed only 2.3 yards per rushing attempt in 2003, marking the school's best such mark since the 1970 season.

In his first year with the Tigers in 2002, Doll coached linebacker Bradie James to first-team All-America honors. The senior set a school record with 154 tackles in 2002 and was selected by Dallas in the fourth round of the 2003 NFL Draft. Doll also assisted in the coaching of an LSU defense that ranked eighth in the country in yards surrendered (286 ypg.).

Doll joined the LSU staff in the spring of 2002 after coaching linebackers at Notre Dame for eight years (1994-01), during which time he also coached its special teams (1994-97) and kickers (2000). In addition, he held responsibilities as Notre Dame's assistant head coach from 1997-2001. Doll helped lead Notre Dame to five bowl games, including two appearances in the Fiesta Bowl and one in the Orange Bowl, as well as four top-20 finishes in the Associated Press' final season poll.

Doll instructed seven Notre Dame linebackers who were selected in the NFL Draft, including Bert Berry (3rd round, 1997) and Rocky Boiman (4th Round, 2002). He was instrumental in the development of Anthony Denman, who was a second-team All-American (Associated Press) as a senior in 2000 and was taken in the seventh round of the 2001 NFL Draft by Jacksonville.

Doll helped punter Hunter Smith finish his career ranked second in Notre Dame annals in career punting average (41.2 yds.). Smith was selected by the Colts in the seventh round of the 1999 NFL Draft and has developed into one of the league's top punters. He also worked with punter Joey Hildbold, who was a finalist for the Ray Guy Award (nation's top punter) in 2000.

In 1995, Doll helped Notre Dame reach the Orange Bowl as the Fighting Irish's defense allowed just 270 yards per game, the lowest figure at the school since the 1980 season. His linebackers played a role in the 1996 squad ranking eighth in the nation in pass defense (150.5 ypg.).

Before his stint at Notre Dame, Doll coached at Texas A&M for six years (1988-93) as its linebackers coach, playing a part in the Aggies advancing to five bowl games, including three appearances in the Cotton Bowl. Doll helped Texas A&M lead the nation in total defense in 1991 (222.4 yards per game) and rank third nationally in scoring defense in 1993 by allowing only 10.8 points per contest.

In his final three years at Texas A&M, the Aggies posted a 32-5 overall mark, including a 12-1 record in 1992. Among the standout linebackers he coached at Texas A&M were Quentin Coryatt, Marcus Buckley and William Thomas.

Doll, 55, also has coached at the collegiate level at Arizona State University (1985-87), the University of Tulsa (1980-84), Iowa State University (1979) and Wichita State University (1975-76). Doll coached outside linebackers at Arizona State, helping the Sun Devils to a 10-1-1 mark and an appearance in the Rose Bowl in 1986. Doll served as the offensive line coach at Tulsa for five years, and he coached the Iowa State tight ends for one spring as a part-time coach.

His collegiate coaching career has featured 14 bowl games, including appearances in the Rose Bowl, Orange Bowl, Cotton Bowl, Fiesta Bowl and Sugar Bowl.

Doll, a native of Wichita, Kan. (9/24/51), earned bachelor's degrees from both East Carolina University and Wichita State University. He played both defensive end and tackle at East Carolina for two years. He is married to the former Kathy Reding, and the couple has three children: Kate, Kelsey and Kyle.

THOMAS MCGAUGHEY

SPECIAL TEAMS ASSISTANT

Thomas McGaughey enters his second season as the Denver Broncos' special teams assistant in 2006 and his fourth year working in the NFL. McGaughey has three years' experience coaching at the University of Houston, his alma mater, in addition to having worked with the Kansas City Chiefs' coaching staff and the Houston Texans' personnel department.

McGaughey worked with a Broncos special-teams unit in 2005 that helped the club go 13-3 en route to capturing the AFC West title and advancing to the AFC Championship Game. Assisting Special Teams Coach Ronnie Bradford, McGaughey instructed a group that was pivotal in Denver tying for the NFL lead in fewest opponent drives started past the 50-yard line (10). The Broncos' kick and punt coverage units helped the club rank second in the league in opponent average starting field position (27.9-yard line).

McGaughey also in 2005 instructed punter Todd Sauerbrun, who finished fifth in the AFC in gross punting (43.8 avg.) and was named AFC Special Teams Player of the Month for his play in October. Jason Elam maintained his standing as one of the game's elite kickers during McGaughey's first season in Denver, becoming the first player in NFL history to record at least 100 points in each of his first 13 seasons with a team-high 115 points on the year.

McGaughey spent two years (2003-04) working at the University of Houston before joining the Broncos' staff. He served as Houston's special teams coordinator in 2003 and as special teams coordinator/cornerbacks coach in 2004.

In his first year as Houston's cornerbacks coach in 2004, McGaughey coached Stanford Routt to third-team All-Conference USA accolades. He helped the cornerback become the highest drafted Houston player since 1997 with Routt being selected by Oakland in the second round (38th overall) of the 2005 NFL Draft.

Senior kicker/punter Dustin Bell thrived under McGaughey's tutelage in 2004 as he ranked 37th nationally and third in Conference USA by averaging 1.18 field goals per game on the way to connecting on 13 attempts. Bell, a three-time nominee to the Lou Groza Watch List, was one of 16 Division I-A players to handle both kicking and punting duties for their respective team and one of only eight to kick off, punt and handle field-goal duties.

The Cougars' special teams boasted a top-20 kickoff returner in 2003 under McGaughey's guidance with Ricky Wilson's 26.1 yards-per-return average ranking 17th among Division I-A returners. McGaughey's first year as special teams coordinator also was highlighted by the play of punter Jimmy McClary, who ranked 43rd in the country with a 42.0 average. Bell went a perfect 56-of-56 on extra-point attempts and 14-of-19 on field goals while punt returner Chad McCullar ranked 46th in the country with a 10.1 yards-per-return average.

McGaughey, 33, joined the University of Houston staff after serving as an assistant special teams coach with the Kansas City Chiefs for the 2002 season. While with the Chiefs, McGaughey worked closely with future Hall-of-Fame kicker Morten Andersen as well as Pro Bowl returner Dante Hall. He also instructed Gary Stills, whose 36 special-teams tackles in 2002 broke the Chiefs' all-time single-season record.

Before working with the Chiefs, McGaughey spent time in NFL Europe as the Scottish Claymores' defensive backs coach and special teams coordinator in 2002. He instructed some of the league's top special-teams performers, including kickoff returner James Rooths (28.6 avg. - Claymores single-season franchise record) and punt returner J.J. Moses (12.3 avg.). Kicker Rob Hart also went a perfect 14-for-14 on field-goal attempts during that season.

McGaughey broke into the NFL's coaching ranks as a minority intern with the Chiefs during their 2001 training camp before working as a pro scouting assistant in an internship with the Houston Texans that year as the franchise prepared for its inaugural season.

McGaughey, a safety in his playing days, entered the NFL as an undrafted free agent with the Cincinnati Bengals in 1996 and competed in the Bengals and Philadelphia Eagles' training camps from 1996-97, respectively. He briefly appeared on the Eagles' practice squad late in the 1996 season and was a member of the Barcelona Dragons' squad that won NFL Europe's World Bowl in 1997.

He began his coaching career as a strength and conditioning graduate assistant at the University of Houston in 1997. McGaughey wrapped up his playing career as a member of the Arena Football League's Houston Thunderbears in 1998.

McGaughey was a member of the Houston Cougars from 1991-95 and was special-teams captain as a senior. He also lettered in track from 1991-93, competing in the 110-meter high hurdles.

McGaughey was born May 8, 1973, in Chicago and grew up in Houston. McGaughey and his wife, Erika, have three children.

PAT MCPHERSON

QUARTERBACKS

Pat McPherson enters his fourth season as quarterbacks coach for the Denver Broncos in 2006 and his ninth year overall on the Broncos' coaching staff. He spent four years with the Broncos as an offensive assistant and his first season, 1998, with the club as a defensive assistant.

COACHING EXPERIENCE

McPherson's promotion to quarterbacks coach in 2003 coincided with Denver's signing of Jake Plummer, who has become one of the NFL's elite players at his position in three seasons with the Broncos. Plummer's 32-11 regular-season record (.744) since 2003 with McPherson as his position coach is topped only by the Patriots' Tom Brady and the Colts' Peyton Manning (38-10 / .792).

In three years with McPherson, Plummer has compiled a +26 touchdown-to-interception ratio (60-34) that represents a significant improvement from the -24 ratio (90-114) he had in his first six seasons with the Cardinals. McPherson also has helped the quarterback tie for the third-fewest sacks surrendered (51) in the NFL since 2003 (min. 900 attempts).

In addition, Plummer owns the best passer rating in Broncos history (88.1) and in 2005 became the fastest quarterback in club annals to reach 50 career touchdown passes (34 games).

Plummer took his game to new levels under McPherson in 2005, leading Denver to a 13-3 record, an AFC West title and a berth in the AFC Championship Game while throwing for 3,366 yards. Starting every game, Plummer's grasp of the offense helped Denver rank No. 1 in the NFL with a franchise-low 16 takeaways and resulted in him being chosen as a Pro Bowl alternate. He ranked second in the league in interception percentage (1.5), throwing only seven in 456 attempts and going 229 consecutive attempts without an interception for the fourth-longest streak in the NFL since 1996.

Plummer was particularly effective in the first half of games under McPherson in 2005, recording the league's fifth-best passer rating (101.7) through the first two quarters in helping Denver rarely fall behind its opponents.

McPherson's teaching continued to have a positive impact on Plummer in 2004 as the quarterback set a Broncos single-season record for passing yards (4,089) while tying the team's record for most touchdown passes (27) in a season. On the way to directing the AFC's No. 3 pass offense at 249.9 net yards per game (6th in NFL), Plummer became the first quarterback in Broncos history to take every offensive snap in a season.

Additionally, the signal-caller posted 499 passing yards against the Falcons (10/31/04) for the highest single-game passing total in franchise history and the ninth highest mark in NFL history. One year removed from allowing the fourth-fewest sacks (25) in Broncos history, Plummer was sacked only 15 times in 2004 to shatter the franchise record.

In 2003, McPherson helped Plummer, in his first year as Denver's starting quarterback, complete 189-of-302 passes for 2,182 yards and a career-best 15:7 touchdown to interception ratio to rank fifth in the NFL with a 91.2 passer rating. Plummer guided the team to a 9-2 record in his 11 starts, and he won more games in his first season as Broncos quarterback than anyone since Craig Morton directed Denver to 12 wins in 1977.

In 2002 as Denver's offensive assistant, McPherson helped guide Denver's offense to an NFL ranking of third (2nd in AFC). The season was highlighted by the outstanding play of rookie running back Clinton Portis, who was a big key to that success. Denver's second-round draft pick out of Miami was the league's fourth-leading rusher after compiling 1,508 yards and 15 touchdowns while earning NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year honors. Wide receiver Rod Smith led the Broncos with 89 receptions for 1,027 yards to mark his franchise-record sixth consecutive 1,000-yard season.

McPherson worked as an assistant with a Denver offense in 2001 that set club records for total offense (6,554), passing yards (4,243) and first downs (383) while scoring 30 or more points in 10 of 16 games.

In his first year working with Denver's offense in 1999, McPherson was involved in the production of a unit that featured a 3,000-yard passer (Brian Griese), two 1,000-yard receivers (Ed McCaffrey, Rod Smith) and a 1,000-yard rusher (Olandis Gary).

Working with the defensive staff as an assistant in 1998, McPherson played a role in tutoring a Broncos defense that ranked third in the NFL against the run and 11th in the overall defensive rankings.

McPherson, 37, was hired by the club April 7, 1998, following a four-year coaching stint at his high school alma mater, Bellarmine College Prep in San Jose, Calif. In addition to coordinating the defense and coaching the inside linebackers, McPherson's duties included teaching English, algebra and physical fitness at the school.

During his tenure at Bellarmine, the football team compiled a record of 35-11, won three consecutive league titles and made one section championship appearance as well as two semifinal appearances. He also gained valuable coaching experience volunteering with the San Francisco 49ers in 1996, serving in a defensive quality control capacity.

McPherson holds a bachelor's degree in English and an M.B.A. from Santa Clara, where he captained the football team and was voted Most Inspirational Player as an inside linebacker during his senior season of 1992. He began his collegiate career in 1987 at UCLA, where he received the Charles Pike Award, which recognizes the school's outstanding freshman football player. McPherson signed with the 49ers as a rookie free agent in 1993 and participated in three preseason games, including one against the Broncos at Mile High Stadium.

A native of San Jose, Calif., McPherson was an all-state and All-America inside linebacker at Bellarmine College Prep, where he earned Scholar-Athlete of the Year honors as a senior. He was voted captain of the North team in California's North-South Shrine Game played at the Rose Bowl. In April 2004, McPherson was inducted into Bellarmine's Athletic Hall of Fame.

McPherson worked with the National Multiple Sclerosis Society in Santa Clara, Calif., in 1994, organizing and implementing the chapter's largest fund-raising event, the 1994 MS Walk. His father, Bill McPherson, coached in the NFL for 21 years and worked as a personnel consultant for the San Francisco 49ers before retiring in February 2005.

McPherson was born April 15, 1969, in Santa Clara, Calif. He and his wife, Shannon, reside in Littleton, Colo., and have one son, Jackson Montana.

ANDRE PATTERSON

DEFENSIVE LINE/TACKLES

Andre Patterson enters his second season working as the Denver Broncos' defensive line/tackles coach in 2006 and his 10th year as an NFL coach. Patterson, who has 24 combined years of coaching experience at the professional, collegiate and high school levels, officially joined the Broncos' staff Feb. 11, 2005.

An NFL assistant coach for the last nine years, Patterson has worked with the defensive lines of Cleveland (2003-04), Dallas (2000-02), Minnesota (1998-99) and New England (1997) before joining the Broncos in 2005. Some of the notable defensive linemen whom Patterson has instructed include defensive ends John Randle, Chris Doleman and Courtney Brown as well as defensive tackles La'Roi Glover and Gerard Warren.

Patterson's first season with the Broncos in 2005 saw the team's defensive line help the club post a 13-3 record, win the AFC West title and advance to the AFC Championship Game. Defensive tackles Michael Myers and Warren, whom Patterson also coached in Cleveland, played a key role in the Broncos ranking second in the NFL in run defense by allowing only 85.2 yards per game.

The interior of Denver's defensive line was one of the Broncos' strengths in 2005 with Patterson as defensive line/tackles coach and helped limit two opponents to less than 20 rushing yards in a game. In Denver's contest at Jacksonville (10/2/05), the Broncos held the Jaguars to 12 rushing yards on 11 carries (1.1 avg.) to mark the second-lowest opponent rushing output in a game in franchise history.

Before joining the Broncos' coaching staff, Patterson instructed the defensive line of the Cleveland Browns from 2003-04.

Defensive end Ebenezer Ekuban posted a career-high eight sacks under Patterson in 2004 to tie for the highest single-season total by a Browns lineman since their 1999 expansion season. Ekuban was part of a Browns defensive line that contributed to two six-sack games during the 2004 campaign.

Patterson's line led a consistent pass rush in 2003 with Cleveland's defense recording a sack in 15-of-16 games and earning a No. 3 ranking in the NFL in opponent red zone touchdown percentage (37.5%). Its defense closed the 2003 season by posting three sacks in each of the final five games.

The 46-year-old Patterson joined the Browns from the Cowboys, for whom he worked as the defensive tackles coach from 2000-02.

With Dallas, Patterson made an impact on the Cowboys' run defense while coaching Glover to a Pro Bowl nomination and several All-Pro honors in 2002 with 6.5 sacks and 76 tackles. Dallas surrendered only 10 rushing touchdowns during the 2002 season for the fifth-lowest total in the NFL. The play of the Cowboys' interior defensive linemen in 2001 helped the team reduce its rushing yards allowed by 926 from a year earlier when season-ending injuries suffered by both starting defensive tackles hindered the 2000 unit.

He contributed to three playoff appearances for Minnesota (1998-99) and New England (1997) while serving as a defensive line coach and defensive assistant, respectively, for the two clubs.

He worked with Doleman and Randle, who respectively rank fourth and tied for fifth on the NFL's all-time sack list, for two seasons as the Vikings' defensive line coach. Randle recorded double-digit sack totals (10.5 in 1998, and 10 in 1999) in both years under Patterson's guidance and earned Associated Press All-Pro and Pro Bowl honors in 1998. Behind Randle's play in 1998, Minnesota's defense dominated opponents by shutting them out in 29-of-73 quarters (including playoffs) and limiting them to 296 points for the sixth-best total in the NFL.

In his first season in the NFL as a defensive assistant for the 1997 Patriots, Patterson worked with a defense that totaled 45 sacks for the fourth-highest total in team history. While mostly coaching New England's defensive line, he helped the team rank fifth in the NFL against the run (101.0 ypg.) during its AFC East-winning season.

Before entering the NFL, Patterson was Cal Poly San Luis Obispo's head coach from 1994-96 and joined the program in its first year of Division I-AA competition from the Division-II level. He earned American West Conference Coach-of-the-Year honors during that 1994 season by winning the conference title with a 7-4 record. The next season, he directed the nation's second-most productive passing game (344.9 ypg.) and placed two players on the All-America team.

Patterson instructed two future NFL linemen, defensive tackle Chad Eaton (Cardinals, seventh round-1995) and defensive end Lewis Bush (Chargers, fourth round-1993), as Washington State University's defensive line coach from 1992-93. His coaching contributed to the defense setting a Pac-10 Conference single-season record with 60 sacks in 1992.

Patterson joined the Cougars after two years (1990-91) as defensive line coach at Cornell University, where he helped the team to the 1990 Ivy League title with a defense that ranked No. 2 in the conference.

As defensive coordinator at Western Washington University in 1989, his defense set an NAIA record by limiting an opponent to -9 yards passing in a game. Before working as defensive line coach at Weber State University for the 1988 season, Patterson coached five years at the high school level at St. Monica High School in California (head coach, 1987) and Renton High School in Washington (defensive coordinator/offensive line coach, 1983-86).

Patterson began his coaching career in 1982 as a graduate assistant at the University of Montana, where he played one season of football before knee injuries ended his playing career. He played two years as an offensive lineman at Contra Costa Junior College (Calif.), earning an associate of arts degree, before transferring to Montana in 1981.

A 1983 graduate of Montana with a bachelor's degree in secondary education, Patterson was an all-league center and nose guard at Harry Ells High School in Richmond, Calif. Born June 12, 1960, in Camden, Ark., he and his wife, Donna have a son, Andre Jr., and a daughter, Ashmera.

Ryan also contributed to the Broncos' defense tying for third in the NFL in fewest points allowed (16.1 ppg.) during the 2005 campaign.

For the latter part of 2004, Ryan worked with a Broncos defense that finished the year ranked third in the AFC (4th in NFL) in surrendering an average of only 278.7 yards per game. He primarily assisted Defensive Coordinator Larry Coyer in coaching the team's linebackers as the unit played an integral role in securing the franchise's second consecutive playoff berth.

Before joining the Broncos, Ryan served as the head football coach at Regis Jesuit High School (5A) in Aurora, Colo., from 2002-04 after working as a volunteer assistant with the school from 2000-01. As head coach, Ryan led Regis to a 14-2 record in conference play, including a 5-0 mark in 2002. ONE SUPER STREAK

The Broncos enter the 2006 season having won their last eight games played against a Super Bowl participant from the previous year. This streak began with a win against Super Bowl XXXVI runner-up St. Louis on Sept. 8, 2002, and most recently included Denver's 27-13 playoff victory against Super Bowl XXXIX winner New England on Jan. 14, 2006. The Broncos will have two chances to extend this unique streak in 2006 when the club visits Super Bowl XL winner Pittsburgh on Nov. 5 and hosts Super Bowl XL runner-up Seattle on Dec. 3.

Slowik, 52, has eight years' experience as an NFL defensive coordinator, working in that capacity for Green Bay (2004), Cleveland (1999) and Chicago (1993-98), and has instructed seven Pro Bowl selections. He joined the Broncos after coaching with the Packers for five seasons, serving as the club's defensive backs coach from 2000-03 before being named defensive coordinator in 2004.

During his first year as Broncos defensive backs coach in 2005, Slowik's group helped the team post a 13-3 record, win the AFC West title and advance to the AFC Championship Game. Denver totaled its most interceptions (20) in four seasons and was led in that category by cornerback Champ Bailey, who had a career-high eight interceptions to tie for fourth in the NFL. Bailey was named an Associated Press All-Pro for the second consecutive year while he and safety John Lynch represented Slowik's secondary in the Pro Bowl.

Slowik also in 2005 mentored rookie cornerbacks Darrent Williams and Domonique Foxworth, who started a combined 16 games, as well as safety Nick Ferguson, who posted a career-high five interceptions to rank third among NFL safeties. The play of Denver's secondary also helped the club tie for third in the NFL in scoring defense (16.1 ppg.) in 2005.

As the Packers' defensive coordinator in 2004, Slowik's unit ranked ninth in the NFL in third-down defense (35.0%) and led the league in red zone third-down defense (23.8%). Additionally, he instructed a defense that recorded five touchdowns to also mark the franchise's best total in seven seasons. Defensive end Kabeer Gbaja-Biamila excelled in Slowik's scheme, posting 13.5 sacks to rank third in the NFL and tie a career high.

In four seasons (2000-03) coaching Green Bay's defensive backs, he developed one of the NFL's most exciting and productive secondaries. Slowik, who also was the Packers' assistant head coach from 2002-03, helped Green Bay record the highest takeaway total (116) in the NFL from 2001-03. The 2002 Packers defense produced 45 takeaways for the league's best mark while the 2001 unit tied for the NFL's second-highest takeaway total with 39.

His secondary led a 2003 defense that held opponents to a 69.0 passer rating for the fifth-best total in the NFL and tied for seventh in the NFL with four takeaways in the red zone. The Packers produced 21 interceptions (fourth-best in the NFC) in 2003 thanks largely to the production of Slowik's defensive backs.

Under Slowik's guidance, Packers safety Darren Sharper developed into one of the premier defensive players in the NFL and earned two Pro Bowl and Associated Press All-Pro selections (2000 and '02). Sharper earned Pro Bowl honors and was named All-Pro in 2000 when he posted a career-best nine interceptions to lead the NFL and become the first Packer in 38 years to accomplish that feat. In the five seasons Slowik coached on the Packers' defensive staff, Sharper accumulated 31 interceptions for the top mark in the NFL during that period.

Before working one year as the Cleveland Browns' defensive coordinator during their 1999 expansion season when he directed the league's No. 11 pass defense, he spent six years (1993-98) as the Chicago Bears' defensive coordinator. In addition to his duties as defensive coordinator, Slowik coached the Bears' secondary during his first three years in Chicago and instructed their linebackers from 1996-97.

Slowik led an aggressive Bears defense that finished in the top half of the NFL in total defense in five of his six seasons. Despite not having a single Pro Bowl player from 1994-98, his defense allowed an average of 312.8 yards per game to rank eighth in the NFL during his time with the club.

In his first season with the Bears in 1993, three of his defenders—defensive end Rich Dent, safety Mark Carrier and cornerback Donnell Woolford—earned trips to the Pro Bowl. Collectively, Slowik guided the 1993 defense to the No. 4 ranking in the NFL by allowing only 290.8 yards per game. Led by Carrier and Woolford, Slowik's pass defense ranked No. 3 in the NFL in 1993 and gave up only 176.1 yards per game.

He joined the Bears after spending the 1992 season as a defensive assistant with the Dallas Cowboys. Slowik primarily worked with the Cowboys' nickel defense under defensive coordinator Dave Wannstedt, whom he would go on to work for in Chicago. Dallas won Super Bowl XXVII with Slowik on its staff, leading the NFL in total defense and limiting offenses to a league-low 27.2 percent success rate on third-down conversions. The Cowboys' pass defense ranked No. 5 in the NFL (167.9 ypg.).

Before entering the NFL, Slowik served as a college assistant for 14 seasons.

Slowik coached outside linebackers at East Carolina University (1990-91) and helped the 1991 Pirates to an 11-1 record and a final national ranking of No. 9, both tops in school history. He was named the school's defensive coordinator in January 1992 following its Peach Bowl victory against North Carolina State University but soon resigned to take the Cowboys' position.

Before working as Rutgers' secondary coach from 1984-89, Slowik held the same assignment at Drake University in 1983. He was a part-time defensive assistant at the University of Florida from 1979-82, where his wife, Carol, was the head women's track coach. Slowik worked on the Gators' coaching staff with Broncos Head Coach Mike Shanahan from 1980-82 when Shanahan was their offensive coordinator.

A two-year starting cornerback at the University of Delaware, Slowik helped the Blue Hens to a 16-6 mark in his final two seasons and a trip to the quarterfinals of the NCAA Division I-AA playoffs as a senior. He began his coaching career in 1978 as a graduate assistant at Delaware and remained in that position for one year.

Born May 16, 1954, in Pittsburgh, Slowik was a high school football teammate of current University of Pittsburgh Head Coach Dave Wannstedt at Baldwin High School in Pittsburgh. Slowik and his wife, Carol, have four children: Ryan, Andrea, Bobby and Steven. Ryan begins his second season as a defensive assistant for the Broncos in 2006, and Bobby is a sophomore wide receiver at Division II Michigan Tech University. Carol was a former two-time track All-American at Delaware and belongs to the school's Athletics Hall of Fame.

Slowik, 25, worked as defensive backs coach for the University of Wisconsin-Oshkosh in 2004 after an injury ended his playing career for the school. Slowik's secondary helped the Titans post the ninth best turnover margin (+1.5) in Division III during the 2004 season.

A former strong safety, Slowik started eight games for UW-Oshkosh during the 2002 and '03 seasons, totaling 62 tackles. He began his collegiate playing career at Youngstown State in Youngstown, Ohio, before transferring to UW-Oshkosh.

Spencer played cornerback for 12 seasons in the NFL, including four years (2000-03) with the Broncos. The 37-year-old concentrated solely on coaching for the 2004 season after participating in Denver's training camp that year as a player.

In 2005, Spencer served as assistant defensive backs coach on a Broncos team that posted a 13-3 record, won the AFC West title and advanced to the AFC Championship Game. Denver's secondary helped the team register its highest interception total (20) in four years and featured two Pro Bowl selections (cornerback Champ Bailey and safety John Lynch) as well as one Associated Press All-Pro (Bailey). In addition, the Broncos' defensive backs were instrumental in the team tying for third in the NFL in scoring defense (16.1 ppg.).

Spencer began the 2004 season as assistant defensive backs coach before he was named defensive backs coach in early November. He instructed a Broncos secondary that ranked fifth in the AFC (6th in NFL) against the pass, allowing only 184.2 yards per game to help the Broncos earn their second consecutive postseason berth. His secondary featured two Pro Bowl selections in Lynch and Bailey, who also earned the first All-Pro nomination (Associated Press) of his career after joining the Broncos in an offseason trade.

As a player, Spencer appeared in 177 career games (81 starts) with the Saints (1992-95), Bengals (1996-97), Chargers (1998-99) and Broncos (2000-2003). He totaled 26 career interceptions, 127 passes defensed and 446 tackles (387 solo).

Spencer returned two of his interceptions for touchdowns—both in 2000 with Denver—and also returned a fumble for a touchdown. A standout at the University of Florida, Spencer entered the NFL as an eighth-round draft choice (215th overall) of the Redskins in 1991 and spent that season on Washington's practice squad.

Director of Strength & Conditioning 1980-87

Under his guidance during the Mike Shanahan regime, Tuten's offseason strength and conditioning program has become a model among NFL franchises. It has been overwhelmingly successful, not only in terms of attendance by Broncos players but in their performance on the field, as the Broncos were able to capture back-to-back World Championships in 1997 and '98 and advance to the AFC Championship Game in 2005.

Tuten came to the Broncos in 1995 from the University of Florida, where he was the director of strength and conditioning from 1980-87 and also from 1993-94. He was the athletic strength director at the University of North Carolina from 1988-92.

While at both schools, Tuten supervised the strength and conditioning programs for every intercollegiate sport. With Florida, he also served as the head strength and conditioning coach for the nationally ranked Gators football team. At North Carolina, Tuten helped the Tar Heels make major advancements in their strength and conditioning program, enabling the school to compete with the top collegiate programs in the country.

Tuten, 52, has coached with four current members of the Broncos' coaching staff at the college level. He worked with Head Coach Mike Shanahan, Assistant Head Coach Mike Heimerdinger and Defensive Backs Coach Bob Slowik at Florida in the early 1980s and with his assistant Greg Saporta at both Florida and North Carolina from 1981-94.

A 1978 Clemson University graduate, Tuten was a three-year letterman and starting nose guard for the Tigers. He was named to the All-America Strength team in 1978 and was part of the 1978 ACC champion Tiger squad. Tuten registered nine tackles and three sacks against Maryland that season to help clinch the conference title, and he earned ACC Defensive Player of the Week honors for his efforts.

Tuten received a bachelor's degree in therapeutic recreation from Clemson in 1978.

Born Dec. 30, 1953, Tuten attended Wakefield High School in Arlington, Va., where he participated in football, wrestling and track. He is a native of Columbia, S.C. He and his wife, Donna, reside in Littleton, Colo., and have two sons: Will and Matt.

Steve Watson

Wide Receivers

Steve Watson enters his fourth season coaching the Denver Broncos' wide receivers in 2006 and his sixth overall year on the club's coaching staff. Before moving over to the offensive side of the ball, Watson performed the role of defensive assistant for the Broncos from 2001-02.

COACHING EXPERIENCE
6th NFL Season (6th with Broncos)

Denver Broncos
Wide Receivers 2003-06
Defensive Assistant 2001-02

A former star wide receiver for the Broncos in the 1980s, Watson came back to the team in a coaching capacity when he worked with the club in training camp as a coaching intern in 2000. He continued working with the team at all home games during that season in preparation for the full-time role as defensive assistant that he accepted in 2001.

Since becoming wide receivers coach in 2003, Watson has helped Rod Smith maintain his elite level of play that has earned the veteran respect throughout the NFL. In three years with Watson as his position coach, Smith ranks in the NFL's top 10 in both receptions (238 - 9th) and receiving yards (3,094 - 10th) while earning one Pro Bowl selection (2005). In addition, Watson developed Ashley Lelie into one of the game's top deep threats as evidenced by the receiver leading the NFL in yards per reception average (18.7) from 2003-05.

In 2005, Watson's group of wide receivers helped the Broncos post a 13-3 record, win the AFC West title and advance to the AFC Championship Game. Smith was named to the Pro Bowl for the third time in his career and for the first time since 2001 by posting his second consecutive 1,100-yard receiving season (1,105). Smith in 2005 became the first undrafted player in NFL history to reach 10,000 career receiving yards and ranked ninth in the league in receptions (85) for the year.

Lelie also led the NFL in yards per reception average (18.3) for the second consecutive year under Watson's guidance in 2005, posting 42 receptions for 770 yards.

Watson's wide receivers excelled in 2004, helping the Broncos boast the AFC's No. 3 pass offense at 249.9 net yards per game (6th in NFL) and record the fourth-most passing yards in a season (3,999) in club history. Individually, Smith became the franchise's all-time leader in receptions and touchdowns and finished the year with a team-high 79 catches for 1,144 yards (14.5 avg.) with seven touchdowns. Lelie joined with Smith to give Denver just its sixth pair of 1,000-yard receivers in the same season as he totaled a career-best 1,084 yards on 54 receptions with seven touchdowns.

Lelie blossomed into one of the NFL's top deep threats under Watson in 2004, leading the league in yards-per-reception average (20.1) for the best mark by a Bronco in 17 years. Additionally, all seven of his touchdown catches went for 30 or more yards, marking the NFL's highest total in that category in 2004 and the second-best single-season total in Broncos annals.

In his first year as wide receivers coach in 2003, Watson helped the offense once again flourish and helped his corps of receivers make a smooth transition to a new starting quarterback, Jake Plummer. Smith, for the third consecutive season, led the team in receptions (74) and led the team in receiving yards (845) for the seventh consecutive year. Additionally, Watson helped second-year receiver Lelie grow into a starter as he made 37 receptions for 628 yards (17.0 avg.).

One of the most popular players in team history, Watson was a wide receiver for the Broncos from 1979-87, finishing his sterling career with 353 receptions for 6,112 yards (17.3 avg.) with 36 touchdowns. He ranks fifth on the Broncos' career list for receiving yards, seventh in receptions and eighth in touchdown receptions. Watson also was recognized as an outstanding special teams player during his pro career.

Watson had three 1,000-yard receiving seasons (1981, '83 and '84) and was named to the Pro Bowl in 1981. That year, he posted the best numbers of his career for yardage (1,244), touchdowns (13) and reception average (20.7) while his career single-season high of 69 receptions came in 1984.

Watson had 16 100-yard games and 49 consecutive games with at least one reception as a player. He had single-game highs of 11 receptions (1984, vs. Pittsburgh in the playoffs) and 183 yards (on 10 receptions at the Los Angeles Rams in 1982).

Watson, 49, joined the Broncos in 1979 as a free agent from Temple University, where he was a four-year letterman at wide receiver. He was selected to the All-East team, playing in the East-West Shrine Game to close out his college career. Watson also won three letters and two conference championships as a long jumper, graduating with a degree in parks administration.

A native of Baltimore, Watson was born May 28, 1957, and was a three-sport star at St. Mark's High School in Wilmington, Del. He and his wife, Pam, have a son, Stephen Ross Jr. (18), and two daughters, Brittany (20) and Rachel (16). The family resides in Cherry Hills Village, Colo.

DENVER BRONCOS' WINNING TRADITION

Denver Broncos football enters its 47th season in 2006 as the team seeks to return to the pinnacle of success it enjoyed with back-to-back Super Bowl wins in 1997 and '98. Playing for the sixth year at their glistening new stadium, INVESCO Field at Mile High, the Broncos will perform before sellout crowds for the 37th consecutive season, the first 31 of which came at Mile High Stadium. The team has sold out 277 consecutive regular season games and 292 consecutive including playoff games. Broncos fans have watched their team amass one of the NFL's finest records since the club's first winning season in 1973, enduring just five losing seasons—second fewest in the NFL—as shown in the list below.

This season also marks Pat Bowlen's 23rd as President and Chief Executive Officer of the Broncos. During that time, Denver has enjoyed a virtually unmatched level of success in the context of the entire NFL and within the American Football Conference Western Division.

More than 650,000 people descended on downtown Denver Jan. 27, 1998, to salute the World Champion Broncos two days after their victory over Green Bay in Super Bowl XXXII in San Diego. A parade through the streets of the city culminated in a rally at Civic Center Park, where Colorado Governor Roy Romer and Denver Mayor Wellington Webb officially welcomed the Super Bowl champions home. A similar gathering was held a year later, Feb. 1, 1999, when the Broncos returned home from Miami after defeating Atlanta in Super Bowl XXXIII. Governor-elect Bill Owens and Mayor Webb joined the festivities to salute the back-to-back World Champs.

DENVER TIES FOR AFC LEAD IN SUPER BOWL APPEARANCES — The Broncos made their sixth Super Bowl appearance against Atlanta Jan. 31, 1999, and that total ties Pittsburgh for the most by any current American Football Conference franchise and ties for the second most in the NFL behind Dallas (8). By winning back-to-back Super Bowls (XXXII and XXXIII) the Denver Broncos became one of just six franchises to "repeat," marking the seventh time the feat has been accomplished.

COMING BACK STRONGER — Since the Super Bowl was first played after the 1966 season, only three teams have won the game and gone on to post a better record the following season, including the 1997-98 Broncos teams. All three teams not only improved their record, but repeated as Super Bowl champions.

THE BRONCOS' STREAKS — Denver's undefeated home finish in 1998 was the club's third in a row, making the Broncos only the fourth franchise in NFL history to complete three consecutive regular seasons at home without losing a game, and only the third to win every home game for three consecutive years. Furthermore, Denver is the only team to accomplish this feat since the 16-game schedule was implemented in 1978. That adds up to a 24-game win streak at Mile High Stadium for the Broncos, the third-longest home winning streak in NFL history. Overall, the 1998 Broncos began the season by reeling off 13 consecutive wins, the second-best start in NFL history, contributing to an NFL-record-tying 18-game winning streak (regular and postseason combined).

Pro Bowl Selections (6) 2000-05
All-Pro (First Team) (2) 2004-05

2005: Despite dealing with nagging injury problems beginning with a hamstring ailment in training camp, Bailey turned in one of the finest single-season defensive performances in the NFL, earning Associated Press All-Pro and Pro Bowl honors. Bailey's Associated Press All-Pro selection was the second consecutive of his career while his Pro Bowl nomination marked his sixth consecutive such honor. He finished the season fourth on the Broncos with 72 tackles (62 solo) while leading the team with a career-high eight interceptions (139 yds.) and 28 passes defensed. His eight interceptions tied for fourth in the league and stood as the fourth-best single-season performance in Broncos history. He returned two of his interceptions for touchdowns to become the sixth player in team annals to return two interceptions for touchdowns in a single season. The first scoring return, which many observers said turned the Broncos' season around, was a 25-yard return for a score in the home opener vs. S.D. (9/18). His second interception return for a touchdown, a 65-yard return, opened the game's scoring at Dal. (11/24) on Thanksgiving Day. NFL postseason lore. With the Patriots driving for a go-ahead score in the third quarter, Bailey intercepted Tom Brady's pass intended for wide receiver Troy Brown in the end zone and returned it 100 yards to the Patriots' 1-yard line to set up Mike Anderson's touchdown run. It marked the longest return in team annals and the longest non-scoring and second-longest interception return in NFL postseason history. In the AFC Championship Game vs. Pit. (1/22), Bailey recorded three tackles (1 solo) and a pass defensed. In the season opener at Mia. (9/11), Bailey contributed seven solo tackles, an interception, two passes defensed and a forced fumble before leaving the game in the third quarter with a left shoulder injury. The interception against Miami marked his fifth interception in the seven opening days he has played. Bailey made four tackles (3 solo) and intercepted one pass in the home opener vs. S.D. (9/18) that he returned 25 yards for a touchdown to spark Denver's comeback win. The following week, Bailey contributed three tackles (2 solo) and broke up two passes on Monday Night Football vs. K.C. (9/26). During the game against the Chiefs, Bailey was limited by the hamstring injury that hampered his preseason action. The injury forced him inactive for the next two games (at Jac. 10/2 and vs. Was. 10/9), ending his streak of consecutive starts at 99 and forcing the cornerback to miss the first game of his NFL career. Bailey returned to the starting lineup to start the 100th game of his career vs. N.E. (10/16). Bailey made four tackles (3 solo), defended five passes, including an interception, at NYG (10/23). The All-Pro added two solo tackles and a pass defensed vs. Phi. (10/30) in limiting Eagles wide receiver Terrell Owens to a season-low three catches. After the bye, Bailey led the team with 10 tackles (8 solo) and an interception at Oak. (11/13). The second-year Bronco amassed seven solo tackles and opened the game's scoring by returning his sixth interception of the season 65 yards for a touchdown at Dal. (11/24) on Thanksgiving. In the first quarter, he caught Drew Bledsoe's overthrown pass to tight end Dan Campbell and sped down the left sideline for a 65-yard scoring return. The following week, Bailey recorded two tackles (1 solo) and an interception at K.C. (12/4). Bailey made nine tackles (7 solo), forced a fumble, defensed three passes and extended his streak of consecutive games with an interception to five games vs. Bal. (12/11). At Buf. (12/17), Bailey made five tackles and defensed one pass to contribute to the win that clinched a playoff berth for Denver. Bailey paced the team with nine solo tackles and two passes defensed at S.D. (12/31).

2004: Bailey displayed game-changing ability in starting all 16 regular-season games with the Broncos after being acquired in a blockbuster offseason trade, earning his fifth consecutive trip to the Pro Bowl and first Associated Press All-Pro nomination after a stellar campaign. He also tallied a team-high three interceptions (0 yds.) along with 13 pass breakups while appearing on offense in three games (one catch for 11 yds. vs. K.C. 9/12). The only cornerback in the NFL to start every possible regular-season game his team played since his rookie season in 1999, Bailey extended his consecutive start streak to 96 games in 2004. Bailey registered seven tackles (all solo) in the Broncos' AFC Wild Card Game at Ind. (1/9). He limited Colts Pro Bowl wide receiver Marvin Harrison to only four catches for 50 yards in Denver's season-ending loss. He intercepted his first pass as a Bronco in the second quarter of the season opener vs. K.C. (9/12) and made five tackles (4 solo) while playing a part in holding Chiefs Pro Bowl tight end Tony Gonzalez to only two receptions for 17 yards. The game against Kansas City marked the fourth time (out of a possible six) that Bailey had recorded an interception on opening day. Additionally, he saw action on several third-down situations as a receiver and caught an 11-yard pass from Jake Plummer on a third-and-12 in the first quarter while lined up at running back for the Broncos' first catch of the season. The play marked the first time since 1993 that a Broncos defensive player (LB Dave Wyman) made a reception. Bailey was matched up against Pro Bowl receiver Jimmy Smith at Jac. (9/19) and made five tackles during the game in helping to hold Jaguars quarterback Byron Leftwich to only 120 yards passing. Bailey did not see a snap on offense for the first time all season vs. S.D. (9/26) but had six tackles (4 solo) and one pass breakup while lining up most of the game opposite Chargers receiver Reche Caldwell and limiting him to three catches for 39 yards. He made four

Running Back

BELL AT A GLANCE:

- A third-year running back with explosive speed who recorded a career-best 921 rushing yards in 2005 despite starting only one game and sharing time with Mike Anderson.
- Recorded three 100-yard games in 2005 as he and Anderson (1,014 yds.) nearly became only the fourth pair of 1,000-yard rushers on the same team in NFL history.
- Leads all NFL running backs in yards per rush (5.3) since entering the NFL in 2004.
- Led all 2004 AFC rookies (4th among NFL rookies) in rushing by posting 396 yards on 75 carries (5.3 avg.) with three touchdowns.
- Posted his first 100-yard game (123 yds.) vs. Mia. (12/12/04), becoming the third Denver running back in 2004 to eclipse the century mark in a game.
- Displayed big-play potential as a rookie on several occasions, including in the Broncos' game at Kansas City (12/19/04) when he turned a short pass into a career-long 58-yard reception.

- Rebounded from a difficult start to his career that saw him suffer a fractured right middle finger during his first day of training camp (7/31/04).
- Ranked sixth all-time with 3,409 career rushing yards at Oklahoma State University, the same school that produced NFL star running backs Barry Sanders and Thurman Thomas.
- Selected by the Broncos in the second round (41st overall) of the 2004 NFL Draft with the pick Denver obtained from Washington in the Champ Bailey-for-Clinton Portis trade.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS: Signed by Denver as a draft choice 7/31/04.

2005: In his second professional season, Bell rushed 173 times for a career-best 921 yards (5.3 avg.) with eight touchdowns while adding 18 receptions for 104 yards (5.8 avg.) in 15 regular-season games (1 start) for the Broncos. His 921-yard rushing performance ranked 11th in the AFC (19th in NFL) and helped Denver boast the league's second-best rushing attack (158.7 ypg.). Bell, who played in both postseason games, ranked second in the AFC and sixth in the NFL with 10 runs of 20 or more yards, including three such touchdowns, and led all league running backs with a 5.3-yard average. Bell and teammate Mike Anderson (1,014 yds.) nearly became the fourth pair of teammates in NFL history to each rush for 1,000 yards in the same year. Bell helped the Broncos become just the third team in league annals to have two 900+yard rushers (Anderson and Bell), a 1,000-yard receiver (Smith) and a 3,000-yard passer (Plummer) in the same season. Bell was recognized as FedEx Ground NFL Player of the Week for a career-high 127 rushing yards with two touchdowns vs. Was. (10/9). In an AFC Divisional Playoff Game vs. N.E. (1/14), Bell recorded six rushes for 19 yards and contributed a special-teams stop in the win over the Patriots. In the AFC Championship Game vs. Pit. (1/22), he led the team with five catches for 28 yards while adding five carries for 31 yards. During the Broncos' regular-season opener at Mia. (9/11), Bell saw extended time with Anderson forced out early with a rib injury and totaled 47 rushing yards on 13 carries. On Monday Night Football vs. K.C. (9/26), he contributed three carries for 36 yards. At Jac. (10/2), Bell accumulated 60 yards on 15 attempts (4.0 avg.). He notched his first 100-yard performance of the season when he led the team with a career-high 127 yards and two touchdowns on 12 carries (10.6 avg.) on a rain-slicked field vs. Was. (10/9). Bell burst through the Redskins' defense for touchdown runs of 34 and 55 yards en route to picking up the FedEx Ground NFL Player of the Week honors. Against N.E. (10/16), Bell recorded his first back-to-back 100-yard performance when he gashed the Patriots' defense for a team-leading 114 yards with one touchdown on 13 carries (8.8 avg.) while adding three receptions for 20 yards. In the second quarter against the Patriots, Bell burst through the line of scrimmage and sprinted down the middle of the field for a career-long 68-yard run to set up a Denver touchdown. He added 60 yards on eight carries, including a 37-yard run, at NYG (10/23). He put together a 14-carry, 107-yard, two-touchdown performance vs. Phi. (10/30). He capped the scoring with touchdown runs of 67 and six yards in the fourth quarter against the Eagles. Bell and Anderson became the first Broncos running backs to eclipse the 100-yard rushing plateau in the same game since Terrell Davis (184) and Derek Loville (103) did it in a playoff game vs. Jacksonville (12/27/97), and the two accomplished that feat for the first time in Broncos regular-season history since Otis Armstrong (116) and quarterback Norris Weese (120) at Chicago (12/8/76). For their performances against the Eagles, Anderson, Bell and Plummer etched their names in the league record book as the Broncos became the first team in NFL history to have two 100-yard rushers (Anderson and Bell) and a 300-yard passer (Plummer) in the same game. Against NYJ (11/20), he rushed for 34 yards on 10 attempts before leaving the game with a chest injury with 9:15 left in the third quarter. The chest injury forced him inactive at Dal. (11/24) on Thanksgiving Day. Bell returned to the lineup the following week at K.C. (12/4), gaining a team-high 46 yards on five carries (9.2 avg.). He paced the team for the second consecutive week with 63 yards on 16 carries vs. Bal. (12/11). He added 16 yards on two receptions in the game against the Ravens. At Buf. (12/17), Bell rushed for 49 yards on 12 attempts in helping Denver clinch a playoff spot. With Anderson forced out vs. Oak. (12/24) early in the third quarter, Bell led Denver with 17 carries for 71 yards against the Raiders. Entering the regular-season finale at S.D. (12/31), Bell needed 131 yards to join Anderson in the 1,000-yard rushing club. He managed 52 yards and a career-high three touchdowns (6, 1 and 19 yds.) on 17 rushes against the Chargers' top-ranked rushing defense.

Bronco to post at least one 100-yard game in 2004, marking only the second trio in franchise history to accomplish such a feat (1995—Terrell Davis, Glyn Milburn and Aaron Craver). He also showed his ability on special teams, making four tackles on coverage units to tie for 11th on the Broncos in that category. Bell ran for a 1-yard touchdown and gained 49 yards on 12 carries (4.1 avg.) in Denver's AFC Wild Card Game at Ind. (1/9). He also caught four passes for 32 yards (8.0 avg.) against the Colts. His professional career got off to a difficult start after he fractured his right middle finger during his first day of training camp July 31, but Bell recovered in time to see action on special teams in his NFL debut vs. K.C. (9/12) and rush on consecutive plays during a fourth-quarter drive to total 11 yards. At T.B. (10/3), Bell returned from the rib injury that kept him out of Denver's previous game to play on special teams only against the Buccaneers. In a comeback win vs. Car. (10/10), both of Bell's carries came in the first quarter to give the back a total of five yards for the game. Bell saw extensive action at Oak. (10/17) by rushing six times for 25 yards (4.2 avg.). He was a factor on special teams against the Raiders, making the first tackle of his career on that unit. All of his yards against the Raiders came in relief of starter Droughns in the fourth quarter, including a 13-yard scamper around the left side on third-and-5. While he did not record a rush at Cin. (10/25) on Monday Night Football, the rookie contributed on special teams against the Bengals and tweaked his hamstring in the game (an injury that would keep him out vs. Atl. 10/31). He made a team-high three special-teams tackles at N.O. (11/21). Bell scored his first career touchdown on a 16-yard run at S.D. (12/5) and had 31 yards on seven carries (4.4 avg.). He recorded the first 100-yard game of his career vs. Mia. (12/12) with 123 yards on 17 carries (7.2 avg.) with two touchdowns. Bell exploded for 81 yards in the first half alone against the Dolphins, including slashing touchdown runs of seven and 11 yards, before he was removed from the game late in the third quarter with a third-degree left shoulder separation. Despite being hampered by the injury at K.C. (12/19), Bell rushed nine times for 50 yards (5.6 avg.) and made a 58-yard reception out of a short screen pass. He broke away from defenders on the run but had the ball knocked out of his hands on the Chiefs' 5-yard line for a touchback. Bell recorded 44 yards on 12 carries (3.7 avg.) on Christmas night at Ten. (12/25) while also catching a 12-yard pass. In Denver's regular-season finale vs. Ind. (1/2), he gained 91 yards on 16 carries (5.7 avg.) and caught two passes for 16 yards (8.0 avg.).

COLLEGE: A three-year starter at Oklahoma State University, Bell rushed 634 times for 3,409 yards (5.4 avg.) with 34 touchdowns in 41 career games (29 starts). He added 258 yards and a pair of touchdowns on 36 receptions (7.2 avg.). Bell's 3,409 rushing yards ranked sixth in school history, and the 216 points he scored during his career ranked seventh on the school's career list. Bell left OSU ranked sixth on the Big 12 Conference's all-time career rushing list, fifth in touchdowns and sixth in carries. Additionally, he joined Terry Miller, Thurman Thomas and David Thompson as the only players in school history to rush for more than 1,000 yards in a season twice in a career. He was a consensus first-team All-Big 12 selection as a senior in 2003, leading Oklahoma State with a career-high 1,286 yards (6.0 avg.) on 213 carries with 16 touchdowns. His 2003 rushing total ranked 10th on the school's single-season record list, and his 16 touchdowns at OSU that year are topped only by Thurman Thomas (17 in 1987), Terry Miller (19 in 1976) and Barry Sanders (39 in 1988) among running backs. Additionally, he scored 96 points, which ranked fourth all-time in OSU history. As a junior in 2002, Bell was an All-Big 12 second-team selection by the league's coaches after playing in 11 games, leading the team with 1,096 yards and 11 touchdowns on 175 carries (6.3 avg.). He eclipsed the 100-yard mark vs. Texas Tech (165 yards on 22 carries, two touchdowns), becoming the first Cowboy since David Thompson (1996) to rush for more than 100 yards in three consecutive games. Bell played 10 games (9 starts) as a sophomore in 2001 and led the team with 197 carries for 776 yards (3.9 avg.) with six touchdowns and caught a career-high 18 passes for 97 yards (5.4 avg). During his freshman year in 2000, Bell was a reserve tailback who turned heads with a 60-yard touchdown run against Oklahoma in Oklahoma State's nationally televised season finale.

PERSONAL: One of the fastest high school players in the nation (clocked at 10.26 in the 100-meter dash and 4.34 in the 40-yard dash), Bell rushed for 1,225 yards and 19 touchdowns at DeSoto High School in DeSoto, Texas. In addition to his 19 rushing touchdowns, he had three touchdown passes and returned one kickoff for a score. He was a two-time all-district selection at running back while First Down Recruiting, PrepStar and the Dallas Morning News listed him as a Top-100 player in Texas. Bell was heavily recruited by several elite college football programs and opted for Oklahoma State over Texas, Oklahoma and Nebraska. He majored in general studies at Oklahoma State. Bell's brother, T.J., is in his second season playing cornerback for Oklahoma State. He also has one sister, Latrice Coleman. He has a daughter, Ta'Lor Rayn Bell, who was born Nov. 21, 2005. The son of Terry and Tony Bell, Tatum Antoine Bell was born March 2, 1981, in Dallas and resides in DeSoto.

- Selected by the Broncos in the fourth round (112th overall) of the 2000 NFL Draft.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS: Signed by Denver as a draft choice 7/18/00.

2005: Carlisle started all 16 regular-season games and both playoff contests, helping the Broncos to a prolific offensive output. The Broncos' offensive line helped the club rank second in the NFL in rushing (158.7 ypg.) and post the second-highest single-season rushing total (2,539 yds.) in franchise history. The line also yielded the third-fewest sacks (23) in the league and in team history and paved the way for a franchise-record 145 rushing first downs. He also was a factor in the team being just the third in league history to have two 900+yard rushers (Mike Anderson and Tatum Bell), a 1,000-yard receiver (Rod Smith) and a 3,000-yard passer (Jake Plummer) in the same season. Carlisle and Denver's line allowed only one sack at Mia. (9/11), and the guard recovered Plummer's fumble late in the second quarter vs. S.D. (9/18). The team allowed only one sack and rushed for 221 yards on Monday Night Football vs. K.C. (9/26). The line blocked for the Broncos' third consecutive individual 100-yard game when Bell gained 114 yards vs. N.E. (10/16) and fourth at NYG (10/23) with Anderson's 120 yards. The Giants, who ranked eighth in the league with 41 sacks, did not sack Plummer. Against Phi. (10/30), the Broncos became the first team in NFL history to have two 100-yard rushers (Anderson and Bell) and a 300-yard passer (Plummer) in the same game. Denver also posted the second-highest yardage total (564) and point total (49) in franchise history against the Eagles. He played on an offensive line that paved the way for 144 rushing yards, including 98 by Ron Dayne, on Thanksgiving Day at Dal. (11/24). The line blocked for a rushing attack that amassed 178 yards and allowed just one sack at Buf. (12/17). The line cleared the way for 155 rushing yards vs. Oak. (12/24) and 157 rushing yards at S.D. (12/31).

2004: Carlisle played all 16 regular-season games for the Broncos on special teams and saw action at guard in six contests (4 starts). Carlisle, who started the last four regular-season games at right guard in place of the injured Dan Neil, helped the Broncos set a franchise record by allowing only 15 sacks, shattering the previous best of 22 sacks set in 1971, to rank third in the NFL. Despite season-ending injuries to the team's top two running backs early in the year, Denver totaled the franchise's sixth-best single-season rushing total (2,333 yds.) behind the strong play of its offensive line. Carlisle started at right guard in Denver's AFC Wild Card Game at Ind. (1/9), marking the first playoff start of his career. After playing on special teams only in Denver's first five games, Carlisle replaced Dan Neil at right guard in the fourth quarter at Oak. (10/17) for his first offensive line action of the year. Neil was given most of the quarter off with the Broncos holding a commanding lead. At Cin. (10/25) on Monday Night Football, he entered the game on the offensive line as an eligible receiver late in the second quarter on the play that resulted in Rod Smith's touchdown catch. Carlisle made his first start of the season and his first start since Dec. 28, 2003, (at Green Bay) at right guard in place of the injured Dan Neil vs. Mia. (12/12). Against the Dolphins, he helped rookie Tatum Bell post the first 100-yard game of his career to mark only the second time in franchise history that three different Broncos have had at least one 100-yard game in a season. He started his second consecutive game at K.C. (12/19) in place of Neil at right guard. He started his third consecutive game, the longest start streak of his career, at Ten. (12/25) in a game in which Denver did not allow a sack for the eighth time in 2004. He started in the season finale vs. Ind. (1/2), helping the Broncos post their second-highest rushing total of the year (214 yds.) in a win that clinched a playoff berth.

2003: Carlisle saw action in all 16 regular-season games and started two, replacing Dan Neil (ankle) at right guard at Ind. (12/21) and at G.B. (12/28). His play as a reserve helped the Broncos rush for a franchise-record 2,629 yards while tying for the fourth-fewest sacks allowed (25) in team history. Most of his action came on special teams, but he also contributed in a reserve role and as a tackle-eligible receiver in goal-line situations in several games. Carlisle saw action on special teams and in a reserve role in the Broncos' AFC Wild Card Game at Ind. (1/4). At S.D. (9/14), Carlisle recorded his first-ever reception for his first career touchdown. The score came on a 6-yard toss from Jake Plummer in the second quarter. Carlisle became the first Broncos offensive lineman to catch a touchdown pass since tackle Dave Studdard did so at Phi. (9/9/86). In Denver's game vs. Det. (9/28), he finished the game at left guard after starter Ben Hamilton moved to center late in the contest to replace the injured Tom Nalen (ankle). At Bal. (10/26), Carlisle saw some action at left tackle, alternating with Blake Brockermeyer before replacing Matt Lepsis at right tackle midway through the second quarter after Lepsis was disqualified. He again played several series at left tackle vs. N.E. (11/3) and replaced Neil at right guard in the fourth quarter vs. S.D. (11/16). Carlisle made his first career start at Ind. (12/21) when he replaced Neil (ankle) at right guard and played a key role in paving the way for the Broncos to rush for 227 yards and three touchdowns in a crucial road win that clinched a playoff spot for Denver. He started at right guard again the following week at G.B. (12/28) with Neil inactive (ankle).

2002: Carlisle was inactive for 15-of-16 games for the Broncos, seeing action on special teams at Bal. (9/30).

2001: Carlisle played on special teams in all 16 regular-season games (0 starts). His only action on offense came vs. Sea. (12/9), replacing Matt Lepsis (injury) at right tackle for several plays in the third quarter.

2000: Selected by the Broncos in the fourth round (112th overall) of the 2000 NFL Draft, Carlisle primarily played on special teams in each of the final 14 games as a rookie. He also saw action on special teams in Denver's AFC Wild Card Game at Bal. (12/31). Carlisle's first NFL action came on special teams at Oak. (9/17) after being declared inactive for the first two games. He saw his first action on offense in the fourth quarter at Cin. (10/22) when he replaced injured left tackle Tony Jones.

COLLEGE: Carlisle played 48 games (32 starts) in his four-year career at the University of Florida, making starts at four different positions: left guard, right guard, left tackle and right tackle. Widely regarded as one of the most versatile offensive linemen in Florida history, Carlisle was an honorable mention selection for the St. Petersburg Times' All-Florida team in 2003. A four-year Southeastern Conference Academic Honor Roll selection, he was named All-American and All-SEC as a senior in 1999 when he started all 13 games as a team tri-captain. He also was a co-recipient of the team's Leadership Award. As a junior, Carlisle was co-recipient of the Gators' Most Consistent Award and received the James Kyne Award as Florida's offensive lineman "Iron Man," playing 12 games and starting nine. He received the Dr. Lombardi GPA Award during the spring before his sophomore season (1997) and went on to play all 12 games with four starts at left tackle. Carlisle played in all 11 games and started six at left tackle as a redshirt freshman in 1996, helping the Gators to a National Championship with a 52-20 win against in-state rival Florida State in the Sugar Bowl. He was co-recipient of the offensive squad's Most Improved Freshman award during the spring. He redshirted for his first season in 1995.

PERSONAL: Carlisle was a Blue Chip Illustrated All-America selection, a USA Today honorable mention selection and a first-team all-state choice during his three years starting at McComb High School in McComb, Miss. He was rated one of the nation's top 15 offensive linemen by Blue Chip Illustrated, and he was chosen to play in the Mississippi-Alabama all-star game. He was a business/finance major at Florida. His brother, Will, played on the offensive line at Tulane, and his uncle, Duke Carlisle, was a quarterback at Texas who played in the NFL. Cooper Morrison Carlisle was born Aug. 11, 1977, in Greenville, Miss. He and his wife, Suzy, reside in Reddington Shores, Fla, and have a newborn daughter, Anna Kate, who was born on March 14, 2006.

Carswell sustained internal injuries and was subsequently placed on the reserve/non-football injury list on Oct. 31. He was discharged from The Medical Center of Aurora on the morning of Friday, Nov. 4. During training camp, he converted to guard but saw action as an eligible receiver in goal line packages in all seven games he played. (12/11). At Jac. (10/2), he caught two touchdowns (2 and 1 yds.) in the second quarter to become the first lineman in the Super Bowl era (since 1966) to make two touchdown catches in the same game. In Denver's game vs. Was. (10/9), Carswell fell on a squib kick after the Redskins made the score 21-13. After the automobile accident on Oct. 27, he was declared inactive for the game vs. Phi. (11/3) with four tackles before straining his left quad in the third quarter, which forced him out of the game. Limited by the injury at Ind. (11/17), Ekuban totaled three tackles in his only non start of the season. He returned to the starting lineup vs. Jac. (11/24) and closed out the season with two tackles at Was. (12/29) along with a key play when he ran down Ladell Betts from behind on the goal line and forced him to fumble out of the end zone for a touchback.

2001: Ekuban started the Cowboys' season opener vs. T.B. (9/9) and made a tackle before a first-half injury forced him to miss the remainder of the season. He underwent a microscopic lumbar discectomy on Sept. 17 to repair a herniated disc and was deactivated for 12 games following the surgery. He returned to practice on a limited basis Nov. 9 but suffered continued pain and was forced to take more time off. His season ended Dec. 21 when he was placed on injured reserve.

2000: Ekuban recorded a team-high 6.5 sacks (50 yds.) in 12 games (2 starts) while posting 25 tackles (15 solo) and tying for the Cowboys' team lead with two forced fumbles along with one fumble recovery. He moved from a starting role to a reserve capacity after starting Dallas' first two games. He recorded two tackles and was credited with a quarterback pressure in the season opener vs. Phi. (9/3), a game in which he started. At Ari. (9/10), he teamed with Leon Lett to register his first half sack of the season with a takedown of quarterback Jake Plummer while also recording five tackles in helping limit the Cardinals to 3.0 yards-per-rush on 33 carries. He moved into a reserve capacity at Was. (9/18) and came off the bench to post two tackles, one sack (4 yds. -QB Brad Johnson) and a tackle for an 18-yard loss. He dislocated his right toe early in the game vs. S.F. (9/24) and was forced to miss the rest of that game and the next four games. He returned to action at Phi. (11/5) and made two tackles. He added two stops vs. Cin. (11/12) and sacked quarterback Akili Smith for seven yards, forced a fumble on the takedown and recovered the fumble. Ekuban posted a sack (7 yds. -QB Daunte Culpepper) and forced a fumble vs. Min. (11/23) on Thanksgiving Day. He recorded the first multiple-sack game of the year with two sacks (14 yds.) vs. Was. (12/10). He also saw action at tight end in goal-line situations against the Redskins. Against NYG (12/17), he sacked Kerry Collins (14 yds.) in a two-tackle performance while also pressuring Collins into throwing an interception in Dallas' end zone.

1999: Selected by Dallas in the first round (11th overall) of the 1999 NFL Draft, Ekuban had an outstanding first season, earning all-rookie honors from Pro Football Weekly and The Football News after recording 33 tackles (19 solo) and 2.5 sacks (6 yds.) in 16 regular-season games (2 starts). Ekuban, who was used primarily as a pass rusher in certain situations, started the final two games of the year after Greg Ellis suffered a broken leg. He also started Dallas' NFC Wild Card Game at Min. (1/9) and made four tackles before suffering a sprained left knee in the second quarter that limited his effectiveness. He began his NFL career at Was. (9/12) with two quarterback pressures. The next week vs. Atl. (9/20), he showed his versatility by registering one tackle on defense while also seeing goal-line action at tight end, where he provided a key block that enabled Emmitt Smith to score the Cowboys' first touchdown. After Ellis suffered a broken leg vs. Phi. (12/12), Ekuban saw his role on the defense significantly increase. He posted 1.5 sacks (1 yd.), the first sacks of his career, against Philadelphia with takedowns of Donovan McNabb to mark the highest single-game sack total by a Dallas rookie since Russell Maryland recorded two sacks vs. Pit. (11/28/91). The following week vs. NYJ (12/19), he saw the most extensive action of his career and made five tackles. Ekuban recorded his first start at N.O. (12/24), leading Dallas with nine tackles and a sack (5 yds.) while battling Pro Bowl tackle Willie Roaf. In a playoff-clinching win vs. NYG (1/2), he led all Cowboys linemen with five stops.

COLLEGE: Ekuban capped off his collegiate career at the University of North Carolina by being named first-team All-American by The Sporting News while also earning All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors as a senior. Although it was his first season as a full-time starter, Ekuban posted 96 tackles and led the Tar Heels with seven sacks. He set a school record with 23 tackles-for-loss as a senior (Lawrence Taylor and William Fuller, both of whom had 22 tackles-for-loss, shared the previous record). Ekuban was named ACC Player-of-the-Week with a strong game against Clemson as a senior after collecting a career-high 16 tackles, two sacks, four tackles-for-loss and a forced fumble in the contest. As a junior playing in his first season at defensive end, Ekuban appeared in 10 regular-season games (2 starts). He was a tight end in his first two seasons at North Carolina, totaling six receptions for 66 yards with one score.

He graduated from UNC with a degree in exercise and sports science. He did not play football until his junior year of high school and moved to the United States from Ghana at age 7 when his father took a job working at the Ghana embassy in Washington, D.C. Ebenezer Ekuban was born May 29, 1976, in Accra, Ghana, in Africa and is married to Karen. He resides in Southlake, Texas.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS: Signed by Denver as a draft choice 7/12/93.

2005: Elam continued to establish himself as one of the premier kickers in the league as he connected on 24-of-32 field goals (.750) and 43-of-44 extra points to total 115 points that ranked fifth in the AFC and ninth in the NFL among kickers. It was his 13th career 100-point season, a total that is the third highest in NFL history behind the 14 such seasons posted by Morten Andersen and Gary Anderson. In addition, Elam became the first player in NFL history to have 13 consecutive 100-point seasons. He also surpassed the 1,500-point plateau faster than any player in league history, doing so in just 197 games. Elam scored at least three points in every game in 2005 to extend his scoring streak to 204 games (every game of his career) for the second-longest such streak in league history. With his performance vs. N.E. (1/14) in an AFC Divisional Playoff Game, he became the franchise postseason leader in field goals (15) and points (84). Elam converted both field goals (50 and 34 yds.) and all three extra points against the Patriots to help end their NFL-record 10-game postseason winning streak. His 50-yard field goal in the second quarter against New England was his second-longest postseason field goal. In becoming Denver's all-time postseason leader in points and field goals against the Patriots, Elam moved ahead of Terrell Davis (74) and Rich Karlis (12) in those respective categories. In the AFC Championship Game vs. Pit. (1/22), he connected on both extra-point attempts and a 23-yard field goal. He opened the season connecting on his lone field goal attempt (28 yds.) and a PAT at Mia. (9/11). Elam converted both extra-point attempts and connected on field goals of 45 and 41 yards in the home opener vs. S.D. (9/18). The 41-yarder came with five seconds remaining in regulation and gave the Broncos a 20-17 win, marking the 18th game-winning field goal of his career. Elam connected on 3-of-4 field goals (30, 51 and 25 yds.) on Monday Night Football vs. K.C. (9/26). Playing against the Chiefs, he tied Tom Jackson (191) for second place on Denver's all-time career games played list. At Jac. (10/2), Elam converted 2-of-4 field-goal attempts and had one blocked. He overtook Pat Leahy (1,470) for 12th place on the NFL's all-time career points scored list in the game against the Jaguars. He hit all three PATs as his lone attempts in a win vs. Was. (10/9), becoming the 16th player in league history to total 500 career extra-point conversions. At NYG (10/23), Elam hit from 49, 42 and 27 yards before missing from 49 yards in swirling 17 mph winds at Giants Stadium. He set career highs in PAT attempts and conversions in a game by connecting on all seven extra-point attempts vs. Phi. (10/30). At Oak. (11/13), he reached the 1,500-point plateau faster than any player in league history as he eclipsed the milestone with an extra point in the second quarter against the Raiders in his 197th career game. He made field goals of 26 and 47 yards and connected on all three PATs despite suffering a strained left calf muscle during warmups before the game vs. NYJ (11/20). The muscle strain caused Elam to change his kicking motion to a run into the ball, a motion he used for the remainder of the season. He overtook Jim Breech (517) and Fred Cox (519) to move into sole possession of 14th place on the NFL's all-time extra points made list in the game against the Jets. He also overtook Chris Bahr (519) for 16th place on the NFL's all-time extra points attempted list against the Jets. On Thanksgiving Day at Dal. (11/24), Elam connected on his only field-goal attempt (24 yds.) in overtime as well as all three extra-point attempts. The overtime field goal was the 19th game-winning field goal of his career. Elam played his 200th career game and converted all three PATs and both field goal attempts (22 and 40 yds.) at K.C. (12/4). He connected on field goals of 47 and 48 yards but missed an extra point vs. Bal. (12/11) in passing Steve Christie (336) for 10th place on the league's all-time list of field goals made. Before missing the extra point against the Ravens, the last PAT Elam missed in a regular season game was when he hit the left upright vs. Ind. (11/24/02). The following week at Buf. (12/17), Elam connected on all four extra-point attempts to become the first player in NFL history to record at least 100 points in each of his first 13 seasons. He also kicked off 54 yards to start the game. He converted 3-of-4 field goals (29, 33 and 34 yds.) vs. Oak. (12/24) and missed wide right on a 52-yarder. During the game against the Raiders, Elam became only the fourth player in NFL history to register 200 or more career points against multiple teams (Raiders and Chargers), joining Morten Andersen, George Blanda and Lou Groza. He also passed Pat Leahy (426) for 16th place on the league's all-time list of field goals made and tied Matt Bahr (534) for 15th place on the league's all-time list of successful extra points in Denver's win against the Raiders.

2004: Elam was a model of consistency in 16 regular-season games, connecting on 29-of-34 field-goal attempts (85.3%) with a long of 52 yards. He accounted for 129 of Denver's 381 points in 2004 (87 pts. on field goals, 42 on extra points) for his 12th consecutive 100-point season (the longest streak in NFL history) and ranked second in scoring among NFL kickers in 2004. The AFC Special Teams Player of the Week for Wk. 4 (at T.B. 10/3), his 29 field goals tied for the second most in the NFL. With at least one point in each 2004 contest, Elam has scored in every game of his career (188), which is second-longest streak in NFL history (behind Morten Andersen). He also notched his 300th career field goal in 2004 (vs. Car. 10/10), becoming the fastest kicker in NFL history to reach that mark and one of only 16 kickers with 300 or more field goals. Additionally, he increased his career game-winning or game-tying kick total to 17 with three in 2004 (vs. K.C. 9/12, at T.B. 10/3 and vs. Mia. 12/12). Elam made a 33-yard field goal and all three of his extra-point attempts at Ind. (1/9) in Denver's AFC Wild Card Game. He handled kickoff duties in the opening half of the Colts' game and was unsuccessful on an onside-kick attempt in the second quarter. Elam had a strong opening to the 2004 season vs. K.C. (9/12) by connecting on 43 and 45-yard field goals and all four extra points. He scored 10 points against the Chiefs, which tied for the top mark in the NFL for the opening weekend. His 45-yarder with 13:26 remaining in the fourth quarter against the Chiefs broke a 24-24 tie and proved to be the eventual game win-

On Oct. 25, 1998, Jason Elam tied a 28-year-old NFL record by kicking a 63-yard field goal against the Jacksonville Jaguars at the end of the first half. He matched Tom Dempsey's record set Nov. 8, 1970, as a member of the New Orleans Saints against Detroit (a game-winner):

Jason Elam's second-quarter 51-yard field goal in Super Bowl XXXII vs. Green Bay not only gave Denver a 17-7 lead but was the second-longest field goal in Super Bowl history, trailing only a 54-yarder by Buffalo's Steve Christie in Super Bowl XXVIII:

ner and his 15th career game-winning or game-tying kick. Elam helped Denver overcome a stingy defense at T.B. (10/3) by hitting 3-of-3 field goals that day to earn AFC Special Teams Player of the Week honors for the fourth time in his career. In addition to making a 50-yard field goal against the Buccaneers in the second quarter and added a clutch fourth-quarter 23-yarder to secure the win that marked his 16th career game-winning or game-tying field goal. With two field goals (32 and 33 yards) in the first quarter vs. Car. (10/10), Elam notched his 300th career field goal faster than any kicker in NFL history to stand as one of only 16 players in league history with 300 field goals. He moved into a tie for 18th place (Fred Cox) on the NFL's all-time scoring list with a 33-yard field goal and four extra points at Oak. (10/17). At Cin. (10/25) on Monday Night Football, he moved past Fred Cox for 18th place all-time on the NFL's scoring list with a 29-yard field goal and an extra point. He drilled a 52-yard kick in the first quarter vs. Hou. (11/7), which marked his second conversion of longer than 50 yards on the year and his longest field goal all season. In snowy conditions vs. Oak. (11/28), he made 1-of-2 field goals. He connected on a 32-yard attempt in the second quarter against the Raiders, but a potential game-tying 43-yard field goal with less than a minute remaining in the fourth quarter was blocked, marking the first time since Nov. 5, 2001, at Oakland that one of his attempts had been blocked. Elam drilled a 50-yard field goal vs. Mia. (12/12) in the fourth quarter that proved to be the game winner to mark his 17th career game-winning or tying field goal in the fourth quarter and his third on the year. With a 27-yard field goal and two extra points at K.C. (12/19), he went above the 100-point mark for the 12th consecutive season for the longest such streak in NFL history. Including his 2004 numbers, he ranks third all-time in 100-point seasons. During Denver's visit to Kansas City, he kicked off for the first time in 2004 on an unsuccessful onside kick attempt late in the game. Elam took over sole possession of second place on the NFL's all-time consecutive scoring streak (187 games with at least one point) at Ten. (12/25), making 3-of-4 field goals and all four extra points against the Titans while passing Matt Bahr for 15th place on the NFL's all-time scoring list. In the regular-season finale vs. Ind. (1/2), he moved into 14th place on the NFL's all-time scoring list, helping Denver clinch a playoff spot by connecting on 4-of-4 field goals.

2003: Elam played all 16 regular-season games and converted 27-of-31 field goal attempts (87.1%) and all 39 extra-point attempts to account for 120 points, third most in the AFC (4th in NFL) among kickers. He finished the season ranked 19th on the NFL's all-time scoring list with 1,313 points after passing Jim Breech (1,246) vs. Pit. (10/12) and earned one AFC Special Teams Player of the Week honor (vs. Cle. 12/14) while tying for third in the AFC (5th in NFL) in field goals converted. He concluded the year trailing Baltimore's Matt Stover (1,362) by 49 points for 18th place on the league's scoring list. Elam made a 49-yard field goal but had a 46-yard attempt blocked in the third quarter of the Broncos' AFC Wild Card Game at Ind. (1/4). In the season opener at Cin. (9/7), he made all three field-goal attempts (51, 27, 39) and totaled 12 points to eclipse the 1,200-point plateau (1,205), doing so in fewer games than any player in NFL history (157 games). At K.C. (10/5), Elam connected on 3-of-4 field-goal attempts (48, 29, 21), missing a 53-yard try. The 53-yard attempt was his first miss of the year and ended his streak of 16 consecutive field goals made, which was the second-longest streak in franchise history, behind his own streak of 19 in 1997-98. A week later vs. Pit. (10/12), Elam made his first game-winning field goal of the season when he connected on a 47-yarder as time expired. With the field goal, he surpassed Jim Breech and moved into 19th place on the NFL's all-time scoring list with 1,249. After missing a 44-yard attempt vs. N.E. (11/3), he nailed a 43-yarder later in the game against the Patriots. He suffered an injury to his groin warming up on the sidelines before the second attempt and felt more pain on that kick as he did not return to the game after that point. After the Broncos' bye week, Elam converted 2-of-3 field goals (42, 22; missed from 29) and all four extra-point attempts vs. S.D. (11/16) despite being hampered by a strained groin. Punter Micah Knorr replaced Elam for the Broncos' final field-goal attempt of the game and converted from 27 yards. Elam did not attempt a field goal at Oak. (11/30), ending a franchise-record streak of 16 games converting a field goal. He connected on a 47-yard field goal and tied a career high with six extra-point conversions vs. K.C. (12/7). He added three field goals, including a 51-yarder, vs. Cle. (12/14) and became the fastest player in NFL history to reach 1,300 points (170 games) and the first player in NFL history to score more than 100 in each of his first 11 seasons. Elam's final two field goals came in the fourth quarter and overtime, giving him his 14th game-winning or game-saving field goal of his career and earning him AFC Special Teams Player of the Week honors. It marked the first time in Elam's career that he made field goals to send a game to overtime and then win the game in overtime. The overtime field goal was his sixth career "walk-off" field goal (4 OT, 2 at the end of regulation).

2002: Elam played all 16 games and converted 26-of-36 field-goal attempts (72.2%) and 42-of-43 (97.7%) extra-point attempts to account for a team-leading 120 points, marking his 10th consecutive season with 100 or more points. He also made one special-teams tackle. Elam ranked second in the AFC in scoring by kickers (7th in NFL); third in total scoring (8th in NFL); tied for second (T-7th in NFL) in field goals (26); tied for third (T-5th in NFL) in extra points (42); and his 55-yard field goal vs. Mia. (10/13) was the second longest in the NFL in 2002. One of Elam's few misses on the year, from 57 yards at Bal. (9/30), was returned 107 yards for a touchdown by Ravens cornerback Chris McAlister as time expired in the first half to mark the longest play in NFL history. Elam scored six points vs. S.D. (10/6) to reach the 1,100-point mark for his career in his 145th game, making him the second fastest to reach that plateau in NFL history behind former Boston Patriots kicker Gino Cappelletti (140 gms.). Elam tied his career high with five field goals (on five attempts) vs. Mia. (10/13), including a 55-yard kick with 45 seconds remaining in the game that temporarily gave the Broncos a 22-21 lead. He also tied a career high by scoring 16 points in the Miami contest, and it marked the first time he converted five field goals on five attempts (his two other five field-goal games came on six attempts). The Miami game also marked the first time in Elam's career that he converted two field goals of 50 or more yards in the same game, and his 55-yarder in the fourth quarter tied for the third longest of his career. Elam made all three field-goal attempts at K.C. (10/20), including the game-winner from 25 yards in overtime. It was his 11th career game-winning or game-saving field goal and his third in an overtime situation. He converted 30 consecutive field-goal attempts of 42 yards or closer, stretching back to 2001, before missing a 39-yard attempt at N.E. (10/27). Elam, who owns the NFL record for consecutive extra points (371), saw the streak end vs. Ind. (11/24). At S.D. (12/1), he converted 1-of-2 field goal attempts from 50+ yards, making a 54-yarder in the first quarter before missing an attempt from 53 yards in overtime. In the season finale vs. Ari. (12/29), Elam converted all three field-goal attempts and all four extra points to account for 13 points. Among his three field goals was a 54-yarder in the second quarter to raise his total to 4-of-6 (67%) from 50 yards and beyond on the year.

2001: Elam—voted to his third Pro Bowl; named the NFL's 2001 Special Teams Player of the Year by the NFL Alumni; voted second-team All-NFL by the Associated Press, College & Pro Football Newsweekly and Football News; tabbed All-AFC by Pro Football Weekly and Football News—turned in the most consistent and productive season of his nine-year career, leading the NFL in field goals with a franchise-record-tying 31 while also tying for third in the league with 124 points. The AFC's Special Teams Player of the Month for November, Elam converted a franchise-record 86.1 percent of his field goals (31-of-36) and all 31 extra-point attempts to extend his NFL record for consecutive extra points to 344. Including his numbers from 2001, Elam has topped the 100-point mark in each of his nine pro seasons. Elam made 1-of-2 field goal attempts in the season opener vs. NYG (9/10) and converted all four extra-point attempts. He connected from 37 yards after missing by just inches to the left on a 65-yard attempt that would have broken the NFL record (63 yds.) he shares with Tom Dempsey. The attempt was the second longest of Elam's career (66-yard attempt vs. Sea., 12/10/95). He was perfect on three field-goal attempts (35, 31 and 49 yds.) at Ari. (9/23) and all three extra-point attempts for a then season-high 12 points. He was 2-for-2 on field goals vs. K.C. (10/7), hitting from 48 and 24 yards while continuing his perfect extra-point streak with two conversions. At Sea. (10/14), he made 3-of-3 extra-point attempts but did not attempt a field goal. Elam drilled his first 50-yard field goal of the season vs. N.E. (10/28) and converted all four point-after attempts in Denver's 31-20 win. Elam enjoyed a record-setting night at Oak. (11/5), hitting two field goals, including a 39-yarder that gave him his 1,000th career point to make him the 30th NFL player to reach that plateau as well as extend his franchise scoring record. He reached the milestone the fastest among all kickers on the list. The kick also accounted for the 20,000th point scored in the history of Monday Night Football. Elam finished the night hitting another field goal from 21 yards but had one blocked from 48. It was the only game of the season in which Elam did not attempt an extra point as the Broncos attempted a two-point conversion after each of their three touchdowns. Elam scored 14 points vs. S.D. (11/11) on the strength of a season-high four field goals, hitting from 25, 29, 26 and 33. He also registered his first special-teams tackle of the season against the Chargers. For the second time in three games, Elam scored a season-high 14 points at Dal. (11/22), hitting four field goals (from 24, 50, 46 and 28) and both extra-point opportunities. His successful 50-yarder made him 2-for-2 on field-goal attempts of 50 yards or longer in 2001. Elam was named AFC Special Teams Player of the Month for November when he led all NFL kickers with 38 points and 11 field goals as the Broncos went 2-2. He converted 11-of-12 field-goal attempts (91.7%) during the month, including two from beyond 45 yards. Elam broke a string of 13 field goals without a miss at K.C. (12/16) but still hit 3-of-4, including a 49-yarder with 1:13 remaining in regulation to send the game to overtime. Though the Broncos lost in overtime, it marked the 10th time in his career he had kicked a game-saving or game-winning field goal in regulation or overtime and the second time he had sent a game to OT (vs. Oak. 11/22/99; Den. won in OT). Elam was perfect vs. Oak (12/30), connecting on three field goals (27, 25 and 42) and hitting both extra points to account for 11 of the Broncos' 23 points. Elam tied his career single-season high with his 31st field goal of the year in the season finale at Ind. (1/6), matching his mark from 1995. He had a chance to break his record but was wide left from 54 yards making him 2-for-3 from 50-59 yards on the season.

2000: Elam was 18-of-24 (75%) on field-goal attempts and 49-of-49 on extra-point attempts to account for 103 points on the season, 10th most in the AFC, despite missing three games. His 49 extra points were the most in the NFL and ranked second in franchise history behind his 58 in 1998. Elam successfully converted his only kick of the day in an AFC Wild Card Game at Bal. (12/31), making a 31-yard field goal in the second quarter. With his 51-yard field goal vs. Atl. (9/10), Elam improved to 23-of-37 (62.1%) from attempts 50 yards and beyond in his career (22-for-34, 64.7% from 50-59 and 1-for-3, 33.3% from 60+). Elam suffered fractures of two transverse process bones in his lower back (L2, L3 vertebrae) on a kickoff return just before halftime of the Falcons' game and missed three games (at Oak. 9/17; vs. K.C. 9/24 and vs. N.E. 10/1). He began kicking again after the K.C. game and returned to game action at S.D. (10/8), converting all three extra-point attempts. He experienced soreness in his back in the San Diego game and was still affected by it a week later vs. Cle. (10/15) when he was relieved of his kickoff duties. Elam still handled place-kicking chores and accounted for 14 of Denver's 44 points against the Browns by going 3-for-4 on field goals and 5-for-5 on PATs. With his three PAT attempts at NYJ (11/5), Elam passed Jim Turner (304) for most PAT attempts in franchise history. His game-winning 41-yard field goal vs. Oak. (11/13) marked the ninth time in his career he converted a game-winning or game-saving field goal in the fourth quarter or overtime. It was the first time in his career Elam kicked the winning field goal as time expired. He became the first Bronco to make 200 field goals in a career with his successful boot from 26 yards vs. S.D. (11/19). Elam's five extra points at N.O. (12/3) gave him an NFL record for consecutive extra points, breaking Norm Johnson's standard of 301 (Elam finished the season having made 313 consecutive PATs).

Elam's 19 Game-Winning or Game-Saving Field Goals

Oct. 23, 1994: 54-yard FG with 10:02 remaining in the fourth quarter put Denver up 17-15. He added a 25-yarder with 4:07 left to help Denver to a 20-15 victory at San Diego.

Longest PAT Streak in NFL History

Jason Elam broke Norm Johnson's NFL record of 301 consecutive point-after attempts when he went 5-for-5 at New Orleans, Dec. 3, 2000. His streak of 371 ended in 2002 vs. Indianapolis (11/24/02). Below is a look at the top three PAT streaks in NFL history:

MOST CONSECUTIVE POINT-AFTER-TOUCHDOWN CONVERSIONS, NFL HISTORY

	Player	Team(s)	PATs	Dates
1.	Jason Elam	Denver	371	1993-2002
2.	Norm Johnson	Phi./Pit./Atl.	301	1991-99
3.	Eddie Murray	Det./K.C./T.B./Dal./Phi./Was./Min.	251	1988-2000

1999: Elam converted all 29 extra-point attempts and was 29-of-36 (80.6%) on field-goal attempts to account for 116 points on the season (T-5th in AFC/T-6th in NFL). He scored in all 16 games to run his career streak to 111 games, the longest in franchise history up to that point and also made two tackles on special teams. The AFC's Special Teams Player of the Week for his performance at S.D. (11/7), Elam tied for sixth in the NFL in field goals (29). With his seven points vs. NYJ (10/3), he eclipsed Jim Turner (742 points; 1971-79) to become the all-time leading scorer in Broncos history. Elam's 26-yard field goal with 10:18 to play at Oak. (10/10) was the seventh game-winning field goal of his career, lifting Denver to a 16-13 win. Elam was 5-of-7 on field-goal attempts between 50 and 59 yards in 1999 to improve his career percentage from that range to 63.7 percent (21-33). He was successful from 50 yards at K.C. (9/19), 51 yards vs. NYJ (10/3), 55 yards at S.D. (11/7), 53 yards vs. Oak. (11/22) and 50 vs. S.D. (1/2) while missing from 53 vs. G.B. (10/17) and 59 at N.E. (10/24). The 55-yarder at San Diego was the third longest of his career and the longest since his NFL record-tying 63-yarder vs. Jacksonville the year before (10/25/98). The effort earned Elam AFC Special Teams Player of the Week honors for Week 9 as he made four field goals and scored 15 points in the game, his highest single-game totals for both categories since setting career highs with five field goals and 16 points at K.C. on 11/16/97. Elam matched the four field-goal effort vs. Oak. (11/22) on Monday Night Football with one of the most pressure-filled conversions of his career from 53 yards out with 7 seconds remaining to tie the score at 21 and send the game to overtime. It proved to be the eighth game-winning or game-saving field goal of his career as the Broncos went on to win 27-21 with Elam converting from 24, 30, 38 and 53 yards on a cold (26 degrees), snowy night. Already the franchise record-holder for career field goals (184), Elam became the leader in field-goal attempts (previously Turner, 233) and extra points made (Turner, 283) vs. Sea. (12/19) and finished the season with 237 and 288, respectively.

1998: Elam turned in the finest all-around performance of his six-year NFL career as he was selected to his second Pro Bowl, named second-team All-NFL by the Associated Press and College & Pro Football Newsweekly and All-AFC by Pro Football Weekly and Football News. He carved out his place in NFL history Oct. 25 vs. Jacksonville when he tied the pro football record for the longest field goal in history, clearing the crossbar from 63 yards away as time expired in the first half to match the 28-year-old standard set by New Orleans' Tom Dempsey (vs. Det. 11/8/70). The kick shattered the previous club record of 57 yards by Fred Steinfort (vs. Was., 10/13/80) and the previous Mile High Stadium record of 58 yards by Cleveland's Steve Cox (12/4/83), earning Elam AFC Special Teams Player of the Week and Miller Lite NFL Player of the Week honors for the first time in his career. It was the fourth field goal of 60-or-more yards in NFL history with Cox (60 yds. vs. Cin., 10/21/84) and Morten Andersen (N.O., 60 yds. vs. Chi., 10/27/91) joining Elam and Dempsey in the 60+ club. Elam enjoyed his finest season statistically in 1998, converting 23-of-27 field goal attempts for a career-best and franchise-record percentage of 85.2. He also made all 58 extra-point attempts for 127 total points while also making one tackle on a kickoff return. Elam tied for third in the AFC (T-5th in NFL) in scoring by kickers, and his 58 extra-point conversions ranked second in the NFL while also representing a team record for a single season (previous: 46 by Elam, 1996, '97). Elam made 6-of-8 field-goal attempts and all 11 extra-point attempts for a team-leading 29 points in three postseason contests to move into second place in all-time postseason scoring by a Bronco. He also moved into the club postseason lead in extra-point attempts (30) and second place in field goals made (9) and attempted (11). He made his only field-goal attempt (32 yards) and all five extra-point attempts to account for eight points in an AFC Divisional Playoff Game vs. Mia. (1/9). That effort, however, was overshadowed by what he did a week later in the AFC Championship Game vs. NYJ (1/17), tying a franchise record with three field goals (also accomplished by David Treadwell, vs. Cle. 1/14/90 and Rich Karlis, at Cle. 1/11/87) and drilling both extra-point attempts for 11 points on the day. Elam's 48-yarder tied for the third longest in franchise playoff history, matching Rich Karlis' vs. the N.Y. Giants in Super Bowl XXI (1/25/87). Elam had a busy day in Super Bowl XXXIII vs. Atl. (1/31), converting 2-of-4 field goal attempts and all four extra points for 10 points in the Broncos' 34-19 win. He was successful from 26 and 37 yards in the second and fourth quarters, respectively, and missed from 38 and 48 yards in the third quarter to mark the first two postseason misses of his career. During the regular season, he was 3-for-4 on kicks of 50 yards or longer with his successful boot from 53 yards in Week 1 vs. N.E. (9/7), his NFL-record-tying 63-yarder vs. Jacksonville, his 52-yarder at Mia. (12/21) and his miss from 55 yards vs. Sea. (12/27). The 53-yarder had been Elam's longest field goal since converting from the same distance in the 1997 season-opener vs. K.C. (8/31/97). Versus Dallas (9/13), he tied a franchise record that he already shared with four other players by converting six point-after attempts. A week later at Oak. (9/20), his two field goals moved him past Rich Karlis (137) for second place on Denver's all-time field goal list, and he became the Broncos' all-time field goal leader at S.D. (11/29) with his

ELAM THIRD IN CAREER 100-POINT SEASONS

By scoring 115 points in 2005, Jason Elam moved within one 100-point season of tying the NFL's all-time leaders in 100-point seasons. He trails Morten Andersen and Gary Anderson, each with 14.

NFL'S CAREER LEADERS IN 100-POINT SEASONS

	Player	Team(s)	100-pt Seasons	Years Played
1.	Gary Anderson	Ten./Min./S.F./Phi./Pit.	14	1982-2004
	Morten Andersen	K.C./N.O./Atl./NYG	14	1982-2004
3.	Jason Elam	Denver	13	1993-2005
4.	Nick Lowery	New York Jets/Kansas City	11	1980-1996
5.	Adam Vinatieri	New England	10	1996-2005

152nd (Jim Turner, 151), a 34-yard conversion in the fourth quarter. Elam's 13 points vs. Jac. (10/25) moved him past Karlis (655) for second on the all-time franchise scoring list, and he finished the year with 730 points. He strained his right hamstring in the second quarter vs. Phi. (10/4) and was unable to play in the second half. Elam practiced sparingly the following week but was able to play at Sea. (10/11), converting all three extra-point attempts. Elam set a franchise record for consecutive field goals made at K.C. (11/16) on Monday Night Football, converting his 14th in a row to top Rich Karlis' previous standard of 13 (1984-85), and he ran his streak to 19 consecutive before having a 37-yard attempt blocked vs. K.C. (12/6). His four extra points at S.D. (11/29) pushed his total to 47, besting his own previous franchise record of 46 achieved in 1996 and '97.

1997: Elam converted 26-of-36 field-goal attempts (72.2%), including three from beyond 50 yards (50, 51 and 53), and tied his own franchise record (1996) for extra points in a season by going a perfect 46-of-46 in that department. His 124 total points on the season ranked second in the AFC (4th in NFL), and his 46 extra points led the AFC (2nd in NFL). Elam's three field goals from beyond 50 yards in 1997 gave him 14 for his career (23 attempts) and a 60.9 percentage from that range. He also made one special-teams tackle on the year. In the postseason, Elam was perfect, converting all 15 extra-point attempts and both field goal attempts of 43 and 51 yards. His 51-yard field goal in Super Bowl XXXII vs. G.B. (1/25) was the second longest in Super Bowl history (54 yds., Steve Christie, Buf., SB XXVIII) as well as the longest in Broncos postseason history, and his 6-for-6 output on extra-point attempts vs. Jac. (12/27) in an AFC Wild Card Game also set a Broncos postseason record, topping the previous mark (5-of-5) held by Rich Karlis (vs. Cle., 1/17/88). Elam passed the 500-point plateau with his final extra-point attempt at Sea. (9/7), becoming only the third Bronco in history to do so and the fastest in terms of games played (66). He had a streak of three consecutive games with a field goal of 50+ yards snapped vs. Stl. (9/14), a streak that dated back to the 1996 season finale when he converted a 51-yarder at S.D. (12/22/96). In doing so, Elam became just the fourth kicker since the 1970 AFL-NFL merger to connect on field goals of 50 or more yards in three consecutive games. The others were Horst Muhlmann (1970), Tom Dempsey (1971) and Chris Bahr (1981). Elam was inactive vs. N.E. (10/6) because of groin and hip flexor injuries to his right leg suffered the previous week at Atl. (9/28). He missed most of that game after sustaining the injury on the kickoff following the Broncos' first touchdown. The New England game was the first missed by Elam in his five-year NFL career. With his first extra point at Oak. (10/19), Elam set a Broncos record for consecutive games scoring at least one point (70), surpassing Rich Karlis' team record set from 1984-88. He kicked the game-winning 33-yard field goal in overtime at Buf. (10/26), the second time in his career that Elam had won a game for the Broncos in overtime. The first was at K.C. (12/4/94). Elam tied his own franchise record with five field goals at K.C. (11/16), matching the standard achieved previously by himself (vs. Buf., 9/3/95), Rich Karlis (vs. Sea. 11/20/83) and Gene Mingo (vs. S.D., 10/6/63). In that game, he also tied his career high for field goal attempts in a game (6).

1996: Elam converted 21-of-28 field goal attempts (75.0%) and all 46 extra-point attempts to lead the Broncos with 109 points. Elam's 109 points figured eighth among AFC kickers and made him the first player in Broncos history to achieve four seasons with 100 or more points, having done so in each of his four professional seasons. He also was credited with one special-teams tackle on the season. In Denver's AFC Divisional Playoff Game vs. Jac. (1/4), he did not attempt a field goal and was 1-for-2 on point-after attempts, having his first try of the day blocked by the Jaguars' Clyde Simmons. A hip flexor injury, suffered when he was hit in the leg while following through on a kick at Sea. (9/8), hindered his performance during the middle of the season, but he still finished the year with impressive totals. Elam converted three field goals in a game on two separate occasions, doing so at Sea. (9/8) in a 30-20 Denver victory and at Oak. (11/4) in Denver's 22-21 Monday Night Football win over the Raiders, its third of four consecutive wins over its arch-rival. Elam also tied the team record for most extra points in a game with six vs. Bal. (10/20) in a 45-34 Broncos win. He connected on his only 50+yard field goal of the 1996 season at S.D. (12/22) in the regular-season finale.

1995: Elam finished tied for third in the NFL in scoring (T-2nd among kickers) with 132 points and tied for second in field goals made with 31 as he was voted to his first Pro Bowl appearance. The 132 points marked the second most by a Bronco in a single season, and the 31 field goals broke Elam's own record of 30 set in 1994. On the season, he was 31-for-38 (81.6%) on field-goal attempts and 39-for-39 on extra-point attempts. His breakthrough season also included second-team All-Pro honors from both the Associated Press and College & Pro Football Newsweekly as well as All-AFC honors from Pro Football Weekly. He also punted once for 17 yards and contributed two special-teams tackles. Elam set the tone for his stellar season in the opener vs. Buf. (9/3), tying a Broncos single-game record with five successful field goals in six attempts (22, 52, 20, 38, 37; missed from 38). Elam was 5-of-7 (71.4%) on field-goal attempts of 50 yards or longer—including one missed attempt of 66 yards vs. Sea. (12/10)—to improve his career numbers from that distance to 10-of-16 (62.5%). His 66-yard attempt was the second-longest kick ever attempted by a Bronco, trailing only the 73-yard attempt (also missed) by Fred Steinfort at N.E. (9/29/80) and was the longest ever attempted at Mile High Stadium. His five field goals of 50 yards or more tied a Broncos single-season record, originally held by Fred Steinfort (5-for-8 in 1980). Elam's 56-yarder at Hou. (11/26) was the longest of his career and the second longest in franchise history behind Steinfort's 57-yarder vs. Was. (10/13/80). Elam made a franchise-record 13 consecutive field goals during the middle of the season, beginning with a 30-yarder at Sea. (10/1) and ending with a 35-yarder vs. S.D. (11/19). At Oak. (12/24), Elam scored 11 points, including the game-winning 37-yard field goal with 48 seconds remaining, in Denver's 31-28 win. It was the second time in 1995 that Elam had kicked a game-winning field goal in the final minute, following his 32-yard effort that beat the Chargers with 0:02 remaining vs. S.D. (11/19). The San Diego game-winner was the third of Elam's career and his first in the final seconds of regulation.

1994: Elam matched his rookie total of 119 points scored (fourth on the Broncos' all-time single-season scoring list) and set a Broncos record for successful field goals in a season with 30 on 37 attempts (81.1%). He also was a perfect 29-for-29 on extra-point attempts, giving him a two-year accuracy total of 98.6% (70-of-71). His two-year field-goal percentage of 77.8 moved him into second on the Broncos' all-time career list just behind David Treadwell (.779 from 1989-92). His accuracy on kicks inside 40 yards was impeccable in 1994 as he converted 22-of-22 kicks within that distance. Elam tied his NFL long and the fourth-longest kick in Broncos history with a 54-yard field goal at S.D. (10/23). He accounted for nine of the Broncos' 15 points in a 15-13 win vs. Cin. (11/27) by converting 3-of-5 attempts (34, 33 and 37 yds.). He also made three field goals at NYJ (9/11) and at Sea. (10/9). Elam had just one attempt blocked on the year, a 50-yarder vs. Atl. (11/20).

COLLEGE: Elam was a superb combination kicker in college, holding virtually every school and conference scoring record at the University of Hawaii. He finished his career with 79 field goals, just one shy of the NCAA record held by Jeff Jaeger (80). Elam concluded his time at Hawaii holding the Western Athletic Conference scoring record with 395 points and made 30-of-43 field goals (69.8%) of 40 yards or more. Elam finished his collegiate career with a .790 field-goal percentage, connecting on 79-of-100 attempts with his longest being a 56-yarder. He went 157-of-160 on extra-point attempts (98.1%) during his Rainbow Warriors career. As a senior, Elam was selected first-team All-America (Kodak and The Poor Man's Guide to the NFL Draft) and was first-team All-WAC. He made 16-of-25 field goals (64.0%) and 44 extra points, finishing with 92 points in his final season. He also finished his collegiate career with a 43.5-yard average on 84 punts.

PERSONAL: Jason and his wife, Tamy, a former Broncos cheerleader, have two sons, Jason Jr., (8) and Joshua Matthew (2), and two daughters, Jordan Noel (7) and Julianna (4). The family resides in Parker, Colo. A communications major at Hawaii, Elam is a licensed commercial airplane pilot who plans to fly full-time when he completes his NFL playing career. Elam was first-team all-county and second-team all-state at Brookwood High School in Snellville, Ga., where he also lettered in swimming and track. Jason Elam was born March 8, 1970, in Fort Walton Beach, Fla.

2003: Ferguson saw action in 15 regular-season games (10 starts) and ranked fourth on the Broncos with 72 tackles (58 solo) while totaling one sack (13 yds.), three pass breakups and two forced fumbles. He also tied for fourth on the team with 12 special-teams tackles despite missing the season finale after being placed on injured reserve Dec. 23 with a fractured left forearm suffered at Ind. (12/21). Ferguson made four starts at strong safety (vs. Det. 9/28, at K.C. 10/5, vs. Pit. 10/12 and at Min. 10/19) in place of Kenoy Kennedy (ankle) and then started six consecutive games at free safety before his season-ending injury. Ferguson posted two special-teams stops each in games at Cin. (9/7) in the season opener and at S.D. (9/14) in a contest in which he saw his first defensive action of the year. Against Det. He saw time on special teams only in both of the Jets' playoff contests (vs. Ind. 1/4 and at Oak. 1/12) and recorded a special-teams tackle against the Colts. Ferguson played in the season opener at Buf. (9/8), primarily on special teams, and collected one solo tackle in addition to helping pave the way for Chad Morton's two kickoff returns for touchdowns. In the first start of his NFL career vs. Buf. (12/30), he started at free safety and posted 16 tackles (9 solo), one pass breakup and a forced fumble.

TACKLE

FOSTER AT A GLANCE:

- A fourth-year tackle who is one of the largest Broncos linemen in franchise history and has steadily developed into a key member of one of the NFL's top offensive lines.
- Started on an offensive line in 2005 that helped the Broncos post the second-most rushing yards (2,539) in franchise history and rank second in the NFL in that category (158.7 ypg.) while setting a team record for most rushing first downs (145).
- Contributed to the Broncos allowing the second-fewest sacks (38) in the NFL since he became a full-time starter in 2004 and has helped the club rank second in the league in total rushing yards (4,872) during that period.
- Made an excellent transition to right tackle in 2004, starting every game at the position after beginning his NFL career on the left side of the offensive line.
- Played every snap on an offensive line in 2004 that set a Broncos record by allowing only 15 sacks, shattering the previous best of 22 sacks set in 1971, to rank third in the NFL.
- Helped Denver post its sixth-highest season rushing total (2,333 yds.) at the time in 2004 and produce the franchise's fifth 1,000-yard back in the last 10 years (Reuben Droughns, 1,240 yds.).
- Appeared in only Denver's final regular-season game as a rookie in 2003.
- Started for two seasons at the University of Georgia.
- Selected by the Broncos in the first round (20th overall) of the 2003 NFL Draft.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS: Signed by Denver as a draft choice 7/25/03.

2005: Foster started all 16 regular-season games and both playoff games for the Broncos at right tackle, paving the way for one of the NFL's most productive offenses. Denver posted its second-best single-season rushing total (2,539) on the fourth-most attempts in team history, paced by Mike Anderson's 1,014 yards, and ranked second in the NFL in rushing (158.7 ypg.). The line allowed the third-fewest sacks (23) in the league and team annals and helped Denver set a franchise record with 145 rushing first downs. Foster also was a key component in the Broncos being just the third team in league history to have two 900+yard rushers (Anderson and Tatum Bell), a 1,000-yard receiver (Rod Smith) and a 3,000-yard passer (Jake Plummer) in the same season. On Monday Night Football vs. K.C. (9/26), the line allowed only one sack and cleared the way for 221 rushing yards. Foster and his linemates helped Anderson top the 100-yard rushing plateau for the first time in 2005 at Jac. (10/2) and helped Bell reach the mark vs. Was. (10/9), a game in which Denver did not allow a sack. The line blocked for the team's third consecutive individual 100-yard game when Bell gained 114 yards vs. N.E. (10/16). The team also allowed only one sack to the Patriots. Anderson posted 120 yards at NYG (10/23) for the team's fourth consecutive individual 100-yard rushing performance with the line not allowing a sack to the Giants. The following week vs. Phi. (10/30), the Broncos became the first team in NFL history to have two 100-yard rushers (Anderson and Bell) and a 300-yard passer (Plummer) in the same game. Against the Eagles, the team gained a staggering 564 total yards, the second-most in franchise history (567, 10/31/04 vs. Atl.) and 49 points, the second-most in franchise history (50, 10/6/63 vs. San Diego). Denver did not allow a sack at Oak. (11/13) and cleared the path for 196 rushing yards (113 by Anderson) vs. NYJ (11/20). Foster contributed to an offensive line that paved the way for 144 rushing yards in a Thanksgiving Day win at Dal. (11/24). The line blocked for a rushing attack that recorded 178 yards and allowed just one sack at Buf. (12/17). In the regular-season finale at S.D. (12/31), the offensive line handled the league's top-ranked rushing defense (79.5 yds. per game) as the Broncos amassed 157 rushing yards.

2004: Foster adjusted well to his first season at right tackle with the Broncos after spending his rookie year working on the left side of the offensive line. He started all 16 regular-season games at right tackle and did not miss an offensive snap on a line that set a franchise record by allowing only 15 sacks, shattering the previous best of 22 sacks set in 1971, to rank third in the NFL. The offensive line did not surrender a sack in eight contests and blocked for a 100-yard rusher in eight different games, including a stretch that yielded a 100-yard rushing game by a Bronco in six of seven games midway through the year. Despite season-ending injuries to the Broncos' top two running backs early in the year, Denver totaled the franchise's sixth-best single-season rushing total (2,333 yds.) behind the strong play of its offensive line. Additionally, the line helped three different Broncos (Reuben Droughns, Tatum Bell and Quentin Griffin) rush for at least 100 yards in a game during the regular season to mark only the second time in franchise history such a feat has occurred. In the first playoff action of his career, Foster started at right tackle in Denver's AFC Wild Card Game at Ind. (1/9). He made his first NFL start at right tackle in Denver's season opener vs. K.C. (9/12) and was part of a blocking effort that paved the way for Griffin to set a franchise record for most rushing yards in a season opener with a game-high 156 yards along with two rushing touchdowns. Foster held defensive end Julius Peppers without a sack vs. Car. (10/10) and helped Droughns post the ninth-highest single-game rushing total (193 yards) by a Bronco in franchise history during the regular season. Foster and the offensive line did not allow a sack for the third time in 2004 at Oak. (10/17) in addition to clearing paths for Denver's dominating run game, which accounted for a season-high 254 yards on 51 carries (4.9 avg.). Foster was a part of franchise history vs. Atl. (10/31) in protecting Jake Plummer as he recorded the most passing yards in a single game in team history (ninth in NFL history) with 499 yards.

COLLEGE: In 43 career games at the University of Georgia (10 starts), Foster was regarded as the Bulldogs' best combination blocker with his pass and running blocking skills. The two-year starter provided valuable leadership and depth to the offensive line with his ability to play either tackle position. Foster saw his senior season hindered after suffering a right wrist injury in a car accident in August 2002 but returned to the lineup for the final nine games of the season and was effective blocking with a large cast. As a junior, Foster started the final eight games of the season at left tackle, including the Music City Bowl vs. Boston College. He helped the offense generate 4,761 yards, making 55 key blocks/knockdowns as the team ranked second in the Southeastern Conference by allowing only 15 sacks. A reserve tackle as a sophomore, Foster played in every game of the regular season (12) and in Georgia's win over Virginia in the 2000 Oahu Bowl. He played every game in 1999, earning his first career start against Louisiana State at right tackle. He redshirted as a freshman.

PERSONAL: Foster attended Southeast High School in Macon, Ga., and was named Class 4-A first-team all-state by the Atlanta Journal-Constitution and the Georgia Sports Writers Association. He was named to the Super Southern 100 and Top 50 in Georgia by the Atlanta Journal-Constitution and the Macon Telegraph's "Sweet 16." An all-city pick in his junior and senior seasons, Foster also earned all-Middle Georgia honors as a senior by the Macon Telegraph. He was the Most Valuable Team Lineman during his junior and senior seasons and was named a team captain as a senior. Foster had 25 tackles and seven quarterback sacks his senior season and was the recipient of the Coaches' Most Improved Player Award in both his sophomore and junior seasons. Foster is engaged to Chanita and the couple has two daughters: 1-year-old Kai and Jordan (newborn). George Foster was born June 9, 1980, in Macon, Ga.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS: Signed by Denver as a draft choice 7/22/05.

2005: Foxworth played all 16 regular-season games (7 starts) during his rookie season with the Broncos, ranking second on the team with 18 pass breakups and adding 66 tackles (59 solo). He posted two interceptions (23 yds.) and helped Denver tie for third in the NFL in scoring defense (16.1 ppg.). Named Diet Pepsi NFL Rookie of the Week (Wk. 4 at Jac. 10/2) and a USA Today 'All-Joe' Team selection, Foxworth also started both Broncos playoffs games and led the club with 20 tackles in the postseason. He joined fellow rookie Darrent Williams to form only the third pair of Broncos rookies to start the same game at cornerback since starts were tracked by the team in 1968, a feat they accomplished twice in 2005. As the cornerback frequently lined up opposite All-Pro Champ Bailey, Foxworth was often targeted by opponents as evidenced by his 18 pass breakups. He also added a forced fumble and a fumble recovery while posting seven tackles and a fumble recovery on special teams. Foxworth started an AFC Divisional Playoff Game vs. N.E. (1/14) and tied for the team lead with nine tackles (5 solo) to help end the Patriots' NFL record 10-game postseason unbeaten streak. In the AFC Championship Game vs. Pit. (1/22), Foxworth led the team with 11 tackles (8 solo) and had a pass defensed. During the Broncos' regular-season opener at Mia. (9/11), Foxworth replaced Lenny Walls (cramps) in the second half and made a solo tackle and broke up a pass against the Dolphins. Foxworth authored a book, "On The Island," that was released in May 2006 and is a collection of journal entries he wrote for The Denver Post during his rookie year in 2005. Proceeds from the book's sales went to Ambassadors for Literacy, a nonprofit group dedicated to promoting preschool literacy. Foxworth participated in a three-day NFL-arranged business and management workshop at the Harvard Business School during the 2006 offseason. The son of Lorinzo and Karin Foxworth, Domonique Foxworth was born March 27, 1983, in Oxford, England, and resides in Denver.

2005: In his second stint with the Broncos, Gold started all 16 regular-season games and both playoff contests, leading Denver in all three tackle categories during the year: total tackles (106), solo tackles (81) and assists (25). Gold, who paced a team in tackles for the first time in his NFL career, tied for the lead among Broncos linebackers with three sacks (17 yds.). He also defensed three passes, forced four fumbles and recovered two fumbles. Gold was a stalwart on the league's second-best rush defense (85.2 ypg.) and a scoring defense that tied for third in the NFL (16.1 ppg.). In an AFC Divisional Playoff Game vs. N.E. (1/14), he had seven tackles (6 solo) and a fumble recovery that set up a Denver touchdown. He followed that performance with four tackles (2 solo) in the AFC Championship Game vs. Pit. (1/22). In the regular-season opener at Mia. (9/11), he led the linebackers and finished second on the team with seven tackles (6 solo) while adding a fumble recovery. He recorded four solo tackles, including a sack that forced a fumble, in the Broncos' home opener vs. S.D. (9/18). Gold paced his position group with eight tackles (6 solo) and forced a fumble on Monday Night Football vs. K.C. (9/26). The following week, he contributed six tackles (4 solo) at Jac. He notched a season-high 10 tackles (8 solo) to lead the team at NYG (10/23). He again paced the Broncos with seven tackles (6 solo) and had two pass breakups vs. Phi. (10/30). Before going down, Gold ranked third on the team in tackles with 39 (34 solo) while also tying for the team lead with two interceptions (14 yds.) and tying for second with six pass deflections. He also made two special-teams stops. In the season opener at Cin. (9/7), Gold recorded 10 tackles (8 solo) and one interception of Jon Kitna that he returned for a 12-yard touchdown. His touchdown was the second of his career, the first coming on a return after he blocked a punt vs. Oak. (11/13/00). The interception was the first of Gold's career and the first by a Broncos linebacker since John Mobley intercepted a pass vs. Oak. (11/11/01). At S.D. (9/14), Gold recorded six solo tackles, two passes defensed and snared his second interception in as many weeks. The interception came after Bertrand Berry deflected a Drew Brees pass and was returned two yards. Gold matched his season high with 10 tackles (8 solo) vs. Det. - Gained experience with NFL Europe's Berlin Thunder in the spring of 2002.

- Selected by the Broncos in the fourth round (113th overall) of the 2001 NFL Draft.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS: Signed by Denver as a draft choice 7/10/01.

2005: For the third consecutive season, Hamilton played every offensive snap for the Broncos to extend his streak of consecutive snaps played to 4,405. He started all 16 regular-season games and helped Denver rank second in the NFL in rushing (158.7 ypg.) with 2,539 yards, a total that was the second most in franchise history. He also contributed to an offense that allowed the third-fewest sacks (23) in the league as well as in franchise annals and one that posted a franchise-best 145 rushing first downs. He helped Denver become the third team in NFL history with two 900+yard rushers (Anderson and Tatum Bell), a 1,000-yard receiver (Rod Smith) and a 3,000-yard passer (Jake Plummer) in the same season. Hamilton also started both postseason contests. In Denver's home opener vs. S.D. (9/18), Hamilton logged the 50th start and game played of his career. The next week, the team posted 221 rushing yards and yielded only one sack on Monday Night Football vs. K.C. (9/26). At Jac. (10/2), the offensive line cleared the way for the team's first individual 100-yard rushing performance when Anderson totaled 115 yards against the Jaguars. Denver had its second consecutive individual 100-yard game (Bell) vs. Was. (10/9) and third in a row (Bell) vs. N.E. (10/16). Anderson tallied the team's fourth consecutive individual 100-yard output as he churned for 120 yards at NYG (10/23). The offensive line also held the Giants without a sack. The following week vs. Phi. (10/30), the Broncos become the first team in NFL history to have two 100-yard rushers (Anderson and Bell) and a 300-yard passer (Plummer) in the same game. In addition, Denver posted the second most yards (564) and points (49) in team history against the Eagles. The Broncos did not allow a sack at Oak. (11/13) and gained 196 rushing yards vs. NYJ (11/20). Hamilton helped the offensive line pave the way for 144 rushing yards, including a season-high 98 by Ron Dayne, on Thanksgiving Day at Dal. (11/24). The line blocked for a rushing attack that amassed 178 yards and allowed just one sack at Buf. (12/17). When Denver faced the league's top-ranked rush defense in the regular-season finale at S.D. (12/31), the offensive line cleared the way for 157 rushing yards.

2004: Hamilton started all 16 regular-season games at left guard and did not miss an offensive snap on a Denver line that set a franchise record by allowing only 15 sacks, shattering the previous best of 22 sacks set in 1971, to rank third in the NFL. The offensive line did not surrender a sack in eight contests and blocked for a 100-yard rusher in eight different games, helping to produce a 100-yard rushing game by a Bronco in six of seven games midway through the year. Despite season-ending injuries to the Broncos' top two running backs early in the season, Denver totaled the franchise's sixth-best single-season rushing total (2,333 yds.) behind the strong play of its offensive line. Additionally, the line helped three different Broncos (Reuben Droughns, Tatum Bell and Quentin Griffin) rush for at least 100 yards in a game during the regular season to mark only the second time in franchise history such a feat has occurred. Hamilton started the second playoff game of his career in the Broncos' AFC Wild Card Game at Ind. (1/9). He was a part of a blocking effort vs. K.C. (9/12) that paved the way for Griffin to set a franchise record for most rushing yards in a season opener with a game-high 156 yards along with two rushing touchdowns. In Denver's comeback win vs. Car. (10/10), Hamilton helped solidify the interior of Denver's offensive line for Droughns in the running back's 193-yard rushing effort that marked the ninth-highest single-game rushing total by a Bronco in franchise history during the regular season. Hamilton's blocking played a role in the Broncos not allowing a sack for a third game in 2004 at Oak. (10/17) in addition to clearing paths for Denver's dominating run game, which accounted for a season-high 254 yards on 51 carries (4.9 avg.). Hamilton was a part of franchise history vs. Atl. (10/31) in protecting Jake Plummer as he recorded the most passing yards in a single game in team history (ninth in NFL history) with 499 yards.

2003: Hamilton started at left guard in all 16 regular-season games, helping the Broncos rush for a franchise-record 2,629 yards while tying for the fourth-fewest sacks allowed in team history. Hamilton started at left guard in the Broncos' AFC Wild Card Game at Ind. (1/4). In Wk. 4 vs. Det. (9/28), he moved to center in the fourth quarter to replace an injured Tom Nalen (right ankle).

2001: Selected by the Broncos in the fourth round (113th overall) of the 2001 NFL Draft, Hamilton was inactive for all 16 games as a rookie. He played in the spring 2002 with Berlin of NFL Europe.

COLLEGE: Hamilton was a four-year starter at the University of Minnesota, starting all 46 games in which he played, and is regarded as one of the best centers to ever play at the school. He was a consensus first-team All-American for the second consecutive year as a senior, earning the accolade from Football News, The Sporting News, American Football Coaches Association and Walter Camp. Hamilton also was a consensus first-team All-Big Ten Conference choice and a finalist for the Lombardi Award and the Outland Trophy. As a junior, he was named first-team All-American by the Associated Press, becoming the first Minnesota offensive lineman since Bobby Bell in 1962 to earn first-team national honors while also picking up first-team All-America honors from The Sporting News. Hamilton was a first-team All-Big Ten Conference choice by the league's coaches and named the team's Paul Giel award winner, which honors the player who exhibits total unselfishness and most concern about the University of Minnesota. He was honorable mention All-Big Ten as a freshman and sophomore after redshirting in 1996.

PERSONAL: Hamilton was a USA Today honorable mention All-America choice as a senior at Wayzata High School in Wayzata, Minn., and also added Minneapolis Star Tribune all-state, all-conference and all-Metro accolades as he helped lead his school to the 1995 Section 8AA crown. He represented the Metro team in the 1996 Minnesota High School All-Star game and also lettered in tennis and was an honor roll student. Hamilton graduated from Minnesota with a degree in engineering. His father, Wes, played on the offensive line at Tulsa and with the Minnesota Vikings (1976-85). Wes was drafted by the Vikings in the third round of the 1976 NFL Draft and played 116 games with the club. Benjamin Thomas Hamilton was born Aug. 18, 1977, in Minneapolis. He and his wife, Jeanne, reside in Parker, Colo., and the couple has three sons: Elijah (4), Samuel (3) and James, who was born during the 2006 offseason.

He added four carries for nine yards and scored once on a 3-yard run. Johnson finished the season with six total touchdowns, which placed him second among the league's fullbacks in that category. His five touchdown receptions were one shy of Rod Smith's team-leading six scoring grabs and ranked second in the NFL among running backs. His blocking helped Denver nearly have two running backs eclipse the 1,000-yard rushing plateau with Mike Anderson amassing 1,014 yards and Tatum Bell's 921 yards. Johnson competed in the first two playoff games of his career and made one tackle on special teams. He recorded the team's lone touchdown in the regular-season opener at Mia. (9/11) when he hauled in a 2-yard pass from Plummer. He also added a special-teams tackle against the Dolphins. In the home opener vs. S.D. (9/18), he took his first career handoff and plowed through the pile for a 3-yard touchdown while contributing one special-teams stop against the Chargers. The following week vs. K.C. (9/26), he logged two attempts for five yards on Monday Night Football. Johnson made a leaping 1-yard touchdown catch vs. N.E. (10/16) but did not start the game against the Patriots as the team opened the game in a two tight-end formation. Johnson caught two balls for 37 yards, including a 4-yard touchdown catch, in a return to his home state of New Jersey at NYG (10/23). He helped set up his 4-yard touchdown reception with a career-long 33-yard catch against the Giants. His touchdown catch also marked Plummer's 50th scoring toss as a Bronco. The team exploded with two 100-yard rushers (Anderson and Bell) and a 300-yard passer (Plummer), the first such occurrence in NFL history, vs. Phi. (10/30) with Johnson playing a role in those efforts with his blocking and a 6-yard touchdown grab. He posted season highs with three catches for 40 yards, including Denver's lone touchdown, vs. Bal. (12/11). He did not start vs. Oak. (12/24) as the team started in a three-receiver formation. Johnson helped pave the way for the team amassing 157 rushing yards against the NFL's top-ranked rush defense at S.D. (12/31) while adding two catches for 27 yards, including a 21-yard reception, against the Chargers.

2004: Johnson emerged as a reliable pass-catcher and lead blocker at fullback during the regular season, playing 14 games (3 starts) for the Broncos. Johnson was the team's primary fullback for most of the year, a role he assumed in Wk. 5 when regular fullback Reuben Droughns made his first start at running back. Statistically, his biggest contributions came as a receiver who tallied nine catches for 126 yards (14.0 avg.) with two touchdowns. He also was a solid contributor on special teams, making nine tackles on that unit to rank fourth on the Broncos. He missed the Broncos' AFC Wild Card Game at Ind. (1/9) as well as their final two regular-season games, vs. Ind. (1/2) and at Ten. (12/25), with a right ankle injury. He saw most of his action on special teams vs. K.C. (9/12) in the season opener, making a key block on a 32-yard kick return by Roc Alexander in the third quarter against the Chiefs. Johnson made his first career tackle on special teams at T.B. (10/3). With Droughns starting his first game at running back vs. Car. (10/10), Johnson replaced him as the team's primary fullback against the Panthers but did not start because Denver opened the game in a three wide-receiver set. His blocking against the Panthers helped Droughns record the ninth-highest single-game rushing total (193 yds.) in franchise history. He also made a 31-yard catch, the first of his career, on a quick pass from Jake Plummer over the middle in the first quarter against the Panthers. Johnson recorded his first career start at Cin. (10/25) on Monday Night Football and was involved in Denver's special teams effort, tackling Bengals returner Kenny Watson on a third-quarter kickoff. Johnson had a career day vs. Hou. (11/7), setting career highs with three receptions for 46 yards (15.3 avg.), including a 23-yard touchdown reception for his first career score (QB Plummer), while making two tackles on special teams. In his second career start at N.O. (11/21), he used his speed to turn a short catch into a 19-yard score early in the fourth quarter. Johnson caught two second-quarter passes for eight yards (4.0 avg.) vs. Oak. (11/28), and he added a stop on special teams against the Raiders. Against Mia. (12/12), he had two receptions for 22 yards (11.0 avg.) along with two special-teams tackles. At K.C. (12/19), Johnson suffered a right ankle injury in the second quarter that kept him out for the rest of the season.

2003: Johnson had three different stints on the Broncos' practice squad with the final one coming before the regular-season finale at G.B. (12/28). He was signed by the Broncos to their practice squad Sept. 10 and spent one week on the practice squad after being waived by Denver in training camp on Aug. 26. He later rejoined the team Oct. 15 and spent a month on the squad before being released Nov. 18. Johnson was signed to the practice squad for the final time on Dec. 24.

2002: Selected by Carolina in the fifth round (145th overall) of the 2002 NFL Draft, Johnson was waived by the Panthers on Sept. 1 and signed to the N.Y. Giants' practice squad Sept. 3. Johnson was released from the Giants' practice squad Oct. 23 before signing with Detroit's practice squad Nov. 13. He remained with the Lions until he was signed to Denver's active roster Dec. 11 and was inactive for each of the final three games.

COLLEGE: Johnson was granted a sixth year of eligibility by the NCAA and started all 13 games at fullback during his senior year at Syracuse University, gaining a career-high 223 yards on 52 carries (4.3 avg.) with three touchdowns along with making six receptions for 75 yards (12.5 avg.) with one touchdown. The year capped off a stellar career in which he totaled 101 carries for 466 yards (4.6 avg.) with eight touchdowns and added 116 yards and a pair of scores on 13 receptions (8.9 avg.). A three-time All-Big East Conference academic team pick, Johnson was elected team captain in 2000 and entered the year ranked as the No. 1 fullback in the country by The Sporting News. He started at fullback in the 2000 season opener vs. Buffalo and had five carries for 27 yards with a 4-yard touchdown run on which he sustained a season-ending ankle injury. He was Syracuse's third-leading rusher as a junior with 157 yards on 32 carries (4.9 avg.) with three touchdowns and also posted six receptions for 40 yards and one touchdown. In 1999, he scored his first career touchdown as a sophomore on a 17-yard run versus Rutgers and played on special teams in the Orange Bowl against Florida.

PERSONAL: Johnson earned second-team all-state recognition and was named all-county and all-area as a senior at Woodbridge High School in Woodbridge, N.J., after rushing for 1,235 yards. A nine-time member of the Athletic Director's Honor Roll at Syracuse, Johnson was heavily involved in the community at Syracuse and served as coordinator of Syracuse's annual Jam Session for two years (a basketball game between members of the media and the school's football team with funds raised going to local charities). Additionally, his 35 catches were the most by a Broncos rookie since running back Terrell Davis caught 49 passes out of the backfield in 1995. His first NFL catch (11 yds.) came on a crucial third-down play in the fourth quarter at S.F. (9/15). He made his first NFL start vs. Buf. (9/22) in a three wide-receiver set. His start against the Bills marked the beginning of a five-game streak in which he caught at least two passes. Lelie's 30-yard reception in the fourth quarter vs. Mia. (10/13) marked the longest of his young career and helped him to a career-high 41 receiving yards while setting up Denver's go-ahead field goal. At N.E. (10/27), he caught a career-long 40-yard pass on a third down late in the fourth quarter to allow Denver to run out the clock to secure its 24-16 win. Lelie caught the first touchdown of his career at NYJ (12/8) on a 10-yard pass from quarterback Brian Griese just before halftime and finished the game with three catches for 38 yards (12.7 avg.). He posted a career-high 68 yards receiving on two catches (34.0 avg.) vs. K.C. (12/15), including his second catch of 40 or more yards on the season that set up a touchdown. Lelie continued to show his development by recording four receptions for a then career-high 106 yards (26.5 avg.) at Oak. (12/22), including a then career-best 48-yard catch, for the first 100-yard game of his career.

COLLEGE: Lelie finished his career at the University of Hawaii as its all-time leader in receptions (194), receiving yards (3,341) and touchdown receptions (32) while averaging an impressive 17.2 yards per catch. He was a first-team All-Western Athletic Conference selection as a junior in 2001, his final year at the school, and broke the WAC single-season records for receiving yards (1,713) and touchdowns (19) while also tying the WAC record for most 200-yard games in a season (3). He ranked first in the conference and second in the nation in yards per game (142.8 avg.) and ranked third in the WAC and ninth in the nation in receptions per game (7.0 avg.) as a junior. He teamed with wide receiver Channon Harris to create a duo that averaged 12.75 receptions per game in 2001, forming the sixth best combo in the nation. As a sophomore, Lelie started every game and finished third in the WAC in receptions per game (6.17 avg.) and third in receiving yards per game (92.5 avg.). Lelie led Hawaii in receptions (74), receiving yards (1,110), touchdowns (11), all-purpose yards (92.5 avg.) and scoring (66 pts.) while gaining more than 100 yards receiving in three games and adding three games with at least two touchdown catches. LEPSIS AT A GLANCE:

- A 10th-year offensive lineman with experience at both tackle positions who started 116 of the last 117 Broncos games played in the regular season and playoffs.
- Helped Denver total the most rushing yards (15,819) and allow the fourth-fewest sacks (215) in the NFL since becoming a starter in 1999.
- Started on a Denver offensive line in 2005 that cleared the way for the franchise's second-best rushing total (2,539 yds.) and the NFL's No. 2 rushing game (158.7 ypg.).
- Did not miss an offensive snap on a 2004 line that set a franchise record by allowing only 15 sacks, shattering the previous best of 22 sacks set in 1971, to rank third in the NFL.
- Helped Denver post the sixth-best rushing total in team history (2,333 yds.) in 2004 and produce the franchise's fifth different 1,000-yard back since 1995 (Reuben Droughns, 1,240 yds.).
- Contributed to the Broncos rushing for a franchise-record 2,629 yards in 2003.
- Blocked for NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year (AP) Clinton Portis in 2002, helping the running back gain 1,508 rushing yards to set a franchise rookie rushing record.

- Earned All-Big Eight Conference honors as a tight end at the University of Colorado.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS: Signed by Denver as a college free agent 4/29/97; Placed on reserve/non-football injury list (knee) by Denver 7/16/97; Activated by Denver 2/1/98.

2005: Lepsis started all 16 regular-season games and both postseason contests for the Broncos at left tackle protecting Jake Plummer's blind side. The Broncos allowed only 23 sacks for the third-lowest total in NFL for the year as well as in franchise history. Selected as an All-Pro by Sports Illustrated (Dr. Z), Lepsis also contributed to the league's second-best rushing attack (158.7 ypg.), which featured Mike Anderson's 1,014-yard rushing effort and finished the year with the second-most rushing yards (2,539) in franchise annals. The team also gained 145 rushing first downs, the most in Broncos history. Lepsis helped Denver become only the third team in league history to boast two 900+yard rushers (Anderson and Tatum Bell), a 1,000-yard receiver (Rod Smith) and a 3,000-yard passer (Jake Plummer) in the same season. The offensive line cleared the way for 221 rushing yards while allowing only one sack on Monday Night Football vs. K.C. (9/26). Lepsis contributed to an offensive line that paved the way for Anderson's 115-yard output, the first individual 100-yard rushing performance of the season, vs. Jac. (10/2). Lepsis contributed to the team's fourth consecutive individual 100-yard performance as Anderson rumbled for 120 yards at NYG (10/23) while the line held the Giants sackless. The next week vs. Phi. (10/30), the Broncos became the first team in NFL history to have two 100-yard rushers (Anderson and Bell) and a 300-yard passer (Plummer) in the same game as part of the team's 564-yard, 49-point explosion. The ground game gained 155 yards vs. Oak. (12/24) and 157 yards at S.D. (12/31).

2004: Lepsis started all 16 regular-season games at left tackle and did not miss an offensive snap on a line that set a franchise record by giving up only 15 sacks, shattering the previous best of 22 sacks set in 1971, to rank third in the NFL. The offensive line did not surrender a sack in eight contests and blocked for a 100-yard rusher in eight different games, helping to produce a 100-yard rushing game by a Bronco in six of seven games midway through the year. Despite season-ending injuries to the Broncos' top two running backs early in the year, Denver posted its sixth-best single-season rushing total (2,333 yds.) behind the strong play of its offensive line. Lepsis started at left tackle in an AFC Wild Card Game at Ind. (1/9) and held Pro Bowl defensive end Dwight Freeney without a sack. Playing his 100th career NFL game at T.B. (10/3), Lepsis held Pro Bowl defensive end Simeon Rice sackless. Lepsis and the line cleared the way for Reuben Droughns to rush for 193 yards vs. Car. (10/10) to mark the ninth-highest single-game rushing total by a Bronco in franchise history during the regular season. At Oak. (10/17), Denver's line helped it post a season-high 254 yards on 51 carries (4.9 avg.). Lepsis was a part of franchise history vs. Atl. (10/31) in protecting Jake Plummer as he recorded the most passing yards in a single game in team history (9th in NFL history) with 499 yards.

2003: Lepsis started at right tackle in all 16 regular-season games, helping the Broncos rush for a franchise-record 2,629 yards while tying for the fourth-fewest sacks allowed in team history. Lepsis started at right tackle in the Broncos' AFC Wild Card Game at Ind. (1/4). At Bal. (10/26), he was ejected midway through the second quarter after inadvertently making contact with an official while trying to swat away the hand of a Ravens player who was holding his jersey after a play.

2002: Lepsis started 15-of-16 games at right tackle for the Broncos, missing his only start at Bal. (9/30) when he saw action on special teams only to handle the snapping duties. Lepsis' efforts were crucial in first-year running back Clinton Portis rushing for 1,508 yards to earn NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year honors from the Associated Press and set a rookie franchise rushing record. Lepsis also totaled one special-teams tackle during the year. He left Denver's game vs. Buf. (9/22) in the second quarter because of a hamstring strain and returned only to perform the long-snapping duties for a portion of the second half.

2001: Lepsis started all 16 games for Denver at right tackle. He missed several plays in the second half vs. Sea. (12/9) after twisting his left ankle and was replaced by Cooper Carlisle.

2000: Lepsis started at right tackle in all 16 regular-season games on a line that allowed only 30 sacks. He recorded a start in Denver's AFC Wild Card Game at Bal. (12/31). Lepsis and his linemates blocked for Mike Anderson as he posted the fifth-best rushing total by a rookie in NFL history (1,487 yds.).

1999: Lepsis started all 16 games for Denver at right tackle, a job that he won in a training camp battle with Trey Teague. He made his first NFL start in the season opener vs. Mia. (9/13).

1998: Lepsis appeared in all 16 regular-season games on special teams and saw limited duty as a reserve tackle for the Broncos. In the postseason, Lepsis played all three games both on the offensive line and on special teams. He played the final two-and-a-half quarters at right tackle in an AFC Divisional Playoff Game vs. Mia. (1/9) after Tony Jones left the game with a knee injury. Harry Swayne moved to Jones' left tackle position while Lepsis—playing in his first-ever postseason game—filled in admirably for Swayne on the right side as the line gave up just one sack for the day and cleared the way for 250 rushing yards. Earlier in the game, Lepsis was in on several offensive snaps as an eligible receiver. He played on offense and special teams in the AFC Championship Game vs. NYJ (1/17), seeing several offensive plays as an eligible receiver. Lepsis also saw action in Super Bowl XXXIII vs. Atl. (1/31). He played his first NFL game in the season opener vs. N.E. (9/7), replacing Swayne at right tackle early in the fourth quarter and playing the remainder of the game. At Was. (9/27), Lepsis lined up as an eligible receiver on the line in a goal-line situation. He also played the fourth quarter at right tackle vs. Phi. (10/4) and in the third quarter at right tackle at Sea. (10/11).

1997: Lepsis, who signed with the Broncos on April 29 as a college free agent, spent the season on the reserve/non-football injury list because of a college knee injury.

COLLEGE: Lepsis played 36 games (including bowl games) as a tight end for the University of Colorado and posted 16 starts. He caught 45 passes for 519 yards (11.5 avg.) with three touchdowns. He recorded a 2-yard reception for a score in the 1996 Cotton Bowl win against Oregon to cap off a junior season in which he earned second-team All-Big Eight honors. Lepsis graded out as a 90-percent blocker during his career at Colorado and added seven special-teams tackles. He also lettered three times in track for the Buffaloes and was a two-time All-American in the discus with a collegiate best toss of 196 feet.

PERSONAL: Lepsis was an All-Southwest selection at Frisco High School in Frisco, Texas, where he was Class 3A Defensive Player of the Year and a two-time state discus champion. In discus, his throw of 204'-8" was the second-best throw in the country in 1992. He also was a member of the National Honor Society in high school and majored in history at Colorado. Matt Lepsis was born Jan. 13, 1974, in Conroe, Texas. He and his wife, Shana, have a son, Hayden (4), and a daughter, Jordan (1), and the family resides in Castle Rock, Colo.

The Broncos became the third team in league history to have two 900+yard rushers (Mike Anderson and Tatum Bell), a 3,000-yard passer (Jake Plummer) and a 1,000-yard receiver (Rod Smith) in the same season. vs. Car. (10/10) as it blocked for Reuben Droughns during his 193-yard rushing effort, which marked the ninth-highest single-game rushing total by a Bronco in franchise history. Nalen's play at Oak. (10/17) was crucial in the Broncos holding an opponent without a sack for the third game in 2004 in addition to clearing paths for Denver's run game, which accounted for a season-high 254 yards on 51 carries (4.9 avg.). Nalen was a part of franchise history vs. Atl. (10/31) in protecting Jake Plummer as he recorded the most passing yards in a single game in team history (ninth in NFL history) with 499 yards.

2003: Nalen—voted to his fifth Pro Bowl; named All-NFL by the Associated Press; named All-NFL and All-AFC by Pro Football Weekly, named NFL Offensive Lineman of the Year by the NFL Alumni and the Broncos' nominee for the Ed Block Courage Award—started at center in all 16 regular-season games. He helped the Broncos rush for a franchise-record 2,629 yards while tying for the fourth-fewest sacks allowed (25) in team history. Nalen started at center in the Broncos' AFC Wild Card Game at Ind. (1/4). Against Det. (9/28), he left the game in the fourth quarter after suffering an injury to his right ankle.

2002: Nalen started the first seven games of the season at center before being placed on injured reserve Oct. 23. He underwent surgery to repair a torn anterior cruciate ligament in his left knee Nov. 5 at the Steadman-Hawkins Clinic in Vail, Colo. Nalen suffered the injury with three minutes remaining in regulation at K.C. (10/20). Although he missed the final nine games of the season, his efforts early in the year helped Clinton Portis rush for 1,508 yards to earn NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year honors (Associated Press).

2001: Nalen started all 16 games at center for the Broncos and played at a high level as he ran his streak of consecutive starts to 108 contests.

2000: Nalen started at center in all 16 regular-season games and was named All-NFL by the Associated Press for the second consecutive year, garnering first-team honors after a second-team showing the previous season. He also was voted to his fourth consecutive Pro Bowl, the most by an offensive lineman in franchise history. Tackle Gary Zimmerman set the previous standard with three consecutive selections (1994-96). Nalen was named All-Pro by USA Today, Sports Illustrated, The Sporting News and Football Digest, and he earned second-team honors from College & Pro Football Newsweekly as well as All-AFC kudos from Pro Football Weekly and Football News. Nalen blocked for running back Mike Anderson as he posted the fifth-best rushing total by a rookie in NFL history—1,487 yards—on the way to earning NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year honors from the Associated Press. The line limited opponents to just 30 sacks. Following the year, he underwent surgery to repair a hernia.

1999: Nalen started at center for the Broncos in all 16 regular-season games and was selected to his third consecutive Pro Bowl—first as a starter—while also garnering first-team All-NFL honors from Football Digest and The Sporting News as well as second-team honors from the Associated Press. 1998: Nalen—selected All-NFL by USA Today—started at center in all 16 regular-season games for Denver and was voted to play in the Pro Bowl for the second consecutive season. He played an integral role on an outstanding offensive line that allowed just 25 sacks—the third-lowest total for a full season in franchise history and the lowest since 1971—while paving the way for only the fourth 2,000-yard rusher in NFL history (Terrell Davis-2,008 yds.) and the league's second-ranked rushing attack at 154.3 yards per game. Nalen started at center in all three postseason games and helped pave the way for a rushing attack that averaged 183 yards per game as Denver won Super Bowl XXXIII with a 34-19 win vs. Atl. (1/31) at Pro Player Stadium in Miami.

loss of one yard after it was batted at the line of scrimmage by the Raiders' Chester McGlockton. The Broncos' offense set a team record by scoring 472 points during the season and led the NFL in total offense (367 yards per game) for the second consecutive year while posting the AFC's best mark for the third consecutive year. Nalen was part of a unit that powered Broncos running backs to 15 individual 100-yard rushing performances over the 20-game regular and postseason slate. In the postseason, Nalen started at center in all four games as part of an offensive line that allowed Denver to control games with its rushing attack. The Broncos averaged 187 rushing yards per game in the postseason, and the offensive line was named NFL Offensive Player of the Week for Denver's AFC Wild Card Game win vs. Jac. (12/27). Nalen, starting at center, played an integral role in the offensive unit piling up club postseason records of 511 total yards and 42 points in Denver's win over the Jaguars. He suffered a partial tear of his medial collateral ligament early in Denver's game at Min. (11/24) and was listed as questionable vs. Sea. (12/1) but did start. He also started Denver's lone playoff contest, an AFC Divisional Playoff Game vs. Jac. (1/4). The Broncos rushed for more than 100 yards in a game on 10 occasions during the 1996 season and topped the 200-yard mark on four of those occasions. The Broncos' offense averaged an NFL-best 361.9 yards per game.

1995: Nalen started 15 of the Broncos' 16 games, missing his only game at S.D. (9/24) while recovering from arthroscopic surgery to repair a lateral meniscus tear in his left knee suffered vs. Was. (9/17). He underwent surgery at the Steadman-Hawkins Clinic in Vail, Colo., on Sept. 18, and was expected to miss three-to-four weeks but returned to his starting position at Sea. (10/1). Behind the blocking of Nalen and the rest of the offensive line, Denver was able to rush for more than 100 yards in a game 11 times during the 1995 regular season and produced a 1,000-yard rusher in rookie Terrell Davis (1,117 yds.).

2005: Plummer enjoyed one of his best seasons as a professional in 2005 with the Broncos, guiding the club to a 13-3 regular-season record as well as its first AFC West title and playoff victory since 1998. Plummer, who was selected to the Pro Bowl as an alternate but could not make the trip to Hawaii due to an injury, started all 16 regular-season games and completed 277-of-456 passes (60.7%) for 3,666 yards with 18 touchdowns and seven interceptions. His seven interceptions and 1.5 percent interception rate were both the lowest of his career while his 90.2 passer rating and 60.7 completion percentage were both the second best of his career. Plummer, who added 151 rushing yards on 46 carries (3.3 avg.), ranked second in the NFL and led the AFC with his interception avoidance rate (1.5 percent). He set a Broncos franchise record with 229 consecutive passes (eight complete games) without an interception, a streak that was the fourth-longest in the NFL since 1996. His management of Denver's offense helped the club set a team record and lead the NFL in fewest giveaways (16), a total that helped the team rank second in the league in turnover ratio (+20, an improvement of +29 from 2004). Named AFC Offensive Player of the Week and FedEx Air NFL Player of the Week for his play vs. Phi. (10/30), Plummer guided only the third offense in league history to feature two 900+yard rushers (Mike Anderson and Tatum Bell), a 1,000-yard receiver (Rod Smith) and a 3,000-yard passer in the same year. He was sacked 22 times (135 yds.), a figure that ranked as the third lowest in the NFL. His play during the 2005 season moved his career touchdown-to-interception ratio to 150:148 and placed him sixth in the league in that category (18:7) for the year. He was particularly effective during the final 12 weeks of the season, compiling the third-best passer rating (97.7) and second-best touchdown-to-interception ratio (13:4 / 3.25) in the NFL from Week 6 through the conclusion of the regular season. In two playoff games, Plummer completed 33-of-56 passes (58.9%) for 420 yards with two touchdowns and three interceptions. In an AFC Divisional Playoff Game vs. N.E. (1/14), he threw for 197 yards on 15-of-26 passing (57.7%) with one touchdown and one interception in leading Denver to its first postseason win since a victory in Super Bowl XXXIII during the 1998 season. Plummer, who tossed a career postseason-long 42-yard pass to Smith against the Patriots, was instrumental in snapping New England's NFL-record 10-game postseason unbeaten streak. The following week vs. Pit. (1/22) in the AFC Championship Game, he connected on 18-of-30 passes (60.0%) for 223 yards with one touchdown and two interceptions. Plummer, who ran for a career postseason-best 30 yards, threw a 30-yard touchdown pass to wide receiver Ashley Lelie in the third quarter against Pittsburgh. In the regular-season opener at Mia. (9/11), Plummer attempted a season-high 48 passes, completing 22 of those for 251 yards with one touchdown and two interceptions. In the home opener vs. S.D. (9/18), Plummer completed 23-of-37 passes (62.2%) for 248 yards with one interception in a comeback win. After his third-quarter interception to Chargers FS Bhawoh Jue, Plummer started his franchise-record streak of 229 pass attempts without an interception. On Monday Night Football vs. K.C. (9/26), he recorded his first rushing touchdown of the season on a 1-yard scamper and threw for 152 yards on 13-of-18 passing (72.2%) with one touchdown toss. At Jac. (10/2), Plummer opened the game by connecting on 11 consecutive passes for Denver's longest such streak since he connected on 16 consecutive attempts vs. Detroit (9/28/03). He posted his second consecutive game with a completion percentage of 70 percent or better (73.1% / 19-of-26) and recorded two touchdown passes and 136 passing yards against the Jaguars. In the game vs. N.E. (10/16), he increased Denver's turnover-less streak to three games by not throwing an interception and connecting on 17-of-24 passes (70.8%) with two touchdowns. He completed a season-long 72-yard pass to Smith early in the second quarter against the Patriots and later threw a 55-yard pass to Lelie, both of which set up touchdowns. During the game against the Patriots, he surpassed the 25,000 passing yards plateau for his career and tossed his 1,000th pass as a Bronco. Plummer threw his 50th touchdown as a Bronco at NYG (10/23) on a 4-yard pass to fullback Kyle Johnson, making him the fastest player in Denver history to 50 touchdown passes (34 games). He directed the Broncos' offensive explosion the following week vs. Phi. (10/30) as it accounted for 564 yards and 49 points, totals that were the second highest for a game in club annals. He earned AFC Offensive Player of the Week and FedEx Air Player of the Week against the Eagles, completing 22-of-35 passes (62.9%) for 309 yards with four touchdowns. His 300-yard performance against the Eagles, which was his lone 300-yard game of the year, combined with Anderson (126) and Bell (107) both surpassing 100 rushing yards gave the Broncos the first such combination in the same game in NFL history. He surpassed his career-best 193 attempts without an interception at Oak. (11/13) and threw for 205 yards and one touchdown in that contest. On Thanksgiving Day at Dal. (11/24), he threw for 162 yards with a touchdown on 15-of-24 passing (62.5%) and guided Denver to an overtime victory on the holiday. However, he saw his streak without an interception end at 229 attempts against the Cowboys with cornerback Terence Newman's second-quarter interception. Plummer's 229 attempts without an interception marked the fourth-longest such streak in the NFL since 1996 and longest in Broncos history. At K.C. (12/4), Plummer completed 18-of-29 passes (62.1%) for 276 yards with one touchdown. Plummer, who also was intercepted twice against the Chiefs, accounted for his touchdown by dumping a short pass off to Anderson, who sprinted 66 yards for the score. In Denver's win at Buf.

(12/17) that clinched a playoff berth, Plummer hit 20-of-37 passes (54.1%) for 259 yards with two touchdowns and no interceptions. Plummer's touchdown pass to Wesley Duke against the Bills was the 150th of his career as well as the first of the rookie tight end's career. Plummer also eclipsed the 3,000-yard passing plateau on a 5-yard completion to tight end Stephen Alexander in the fourth quarter against Buffalo. Plummer helped the Broncos secure the AFC West title as well as the No. 2 seed in the conference's playoffs with a 19-of-29 (65.5%), 268-yard performance vs. Oak. (12/24). With the Broncos' playoff position already set, Plummer started but saw limited action in their regular-season finale at S.D. (12/31) and was replaced by Bradlee Van Pelt to begin the second half.

2004: Plummer's creativity behind center resulted in several miraculous performances during the year as he completed 303-of-521 passes (58.2%) for 4,089 yards with 27 touchdowns and 20 interceptions while adding 202 rushing yards with one touchdown in 16 regular-season starts. Plummer set a Broncos single-season record in passing yards (4,089) and tied the franchise's single-year touchdown pass mark (27), records that John Elway had sole possession of at the beginning of the season. In attempting every one of his team's passes, he became the first quarterback in franchise history and was one of only two quarterbacks (New Orleans' Aaron Brooks) in 2004 to accomplish that feat. With the help of one of the NFL's top offensive lines, Plummer was sacked only 15 times in 2004 to set a franchise record for fewest quarterback takedowns in a season (previous best was 22 in 1971). Plummer, selected AFC Offensive Player of the Week for Wk. 16 and named offensive co-captain, ranked third in the AFC (4th in NFL) in passing yards and ranked third in the AFC (eighth in NFL) in completions. His touchdown total, a single-season career high, tied for third in the AFC (T-7th in NFL) and he directed the Broncos to four fourth quarter or overtime game-winning or game-tying drives on the year (vs. K.C. 9/12, at T.B. 10/3, vs. Car. 10/10 and vs. Mia. 12/12) to increase his career total to 26. Plummer became only the second quarterback in Broncos history (Craig Morton in 1981) to throw eight touchdowns in a two-game span with four touchdowns in each game vs. Hou. (11/7) and vs. Atl. (10/31). He completed 24-of-34 passes (70.6%) for 284 yards with two touchdowns and one interception in the Broncos' AFC Wild Card Game at Ind. (1/9). He compiled a 103.1 passer rating (the fourth-highest single-game passer rating in Broncos postseason history) against the Colts that came largely from a strong second half in which he led the Broncos to 21 points, which tied for the franchise's fourth-highest postseason point total in a half. Plummer directed the Broncos to a win in their season opener vs. K.C. (9/12) by completing 18-of-29 passes (62.1%)—with completions to eight different Broncos—for 230 yards with two touchdowns and two interceptions. Plummer, who completed a 58-yard pass against the Chiefs, also had a career-high eight rushes. He racked up 294 yards and two touchdowns on 25-of-36 passing (69.4%) two weeks later vs. S.D. (9/26). His 294 passing yards were the most he had in a game since Nov. 18, 2001, vs. Detroit. In the second quarter against the Chargers, he moved into 10th place on the Broncos' all-time passing yards list, ahead of John McCormick. He guided Denver to a win at T.B. (10/3) with 138 yards on 13-of-30 passing (43.3%) with one touchdown and no interceptions. He efficiently managed Denver's offense in the fourth quarter against the Buccaneers as the Broncos held onto the ball for 13:20 in the final period. After throwing a pair of third-quarter interceptions vs. Car. (10/10), Plummer bounced back by directing the Broncos to his 19th career comeback victory against the Panthers when his 39-yard touchdown pass in the corner of the end zone to Ashley Lelie capped off an 87-yard drive early in the final period. Plummer, who finished the game with 226 yards on 17-of-29 passing (58.6%), directed his 25th game-winning or game-tying scoring drive in the fourth quarter or overtime against the Panthers. He tossed three touchdowns, all of which occurred in the first half, at Oak. (10/17) in throwing for 190 yards on 11-of-20 passing (55.0%) with one interception to lead the Broncos' offense to 31 unanswered points and the franchise's largest margin of victory (28 pts.) in a road game against the Raiders. His performance at Oakland was his seventh career game with three or more touchdowns, and it marked the third contest in which he threw three scores in a half. On Monday Night Football in his 100th career start at Cin. (10/25), Plummer completed 23-of-40 passes (57.5%) for 221 yards with one touchdown and two interceptions. He moved into ninth place on the Broncos' all-time passing yardage list (ahead of Mickey Slaughter) and passed Steve DeBerg for eighth place on the franchise's all-time completions list against the Bengals. He posted the ninth-highest single-game yardage mark in NFL history and set a franchise record with 499 passing yards on 31-of-55 passing (56.3%) with four touchdowns and three interceptions vs. Atl. (10/31). His four touchdowns against the Falcons tied a career high and were spread out to four different receivers on scoring drives that were all 69 yards or longer, including an 80-yard touchdown strike to Rod Smith in the first quarter that tied for the longest completion of his career (he also threw an 80-yd. TD pass at St. Louis 12/15/02). Additionally, he moved ahead of DeBerg for eighth place on the Broncos' all-time passing yards list against the Falcons. In throwing for four touchdowns and 234 yards in a 16-of-24 (66.7%) performance vs. Hou. (11/7), Plummer set a single-game career best with a 137.8 passer rating. He connected with four different Denver players on his scoring passes, including three in the first half to mark the fourth time in his career he accomplished that feat in a half. He was extremely efficient in Denver's game at N.O. (11/21) and finished the day throwing two touchdowns, which moved him ahead of Steve Ramsey for seventh place on the Broncos' all-time touchdown passes list (35), and totaling 224 yards on 19-of-29 (65.5%) passing. In snowy, frigid conditions at night vs. Oak. (11/28), he completed a career-long 85-yard touchdown pass, the eighth-longest passing play in team history, to Rod Smith in the second quarter and finished the game 14-of-23 (60.9%) for 245 yards with one touchdown and one interception. At K.C. (12/19), Plummer completed 23-of-41 passes (56.1%) for 292 yards with one touchdown and two interceptions while also recording a season-best 22-yard run on a scramble. His touchdown pass, a 22-yarder to Smith, in Kansas City moved him ahead of Elway (22 in 1985 and 1998) into sixth place on the Broncos' all-time single-season touchdown list. Plummer completed his first eight passes at Ten. (12/25) and ended the first quarter with a perfect 158.3 passer rating on the way to completing 21-of-26 passes (80.1%) for 303 yards, two touchdowns and one interception for a final 124.8 rating. His play against the Titans moved the quarterback into fifth place on Denver's all-time single-season touchdown list (ahead of Frank Tripucka - 24 in 1960) and into fourth place on the Broncos' all-time single-season passing yards list (ahead of John Elway - 3,635 in 1997). He led the Broncos to a win vs. Ind. (1/2), securing the team's second consecutive playoff berth in a game in which he broke John Elway's single-season franchise record for passing yards (4,030 in 1993) and tied Elway's franchise-best single-season touchdown mark (27 in 1997). He completed 17-of-30 passes (56.7%) against the Colts for 246 yards with two touchdowns, including a 38-yarder, with no interceptions while recording his first rushing touchdown (5 yds.) of the season on the way to earning AFC Offensive Player of the Week honors. His 23-yard pass to tight end Jeb Putzier in the third quarter against the Colts put him over the team's all-time single-season yardage mark while a 5-yard touchdown to tight end Patrick Hape tied him atop Denver's single-season passing touchdown list.

2003: Plummer started 11-of-16 games in his first year with the Broncos, missing Wk. 6 (vs. Pit. 10/12) because of a right shoulder injury, Wks. 7-9 (at Min. 10/19; at Bal. 10/26 and vs. N.E. 11/3) because of a broken left foot and Wk. 17 to rest after clinching a playoff spot a week earlier. He completed 189-of-302 passes (a career-best 62.6%) for 2,182 yards with 15 touchdowns (7th in NFL) and seven interceptions for a career-best passer rating of 91.2 that ranked fourth in the AFC (5th in NFL). An offensive co-captain and AFC Offensive Player of the Week for Wk. 3, Plummer's TD/INT ratio of 15/7 was the best of his career (2.1/1), topping his previous best of 18/14 (1.3/1) in 2001. He also rushed 37 times for 205 yards (5.5 avg.) with three touchdowns. He displayed remarkable consistency, compiling a streak of 139 passes without an interception over a period of four-plus games early in the season in which he totaled 10 scoring passes. In the Broncos' AFC Wild Card Game at Ind. (1/4), he started and completed 23-of-30 passes (career postseason best 76.7%) for 181 yards with one touchdown and two interceptions for a passer rating of 74.4. Plummer started and made his Broncos debut in the season opener at Cin. (9/7) and completed 12-of-25 pass attempts (48.0%) for 115 yards with three interceptions. At S.D. (9/14), he completed 9-of-13 passes (69.2%) for 94 yards with three touchdowns in less than a half of football. Two of his touchdown throws came in the opening quarter, marking a first for his career. Plummer suffered a first-degree separation of his right shoulder with 8:11 remaining in the second quarter while rushing the ball for a 2-yard gain and a Broncos first down on a fourth-and-1 play from the Chargers' 5-yard line. Two plays later, he threw his third touchdown of the day to tackle Cooper Carlisle (6 yds.) before leaving the game for good. In the home opener vs. Oak. (9/22) on Monday Night Football, Plummer overcame soreness from the previous week's shoulder injury to complete 14-of-21 passes (66.7%) for 197 yards with two touchdowns while adding five rushes for 48 yards (9.6 avg.) with one touchdown. His game against the Raiders earned him AFC Offensive Player of the Week honors, the MNF Horse Trailer Player of the Game award and the Snickers Hungriest Player Award. With both passing touchdowns coming in the opening quarter, it marked the second consecutive week that he had thrown for two scores in the first quarter; the first two times of his career. His 40-yard run in the second quarter was the longest of his career and the longest rush ever by a Broncos quarterback, topping Bubby Brister's 38-yard touchdown run at Kansas City on Nov.

16, 1998, also on Monday Night Football. The next week vs. Det. (9/28), Plummer completed 25-of-34 passes (73.5%) for 277 yards with two touchdowns while leading the team in rushing with 40 yards on six carries (6.7 avg.). In the first half against the Lions, he completed 16 consecutive passes, tying the fourth-longest streak in franchise history (third longest in one game) and helping him record a 73.5 completion percentage for the second-best percentage of his career. At K.C. (10/5), he completed 20-of-38 passes (52.6%) for 220 yards with one touchdown. With the touchdown, he extended his streak to eight touchdowns with no interceptions since Wk. 2. Returning to the lineup vs. S.D. (11/16) after missing four games (1 with a right shoulder injury and 3 with a left foot injury), Plummer showed no ill effects of the layoff by completing 23-of-34 passes (67.6%) for 253 yards with three touchdowns while throwing one interception for a passer rating of 106.6. All three of his touchdowns went to tight end Shannon Sharpe, which made Sharpe the NFL's all-time leader in touchdown receptions by a tight end. He also tossed Rod Smith's 600th career reception, making Smith the 31st player in NFL history to achieve that number. Plummer's interception was his first since the season opener at Cin. (9/7), snapping a personal-best streak of 139 attempts without an interception. During that span, he threw 10 touchdown passes. In a key divisional rematch vs. 11-1 K.C. (12/7), Plummer operated the offense with precision, completing 20-of-29 passes (69.0%) for 238 yards with a touchdown for a passer rating of 105.2 in a 45-27 Broncos win. Plummer completed 22-of-36 passes (61.1%) for 269 yards with one interception vs. Cle. (12/14) for a passer rating of 72.6. He also rushed one time for 23 yards, which proved crucial as he put the Broncos near field-goal position on their first play from scrimmage in overtime. The win marked Plummer's first fourth-quarter or overtime game-winning or game-saving drive as a Bronco and was the 22nd of his career. A week later at 11-3 Ind. (12/21), Plummer engineered the Broncos' biggest road victory in years with his execution of the offense, lifting Denver into the playoffs for the first time since 2000. He completed 14-of-17 passes (82.4%) for 238 yards with a touchdown and ran for two more scores. Plummer overcame an early interception that was returned for a touchdown to complete 14 of his final 16 passes in directing the win. His 82.4 completion percentage was a career high while his 60-yard completion to Ashley Lelie was a season high. Plummer was inactive at G.B. (12/28) with a playoff spot secured.

2002: Plummer threw 18 touchdown passes for the second consecutive year to match a single-season best and finished his final season in Arizona with a 65.7 passer rating and 5.61 average-per-attempt. Overall, he started all 16 games and completed 284-of-530 passes (53.6%) for 2,972 yards with 18 touchdowns and 20 interceptions. Plummer rushed 46 times for 283 yards (6.2 avg.)—both single-season career highs—and two scores. At Sea. (9/15), Plummer had 10 completions in 22 attempts (45.5%) for 107 yards and engineered key second-half touchdown drives of 84 and 90 yards for his 17th career comeback victory. Reaching a career milestone, Plummer eclipsed the 15,000-yard passing mark in the first quarter vs. S.D. (9/22) with a 65-yard scoring strike to MarTay Jenkins, achieving the mark in his 71st career game. He finished the contest completing 16-of-36 passes (44.4%) for 229 yards. Against NYG (9/29), Plummer hit 23-of-32 passes (71.9%) for 168 yards to earn his 18th career comeback victory in 21-7 win by guiding the Cardinals to two fourth-quarter touchdowns. Plummer posted another steady performance in a win at Car. (10/6) by completing 18-of-40 passes (45.0%) for 221 yards to earn his 19th career comeback victory. Plummer authored career comeback victory No. 20 in a 9-6 overtime win vs. Dal. (10/20), connecting on 23-of-46 passes (50.0%) for 232 yards and adding another 46 yards on four carries (11.5 avg.). The key play against Dallas, in overtime, set the table for a game-winning field goal as he and wide receiver David Boston pulled off an improvisation that resulted in a 20-yard interference call to set up a 40-yard field goal four plays later. Plummer overcame a difficult start at S.F. (10/27) after the Cardinals fell to 31-7 deficit at halftime by rallying in the second half to score on three consecutive possessions, beginning with a 34-yard touchdown scramble up the middle to cut the deficit to 31-14. He had an impressive first half vs. Stl. (11/3) by completing 11-of-14 passes (78.6%) for 124 yards, including a 7-yard touchdown to Frank Sanders. Plummer opened the game at Phi. (11/17) with six consecutive completions and threw two first-half touchdown passes of 12 yards to rookie Jason McAddley and two yards to fullback Joel Makovicka. He finished the game 20-of-35 (57.1%) for 170 yards with one interception. In an efficient performance vs. Det. (12/8), Plummer completed 24-of-43 passes (55.8%) for 228 yards with two touchdowns and just one interception in the Cardinals' 23-20 overtime win. Plummer capped a solid day by arching a touch pass to Kevin Kasper for a diving, 23-yard gain on third-and-7 in overtime that advanced the ball to the Detroit 28-yard line to set up the game-winning field goal three plays later to mark his 21st career comeback victory. In producing one of his best efforts of the season, Plummer completed 17-of-27 passes (63.0%) for 258 yards with two touchdown passes at Stl. (12/15). He brought the Cardinals back from a 24-7 halftime deficit with an outstanding third quarter in which he completed 5-of-5 passes for 135 yards, highlighted by an 80-yard scoring connection to Marcel Shipp for the longest touchdown pass of his career at the time. Plummer began the season finale at Den. (12/29)—his final game with the Cardinals before joining the Broncos —with an effective first half of 10 completions in 18 attempts (55.6%) for 91 yards and a 1-yard scoring connection to Kasper that pulled the Cardinals within 9-7 at halftime. He struggled in the second half against the Broncos, however, with just three completions in nine attempts before he was pulled for Josh McCown midway through the fourth quarter.

2001: Plummer received high marks for exhibiting patience, intelligence and judgment in an efficient season for the Cardinals and joined New York Giants passer Kerry Collins as the only two quarterbacks to take every snap from center for their teams. He completed 304-of-525 pass attempts (58.0%) for 3,653 yards with 18 touchdowns and 14 interceptions. Additionally, he rushed 35 times for 163 yards (4.7 avg.). Plummer finished as the NFL leader with 1,277 fourth-quarter passing yards and threw 10 touchdown passes in the final period to tie with San Francisco's Jeff Garcia for tops in the NFC. At the conclusion of the season, he had a stretch of 142 passes without an interception until a fourth-quarter toss at Was. (1/6) bounced off the hands of an intended receiver into the arms of a Redskins defender. The pick marked only his second interception in his final 205 attempts of the season. During the year, Plummer engineered his 13th, 14th, 15th and 16th career comeback victories. Additionally, the four touchdown passes and only one interception vs. Det. (11/18) helped him finish the season with a positive (+4) touchdown-to-interception ratio for the first time in his career. In the season opener vs. Den. (9/23), he completed a 26-yard strike to David Boston on the first play of game to surpass the 11,000-yard career passing mark. Plummer finished the game completing 16-of-28 passes (57.1%) for 242 yards with one touchdown and one interception. Against Atl. (9/30), he had an impressive completion mark of 65.7 percent on 23-of-35 passes for 276 yards, including a stretch of 11 consecutive pass completions but tossed three interceptions in the contest. Plummer spun his fourth-quarter comeback magic for the 13th time in has career and fifth against the Eagles with a 21-20 win at Phi. (10/7), completing 18-of-32 passes (56.3%) for 238 yards with two touchdowns and one interception. He guided the team on a 74-yard, eight-play game-winning drive against Philadelphia that took just 64 seconds and culminated with a 35-yard scoring pass to MarTay Jenkins. Plummer demonstrated impressive game management in a win vs. Det. (11/18), compiling his 14th career comeback victory after bringing Arizona back from a 31-21 fourth-quarter deficit and finishing the game 21-of-33 (63.6%) for 334 yards with four touchdowns. The 45 points scored against Detroit tied for the most by a Cardinals team since the franchise scored 49 vs. New Orleans in 1977. Authoring his 15th career comeback win at S.D. (11/25), he completed 19-of-31 attempts (61.3%) for 241 yards against the Chargers, including a 37-yard scoring toss to David Boston in the second quarter. Plummer etched career comeback No. 16 in the books with a 34-31 overtime victory at Oak. (12/2). Hidden in his 22-of-38 (57.9%), 249-yard effort against the Raiders was his outstanding second-down numbers of 12-of-14 (85.7%) for 182 yards. Plummer connected on 17-of-31 passes (54.8%) for 144 yards vs. Dal. (12/23), including a key 58-yard completion to Frank Sanders in second quarter to set up the go-ahead touchdown. He came back the next week at Car. (12/30) and hit 12-of-23 passes (52.2%) for 173 yards and a pair of scoring passes to Boston to enjoy his third consecutive game without an interception and a 30-7 win.

2000: As a 14-game starter for Arizona, Plummer completed 270-of-475 pass attempts (56.8%) for 2,946 yards with 13 touchdowns and 21 interceptions, and his passer rating of 66.0 was nearly 16 points higher than his 50.8 figure a year ago. Plummer had touchdown passes of 50 yards or more in three consecutive games (Wks. 5-7), matching the same feat accomplished by Neil Lomax in 1983. Plummer was named NFC Offensive Player of the Week after the Cardinals' 32-31 win vs. Dal. (9/10). In the game, he posted a career-best 75 percent completion figure (18-of-24) in bringing the Cardinals back from an 11-point deficit with two fourth-quarter touchdown passes for his 12th career comeback victory. Plummer had an efficient, mistake-free effort in a 29-21 victory vs. Cle. (10/8) by completing 17-of-30 passes (56.7%) for 171 yards with two touchdowns and no interceptions. Against Was. (11/5), he completed 12-of-19 passes (63.2%) for 146 yards and was able to pull out a pivotal 16-15 victory. With 146 passing yards against the Redskins, Plummer became the fastest Cardinal to reach 10,000 career passing yards in only his 47th appearance. He endured a tough day at Phi. (11/19), leaving the game twice with his final exit coming early in the fourth quarter to clear the way for backup quarterback Dave Brown to finish the game. He left the Eagles' game with bruised ribs and a sprained thumb and was downgraded to the emergency quarterback the next week vs. NYG (11/26). Back in the lineup at Cin. (12/3), Plummer connected on 22-of-44 attempts (50.0%) for 278 yards with a pair of scoring strikes, hooking up with David Boston for 38 and 15-yard touchdowns. He was inactive at Jac. (12/10) while recovering from rib/sternum injuries. He returned vs. Bal. (12/17) and performed impressively against the NFL's top defense, throwing for 266 yards on 23-of-43 passing (53.5%) with one touchdown and two interceptions. Plummer concluded the year completing 14-of-31 passes (45.2%) for 144 yards with three interceptions at Was. (12/24).

1999: Plummer was hampered by injuries throughout most of the season after suffering a sprained thumb in Arizona's second preseason game, a broken finger midway through the year and nagging hip and groin injuries. He played 12 games (11 starts)—missing four games midway through the year with a finger injury—and completed 201-of-381 passes (52.8%) for 2,111 yards with nine touchdowns and 24 interceptions. The thumb injury came on a preseason sack vs. Ten. (8/20). He was diagnosed with a sprained thumb, and Plummer saw little or no practice time in the coming weeks while the injury healed. The inactivity hampered his play in the first six weeks of the regular season as he completed 93-of-181 passes (51.4%) for 928 yards with three touchdowns and 14 interceptions. A broken finger vs. Was. (10/17) forced him to miss the next five starts (did not play for four consecutive games and played but did not start at NYG 11/28). On the opening possession of second half against the Redskins, Plummer was sacked by Washington linebacker Shawn Barber, who came in untouched on a blindside hit. X-rays disclosed a spiral fracture on his ring finger (right hand) that ultimately sidelined Plummer for the next five weeks. Plummer returned to action by opening the second half at NYG (11/28) in relief of Dave Brown with the Cardinals down 10-6 at halftime. On his second possession, Plummer drove the Cardinals 16 yards in five plays for a 2-yard scoring toss. He later threw another touchdown against the Giants on a drive in which he completed five consecutive passes. Returning to the field as a starter the next week vs. Phi. (12/5), Plummer completed 8-of-15 passes (53.3%) for 53 yards after three quarters and faced a 17-7 deficit entering the final period. He rallied the Cardinals in the fourth quarter with two touchdowns in the final five minutes for his 11th come-from-behind victory by completing 12-of-19 passes (63.2%) for 126 yards, throwing for one touchdown and running for another in their 21-17 win. At Atl. (12/26), he guided the Cardinals to scoring drives of 86 yards (13 plays) and 74 yards (8 plays) and finished the game completing 15-of-26 passes (57.7%) for 217 yards with two interceptions. Plummer concluded the year with a career-high 35 completions on 57 attempts (61.4%) for 396 yards, a pair of touchdowns and three interceptions at G.B. (1/2). He was excellent on first downs, completing 20-of-29 attempts (69.0%) for 246 yards while converting third-down situations with pass completions for first-down yardage on seven occasions.

1998: Plummer—second to Green Bay's Brett Favre in the NFC with 547 pass attempts and 324 completions—earned Pro Bowl alternate status in a breakout season for the Cardinals. In starting all 16 regular-season games, he threw for 3,737 yards with 17 touchdowns and 20 interceptions, compiling a 75.0 passer rating en route to guiding Arizona to its first postseason victory in 51 seasons and first postseason berth since 1982. The NFL's Player of the Week for Wk. 16, Plummer directed the Cardinals to an NFL single-season record seven wins in eight games decided by three points or less. He guided Arizona to a 20-7 upset victory in an NFC Wild Card Game at Dal. (1/2), completing on 19-of-36 passes (52.8%) for 213 yards with two touchdowns and two interceptions while avoiding a sack for only the second time on the year. Plummer played a key role in the win against Dallas, which marked the franchise's first postseason win since 1947. In an NFC Divisional Playoff Game at Min. (1/10), he recorded 242 yards passing on 23-of-41 attempts (56.1%) with two interceptions. He settled down in the second half to complete 17-of-29 passes (58.6%) for 177 yards. He opened the season completing 14-of-36 passes (42.4%) for 166 yards with no touchdowns or interceptions in a loss at Dal. (9/6). He struggled at Sea. (9/13) against a pass rush that sacked him seven times and pressured him throughout the game. Displaying patience with 137 yards on 21-of-35 passing (60.0%) in the home opener vs. Phi. (9/20), Plummer connected on a key 7-yard scoring play to tight end Johnny McWilliams on third-and-7 with seven minutes left to give the Cardinals a 10-3 lead. Plummer played an efficient, near error-free game at Stl. (9/27) with 211 yards on 21-of-31 passing (67.7%) with one touchdown and one interception. He completed his final five passes against the Rams, including a 4-for-4 stretch covering 21 yards on the game-winning 10-play, 75-yard scoring drive. Against Chi. (10/11), Plummer finished with a 72 percent completion mark on 18-of-25 passing to total 157 yards. He posted outstanding third-down numbers against the Bears, completing 7-of-10 attempts (70.0%) for 67 yards. At Det. (11/1), he engineered a hard-fought 17-15 victory. He tossed a 16-yard scoring pass to Frank Sanders against the Lions midway through the second period before finding Rob Moore for a 36-yard scoring strike in the second half and finished the game 15-of-25 (60.0%) for 198 yards with two touchdowns and one interception. Plummer completed a franchise-record 15 consecutive completions vs. Was. (11/8) to open the second half of the game and completed 22-of-30 attempts (73.3%) for 186 yards with one touchdown on the day for a single-game best 73.3 completion percentage. At the end of the Redskins game, he took the Cardinals 50 yards in five plays on a drive that covered just 22 seconds to set up the game-winning field goal with two seconds left. Playing before a national television audience and sold-out Sun Devil Stadium vs. Dal. (11/15), Plummer authored one of the most improbable comeback efforts in recent NFL history as he rallied the Cardinals from a 28-0 deficit. He compiled 465 passing yards—314 in the second half—in a furious comeback to bring Arizona to within a 35-28 score and holding the football on the Cowboys' 5-yard line. Had either of the two game-ending end zone incompletions been completed and led to a Cardinals victory, the outcome would have equaled the greatest regular-season comeback in NFL history, matching an effort authored by quarterback Joe Montana vs. New Orleans, Dec. 7, 1980, when the 49ers overcame a 35-7 deficit and won 38-35 in overtime. In the second half alone, Plummer completed 18-of-33 attempts (54.5%) for 314

THE COMEBACK KID

Jake Plummer has posted 28 game-saving or game-tying drives in the fourth quarter and 21 game-winning comeback drives in the fourth quarter or overtime, a total that ranks second among active NFL quarterbacks.

yards and two touchdowns while totaling three touchdowns and one interception for the contest. His 465 passing yards against Dallas set a Sun Devil Stadium NFL high and ranked third overall in Cardinals history. His yardage total against Dallas was just five yards shy of most by a second-year player in NFL history behind Dan Marino (470 in 1984), Vinny Testaverde (469 in 1988) and Johnny Lujack (468 in 1949). At Was. (11/22), Plummer led the Cardinals to a 31-0 lead in first half on his way to completing 17-of-28 passes (60.7%) for 251 yards with two touchdowns and one interception. Additionally, he ran for three scores to match the highest total by an NFL quarterback in a game since New Orleans' Archie Manning totaled that number against Chicago on Oct. 2, 1977. Plummer authored his seventh fourth-quarter comeback victory at Phi. (12/13) in an overtime victory after throwing for 234 yards on 18-of-26 passing (69.2%) with one touchdown and one interception. Plummer celebrated his 24th birthday (12/19) with another impressive comeback effort vs. N.O. (12/20). Against the Saints, he completed 32-of-44 passes (72.7%) for 394 yards with no touchdowns and one interception to earn the NFL's Player of the Week award. He took the Cardinals 73 yards on six plays with just 1:21 left against the Saints to allow kicker Chris Jacke to hit a game-winning 36-yard field goal as time expired. Against S.D. (12/27) in the regular-season finale, he delivered the Cardinals their first postseason berth since 1982 by engineering a drive that ended with a 52-yard game-winning field goal by Jacke in the 16-13 victory.

1997: Plummer established himself, to quote former San Francisco 49ers Head Coach and Pro Football Hall of Famer Bill Walsh, as "one of the bright young stars in the NFL in years" with his memorable rookie season. He opened the campaign as the third quarterback behind starter Kent Graham and back-up Stoney Case and was elevated on the depth chart after Graham suffered a knee injury in the Cardinals' sixth game. Inactive for the first six games, Plummer saw his first NFL action at Phi. (10/19) and totaled 10 appearances (9 starts) on the year, setting a Cardinals rookie passing record by completing 157-of-296 passes (53.0%) for 2,203 yards with 15 touchdowns and 15 interceptions while setting an NFL rookie single-game passing record with 388 passing yards in a game. In what amounted to little more than one-half of a season, he nearly equaled the season touchdown pass totals of such marquee quarterbacks as San Francisco's Steve Young (19), Dallas' Troy Aikman (19) and Miami's Dan Marino (16). Plummer's average per attempt of 7.44 yards ranked sixth in the league, and he led the NFL with an average-per-completion mark of 14 yards. During Plummer's NFL debut at Phi. (10/19), he played briefly and completed 5-of-9 passes (55.6%) for 98 yards, including a 31-yard touchdown to Kevin Williams that marked the first scoring pass of his career. He entered the game against the Eagles at 10:26 of the fourth quarter with the ball on the Cardinals' 2-yard line and marched the club 98 yards for a touchdown in 14 plays, the longest touchdown drive in the NFL in 1997. He also became the first NFL quarterback to take his team more than 66 yards for a score in his first possession. In his fourth NFL start at NYG (11/16), Plummer set an NFL rookie single-game passing record with 388 yards, breaking Aikman's previous mark (379 yards) that was established against the Cardinals in 1989. His four touchdown passes vs. Was. (12/7) were the most by an NFL rookie since Bledsoe also notched four in 1993. Plummer joined Aikman, Bledsoe and Jim Plunkett as the only NFL quarterbacks to throw four touchdown passes in one game as rookies and was named NFC Offensive Rookie of the Month for November after completing 76-of-133 passes (57.1%) for 1,156 yards with five touchdowns for a passer rating of 82.7. Plummer started vs. Phi. (11/2) but struggled through three quarters before Graham relieved him in the fourth period of Arizona's win. He completed 13-of-22 passes (59.1%) for 148 yards at Dal. (11/9) and gained 51 yards on seven rushing attempts (7.3 avg.). The next week, he established an NFL rookie passing mark at NYG (11/16) with 388 yards on 22-of-33 passing (66.7%), including scrambling away from pressure for a 70-yard scoring toss to Frank Sanders on the third play of the second half that marked Arizona's longest play from scrimmage in 1997. Plummer fought through a frustrating first half at Bal. (11/23) but responded in the second half to connect with Sanders on a 4-yard touchdown pass on fourth down with four minutes left in the game and total 218 passing yards on 19-of-34 passing (55.9%). He took the Cardinals 55 yards in six plays, using only 34 seconds, with four completions in five attempts to set up a game-winning 43-yard field goal. Plummer was effective vs. Was. (12/7), accumulating 337 yards and four touchdowns on 19-of-38 passing (50.0%) while bringing Arizona back from numerous deficits along the way. The highlight of the game was a 37-yard touchdown toss to tight end Chris Gedney in the third quarter when Plummer rolled out on a naked bootleg, faked a Redskins defender in the flat and delivered a perfect throw to the middle of the field. Plummer cruised through an impressive first half at N.O. (12/14) on 13-of-21 passing (61.9%) for 142 yards. He guided the Cardinals on a 15-play, 80-yard scoring march to open the game and stake Arizona to a 7-0 lead against the Saints. Plummer later scrambled 10 yards for his first NFL rushing touchdown to cap the drive in a run reminiscent of his Rose Bowl touchdown against Ohio State as he stepped around numerous defenders and dove head first into the end zone. In the season finale vs. Atl. (12/21), he completed 19-of-39 passes (48.7%) for 237 yards with three touchdowns and two interceptions while adding a rushing score in a comeback win.

COLLEGE: Plummer captured the hearts and imagination of college football fans with his exciting, improvisational style that carried Arizona State University to an undefeated 1996 regular season and a trip to the Rose Bowl. He finished third in the Heisman Trophy balloting, which was the highest finish for a Pac-10 Conference player since Washington defensive tackle Steve Emtman placed fourth in 1991. A four-year starter who started 40 consecutive games, Plummer set ASU career records for completions (632), pass attempts (1,142) and passing yards (8,827) with the latter surpassing the mark (6,717 yards) of former Dallas Cowboys signal-caller Danny White (1971-73). His 65 touchdown passes also surpassed White's Sun Devils record. Only Steve Stenstrom of Stanford (75 touchdowns, 1991-94) and John Elway of Stanford (77 touchdowns, 1979-82) threw more touchdown passes in Pac-10 Conference history. A consensus All-America selection, Plummer became the first Arizona State player to be voted Pac-10 Offensive Player-of-the-Year after capturing the award as a senior. As a senior, he completed 198-of-348 passes (56.9%) for 2,776 yards with 24 touchdowns while scoring four touchdowns on 95 rushing attempts. Additionally, he led ASU to a stunning 19-0 shutout of defending national champion Nebraska at Sun Devil Stadium, completing 20-of-36 passes (55.6%) for 292 yards. It marked the Cornhuskers' first loss since the 1993 Orange Bowl and their first regular-season setback since a 19-10 defeat to Iowa State in 1992. Earning first team All-Pac-10 Conference honors as a junior, he finished with 173 completions on 301 attempts (57.5%) for 2,222 yards with 17 touchdowns. In 1993, Plummer became the first true freshman quarterback to start at Arizona State since John Walker in 1984 and led the team to a 4-2 record as a starter, including wins in four of the last five outings.

PERSONAL: Plummer was an All-American at Capital High School in Boise, Idaho, after passing for 6,097 yards and 68 touchdowns in his final two years. He completed 205-of-297 passes (69.0%) and rushed for 645 yards and 10 touchdowns as a senior. A two-time All-Idaho selection as quarterback and punter, Plummer captained the football and baseball teams as a senior. He created the Jake Plummer Foundation in 1999, which was founded to provide opportunities for children's causes as well as raise funds and generate awareness for Alzheimer's disease organizations. His foundation holds a bowl-o-rama each spring, and the first five events in the Phoenix area raised approximately $450,000 for Children's Hospital, the Alzheimer's Association and Homeward Bound. He held his first event in Denver in 2004, and the proceeds benefited the Alzheimer's Association and Family Tree. He filmed a public service announcement in 2004 honoring Pat Tillman, a teammate and friend at Arizona State, as well as all service men and women in the U.S. Military. Plummer won the nationally televised Quarterback Shootout in 1999 and 2000. Plummer's brother, Brett, holds Brown University's 800-meter dash record. Plummer was named the Denver Athletic Club's Professional Athlete of the Year for his performance with the Broncos in 2005. Plummer is an avid golfer and owns a Shepherd/Heeler dog named Ray-Rae. Jason Steven Plummer was born Dec. 19, 1974, in Boise, Idaho.

He also drilled 28 punts inside the 20-yard line and had a long punt of 68 yards while tying for fourth in the NFL with 28 punts of more than 50 yards. Sauerbrun proved to be an asset in all areas of special teams, tying a career high with nine special-teams tackles to mark the most ever for a Chiefs punter or kicker since the club began tracking that statistic in 1982. He averaged 51.0 gross yards (36.8 net) on four punts vs. Oak. (10/15) before recording a 55.7 gross average (43.0 net) when the Chiefs visited the Raiders (11/5) later in the year. 1998: Sauerbrun played three games with Chicago before sustaining a season-ending left knee injury that forced him to go on injured reserve Sept. 23. Before the injury, he led the NFC (2nd in NFL) in both gross (49.4) and net (42.1) punting averages. Sauerbrun finished the year punting 15 times with six attempts landing inside the 20-yard line. He suffered an injury to his left knee (ACL and MLL) on a roughing-the-punter call in the fourth quarter at T.B. (9/20). He underwent successful knee surgery Oct. 2.

Against NYJ (11/16), he suffered a slight concussion and missed his first play since his rookie year. After placing a season-high four punts inside the 20-yard line vs. T.B. (11/23), Sauerbrun averaged a season-best 53.6 gross yards on five punts at Det. (11/27), marking the fourth-highest single-game total in franchise history. He displayed remarkable effort at Stl. (12/14), making a touchdown-saving tackle after a blocked field-goal attempt.

1996: Sauerbrun played all 16 games for Chicago and was a second-team All-NFC choice by United Press International after ranking third in the NFC with a 44.8-yard gross average (34.9 net) on 78 punts, including 15 inside the 20-yard line and a then career-long 72-yarder. Sauerbrun also was 2-of-2 on pass attempts, totaling 63 yards to gain first downs on a pair of fake punts. Additionally, he rushed once for three yards, securing a first down out of a punt formation. Sauerbrun had season bests in gross (53.3) and net (45.3) punting in the season opener vs. Dal. (9/2). At Was. (10/6), Sauerbrun completed a 16-yard pass to wide receiver Bobby Engram on a fake punt and had a 52.8-yard gross punting average on three attempts.

1995: Selected by Chicago in the second round (56th overall) of the 1995 NFL Draft, Sauerbrun played 15 games as a rookie and averaged 37.8 gross yards (31.1 net) on 55 punts. He also placed 16 punts inside the 20-yard line and recorded a long punt of 61 yards while making three special-teams tackles. He handled the team's kickoff duties, drilling six of his 64 kicks for touchbacks. In his NFL debut vs. Min. (9/3), he punted five times for a 38.4-yard gross average (31.4 net) with one punt inside the 20-yard line. Sauerbrun placed three attempts inside the 20 vs. G.B. Sauerbrun concluded his first NFL season with a single-game best 40.0 net average on his lone punt, a 43-yarder, vs. Phi. (12/24).

A three-time first-team All-Big East Conference selection as well as an honorable mention All-America choice as a sophomore and junior, Sauerbrun firmly established himself atop several single-season and career collegiate records. He set an NCAA record for the highest single-season gross average (min. 50 att.) with a 48.4-yard gross mark as a senior in 1994 while setting an NCAA single-year milestone with 32 punts of at least 50 yards. He averaged 60.1 yards on nine punts, including a 90-yarder, against Nebraska as a senior to set an NCAA single-game record with a 57.0-yard gross average. Sauerbrun also handled the Mountaineers' kickoff duties and was the school's place kicker in 1993 as a junior, converting 8-of-17 field goals and 30-of-32 extra points. Sauerbrun demonstrated remarkable leg strength as evidenced by allowing only 104 of his 221 career kickoffs to be returned. Initially recruiting by West Virginia as a place kicker, Sauerbrun was part of a recruiting class at the school that included Cowboys Pro Bowl kicker Mike Vanderjagt.

PERSONAL: Sauerbrun averaged 45.1 gross yards punting and kicked a 62-yard field goal as a senior at Ward Melville High School in East Setauket, N.Y. avg.) with one touchdown that moved him into a tie with Terrell Davis (65) for the franchise lead in career touchdowns. Smith also increased his streak of consecutive games with a reception to 100 in the game against the Eagles. He made five grabs for 50 yards, including a 27-yard touchdown, at Oak. (11/13). His touchdown catch against Oakland moved Smith ahead of Davis into first place on the franchise's all-time touchdowns list (66). He also passed Charlie Joiner and Michael Irvin (both have 750) for 16th place on the league's all-time receptions list against the Raiders. In each of the next two games, he recorded five catches for 57 yards in Denver's games vs. NYJ (11/20) and on Thanksgiving Day at Dal. (11/24). He also had a 20-yard touchdown catch against the Cowboys. At K.C. (12/4), he contributed six catches for 79 yards to surpass James Lofton (764) for 15th place on the league's all-time receptions list. He also gained seven yards on a reverse and was sacked once (11 yds.) against the Chiefs. Smith earned AFC Offensive Player of the Week honors for the first time in his career during a win at Buf. (12/17) that clinched a playoff spot for Denver. He posted team highs in both receptions and receiving yards as he hauled in 11 passes for 137 yards (12.5 avg.) with one touchdown against the Bills. He outjumped Bills safety Troy Vincent and snatched a batted pass out of the air for a 3-yard touchdown to tie the score at 7-7. Against the Bills, Smith eclipsed the 1,000-yard receiving plateau for the eighth time in his career with a 9-yard catch with less than three minutes remaining in the third quarter. Smith became the NFL's all-time leading receiver in games played against the Raiders with his five-catch, 91-yard performance (18.2 avg.) vs. Oak. (12/24) to help Denver clinch the No. 2 seed in the AFC Playoffs. Smith's play against Oakland moved his career receptions total to 99 against the club. In limited action in the regular-season finale at S.D. (12/31), he made one catch for 11 yards to extend his streak of consecutive games with at least one reception to 108 games and move to within three catches (797) of 800 for his career.

2004: The Broncos' NFL Walter Payton Man of the Year finalist, Smith led Denver with 79 receptions and 1,144 receiving yards (14.5 avg.) with seven touchdowns in 16 regular-season starts to post his franchise-best seventh 1,000-yard season. Smith led the Broncos in receiving yards for the eighth consecutive year and paced Denver in receptions for the sixth time in the past eight seasons (1998-99, 2001-04), ranking seventh in the AFC in receiving yards and ninth in the conference in receptions. It was a banner year for the veteran receiver as he became the Broncos' franchise leader in receptions (712) and touchdown catches (59) by passing former tight end Shannon Sharpe in both categories vs. Hou. (11/7). Additionally, he became one of 20 players in NFL history to record 700 career receptions in Denver's game at K.C. (12/19), passing Gary Clark (699 catches) for 20th on the NFL's all-time receptions list. The year saw him join 31 other players in NFL history with more than 9,000 career receiving yards (at Cin. 10/25) and become the only undrafted player to accomplish that feat. He posted one of the NFL's highest single-game receiving outputs on the season with 208 yards vs. Atl. (10/31), becoming only the second Bronco in team history to top 200 receiving yards in a game. Smith was selected by his teammates as an offensive co-captain, joining quarterback Jake Plummer in that role, and caught a pass in all 16 games to extend his franchise-record streak to 92 consecutive games with a catch. He moved past Haven Moses (at Oak. 10/17) for most regular-season games played by a receiver in team history with 151 at the end of the year. He also was a strong special teams player, leading the Broncos and ranking fourth in the AFC (7th in NFL) in punt-return average with a 10.1 average on 22 returns for 223 yards. Smith caught a team-high and career-postseason best seven passes for 99 yards (14.1 avg.), including a 30-yard reception, with one touchdown in Denver's AFC Wild Card Game at Ind. (1/9). His 9-yard touchdown grab in the third quarter against the Colts was the fifth touchdown reception of his playoff career, giving him sole possession of first place on the Broncos' all-time list of postseason touchdown catches. He recorded a game-high seven receptions for 76 yards (10.9 avg.) vs. K.C. (9/12) in Denver's season opener while serving as the Broncos' sole punt returner with four returns for 55 yards (13.8 avg.), including a 30-yard return that was the longest in the NFL that week. Smith had game highs in receptions (6) and receiving yards (83) for a 13.8 average at Jac. (9/19). He caught his first touchdown (16 yds.) of the season vs. S.D. (9/26), passing Sharpe for seventh place on the Broncos' all-time scoring list with 338 points and led Denver in receiving yards (75 yards on five catches) for the third consecutive game. Smith led or tied for the team high in receptions for the fifth consecutive game vs. Car. (10/10) with four catches for a team-high 60 yards (15.0 avg.). His hustle was exemplified by running nearly 100 yards in an effort to chase down Panthers defensive end Julius Peppers, who intercepted a Plummer pass and took it back 97 yards before getting tangled up with Smith at the Broncos' 3-yard line. In starting at Oak. (10/17), Smith moved past Moses for most games played (142) by a receiver in team history. He turned in another solid outing on Monday Night Football at Cin. (10/25) with five catches for 50 yards (10.0 avg.). Against the Bengals, he caught his second touchdown of the season in the second quarter on a 3-yard pass and eclipsed 9,000 career receiving yards, becoming one of 31 players and the only undrafted player to accomplish that feat. With a career-high 208 receiving yards vs. Atl. (10/31), Smith posted the second-most receiving yards in a game in franchise history and joined Sharpe as the only two Broncos in team history to go over the 200-yard receiving mark in a game. Additionally, his 208 yards at the time marked the highest single-game receiving output in the NFL for the year. He caught a season and game-high nine passes against the Falcons, including an 80-yard touchdown pass in the first quarter that tied him with Sharpe for most career touchdowns in franchise history (55) and was his regular-season career long at the time. Smith's consistency against the Falcons was evident as he became the first Bronco and the fourth NFL player in the last 10 years to record 100 or more yards receiving in each half (107 yds. in the first half, 101 yds. in the second half). He became the Broncos' all-time leader in receptions and touchdown catches vs. Hou. (11/7) with three catches for 29 yards (9.7 avg.), including a 13-yard touchdown in the second quarter in which Plummer found the receiver wide open in the left corner of the end zone to move him into first place all time in touchdowns. Smith's 9-yard reception in the second quarter gave him more receptions than any other player in franchise history. In snowy, frigid conditions vs. Oak. (11/28), he recorded a career-long 85-yard touchdown reception that marked the eighth-longest passing play in team history on the way to finishing the game with two catches for 99 yards (49.5 avg.). He caught six of the Broncos' first eight receptions vs. Mia. (12/12) and recorded a game-high eight receptions for 97 yards (12.1 avg.) while moving into 21st on the NFL's all-time receptions list (passing Terrence Mathis). He became one of 20 players in NFL history to record 700 career receptions at K.C. (12/19) as he used a six-catch, 75-yard effort (12.5 avg.) with one touchdown to reach the 700-mark in catches, passing Gary Clark for 20th all time in career receptions in NFL history, while eclipsing the 1,000-yard receiving mark for the seventh time in his career. Smith caught a touchdown pass in a six-catch, 58-yard effort at Ten. (12/25). He had six receptions for the third consecutive game in the regular-season finale vs. Ind. (1/2).

2003: Smith started 15 regular-season games and led Denver with 74 receptions (T-7th in AFC) for 845 yards (11.4 avg.) with three touchdowns. He also rushed 10 times for 98 yards (9.8 avg.) with a long of 26 and averaged 21.2 yards on six punt returns (127 yds.) with one touchdown, a long of 65 (TD) and eight fair catches. He led the Broncos in receiving yards (845) for the seventh consecutive season and led the team in receptions (74) for the fifth time in the past seven seasons (1998-99, 2001-03). Voted offensive captain by his teammates, Smith caught his 600th career pass vs. S.D. (11/16) to become the 31st NFL player to reach that milestone and finished the regular season having caught a pass in a team-record 76 consecutive games. Smith started and led the team in receiving with five catches for 66 yards (13.2 avg.) with a touchdown in the Broncos' AFC Wild Card Game at Ind. (1/4). He passed Steve Sewell (31) for fourth place in postseason receptions by a Bronco (32), and with the touchdown, tied Vance Johnson (4) for the franchise postseason record. In the season opener at Cin. (9/7), he caught five passes for a team-high 43 yards and tied a career high for rushing attempts when he ran the ball three times for 23 yards. At S.D. (9/14), Smith again led all Broncos receivers with five receptions for 71 yards (14.2 avg.). He was ejected vs. Oak. (9/22) with 7:49 remaining in the second quarter after inadvertently striking an official while trying to separate himself from Raiders defensive tackle Chris Cooper after the whistle had blown. Playing in place of the injured Deltha O'Neal on special teams, Smith had one punt return for 15 yards against the Raiders that marked his first punt return since Sept. 14, 1997, vs. St. Louis. At K.C. (10/5), he caught a team and then season-high eight passes for 130 yards (16.3 avg.) and completed a pass to running back Clinton Portis for a 72-yard gain. Against the Chiefs, Smith extended his franchise record with his 27th career 100-yard game (9th vs. K.C.). His 72-yard pass completion was the longest of his career with the only other completion coming on a 14-yard pass to John Elway vs. Oakland on Nov. 22, 1998. The next week vs. Pit. (10/12), Smith caught four passes for 70 yards (17.5 avg.) with a touchdown (11 yds.), his first of the season and 50th of his career, while rushing once for a 26-yard gain. Smith caught four passes for 23 yards (5.8 avg.) and rushed twice for nine yards (4.5 avg.) at Bal. (10/26). The Ravens' game marked Smith's 69th consecutive game with a catch, breaking Ed McCaffrey's franchise-record streak of 68, which was snapped in the season opener at Cin. (9/7). He also took over the punt return duties against the Ravens, returning two punts for 19 yards. Smith led the team with 58 yards on four catches (14.5 avg.) vs. N.E. (11/3). He recorded a season-high 10 catches for 84 yards (8.4 avg.) vs. S.D. (11/16) in becoming the 31st player in NFL history to record 600 or more career receptions. He reached the milestone on his second catch of the game, a 7-yard grab from Plummer at 8:51 of the first quarter. Smith also scored his first career touchdown on a punt return in the Chargers' game with a 65-yard return for a score in the second quarter to highlight a stellar day with three returns for 93 yards (31.0 avg.). Coupled with O'Neal's 57-yard return for a touchdown in the Broncos' previous game vs. N.E. (11/3), it marked the first time in NFL history that a team had returned a punt for a touchdown in consecutive games by different players. Smith led Denver with nine receptions for 86 yards (9.6 avg.) with a touchdown vs. Chi. (11/23). Against K.C. (12/7), Smith tallied seven receptions for 85 yards (12.1 avg.) and rushed twice for 32 yards (18.0 avg.) with a long of 23 yards to pass Floyd Little (8,741) for second on the Broncos' all-time list for total yards from scrimmage.

He also resumed punt return duties for the day, fair catching three kicks in place of O'Neal, who was away from the team to be with his ill father. He added four receptions at Ind. (12/21) for 42 yards (11.4 avg.) along with a 13-yard rush. On Smith's first catch of the night, he gained nine yards and surpassed running back Terrell Davis (8,887 yds.) to claim first place on the Broncos' all-time yards-from-scrimmage list. He was inactive at G.B. (12/28) after the Broncos clinched a playoff spot a week earlier.

2002: Smith—voted offensive captain by his teammates—started all 16 games and led Denver with 89 receptions for 1,027 yards (11.5 avg.) with a long of 46 and a team-leading five touchdown receptions. He posted his sixth consecutive 1,000-yard receiving season (6th overall) to extend franchise records in both cases while eclipsing the 500-catch mark vs. Mia. (10/13). Smith tied for eighth in the AFC in receptions (11th in NFL) and tied for ninth in the conference in receiving yards. He ended the year as the Broncos' all-time leader in receiving yards (7,783), receiving touchdowns (49) and 100-yard games (27); ranked second in receptions (559) and third in total touchdowns (51). Smith caught at least seven passes in four consecutive games and caught at least five passes in 13-of-16 games. In the Broncos' win vs. Buf. (9/22), he caught seven passes for a season-high 94 yards (13.4 avg.) with a touchdown while passing Lionel Taylor (6,872) for second place in Broncos history for receiving yards. His touchdown catch also allowed him to tie Sammy Winder (48) for third in total touchdowns by a Bronco. He attempted a pass at Bal. He caught a season-high nine passes for 88 yards (9.8 avg.) vs. Mia. (10/13), surpassing the 500-catch plateau for his career. His 500th catch came on a 10-yard toss from Brian Griese with 2:25 remaining in the first quarter. At Sea. (11/17), Smith caught a 14-yard touchdown pass from Steve Beuerlein with 5:20 remaining in the game, his third of the season and the 47th scoring reception of his career to tie Shannon Sharpe for the franchise record. He also passed Sammy Winder (48) for third place in total touchdowns by a Bronco in the team's contest against the Seahawks. Against Ind. (11/24), Smith became the Broncos' all-time receiving yards and touchdown receptions leader, passing Sharpe in both categories. At NYJ (12/8), he passed Lionel Taylor (543) for second place in career receptions by a Bronco as he caught six passes for 38 yards (6.3 avg.). Smith's longest reception of the season came vs. K.C. (12/15) on a 46-yard pass from Griese en route to three catches for 83 yards (27.7 avg.). He caught five passes for 62 yards (12.4 avg.) in the season finale vs. Ari. He missed his only game at Mia. (12/2) because of a sprained left ankle and played but did not start at K.C. (12/16) because the Broncos opened the game with an extra tight end. He led the NFL in receptions with a franchise-record 113 and ranked third in the AFC in receiving yards (1,343; 6th in NFL) for an 11.9 average with 11 receiving touchdowns. He became one of only six players in NFL history to catch 100 or more passes in back-to-back seasons (Jerry Rice, Herman Moore and Marvin Harrison-3; Cris Carter, Sterling Sharpe and Smith-2), and his 1,343 receiving yards were the second most in a season by a Bronco behind only his franchise-record 1,602 yards in 2000, giving Smith four of the top seven single-season marks in franchise history. Smith ranked second in the AFC (3rd in NFL) in receiving touchdowns, fifth (T-7th in NFL) in total touchdowns and fifth (8th in NFL) in scoring (non-kickers) with 68 points. Smith also tied for eighth (16th in NFL) in total yards from scrimmage (1,370); fifth (T-8th in NFL) in total first downs (77); tied for first (Harrison, IND) in the NFL in receiving first downs (75) and tied for the NFL lead in third-down receptions (30-286-9.5 avg.-4TDs) with Minnesota's Randy Moss. His 67 receptions through the first eight games were the most ever by an NFL player at that stage of a season, breaking the record of 60 held by Minnesota's Cris Carter (1994) and Phoenix's J.T. Smith (1989). Smith started the season opener vs. NYG (9/10) and caught nine passes for 115 yards with one touchdown while rushing once for 24 yards. He continued to be the go-to guy at Ari. tive 100-yard game to open the season, the first time he has started the season in such a manner and only the second time a Bronco has done so (Mike Pritchard, 1994). Smith's second touchdown of the Arizona contest was the 36th of his career, tying Steve Watson for seventh place in Bronco annals. His 162 receiving yards represented his third best single-game total. Smith led the team vs. Bal. (9/30) with five catches for 83 yards (16.6 avg.) to move into fourth on Denver's career receiving yards list, passing Riley Odoms (5,755) and Vance Johnson (5,695). Smith posted his third 100-yard receiving game of the season vs. K.C. (10/7), catching eight passes for 110 yards (13.8 avg.) with a touchdown. It marked the first time he had 100 yards receiving in three of the season's first four games and also was his 24th career 100-yard game (regular season) to tie him with Lionel Taylor for the franchise record. At Sea. (10/14), Smith claimed sole possession of sixth place on the Broncos' all-time list for touchdown receptions, catching his 38th to break a tie with Johnson. He also moved into fourth on the club's career receptions list in the Seahawks' contest in passing Odoms (396). Smith caught his 400th career pass in the first quarter at S.D. (10/21)—an 8-yard reception from Brian Griese—and topped the 6,000-yard career receiving mark in the fourth quarter on a 13-yard reception from Griese. Smith posted his fourth 100-yard game of the season vs. N.E. (10/28), catching six passes for 159 yards with one touchdown, which came on a season-best 65-yard pass play. The 100-yard game was the 25th of Smith's career, giving him the franchise record, passing Lionel Taylor. He also passed Steve Watson (6,112) for third place on the Broncos' all-time list for receiving yards, finishing the day with 6,171. Smith had a big game at Oak. (11/5), catching 10 passes for 91 yards (9.1 avg.) with two touchdowns to tie Odoms for fifth on the Broncos' career receiving touchdowns list. Smith also caught a two-point conversion from Griese in the game. In the second quarter against the Raiders, he caught his fourth pass of the night, the 416th of his career, moving him into third place on the franchise list ahead of Johnson (415). Smith continued his steady pace vs. S.D. (11/11), catching five passes for 74 yards (14.8 avg.), with a long of 32. He left the game against the Chargers late in the third quarter with a twisted ankle and did not return. He saw little playing time vs. Was. (11/18) because of the ankle injury but caught a 1-yard touchdown in the second quarter to raise his career total to 42 and pass Odoms for fifth place all-time in touchdown receptions by a Bronco. Smith played his 100th career NFL game at Dal. (11/22) and suffered a severely sprained left ankle in the game that forced him to miss Denver's next contest at Mia. (12/2). He returned to the starting lineup vs. Sea. (12/9) and caught a game-high eight passes for 66 yards (8.3 avg.). Smith hit the century mark in receiving yards for the fifth and final time in 2001 at K.C. (12/16), extending his franchise career record to 26. Against the Chiefs, he caught eight passes for 100 yards (12.5 avg.) with a touchdown. Smith's 11-yard scoring reception from Gus Frerotte in the second quarter was his 10th of the season and 43rd of his career. Smith continued to carve out his place in the Broncos' record book vs. Oak. (12/30), catching eight passes for 56 yards (7.0 avg.) and scoring one touchdown. His eight catches on the day gave him 106 for the season, a franchise single-season high, breaking the old record of 101 set a year earlier by Ed McCaffrey (Smith had 100 that season). Smith's record-breaking 102nd catch came on a 5-yard pass from Griese with 5:12 remaining in the third quarter. He became the first Bronco in team history to catch 100 passes in consecutive seasons and just the sixth in NFL history. The touchdown catch was the 11th of the season for Smith (one shy of his career best, set in 1997) and the 44th of his career to tie the franchise record shared by Lionel Taylor, Haven Moses, Shannon Sharpe and McCaffrey. His seven catches at Ind. (1/6) gave him 113 on the season, the most in the NFL and the best ever by a Bronco.

2000: Smith—voted to play in his first Pro Bowl; named second-team All-NFL by the Associated Press; named first-team All-Pro by USA Today, College & Pro Newsweekly and Football Digest and All-AFC by Pro Football Weekly and Football News—started at wide receiver for Denver in all 16 regular-season games and led the AFC in receiving yards (2nd in NFL) while ranking third in the AFC (4th in NFL) in receptions with a career-high 100 catches for a franchise-record 1,602 yards (16.0 avg.), an average of 100.1 yards per game. He also had eight receiving touchdowns and had one rushing touchdown (50 yds.) among his six carries for 99 yards (16.5 avg.). Smith's 100 receptions tied for second most by a Bronco in a single season, trailing only teammate Ed McCaffrey's franchise-record 101 in 2000, and matched the previous standard held by Lionel Taylor (1961). It made him the 28th player in NFL history to reach 100 in a season, and made he and McCaffrey the second tandem in NFL history each catch 100 passes in a season (Detroit's Herman Moore-123 and Brett Perriman-108 did so in 1995). Additionally, his 1,602 receiving yards tied for ninth most in a season in NFL history (with San Diego's Lance Alworth, 1965). Smith was named AFC Offensive Player of the Month for November, the first such honor of his career, when he caught 26 passes for 479 yards (18.4 avg.) with one touchdown and rushed three times for 78 yards (26.0 avg.) with a score to help the Broncos to a 4-0 record. Smith ranked third in the AFC (8th in NFL) in yards-per-reception average; tied for sixth in the AFC (T-11th in NFL) with eight receiving touchdowns; ranked fifth in the AFC (10th in NFL) in total yards from scrimmage (1,701 yds.); led the NFL in receiving first downs (77) while ranking seventh (11th in NFL) in total first downs (80); tied for eighth in the AFC (T-12th in NFL) in third-down receiving (22-408-18.5 avg.-49LG-3TD) and tied for the NFL lead in pass receptions of 20 yards or longer with 28 (Torry Holt). Stretching back to the 1999 season, Smith finished 2000 on a tear in his last 25 games by averaging 6.4 receptions for 93.1 yards per game (160 catches for 2,328 yds.). Smith started in an AFC Wild Card Game at Bal. (12/31) and caught three passes for 58 yards (19.3 avg.) with a long of 24. In the season opener at Stl. (9/4), Smith caught three passes for 88 yards (29.3 avg.) with one touchdown while adding one rush for eight yards. He was sensational vs. Atl. (9/10) with a game-high seven receptions for 117 yards (16.7 avg.) with two touchdowns (37 and 11 yds.). It was his 14th career 100-yard game and catapulted him over the 4,000-yard mark in career receiving. At Oak. (9/17), he had seven catches for the second week in a row to total 63 yards (9.0 avg.). Against N.E. (10/1), Smith tied the franchise record for receptions, hauling in 13 passes for 160 yards (14.8 avg.). In the Patriots' game, he also moved into eighth place on the Broncos' all-time receiving yards list, passing Rick Upchurch (4,369). He caught a career-high three touchdown passes vs. Cle. (10/15) on a day in which he moved past Haven Moses (302) for seventh place on the Broncos' all-time career receptions list. Smith caught five passes for 111 yards (22.2 avg.) against the Browns and rushed once for eight yards while recording his seventh career multiple-touchdown game (1 with 3 TDs, 6 with 2). He eclipsed the 100-yard receiving mark for the second consecutive week at Cin. (10/22) with 110 yards and a touchdown on seven receptions (15.7 avg.). Additionally, his touchdown was the 32nd receiving score of his career, tying him with Al Denson for eighth in franchise history. It marked the second consecutive week both Smith and McCaffrey topped the 100-yard receiving mark, just the second time in franchise history that feat has occurred, and the first since 1962. Smith tied a franchise record with his third consecutive 100-yard receiving game (Taylor-1961, Mark Jackson-1988 and Anthony Miller-1994) at NYJ (11/5), catching five passes for a game-high 134 yards. In the 10th game, vs. Oak. (11/13), Smith went above the 1,000-yard mark for the season, his fourth consecutive 1,000-yard campaign to extend his own franchise record. Additionally, his four career 1,000-yard receiving seasons ties the franchise record held by Lionel Taylor (1960-61, '63, '65). Smith was a key in the Broncos' 38-37 win vs. S.D. (11/19), hauling in a game-high 11 receptions for a career-high 187 yards (17.0 avg.) to mark the second-highest total in club history. It was Smith's seventh 100-yard receiving game of the season, tying the previous club record. Smith caught his eighth touchdown pass of the year against the Chargers, a 26-yarder from Gus Frerotte, to trigger a 21-point fourth-quarter outburst that propelled Denver to the dramatic come-from-behind win. Smith also went above the 5,000-yard receiving mark for his career in the game against San Diego. In Denver's 38-31 win at Sea. (11/26), Smith broke Watson's franchise record for receiving yards in a season (1,244 yds.) by catching four passes for 82 yards (20.5 avg.) to reach 1,314 yards for the year with four games remaining. He also had the best rushing day of his career at the Seahawks with three carries for 78 yards (26.0 avg.), including a career-best 50-yard run for a touchdown. He had another strong performance vs. Sea. (12/10) with 82 yards on five receptions (16.4 avg.). Smith claimed several more milestones at K.C. (12/17) with his club-record eighth 100-yard receiving game of the season (6 catches for 101 yds., 16.8 avg.), breaking the previous standard of seven set by Taylor in 1960. It was also the 21st of his career to mark the second most in franchise history (Lionel Taylor-24). Smith caught eight passes for 80 yards (10.0 avg.) in the regular-season finale vs. S.F. (12/23) to reach 100 catches for the season, becoming just the 28th player in NFL history to accomplish the feat in a single season. He also moved past Watson (353) for sixth place on Denver's all-time receptions list.

1999: Smith started 15 games and led the Broncos with 79 receptions for 1,020 yards (12.9 avg.) with four touchdowns and a long reception of 71 yards. Denver's nominee for the Ed Block Memorial Courage Award, he ranked fifth in the AFC in receptions and ninth in receiving yards and was magnificent over the final nine games of the year, catching 60 passes for 726 yards, an average of 6.7 catches and 80.7 yards per game. By finishing with 1,020 yards, Smith became the first player in franchise history to post three consecutive seasons with 1,000 or more receiving yards, and together with Ed McCaffrey (1,018) made it two consecutive seasons with two receivers topping 1,000 for the fourth time overall in franchise history that such a feat occurred. Smith was inactive at K.C. (9/19) due to a groin injury suffered late in the first half of the season opener vs. Mia. (9/13). His first two catches of the season came at T.B. (9/26), and he added three more for a season-high 90 yards vs. NYJ (10/3), including a 71-yard grab. He topped all receivers at Oak. (10/10) with 79 yards on seven receptions (11.3 avg.), including his first touchdown of the season despite being hampered by a sore groin. Smith posted his highest yardage total of the season vs. Min. (10/31) with seven catches for 117 yards (16.7 avg.) to mark his 12th career 100-yard game and first of the year. He led all receivers the following week at S.D. (11/7) with five catches for 70 yards (14.0 avg.) and was the leader in catches a week later at Sea. (11/14) with seven for 63 yards (9.0 avg.). Smith posted a then season-high eight catches in recording his second 100-yard game of the season with 106 yards vs. K.C. (12/5). His third touchdown of the season came from Brian Griese at Jac. (12/13), and he finished with six catches for 92 yards (15.3 avg.). Smith caught his fourth touchdown of the season vs. Sea. (12/19) on a 14-yard pass from Griese to move into sole possession of ninth place on Denver's career receiving-touchdown list. He was outstanding in the season-finale vs. S.D. (1/2), tying his career high with nine receptions for a game-high 106 yards (11.8 avg.), pushing him over the 1,000-yard receiving mark for a club-record third consecutive season. It was Smith's third 100-yard game of the season and the 14th of his career.

1998: Smith—named second-team All-NFL by College & Pro Football Newsweekly—started at wide receiver for Denver in all 16 regular-season games and continued to establish himself as one of the league's most productive receivers with a team-high 86 receptions (fourth best in club history) for 1,222 yards (third best in club history) for a 14.2 yards-per-reception average with six touchdowns and a long catch of 58 yards (vs. K.C. 12/6). He also gained 63 yards rushing on six reverses to give him 1,285 total yards from scrimmage. He threw one pass, a 14-yard completion to John Elway, vs. Oak. (11/22). Smith tied for second in the AFC (T-3rd in NFL) in receptions and ranked second in the AFC (4th in NFL) in receiving yards while also tying for fifth in the AFC (T-8th in NFL) in third-down receptions (24 catches for 352 yds.) and ranking eighth (14th in NFL) in first downs earned (63). With 1,222 receiving yards, on the heels of his 1,180-yard campaign in 1997, Smith became just the fifth player in franchise history to post 1,000 or more receiving yards in back-to-back seasons (Lionel Taylor, 1960-61; Steve Watson, 1983-84; Anthony Miller, 1994-95 and Shannon Sharpe, 1996-97) and with Ed McCaffrey (1,053) gave Denver two 1,000-yard receivers in the same season for just the third time in franchise history (1994 and 1997). Smith started at wide receiver in all three postseason games and was the Broncos' leading receiver with 12 receptions for 260 yards (21.7 avg.) with two touchdowns, including an 80-yard score in Denver's 34-19 Super Bowl XXXIII win vs. Atl. (1/31). His previous postseason long accounted for his other touchdown on a 28-yard strike from John Elway in an AFC Divisional Playoff Game vs. Mia. (1/9). In that contest, he caught four passes for a team-high 71 yards, including the 28-yard touchdown reception from Elway early in the fourth quarter. Smith added three more receptions for 37 yards (12.3 avg.) with a long of 15 in the AFC Championship Game vs. NYJ (1/17). But he saved his best for last with five receptions for a game-high 152 yards in the Super Bowl vs. Atl. (1/31), including the 80-yard scoring reception from Elway in the second quarter to give Denver a 17-3 lead. It tied for the second-longest play from scrimmage in Super Bowl history and the longest pass play in Broncos postseason history while marking the longest in the club's Super Bowl history. Additionally, Smith's yardage total was the fourth highest in a Super Bowl game and moved him into second place (from seventh) on the Broncos' career postseason career list (480 yds.). He tied his career high for receptions vs. Phi. (10/4) with seven for a then season-high 95 yards (13.6 avg.) and his first two touchdowns of the season. At Sea. (10/11), Smith shattered his previous career bests with a game-high eight receptions for 136 yards (17.0 avg.) and a touchdown, highlighted by a season-best 50-yard reception from Elway in the first quarter. He posted six catches for 95 yards (15.8 avg.) with a 28-yard touchdown in the fourth quarter vs. Oak. (11/22) but made the day even more memorable by throwing a pass back to Elway for a 14-yard completion after taking the ball on a reverse. The completion marked the first in the NFL career of Smith, who was a part-time quarterback in college. At S.D. (11/29), Smith tied his then career high with eight receptions and posted his eighth career 100-yard game (101 yds.) while adding a touchdown on a 13-yard pass from John Elway in the second quarter. He posted back-to-back 100-yard games for the first time in his career after his career-high-tying eight receptions for a personal-best 165 yards (20.6 avg.) vs. K.C. (12/6), which included his longest catch of the season (58 yards). It was Smith's ninth career 100-yard game and his third in 1998 as he joined McCaffrey (103 yds.) to give Denver two 100-yard receivers in the same game for the first time since Nov. 20, 1994, vs. Atlanta (Cedric Tillman-175, Anthony Miller-102). He closed the regular season on a high note vs. Sea. (12/27), catching a career-high nine passes for 158 yards (17.6 avg.) with a touchdown.

1997: Smith started all 16 regular-season games at wide receiver and finished second on the Broncos in receptions with 70 for a team-high 1,180 yards (16.9 avg.) with a long of 78 yards and 12 touchdowns in his first year as a full-time starter. The yardage and touchdown totals both represented the third-highest single-season totals in franchise history at the time. He also carried the ball five times on reverses for a total of 16 yards rushing (3.2 avg.) with a long of 21 yards at S.D. (11/30). Smith's 16.9 yards-per-reception average ranked third in the NFL, and he also ranked fourth in the AFC (T-8th in NFL) in receiving yardage, tied for 10th (T-18th in NFL) in receptions, tied for first in the AFC (T-2nd in NFL) in receiving touchdowns, and tied for third in the AFC (T-5th in NFL) in both total touchdowns and points scored by a non-kicker (T-6th in NFL). Additionally, he ranked 11th in the AFC in total yards from scrimmage (1,143). Smith posted six 100-yard receiving performances in 1997, the second-highest total in franchise history behind Lionel Taylor's seven in 1960. He recorded back-to-back two-touchdown games in Wk. 4 and Wk. 5 while adding two more multiple-touchdown games (at Pit. 12/7 and vs. S.D. 12/21). Smith posted nine receptions of 30 yards or longer during the regular season (30, 37t, 40, 41, 43, 47, 59t, 72t and 78) plus two more in postseason play (43t and 40). His 72 and 78-yard receptions represent the two longest completions by John Elway to the same receiver in a single season. Additionally, Smith returned one punt for 12 yards vs. Stl. (9/14). In the postseason, Smith started all four games at wide receiver and caught 11 passes for a team-leading 205 yards (18.6 avg.) with a long of 43 yards, which accounted for his only postseason touchdown. The play came in the first quarter of Denver's AFC Wild Card Game win vs. Jac. (12/27) and gave the Broncos a 14-0 lead. He would catch three passes for 99 yards (33.0 avg.) with one touchdown against the Jaguars. All three receptions came in the first half and on third downs, including a 40-yard reception on third-and-6 from the Broncos' 12-yard line. That kept the drive alive as Denver went on to score for a 21-0 lead. In Denver's 14-10 AFC Divisional Playoff Game at K.C. (1/4), he caught two passes for 19 yards (9.5 avg.). He pulled in a 17-yard reception against the Chiefs on a third-and-7 late in the second quarter that put the Broncos at the Chiefs' 4-yard line to set up a touchdown for the game's first score. In Denver's 24-21 AFC Championship Game victory at Pit. (1/11), he caught a career playoff-high six passes for 87 yards (14.5 avg.), including a 20-yard catch, to lead all Broncos receivers. Smith started at wide receiver in Denver's 31-24 Super Bowl XXXII win vs. G.B. (1/25), but he did not catch a pass and only recorded a fair catch on a punt in the ballgame. He kicked off the regular season with a solid game vs. K.C. (8/31) when he set then career highs with five receptions for a game-high 122 yards (24.4 avg.). His total included a career-best 78-yard reception from Elway, marking the third-longest non-scoring reception in Broncos history. Two weeks later vs. Stl. (9/14), he caught four passes for 126 yards with two scores (from 72 and 38 yards out) in Denver's 35-14 victory while also returning a punt for 12 yards. Smith set a career high for receptions (7) vs. Cin. (9/21) on 82 receiving yards (11.7 avg.) in Denver's 38-20 victory. He also caught two touchdowns in the game from one and eight yards out for his second consecutive two-touchdown game. Smith posted a career high with 130 yards on five receptions (26.0 avg.) on Monday Night Football vs. N.E. (10/6). He registered his first NFL rushing attempt at Oak. (10/19), gaining 14 yards on a reverse, to go along with five receptions for 58 yards (11.6 avg.). His next 100-yard game came vs. Sea. (11/2) when he caught five passes for 114 yards (22.8 avg.), including a 59-yard touchdown reception from Elway in the third quarter that put Denver ahead 27-20. It was Smith's fourth 100-yard game of 1997, the most by a Bronco since Anthony Miller had five in 1994. The next week vs. Car. (11/9), Smith caught four passes for 40 yards (10.0 avg.), including his sixth touchdown of the season on a 20-yard pass from John Elway. At K.C. (11/16), he tied his career high with a game-high seven receptions for 114 yards, including a long of 43, to notch his fifth 100-yard game of the season, which tied for second most in franchise history. His 43-yarder in the first quarter against the Chiefs will likely be remembered as one of the most outstanding catches the league has seen in recent years as Smith showed remarkable concentration while drawing a pass interference call and nearly being tripped as the ball neared his hands. Smith's seventh touchdown (15 yds.) came vs. Oak.(11/24) on Monday Night Football, and he added his eighth the following week at S.D. (11/30) while gaining a career-best 21 yards on a reverse. Smith came up big at Pit. (12/7), catching four passes for 115 yards (28.8 avg.) with a long of 41 and two touchdowns, his third two-touchdown game of the season as he eclipsed the 1,000-yard receiving mark for the year. He closed the regular season on a high note vs. S.D. (12/21) with his fourth two-touchdown game, catching four passes for 53 yards (13.3 avg.).

1996: Smith handled the role of No. 3 receiver for much of the season and caught 16 passes for 237 yards (14.8 avg.) with two touchdowns while returning 23 punts for 283 yards (12.3 avg.) with a long of 36 in 10 regular-season games (1 start) for Denver. Additionally, he posted one special-teams tackle on the year. Smith was inactive for the season's first six games with a collarbone injury and saw his first action of the year vs. Bal. (10/20). Smith's 12.3-yard punt return average was second best in the AFC (4th in NFL). His first touchdown of the year was the game-winner at Oak. (11/4) when he hauled in a 49-yard John Elway pass with 4:14 remaining to give the Broncos a 22-21 win on Monday Night Football. On the night against the Raiders, he finished with a career-high four receptions for 72 yards (18.0 avg.). It was the second time in his two seasons that Smith had caught a game-winning pass, following the dramatic final-play 43-yard touchdown grab from Elway to push the Broncos to a 38-31 win vs. Was. (9/17/95) during his rookie season. His other touchdown in 1996 came with a 20-yard scoring catch vs. Oak. (12/5) in Denver's 24-19 victory. Smith was inactive for the first six games of the season while recovering from a broken collarbone suffered in the preseason at Dal. (8/17). Before the injury, Smith was pushing Ed McCaffrey in competition for a starting wide receiver spot and was the No. 1 punt returner. He saw his first action of the season vs. Bal. (10/20), catching one pass for 35 yards and returning a kick for 29 yards. Smith regained his No. 1 punt returner job before the Broncos' game vs. K.C. (10/27) and fielded seven punts for 99 yards (14.1 avg.), including a 36-yarder in the first quarter. He also caught two passes for 22 yards (11.0 avg.) against the Chiefs. In Denver's AFC Divisional Playoff Game vs. Jac. (1/4), Smith caught one pass for 15 yards, returned two punts for 12 yards (6.0 avg.) and made two special-teams stops.

1995: Smith played all 16 regular-season games both at wide receiver and on special teams, where he recorded six tackles and forced a fumble for Denver. On the season, he had six catches for 152 yards (25.3 avg.) with a long of 43 yards while returning four kickoffs for 54 yards (13.5 avg.). Smith's spectacular game-ending 43-yard touchdown reception from John Elway vs. Was. (9/17) gave the Broncos a 38-31 win and was the first reception and touchdown of his NFL career. Smith out-jumped and out-dueled Redskins All-Pro cornerback Darrell Green for the ball before landing just inside the end zone as time expired. He recorded his first career kickoff return, for 16 yards, at N.E. (10/8) and forced a fumble on special-teams coverage vs. S.D. (11/19). Smith had his best all-around performance in the season-finale at Oak. (12/24), starting at wide receiver as the Broncos opened in a four-wide receiver set. He caught two passes for 56 yards (28.0 avg.), including a 26-yarder in the fourth quarter on a third-and-10 play, helping the Broncos continue their game-tying drive en route to a comeback win.

1994: Smith, who entered the NFL with the Broncos as a college free agent May 3, spent the season as a member of the team's practice squad.

COLLEGE: Smith enjoyed a stellar career at Missouri Southern University, finishing with league records in career receiving yards (3,043) and touchdowns (34). He also broke the school's reception record (153) and was named first-team All-American by the Associated Press, Kodak, Football Gazette and NCAA Division-II sports information directors after his senior year. In his final season, Smith caught 63 passes for 986 yards (15.7 avg.) with 13 touchdowns and was a finalist for the Harlon Hill Award, given annually to the top football player at the Division-II level. He was named Missouri Southern's Outstanding Graduate in 1994 after completing his collegiate studies with three degrees: economics and finance, general business, as well as marketing and management. He was inducted into the school's Athletics Hall of Fame on Oct. 11, 2003.

PERSONAL: Smith was all-league, all-area, all-state and an Arkansas all-state game choice as a senior at Texarkana High School in Texarkana, Ark. He lettered twice in football and basketball and once in baseball. He began supporting an orphanage in Mexico City in 1994 and in August 1997 had the opportunity to meet the children when the Broncos traveled to Mexico City for a preseason American Bowl game. Smith hosted a group of the children for several hours at the team hotel and donated Broncos hats and T-shirts to more than 400 others. He served as the spokesman for the annual Denver Broncos Community Blood Drive since its inception eight years ago. Smith has two sons, Devin and Roderick Jr., and a daughter, Vanessa. Rod Smith was born May 15, 1970, in Texarkana, Ark., and resides in Parker, Colo.

2005: In his first season on the Broncos' active roster, Van Pelt served as Jake Plummer's backup for all 16 regular-season games and saw action in three contests. His most extensive playing time came in Denver's regular-season finale at S.D. He added 11 rushes for 48 yards (4.4 avg.) on the year, including a 7-yard touchdown run that was scored on his first offensive touch as a pro (at K.C. 12/4). During the postseason, Van Pelt did not play in Denver's AFC Divisional Playoff Game vs. N.E. (1/14) or the AFC Championship Game vs. Pit. (1/22). Late in the second quarter at K.C. (12/4) with Denver deep in Chiefs territory, Van Pelt entered the game at quarterback with Plummer split wide as a wide receiver. (12/31) with the Broncos having already clinched the AFC's No. 2 seed in the playoffs, Van Pelt completed 2-of-8 passes for seven yards. He also rushed 10 times for 41 yards against the Chargers, whose rush defense led the NFL. He entered the game after halftime in place of Plummer and recorded the first completion of his career on his fifth attempt when he connected with wide receiver Charlie Adams for two yards.

2004: Selected by the Broncos in the seventh round (250th overall) of the 2004 NFL Draft, Van Pelt spent his entire rookie season on Denver's practice squad.

Van Pelt, who spent his freshman year (1999) at Michigan State before transferring to CSU, recorded the fourth-most career passing yards in CSU history among several school career and single-season records. Only Moses Moreno (6,689, 1994-97), Terry Nugent (7,103, 1980-83) and Kelly Stouffer (7,141, 1984-86) threw for more yards in a career at Colorado State. His 2,274 career rushing yards (420 att., 5.4 avg.) ranked 19th all-time among NCAA Division I-A quarterbacks and ninth in CSU history (any position), and the athletic signal-caller added 25 career rushing touchdowns. Additionally, he set a Rams career record by recording 8,439 yards of total offense, surpassing the previous mark of 7,147 yards by Anthoney Hill (1991-93). Van Pelt was only the ninth player in NCAA Division I-A history to throw for more than 4,000 yards and rush for more than 2,000 yards in a career. He had an outstanding senior season, completing 180-of-297 passes (60.6%) for 2,845 yards with 19 touchdowns and 13 interceptions. Warren's play also helped Denver allow the third-fewest points in franchise history (258), and he also saw brief action as a lead blocker in goal-line situations during the year. In the postseason, Warren made six tackles (4 solo) in two games. He had one tackle in an AFC Divisional Playoff Game vs. N.E. 2004: Selected by the Broncos in the first round (17th overall) of the 2004 NFL Draft, Williams contributed as much as any Broncos rookie in recent history in 16 games (14 starts) as the team's starting weakside linebacker. Williams—a Pro Football Weekly/PFWA All-Rookie selection, third in NFL Defensive Rookie of the Year voting (AP), AFC Defensive Player of the Week (Wk. 16) and NFL Defensive Rookie of the Month for December—led Denver with 114 tackles (82 solo) to become only the second Broncos rookie, the first in 32 years, to lead the team in tackles. He joined former rookie linebacker Tom Graham in that honor as Graham in 1972 tied Lyle Alzado for the team high in tackles. Williams also recorded two sacks (13 yds.), one interception (10 yds. at Ten. 12/25)—the first of his professional, collegiate and high school career—nine pass breakups and one forced fumble. Williams made significant contributions to the Broncos' special teams and recorded eight tackles on the unit to rank fifth on the team. He was the only rookie to receive AFC Defensive Player of the Week honors in 2004 after the league nominated him for his Wk. 16 performance. After totaling 40 tackles, one sack, one interception, one forced fumble and four pass breakups in four December games, Williams was named NFL Defensive Rookie of the Month and became the first Bronco in franchise history to receive that award. He started at weakside linebacker in Denver's AFC Wild Card Game at Ind. (1/9) and recorded seven tackles (5 solo) in his first playoff action. In the playoff loss, He deflected a Peyton Manning pass in the second quarter on third-and-goal from the Broncos' 3-yard line that was intercepted by cornerback Kelly Herndon in the end zone. Williams became the first Broncos rookie to start on opening day since 1998 with a start at weakside linebacker vs. K.C. (9/12), posting a team-high seven tackles (all solo) and breaking up a pass against the Chiefs. He recorded the first sack of his career in the fourth quarter at Jac. (9/19) when he pulled down running back LaBrandon Toefield on a passing play for a loss of seven yards. Williams led Denver with nine tackles (8 solo) at T.B. (10/3) and eight tackles (5 solo) at Oak. (10/17). In his first-ever game on Monday Night Football at Cin. (10/25), Williams made seven tackles (4 solo), broke up a pass and totaled three tackles on special teams. Against Hou. (11/7), he recorded his eighth game of the season with five or more tackles, posting six stops (4 solo) and a pass breakup in his first game as a non-starter (nickel defense). Against Oak. (11/28), he had seven tackles (5 solo), a pass breakup and a stop on special teams but did not start because Denver opened the game in a nickel defense. At S.D. (12/5), he posted a career and team-high 13 tackles (10 solo). For the second consecutive week vs. Mia. (12/12), he led the team in tackles with 11 (8 solo). Williams went above the 100-tackle mark for the season at K.C. (12/19) with nine stops (8 solo), one sack (6 yds.) and the first forced fumble of his career. On Christmas at Ten. (12/25), he intercepted a pass for the first time in his career and returned it 10 yards while posting a team-high seven tackles (5 solo), three pass breakups and two special-teams tackles to earn AFC Defensive Player of the Week honors.

COLLEGE: A three-year starter at the University of Miami, Williams played 47 career games (34 starts) to post 241 tackles (124 solo), 10 sacks (58 yds.), 28 tackles-for-losses (92 yds.), four forced fumbles, one fumble recovery and 10 pass deflections. Williams started his collegiate career at fullback and was used sparingly at the position after switching to linebacker as a sophomore, recording 18 career rushes for 142 yards (7.9 avg.) with two touchdowns while catching 12 passes for 153 yards (11.9 avg.). It was at linebacker where he blossomed into one of the best players in the country, finishing his senior year in 2003 as a semifinalist for the Butkus Award, given to the nation's top linebacker, for the second consecutive year and earning a selection to the All-America Dream Team by The NFL Draft Report. Named third-team All-America by the Associated Press and a first-team All-Big East Conference choice, Williams' final year at Miami saw him finish second on the team with 82 tackles (44 solo) and tie for the team lead with six sacks (33 yds.) in starting all 13 games. Additionally, he rushed twice for 92 yards (46.0 avg.) with a touchdown (61 yds. vs. Temple) out of fake punt formations. He was a semifinalist for the Butkus Award and a first-team All-Big East selection as a junior, starting 12 games and producing a career-high 108 tackles (55 solo) with four sacks (25 yds.). He helped Miami capture the National Championship as a sophomore with a Rose Bowl win against Nebraska. A freshman All-America honorable mention selection by Rivals.com, Williams played 10 games as a reserve fullback in 2000 and totaled 16 rushing attempts for 50 yards (3.1 avg.) with one touchdown while catching 12 passes for 143 yards (11.9 avg.) with a touchdown. His lone receiving score was a 19-yard grab in the Sugar Bowl against Florida that marked the go-ahead score for Miami in its eventual victory.

PERSONAL: Williams earned USA Today Defensive Player of the Year honors and was regarded as the top defensive player in the nation at De La Salle High School (Concord, Calif.), one of the top prep programs in the country. His high school teams went a combined 36-0, and he was a part of a national-record 151-game winning streak that was snapped in 2004. He was rated as the top player in the nation by SuperPrep as well as the No. 1 prospect on the Far West Team. Williams was listed as the National Defensive MVP, Western Region MVP and No. 1 linebacker on PrepStar's 1999 Top-100 Dream Team. A SuperPrep All-American, he recorded 130 career tackles (87 solo) and six sacks while rushing for 1,974 yards. In addition, Williams broke the school record for touchdowns in a season with 42 (33 rushing, 5 receiving, 3 punt return and 1 kickoff return). Legendary coach and television announcer John Madden spoke at De La Salle's football banquet and commented that Williams was the only player he has ever seen who could make the jump from high school to the NFL. Williams majored in liberal arts at Miami. Born July 20, 1982, in Pittsburg, Calif., Williams is the son of Sherri Gonzalez and Genos D. Williams Sr.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS: Signed by Denver as a a draft choice 7/28/05.

2005: Selected by the Broncos in the second round (56th overall) of the 2005 NFL Draft, Williams made a solid impact during his rookie campaign by playing 12 regular-season games (9 starts) and ranking eighth on the club with 58 tackles (52 solo) while adding one sack (8 yds.), 12 pass breakups, one forced fumble and one fumble recovery. An All-Rookie selection by Pro Football Weekly/PFWA and NFL.com (Gil Brandt), Williams' two interceptions (108 yds.) tied for third on the Broncos, and he returned one of his interceptions for an 80-yard touchdown (at Oak., 11/13) that was the longest interception return by a rookie in team history and tied for the second longest overall in regular-season play. His 108 yards on two interception returns were the second most by a Broncos rookie in franchise annals and the most since Nemiah Wilson's 118 return yards in 1965. His nine starts were the most by a Denver rookie at that position since 1975 (Louis Wright's 11) and ranked as the seventh-highest total since the team tracked starts beginning in 1968. Along with fellow rookie cornerback Domonique Foxworth, Williams helped Denver become the only team in the NFL to have two rookies post three or more takeaways. Williams also gave the Broncos a threat on special teams, returning a team-high 17 punts for 148 yards (8.7 avg.), including a 52-yarder, while recording 12 fair catches. He placed 13th in the AFC (16th in NFL) with a 23.9-yard average on a team-high 18 kickoff returns for 431 yards, including a 36-yard return. Williams missed Denver's final three regular-season games with a groin injury but returned to see action in both of the club's playoff contests. He registered two solo tackles and a 19-yard kickoff return in an AFC Divisional Playoff Game vs. N.E. (1/14) before making one solo tackle in the AFC Championship Game vs. Pit. (1/22). In the regular-season opener at Mia. (9/11), Williams recorded a solo tackle and a pass defensed while returning three kickoffs for 79 yards (26.3 avg.) and one punt for 13 yards. Against S.D. (9/18), Williams nearly made his first interception late in the fourth quarter but was ruled out of bounds. He also had a 61-yard punt return for a touchdown called back against the Chargers (too many men on the field). Williams made his first NFL start on Monday Night Football vs. K.C. (9/26) and led the team with 11 tackles (9 solo) while adding a pass breakup, a 32-yard kick return and a 1-yard punt return. After missing Denver's game at Jac. (10/2) with an ankle injury, Williams returned to the starting lineup vs. Was. (10/9) and contributed seven tackles and a pass breakup. He and Foxworth both started the game against the Redskins to mark the first time that a pair of Broncos rookies started the same game at cornerback since 1969 when Grady Cavness and Billy Thompson did so vs. Boston on Sept. 9, 1969. He registered a season-high four passes defensed to go with six tackles (5 solo) vs. N.E. (10/16) and had a 30-yard kick return in that game. Williams recorded two solo tackles, including his first professional sack (Donovan McNabb), vs. Phi. (10/30). At Oak. (11/13), Williams returned the first interception of his career 80 yards for a touchdown. He broke on a Kerry Collins pass and sprinted down the right sideline for the score. The play tied for the second-longest interception return in team history and the longest since 1998 as well as the longest by a Broncos rookie in team history. Williams also posted a season-long 52-yard punt return against the Raiders. He made a season-high eight tackles (7 solo) to pace the secondary on Thanksgiving Day at Dal. (11/24). He added six solo tackles and an interception of a Trent Green pass at K.C. (12/4). He also returned four kickoffs for 87 yards (21.8 avg.) against the Chiefs, including a season-long 36-yard return. Against Bal. (12/11), Williams suffered a groin injury on the opening kickoff when he prevented a touchdown by chasing down Ravens kick returner B.J. Sams and forcing him out of bounds at the 10-yard line. The injury forced Williams inactive for Denver's final three regular-season games.

COLLEGE: Williams was one of the nation's most dynamic and versatile players at Oklahoma State University, where he scored nine times in his career (5 INT returns, 3 punt returns and 1 blocked extra point returned for a score). He played 41 career games (32 starts) and totaled 173 tackles (132 solo), 11 interceptions (282 yds.), 37 pass breakups, three forced fumbles and one fumble recovery as a cornerback. 1996 to record double-digit career interceptions (11) while scoring at least five touchdowns on interception returns. His five interceptions returned for a touchdown set a Big 12 Conference career record. Williams played seven games (4 starts) in his final year at Oklahoma State, totaling 21 tackles (18 solo), three pass breakups, two forced fumbles and one fumble recovery, which he returned 53 yards. He returned nine punts for 249 punts (27.7 avg.) on the year, including a 59-yard touchdown return (vs. Tulsa). Williams was limited for most of the season with a left arm injury suffered while making a tackle in OSU's fourth game, and he missed several contests as a result of the ailment. Williams earned consensus first-team All-Big 12 Conference honors as a junior, starting 11 games at left cornerback and posting a career-high 66 tackles (49 solo) along with six interceptions (130 yds.), two of which he returned for touchdowns. His six interceptions ranked third in the Big 12 and tied for 13th nationally and were a big part of the speedster being named a semifinalist for the Jim Thorpe Award. The junior recorded 233 yards and two touchdowns on 13 punt returns (17.9 avg.), leading the nation in punt return average for most of the season, and added 83 yards on four kick returns (20.8 avg.). Williams started all 13 games at left cornerback as a sophomore, recording 53 tackles (41 solo) and a team-high three interceptions (47 yds.), including one that he returned for a 29-yard touchdown (vs. Northern Iowa). Williams played 10 games as a true freshman, starting four of Oklahoma State's final six contests to finish the year with 33 tackles (24 solo), two interceptions (105 yds.) and four pass breakups. He returned both of his interceptions (85 and 20 yds.) against Baylor for touchdowns to lead the Cowboys to a win.

PERSONAL: Williams was a three-time all-district selection at O.D. Wyatt High School in Fort Worth, Texas. He began his high school career at running back before switching to cornerback. As a senior, he was named 7-4A Defensive Most Valuable Player after posting five interceptions that featured several long returns, including a best of 54 yards. He averaged 30 yards per punt return and scored four touchdowns as a returner. Williams missed five games as a junior with a broken middle finger but recovered the following year as the Dallas Morning News tabbed him for its area top-100 list on the gridiron. QUARTERBACK

CUTLER AT A GLANCE:

- A four-year starting quarterback at Vanderbilt University, where he set school career records for total offense (9,953 yards), touchdown passes (59), passing yardage (8,697), pass completions (710), pass attempts (1,242) and combined touchdowns (76).
- Named Southeastern Conference Offensive Player of the Year (coaches and media) as well as a finalist for the Johnny Unitas Golden Arm Award, given to the nation's top senior quarterback, in 2005 after leading the SEC with a school-record 3,288 yards of total offense.
- Became the first player in Vanderbilt history to record four consecutive 300-yard passing games in 2005 en route to totaling the second-most passing yards in a season in school history (3,073) as a first-team All-SEC selection.
- Started all 45 games played at Vanderbilt, the most by a quarterback in school history, and did not miss a game due to injury despite being sacked 88 times for his career.
- Served as Vanderbilt's team captain for three years, becoming the first player at the school to accomplish that feat in 113 seasons.
- Led Vanderbilt to its first victory against Tennessee since 1982 with a road win in his final collegiate game, tossing the game-winning touchdown pass for his final collegiate throw.
- Led Heritage Hills High School in Lincoln City, Ind., to its first state title in school history as a first-team all-state selection during his senior year.
- Selected by the Broncos in the first round (11th overall) of the 2006 NFL Draft on his 23rd birthday, becoming the first Vanderbilt player drafted in the first round since 1986 and the first-ever Commodore selected by the Broncos.

2005: Cutler, in his third year as Vanderbilt's captain, ranked ninth in the nation in total offense (298.9 yards per game) and fifth in pass completions (24.8) as a senior while recording one of the finest seasons as a quarterback in school history. An 11-game starter, the senior completed 273-of-462 passes (59.1%) for a collegiate-best 3,073 yards, 21 touchdowns and nine interceptions as SEC Offensive Player of the Year (coaches and media). With his selection as the league's player of the year, Cutler became the first Vanderbilt player to earn the award since end Bob Goodridge in 1967. A finalist for the Johnny Unitas Golden Arm Award (nation's top senior quarterback), Cutler became the first Vandy quarterback since Kurt Page in 1984 to be named first-team All-SEC by the league's coaches and paced the conference with a school-record 3,288 yards of total offense. With his senior-season performance, Cutler joined Page (3,178 in 1983) as the only Commodores to throw for more than 3,000 yards in a season while his 273 completions on 462 attempts ranked second in the school's single season list behind Page (286-of-493 in 1983). He fell one touchdown pass short of Whit Taylor's school standard for passing scores in a single season. In addition to his passing exploits, Cutler ranked third on the team with 215 rushing yards with one touchdown on 106 carries. Cutler established many passing records by a Vanderbilt senior quarterback, including touchdown passes, completions, passing yards, attempts and total plays (568). He became the first quarterback in school history to record four consecutive 300-yard passing performances as he eclipsed that plateau in outings against South Carolina, Florida, Kentucky and Tennessee to conclude his season. During that four-game stretch, Cutler amassed 1,410 passing yards with 13 touchdown passes. Against Kentucky (11/12) in Vanderbilt's home finale, Cutler set several school records by completing 39-of-66 passes (59.1%) for 395 yards with five touchdowns. Four of his touchdowns came in the second half to narrow a 31-point deficit to five points. In the Commodores' first two games —road contests at Wake Forest and Arkansas—Cutler guided Vanderbilt to come-from-behind victories with last-minute touchdown drives. At Florida (11/5) in an ESPN-televised night game, Cutler threw for 361 yards and four touchdowns, including two in the final 2:17 of regulation to send the game into overtime. Cutler's last collegiate pass resulted in a game-winning 5-yard touchdown to Earl Bennett to secure a 28-24 comeback victory at Tennessee (11/19), marking Vandy's first win against Tennessee since 1982 and first win in Knoxville since 1975.

2004: Cutler earned Vanderbilt's Offensive Back MVP Award as he completed 61.0 percent of his passes, the school's highest completion percentage by a quarterback (min. 125 attempts) in a season. Cutler completed 147-of-241 attempts for 1,844 yards with 10 touchdowns and a career-low five interceptions as an 11-game starter. The five interceptions marked the lowest single-season number by a Commodores passer with at least 200 attempts. He totaled the most rushing scores (6) and the second-most rushing yards (349) of all SEC quarterbacks while posting 2,193 yards of total offense, marking the 10th-best season total in school annals. He garnered Offensive Player of the Week honors after his performances against Mississippi State and Rutgers. In the game against Florida (11/6), he suffered an ankle injury but continued to play on it against Kentucky and Tennessee (11/20), a game in which he threw for 314 yards with three touchdowns.

2003: Cutler established nearly all of the school's sophomore passing records in starting all 12 games for Vanderbilt as the team's Offensive Back co-MVP Award winner. He set the school's sophomore standards in completions (187), attempts (327), passing yards (2,347) and touchdown passes (18). Cutler's 57.2 completion percentage was the highest by a Commodore since Mike Healy's 57.7 rate in 1990, and his 18 touchdown tosses stood as the second most in a single season in school history. Cutler, who threw 13 interceptions, also posted 115 rushing attempts for 299 yards with one touchdown. He earned the Southeastern Conference Offensive Player of the Week honors after throwing four touchdowns and rushing for 129 yards in a win over Kentucky (11/15). He established a season high with 319 passing yards at South Carolina (10/25).

2002: Cutler started 11 games for the Commodores as a redshirt freshman, earning third-team Freshman All-America honors from The Sporting News and first-team Freshman All-Southeastern Conference accolades by the league's coaches and the Associated Press. He completed 103-of-212 passes (48.6%) for 1,433 yards with 10 touchdowns and nine interceptions. He also was the team's second-leading rusher with a career-best 393 yards with nine touchdowns on 123 carries. He established Vanderbilt freshman records for touchdown passes as well as total offense (1,826 yards).

2001: Cutler redshirted as a true freshman at Vanderbilt in 2001.

HIGH SCHOOL: Cutler started at quarterback and safety for three years at Heritage Hills High School in Lincoln City, Ind. A first-team all-state selection (Associated Press and coaches) as a senior, Cutler served as the team captain and led the school to a 15-0 record and the school's first state title, hauling in the game-winning 12-yard touchdown pass off a lateral to win the championship. He connected on 122-of-202 passes (60.4%) for 2,252 yards with 31 touchdowns while rushing 65 times for 493 yards with 11 touchdowns. He was named Indiana Offensive Player of the Year by S&L Publishing Group. Defensively, Cutler registered 88 tackles and nine interceptions as a safety. As a junior, he led Heritage Hills to an 11-1 record while passing for 1,200 yards with 14 touchdowns. In addition to playing football in high school, Cutler was a first-team all-state selection in basketball, recording 20 points per game in his final season. He also garnered honorable mention all-state accolades as a shortstop, hitting better than .400 as a junior and senior.

PERSONAL: Cutler completed his degree in Human and Organizational Development in December 2005. In strength tests leading up to the NFL Combine, he bench pressed 225 pounds 27 times and had a maximum press of 400 pounds. Cutler crew up in a subdivision called Christmas Village in the Southern Indiana town of Santa Claus. His father, Jack, works for the Indiana state police and his mother, Sandy, is a part-time teacher. Jay Cutler was born on April 29, 1983, in Santa Claus, Ind.

Rice Finishes Career as a Bronco

Jerry Rice concluded his record-setting 20-year NFL career as a member of the Denver Broncos after competing with the team in the 2005 preseason.

Rice, a 13-time Pro Bowl selection and 11-time Associated Press All-Pro who is regarded as the greatest wide receiver in NFL history, agreed to terms with the Broncos on Wednesday, May 25, 2005. He played in all four of the Broncos' preseason games, starting twice, and caught four passes for 24 yards while wearing jersey No. 19.

The final reception of Rice's career was a 6-yard pass from quarterback Bradlee Van Pelt at 10:16 of the third quarter in Denver's last preseason game at Arizona on Sept. 2, 2005.

Rice announced his retirement from professional football at a morning press conference on Monday, Sept. 5, 2005, in the team meeting room of the Paul D. Bowlen Broncos Memorial Centre.

"Wow, I never thought I would see this day," Rice said in announcing his retirement. "But it's here now and I feel pretty good about it. I'm happy with my decision—coming here to Denver. I'd like to thank (Broncos Owner) Pat (Bowlen) and also (Head Coach) Mike (Shanahan) for giving me the opportunity to just come here and be part of something pretty special."

2005 Game Recaps

1 Miami 34, Denver 10

Sunday, Sept. 11, 2005 • 1:07 p.m. EDT • Dolphins Stadium • Miami

WEATHER: Cloudy, 89º, Wind Calm • TIME: 3:07 • ATTENDANCE: 72,324

The Denver Broncos opened up the 2005 season with a 34-10 loss to the Miami Dolphins on Sunday in front of 72,324 fans at Dolphins Stadium. The loss snapped the Broncos' four-game winning streak in season openers, which was the longest current streak in the NFL.

Broncos wide receiver Rod Smith posted seven catches for 90 yards, and fullback Kyle Johnson scored Denver's lone touchdown in the contest on a 2-yard pass from quarterback Jake Plummer. Plummer finished the game 22-of-48 (45.8%) for 251 yards with one touchdown and two interceptions.

The Dolphins scored the first points of the game when kicker Olindo Mare connected on a 29-yard field goal with 5:50 remaining in the opening quarter. Mare hit a 44-yard field goal on the next Miami drive, giving the Dolphins a 6-0 advantage.

The Broncos finished the first quarter with no passing yards, marking the first time they were held without aerial yardage in a quarter since Sept. 6, 1992, against the Raiders (-8 yds.).

Denver gained some momentum in the second quarter after cornerback Champ Bailey intercepted a pass by Gus Frerotte and returned it 11 yards to the Miami 45. The interception was Bailey's fifth in his six career season openers played. Plummer drove the Broncos down to the 1-yard line, but running back Tatum Bell was unable to score on a fourth-down rushing attempt.

The Broncos got the ball back at the Miami 41-yard line with 4:22 remaining in the half. Plummer led a drive that covered 32 yards to the Dolphins' 9-yard line. Kicker Jason Elam put Denver on the board with a 28-yard field goal just after the 2-minute warning, cutting the Dolphins' advantage at halftime to 6-3.

Frerotte led Miami downfield to open the second half and capped the drive with a 2-yard touchdown pass to tight end Randy McMichael that put the Dolphins in front 13-3. Miami extended its lead to 20-3 on a Sammy Morris scoring run on its next drive.

The Broncos shrunk their deficit to 10 on Plummer's 2-yard touchdown pass to Johnson on fourth down with 9:19 remaining in the game. Miami answered on the first play of the ensuing possession with Frerotte connecting with wide receiver Marty Booker for a 60-yard score and a 27-10 lead.

On the final drive of the game with Plummer leading a hurry-up offense, the Broncos drove from their own 33-yard line to the Miami 6-yard line. On second-and-goal with four seconds remaining, he was sacked by Miami defensive end Jason Taylor and fumbled the ball. Taylor recovered the fumble and ran it back 85 yards for the touchdown to ice the Dolphins' 34-10 victory in Nick Saban's NFL head-coaching debut.

2 Denver 20, San Diego 17

Sunday, Sept. 18, 2005 • 2:15 p.m. MDT • INVESCO Field at Mile High • Denver

WEATHER: Sunny, 77º, Wind E 4 mph • TIME: 3:02 • ATTENDANCE: 75,310

The Denver Broncos improved to 10-1 in home openers under Head Coach Mike Shanahan with a 20-17 come-from-behind victory over AFC West rival San Diego on Sunday in front of 75,310 fans at INVESCO Field at Mile High. Denver won its first game of the year and seventh consecutive home contest in the month of September while the Chargers dropped to 0-2 on the year with the loss.

Cornerback Champ Bailey intercepted a pass for the second consecutive game, returning the Drew Brees throw 25 yards for a touchdown to begin the third quarter and start Denver's comeback from a 14-3 halftime deficit. Denver's Jason Elam kicked his 18th career game-winning/game-saving field goal, a 41-yarder, with five seconds remaining for the victory.

The Broncos' offense was led by wide receiver Rod Smith, who posted eight receptions for 83 yards on the way to eclipsing 11,000 career combined yards. Wideout Ashley Lelie also had a big day with 62 yards on six catches. Quarterback Jake Plummer finished the contest with 248 yards and one interception on 23-of-37 passing (62.2%).

Denver controlled the clock throughout much of the first half, holding the ball for more than 17 minutes. Elam scored the game's first points on a 45-yard field goal, but two touchdown runs by Chargers running back LaDainian Tomlinson put San Diego ahead 14-3 at halftime. Tomlinson's first scoring run, a 16-yarder, set an NFL record for consecutive games (14) with a rushing score.

The Broncos' defense excelled in the second half and did not allow a third-down conversion (0-for-6). On the first play of the third quarter, Bailey intercepted Brees and ran the takeaway back 25 yards for a touchdown to trim San Diego's lead to 14-10.

Midway through the fourth quarter, Broncos rookie cornerback Darrent Williams broke free for a 37-yard punt return, which set the Broncos up at the San Diego 29-yard line. On first down, Plummer found running back Mike Anderson for a 26-yard catch. On first-and-goal from the 3, fullback Kyle Johnson punched it in for the touchdown and a 17-14 lead.

Brees moved the Chargers down to the Denver 24-yard line on their next possession, setting up a 42-yard field goal by Nate Kaeding to tie the score at 17 with 5:21 remaining in the contest.

Plummer drove Denver down the field on the ensuing possession. With 57 seconds left, the Broncos faced fourth-and-1 at the San Diego 33-yard line. Running back Ron Dayne found a 10-yard hole to gain the first down.

Two plays later, Elam hit a 41-yard field goal with 5 seconds remaining to secure a 20-17 victory for the Broncos.

3 Denver 30, Kansas City 10

Monday, Sept. 26, 2005 • 7:07 p.m. MDT • INVESCO Field at Mile High • Denver

WEATHER: Clear, 72º, Wind SE 6 mph • TIME: 3:05 • ATTENDANCE: 76,381

The Denver Broncos handed the Kansas City Chiefs their first loss of the season with a 30-10 win in front of 76,381 fans at INVESCO Field at Mile High and millions more watching on ABC's Monday Night Football.

Broncos wide receiver Rod Smith hauled in seven catches for 80 yards with one touchdown, becoming the 24th player in NFL history and the first undrafted player to reach 10,000 yards receiving in his career. Smith also went above the 100-catch mark (102) for his career in games played on Monday Night Football.

Running back Mike Anderson set the tone with 98 yards rushing, including a 44-yard touchdown run in the first quarter. The Broncos' rushing attack accounted for 221 yards on 37 carries, including two for 56 yards by wide receiver Ashley Lelie and five for 47 yards by second-year back Tatum Bell.

Quarterback Jake Plummer threw for 152 yards and one touchdown on 13-of-18 passing (72.2%) while also rushing for a score. His final passer rating was an impressive 116.0.

Although he did not register a sack, Broncos defensive end Trevor Pryce turned in an outstanding performance that included 10 quarterback pressures. He was voted Monday Night Football's Horse Trailer Player of the Game.

After a fumble by the Kansas City offense on its own 12 late in the first quarter with Denver leading 10-0, the Broncos took full advantage of the miscue by scoring on their first play of the drive. Plummer found Smith in the back of the end zone for a 12-yard touchdown pass, putting Denver ahead 17-0.

Denver kicker Jason Elam (51 yds.) and Chiefs kicker Lawrence Tynes (28 yds.) swapped field goals to round out the first-half scoring with the Broncos leading 20-3.

The Broncos received the ball at the start of the third quarter and put an impressive drive together starting from their own 30-yard line. Facing a fourth-and-goal from the Kansas City 1-yard line, Plummer faked a dive and then sprinted around the left side of the line for the scoring run, putting Denver ahead 27-3 at 8:34 of the third quarter.

Elam's third field goal of the game, a 25-yarder, extended the Broncos' lead to 30-3 at 12:30 of the fourth quarter.

Kansas City narrowed its deficit to 30-10 at the two-minute mark of the fourth quarter with a 21-yard touchdown connection between quarterback Trent Green and wide receiver Samie Parker.

Former Broncos wide receiver Eddie Kennison totaled a game-high 112 receiving yards on eight catches (14.0 avg.) for the Chiefs. Green completed 23-of-44 passes (52.3%) for 221 yards with one touchdown and no interceptions.

4 Denver 20, Jacksonville 7

Sunday, Oct. 2, 2005 • 1:02 p.m. EDT • ALLTEL Stadium • Jacksonville, Fla.

WEATHER: Rain, 82º, Wind E 10 mph • TIME: 3:08 • ATTENDANCE: 66,045

The Denver Broncos defeated the Jacksonville Jaguars 20-7 in front of 66,045 fans at ALLTEL Stadium on Sunday, securing their third consecutive victory and first road win of the year.

Denver limited the Jaguars to 12 rushing yards on 11 carries (1.1 avg.) to mark the second-lowest single-game rushing total by an opponent in team history and lowest since the team held Kansas City to 0 rushing yards on Dec. 19, 1965. The Broncos' Dwayne Carswell, a former tight end, became the first offensive lineman in the Super Bowl era (since 1966) to catch two touchdown passes in a contest (1 and 2 yds.), accounting for the team's only touchdowns on the afternoon.

Denver running back Mike Anderson recorded the ninth 100-yard game of his career and first such game since 2001 with 115 yards on 23 carries (5.0 avg.). Quarterback Jake Plummer finished the game with a 110.4 passer rating, throwing for 136 yards on 19-of-26 passing (73.1%) with the two scoring tosses to Carswell and no interceptions.

Safety Nick Ferguson and rookie cornerback Domonique Foxworth, who made the first start of his career, both posted one interception for the Broncos.

Denver was able to move the ball in the first quarter, but kicker Jason Elam missed a 41-yard field-goal attempt wide left and had a 46-yard attempt blocked by the Jaguars' Rashean Mathis.

Plummer drove the Broncos 80 yards on 17 plays early in the second quarter, capping the drive off with a 2-yard touchdown pass to guard Carswell, who was an eligible receiver on the play, to give Denver a 7-0 lead. On Denver's ensuing possession, Plummer capped a 64-yard drive with another scoring pass (1 yd.) to Carswell, putting the Broncos ahead 14-0 with 43 seconds remaining in the first half.

The Jaguars trimmed Denver's lead to 14-7 when quarterback Byron Leftwich connected with wide receiver Jimmy Smith for a 45-yard touchdown at 8:52 of the third quarter.

Two Broncos interceptions in the fourth quarter set up two Elam field goals, creating a comfortable 20-7 lead with 2:47 remaining in the game. Foxworth posted an interception at 12:31 of the period, putting Elam in position for an eventual 33-yard field goal, while Ferguson's pick with 6:19 remaining set up Elam's 42-yard conversion.

Denver's victory was even more impressive considering the club was missing two key members of its secondary with injuries. All-Pro cornerback Champ Bailey (hamstring) saw his streak of 99 consecutive starts end while rookie cornerback Darrent Williams (ankle) also sat out.

5 Denver 21, Washington 19

Sunday, Oct. 9, 2005 • 2:15 p.m. MDT • INVESCO Field at Mile High • Denver

WEATHER: Light Rain and Fog, 50º, Wind N 7 mph • TIME: 3:31 • ATTENDANCE: 75,880

The Denver Broncos held on for a 21-19 victory against the previously undefeated Washington Redskins on Sunday in front of 75,880 fans at INVESCO Field at Mile High. Denver linebacker Ian Gold broke up a two-point conversion pass attempt with 1:09 remaining in regulation to preserve the victory and give Denver its fourth consecutive win.

With the win, Denver improved to 4-1 or better after five games for the seventh time in Mike Shanahan's 11 seasons as head coach. Denver won the contest despite being outgained in total yardage (447 to 257), including a 322-92 yard passing difference.

Second-year Broncos running back Tatum Bell recorded a career and game-high 127 rushing yards with two touchdowns, including a personal-best 55-yard scoring run. Denver did not commit a turnover for the third consecutive game, marking the longest such streak in club annals. Quarterback Jake Plummer continued his interception-less streak by completing 10-of-25 passes (40.0%) for 92 yards with one touchdown.

Washington running back Clinton Portis faced his former team for the first time and totaled 103 yards on 20 carries (5.2 avg.) in his return to Denver.

Bell scored the game's first points on a 34-yard run at 11:40 of the first quarter. The scoring play occurred on a fourth-and-one and was set up by a fumble recovery by linebacker Al Wilson.

Redskins quarterback Mark Brunell, who finished the contest with 322 yards and two touchdowns on 30-of-53 passing (56.7%), connected with fullback Mike Sellers for a 2-yard score with 3:47 remaining in the opening period to tie the game at 7.

Early in the second quarter, Denver took a 14-7 lead on Plummer's 5-yard touchdown pass to wide receiver Ashley Lelie. Washington answered several possessions later with Nick Novak's 34-yard field goal with 1:42 remaining in the first half, trimming the Broncos' lead to 14-10.

Broncos defensive end Trevor Pryce preserved the lead in the third quarter by blocking a 38-yard field-goal attempt by Novak. Three plays later, Bell broke free for a 55-yard touchdown run to put Denver ahead 21-10 with 6:27 left in the period.

Washington made it a one-possession game, 21-13, with Novak's 36-yard field goal at 6:25 of the fourth quarter. On the Redskins' following possession, Brunell led the team on a 13-play, 94-yard scoring drive that was capped off with an 11-yard touchdown pass to Chris Cooley.

Trailing 21-19 after Cooley's score, Washington's two-point conversion attempt failed when Gold broke up Brunell's pass intended for wide receiver David Patten.

6 Denver 28, New England 20

Sunday, Oct. 16, 2005 • 2:16 p.m. MDT • INVESCO Field at Mile High • Denver

WEATHER: Sunny, 75º, Wind SW 5 mph • TIME: 3:37 • ATTENDANCE: 76,571

The Denver Broncos won their sixth consecutive game against a Super Bowl participant from the previous season with a 28-20 victory against the two-time defending champion New England Patriots on Sunday in front of 76,571 fans at INVESCO Field at Mile High.

With its fifth consecutive victory, Denver improved to 5-1 on the year. The Broncos built a 28-3 lead over the Patriots early in the third quarter and held off New England as the Patriots cut their deficit to eight points with eight minutes left to play.

Broncos running back Tatum Bell posted his second consecutive 100-yard rushing performance (114 yds.), marking the third consecutive game a Denver player totaled at least 100 yards on the ground. Quarterback Jake Plummer registered a passer rating of 100 or better (134.4) for the third time in the last four games, throwing for two touchdowns, no interceptions and 262 yards, while wide receiver Rod Smith totaled 123 receiving yards on six catches (20.5 avg.) with one score.

Punter Todd Sauerbrun also played a key role in the Denver victory, averaging 52.3 yards on seven punts. The performance would earn Sauerbrun AFC Special Teams Player of the Week honors.

After New England scored the game's first points on a 39-yard field goal by Adam Vinatieri with 5:37 left in the first quarter, Denver went on quite a run. In the second quarter, the Broncos posted the highest net yardage total in a quarter under Head Coach Mike Shanahan (1995-Present) with 247 yards in the period that fueled three scoring drives.

A 72-yard reception by Smith put Denver in scoring position, and Bell finished a 97-yard drive with a 3-yard touchdown run at 12:36 of the second quarter. Plummer later found wide receiver Ashley Lelie for a 55-yard pass, leading to a 6-yard touchdown pass to Rod Smith at 7:52 of the second quarter to give Denver a 14-3 lead.

Bell's 68-yard run moved the Broncos down to the New England 11-yard line with less than two minutes remaining in the first half, and Plummer connected with fullback Kyle Johnson for a 1-yard scoring pass two plays later for a 21-3 Broncos halftime lead. Denver extended its lead to 28-3 on a 2-yard touchdown run by Mike Anderson on its first drive of the third quarter.

A 38-yard field goal by Vinatieri at 5:53 of the third quarter was the first of three consecutive Patriots scoring drives. New England made the score 28-13 at 14:56 of the fourth quarter on a 8-yard Patrick Pass run and moved to within eight points, 28-20, on quarterback Tom Brady's 8-yard touchdown pass to David Givens with 8:01 remaining in the game.

Denver forced New England to punt on its next possession and ran out the clock after receiving the ball with 3:36 to play.

7 N.Y. Giants 24, Denver 23

Sunday, Oct. 23, 2005 • 4:15 p.m. EDT • Giants Stadium • East Rutherford, N.J.

WEATHER: Fair, 54º, Wind WNW 17 mph • TIME: 3:13 • ATTENDANCE: 78,516

The Denver Broncos saw their 13-point fourth-quarter lead erased by the New York Giants in a 24-23 last-second loss on Sunday in front of 78,516 fans at Giants Stadium. New York quarterback Eli Manning connected with wide receiver Amani Toomer for a 2-yard touchdown pass with 5 seconds left to play, snapping Denver's five-game winning streak.

The Broncos' NFL-record tying streak of four games without a turnover also came to an end when Charlie Adams was credited with a fumble on a desperation kickoff return on the game's final play.

Broncos running back Mike Anderson totaled 120 yards on 24 carries (5.0 avg.) with one touchdown in posting Denver's fourth consecutive game with a 100-yard rusher. Quarterback Jake Plummer threw his 50th touchdown pass as a member of the Broncos and finished the game with 194 yards on 18-of-29 passing (62.1%) with one touchdown. Plummer extended his streak without an interception to a personal-best fifth consecutive game (139 attempts).

Cornerback Darrent Williams forced and recovered a fumble by Giants running back Tiki Barber on Denver's opening defensive series, setting up a 49-yard field goal by Jason Elam for a 3-0 lead at 9:57 of the first quarter. New York took the lead, 7-3, on the next series with Manning's 18-yard scoring pass to wide receiver Plaxico Burress.

The Broncos would score the game's next 10 points with Elam connecting on a 42-yard field goal late in the first quarter and Anderson powering in for a 2-yard scoring run at 5:45 of the second quarter. New York closed its deficit at halftime to three, 13-10, on Jay Feely's 52-yard field goal with 1:03 left in the second quarter.

Denver continued its success in the second half with fullback Kyle Johnson catching a 4-yard touchdown pass on Denver's first drive of the third quarter and Elam hitting a 27-yard field goal early in the fourth quarter to give the Broncos a 23-10 advantage. New York, however, would answer the Elam field goal with Barber's 4-yard touchdown run on its next possession to bring the Giants within six, 23-17, with 9:07 left to play.

While it looked like Denver cornerback Champ Bailey's interception at the 4:56 mark would seal the Broncos' victory, Denver went three-and-out on the ensuing possession.

The Giants took over at their 17-yard line with 3:29 left to play. Manning drove the team on a 15-play, 83-yard scoring drive that ended when he found Toomer in the end zone on third-and-goal from the 2-yard line with 5 seconds to play for the game-winning score.

8 Denver 49, Philadelphia 21

Sunday, Oct. 30, 2005 • 2:15 p.m. MST • INVESCO Field at Mile High • Denver

WEATHER: Cloudy, 52º, Wind E 3 mph • TIME: 3:27 • ATTENDANCE: 76,530

The Denver Broncos used an NFL-record setting offensive output to defeat the Philadelphia Eagles 49-21 in front of 76,530 fans on Sunday at INVESCO Field at Mile High. Denver raced to a 28-0 second-quarter lead against the Eagles and held on down the stretch to improve to 6-2 heading into its bye week.

During its win against Philadelphia, Denver became the first team in NFL annals to have two players rush for 100 or more yards along with a 300-yard passer in the same game. Mike Anderson and Tatum Bell, who posted 126 and 107 respective rushing yards, and Jake Plummer, who threw for 309 yards with four touchdowns, led a Denver offense that gained 564 net yards against Philadelphia.

In addition, the Broncos set a franchise record with seven touchdowns (4 pass, 3 rush) while extending their streak without an offensive turnover to 25 consecutive quarters.

Denver scored on a 2-yard run by Anderson on its first series and went ahead 14-0 on fullback Kyle Johnson's 6-yard scoring grab at 4:30 of the first quarter. The Broncos extended their lead to 21-0 at the 12:16 mark of the second quarter on a 2-yard touchdown catch by Rod Smith, who extended his franchise-record streak of consecutive games with a reception to 100 on the play.

After tight end Stephen Alexander made an acrobatic 3-yard touchdown catch from Plummer at 7:47 of the second quarter to put Denver ahead 28-0, Philadelphia began its comeback.

Eagles tight end L.J. Smith put the team on the scoreboard with a 1-yard touchdown catch from quarterback Donovan McNabb with a little more than one minute remaining in the first half. Philadelphia moved to within 14, 28-14, at 9:46 of the third quarter on wide receiver Terrell Owens' career-long 91-yard touchdown catch with the receiver making a nifty move on the short pass.

Two Eagles series later, McNabb connected with running back Brian Westbrook on a 14-yard scoring play that trimmed Denver's lead to 28-21 with 1:33 left in the third quarter. McNabb led the Eagles on a lengthy drive early in the fourth quarter, and it appeared that they would go in for the tying score until Broncos rookie cornerback Domonique Foxworth intercepted a pass in the end zone on third-and-5 from the Denver 24-yard line.

On the ensuing possession, the Broncos took control of the game when wide receiver Todd Devoe turned a short pass into a 44-yard touchdown, the first of his career, to give Denver a 35-21 lead at 9:53 of the fourth quarter.

The Broncos' Bell rounded out the scoring with touchdown runs of 67 and 6 yards, respectively, on Denver's final two drives to seal the victory.

9 Denver 31, Oakland 17

Sunday, Nov. 13, 2005 • 1:05 p.m. PST • McAfee Coliseum • Oakland, Calif.

WEATHER: Partly Cloudy, 61º, Wind N 8 mph • TIME: 3:12 • ATTENDANCE: 62,779

The Denver Broncos continued to have success when coming off a bye week, returning after their off week to defeat the Oakland Raiders 31-17 on Sunday in front of 62,779 fans at McAfee Coliseum. Denver improved its post bye-week record to 13-4 (.765) since it was introduced in 1990, and that winning percentage ties for the best in the NFL during that period.

Wide receiver Rod Smith became the Broncos' all-time leader in touchdowns with his 66th career score coming on a 27-yard touchdown reception in the second quarter. Denver quarterback Jake Plummer extended his streak without an interception to 193 passing attempts, setting a team record, while completing 16-of-22 passes (72.7%) for 205 yards with one touchdown for a 116.7 passer rating.

The Broncos' defense turned in an outstanding effort, limiting the Raiders to only 60 rushing yards and sacking quarterback Kerry Collins four times. Rookie cornerback Darrent Williams returned a Collins interceptions 80 yards for a touchdown to tie for the second-longest scoring interception return in Broncos history.

After Smith's touchdown catch put Denver ahead 7-0 at 14:54 of the second quarter, Jason Elam hit the extra point and became the fastest player (197 games) in NFL history to reach 1,500 career points. Field goals of 22 and 38 yards by Elam sent the Broncos into halftime with a 13-0 lead.

Running back Mike Anderson, who finished with a game-high 65 rushing yards, extended the Broncos' lead to 20-0 on a 1-yard touchdown run at 7:21 of the third quarter. A 25-yard field goal by Elam in the closing seconds of the third quarter put Denver ahead 23-0.

Oakland would respond in the fourth quarter, scoring its first points of the game on a 29-yard touchdown grab by wide receiver Randy Moss. The Raiders cut their deficit to 23-10 on a 40-yard field goal by Sebastian Janikowski with 12:03 left in the game.

With Oakland threatening to score again, Williams stepped in front of a Collins pass intended for wide receiver Jerry Porter and took it back 80 yards for his first career score to put the game away. Tight end Jeb Putzier caught a two-point conversion, Denver's first of the year, on the next play to put the Broncos ahead 31-10 with 7:02 to play.

Collins' 14-yard touchdown pass to wide receiver Doug Gabriel moved the Raiders to within 14, 31-17, with 1:59 remaining in the game. The Broncos recovered the onside kick attempt, picked up a first down and ran out the clock to preserve the win.

Denver's victory improved Head Coach Mike Shanahan's record against the Raiders to 16-5 (.762), including an 8-3 road mark.

10 Denver 27, N.Y. Jets 0

Sunday, Nov. 20, 2005 • 2:15 p.m. MST • INVESCO Field at Mile High • Denver

WEATHER: Sunny, 61º, Wind N 4 mph • TIME: 2:52 • ATTENDANCE: 76,255

The Denver Broncos recorded their first shutout since November 1997 with a 27-0 win against the New York Jets on Sunday in front of 76,255 fans at INVESCO Field at Mile High. The win was Denver's eight in a row at home, tying for the fourth-longest such streak in franchise history, and improved the team's record to 8-2 on the year.

Denver controlled play for most of the game and recorded a 42:28-to-17:32 time-of-possession advantage. The Jets totaled only eight rushing attempts, setting a record for fewest rushes ever by a Broncos opponent.

Broncos running back Mike Anderson extended his streak of rushing scores to five consecutive games with three rushing touchdowns to go along with 113 rushing yards. Quarterback Jake Plummer completed 18-of-26 passes (69.2%) for 225 yards and a 95.8 passer rating.

Denver scored 14 of its points of five takeaways (2 interceptions, 3 fumble recoveries) against the Jets and had a +4 turnover ratio in securing the victory. Cornerback Champ Bailey tied his single-season career best with his fifth interception of the year while safety John Lynch also added an interception.

The Broncos scored a touchdown on their first possession of the game, marching 95 yards on 17 plays as part of a drive that lasted 9:34. Anderson's 1-yard run put the Broncos ahead 7-0 at the 2:34 mark of the first quarter.

After Jason Elam hit a 26-yard field goal in the second quarter, Anderson scored on another 1-yard run that increased Denver's lead to 17-0 with 4:26 remaining in the first half.

Both Lynch and Bailey each totaled one interception in the third quarter, but Denver was unable to capitalize on the takeaways. The Broncos finished the period 0-for-3 on third downs and 0-for-1 on its lone fourth-down attempt.

Early in the fourth quarter, Elam drilled a 47-yard field goal to put Denver ahead 20-0. On the Jets' next possession, Broncos linebacker Ian Gold forced a fumble on a sack of Jets quarterback Vinny Testaverde that was recovered by defensive tackle Michael Myers.

Myers' fumble recovery led to Anderson's third rushing score of the afternoon from three yards out with 1:56 remaining in the game.

While the Jets' running game was held to only 19 yards, their passing attack also endured similar struggles against Denver's defense. Starting quarterback Brooks Bollinger was forced from the game with an injury after attempting five passes, and Testaverde compiled a 44.1 passer rating in playing the majority of the loss.

11 Denver 24, Dallas 21 OT

Thursday, Nov. 24, 2005 • 3:17 p.m. CST • Texas Stadium • Irving, Texas

WEATHER: Fair, 68° • TIME: 3:31 • ATTENDANCE: 63,273

Playing for the ninth time in team history on Thanksgiving Day, the Denver Broncos improved to 9-2 on the year with a 24-21 overtime win against the Dallas Cowboys in front of 63,273 fans at Texas Stadium. The win marked the Broncos' third ever on Thanksgiving Day and second in a row on the holiday.

Filling in for an injured Tatum Bell, Broncos running back Ron Dayne broke free for a 55-yard run on the second play of overtime to set up Jason Elam's game-winning 24-yard field goal on the next play. Dayne finished with a season-best 98 yards on seven carries (14.0 avg.) with one touchdown.

Broncos cornerback Champ Bailey recorded his sixth interception of the year, taking back an errant Drew Bledsoe throw 65 yards for a first-quarter touchdown to open the game's scoring. Bailey's interception return for a touchdown was his second of the year, making him only the sixth player in franchise history to have two scoring interception returns in the same year.

Denver quarterback Jake Plummer threw for 162 yards with one touchdown and one interception. His second-quarter interception, caught by Cowboys cornerback Terrence Newman, ended his franchise-best streak without an interception at 229 attempts.

After Bailey's interception return put the Broncos ahead 7-0 at 8:10 of the first quarter, Bledsoe connected with wide receiver Keyshawn Johnson for a 14-yard touchdown pass at 3:46 of the opening period to tie the score. Plummer put Denver ahead 14-7 on its next series with a 20-yard scoring pass to wide receiver Rod Smith at 14:17 of the second quarter.

An offsides penalty by the Broncos gave Dallas another chance on fourth-and-goal from the 1-yard line late in the first half, and Bledsoe capitalized on the opportunity by scoring on a quarterback sneak. The touchdown knotted the score at 14 as both teams entered halftime.

Dayne's 16-yard touchdown run on the Broncos' first offensive series of the second half gave the team a 21-14 lead with 5:47 left in the third quarter. The Cowboys would answer early in the fourth quarter on a 4-yard touchdown grab by tight end Jason Witten.

The Cowboys put themselves in position for a game-winning field goal, but kicker Billy Cundiff missed a 34-yard attempt wide left on fourth-and-5 from the Denver 15 with 7:46 remaining. Dallas also drove to the Denver 48-yard line with less than two minutes remaining before the drive stalled, forcing the Cowboys to punt and ultimately sending the game to overtime.

Denver won the coin toss in the extra period. After a 7-yard catch by Charlie Adams, Dayne raced 55 yards to the Dallas 6-yard line to set up Elam's game-winning field goal on the next play.

12 Kansas City 31, Denver 27

Sunday, Dec. 4, 2005 • 3:15 p.m. CST • Arrowhead Stadium • Kansas City, Mo.

WEATHER: Sunny & Cold, 28º (wind chill 20º), Wind N 8 mph • TIME: 3:06 • ATTENDANCE: 78,261

The Denver Broncos' four-game winning streak was snapped by the Kansas City Chiefs on Sunday with a 31-27 loss in front of 78,261 fans at Arrowhead Stadium. The loss dropped Denver's record to 9-3 on the season and narrowed its first-place lead in the AFC West to one game over both Kansas City and San Diego.

Denver, which lost to the Chiefs for the 17th time in its 18 all-time road December meetings against the club, struggled to contain the Chiefs' rushing game. Running back Larry Johnson totaled 140 yards on 30 carries (4.7 avg.) with two touchdowns, including a 4-yard run with 9:58 to play that gave Kansas City a 31-27 lead and proved to be the game-winning score.

Broncos running back Mike Anderson scored one rushing touchdown and tallied a 66-yard receiving touchdown off a short screen pass to open the game's scoring in the first quarter. The play marked the longest reception of Anderson's career.

Denver quarterback Jake Plummer completed 18-of-29 passes (62.1%) for 276 yards with one touchdown and two interceptions.

After Anderson's touchdown catch at 9:14 of the first quarter put the Broncos ahead 7-0, the Chiefs answered with a 41-yard touchdown by wide receiver Dante Hall on a Trent Green throw. Broncos cornerback Champ Bailey intercepted a pass for the fourth consecutive game early in the second quarter, putting Denver on its 43-yard line, but the team was unable to capitalize and went three-and-out on the ensuing series.

The Chiefs scored on their next series with Johnson plunging in for a 1-yard touchdown that put them ahead 14-7 with 10:05 remaining in the first half. The Broncos went 56 yards on their next drive with Anderson scoring from one yard out to tie the score.

A 25-yard touchdown reception by tight end Tony Gonzalez gave the Chiefs a 21-14 lead with 1:39 left in the second quarter. Denver moved the chains with efficiency on its next drive, which culminated in a 7-yard touchdown scored on a keeper by quarterback Bradlee Van Pelt, who lined up behind center with Plummer split wide and scored on his first NFL play from scrimmage.

Denver had an opportunity to take the lead on the first series of the third quarter, but Plummer's third-down attempt deep in Chiefs territory was intercepted. Both teams exchanged field goals in the quarter, tying the score at 24 entering the final frame.

Denver took the lead on a 40-yard field by Jason Elam at 13:31 of the fourth quarter, but Kansas City went ahead for good on its next series with a 4-yard Johnson touchdown run at 9:58. The Broncos looked to be positioning themselves for a score with less than three minutes remaining in the game but could not convert a fourth-and-1 from their 47-yard line, halting the drive.

13 Denver 12, Baltimore 10

Sunday, Dec. 11, 2005 • 2:15 p.m. MST • INVESCO Field at Mile High • Denver

WEATHER: Sunny, 41º, Wind N 5 mph • TIME: 2:57 • ATTENDANCE: 75,651

The Denver Broncos snapped a four-game losing streak to the Baltimore Ravens with a 12-10 victory on Sunday in front of 75,651 fans at INVESCO Field at Mile High. With the victory, Mike Shanahan passed Dan Reeves to become the winningest head coach in Broncos history with 118 wins (111 regular season, 7 postseason) since he was hired in 1995.

Denver's win extended its home-winning streak to 11 games, tying for the third-longest such streak in franchise history. In addition, its victory over the Ravens was its 11th in a row at home in the month of December, marking the second-longest active streak (Kansas City - 17) in the NFL.

Quarterback Kyle Boller trimmed Baltimore's deficit to 12-10 with 1:52 remaining in the game with a 39-yard touchdown pass to wide receiver Mark Clayton. On the ensuing possession, Broncos wide receiver Ashley Lelie picked up a first down on an 8-yard reverse to force the Ravens to use their final timeout and seal the victory for Denver.

Denver cornerback Champ Bailey set a franchise record with an interception for the fifth consecutive game. Quarterback Jake Plummer turned in a solid performance for the Broncos, completing 19-of-33 passes (57.6%) for 236 yards with one touchdown for a 90.0 passer rating.

An 87-yard return by the Ravens' B.J. Sams on the opening kickoff put Baltimore at Denver's 10-yard line to begin the game. Denver held the Ravens to -1 yards on their first three plays, and Baltimore settled for a 29-yard field goal by kicker Matt Stover to take a 3-0 lead and become the first team in 2005 to score on its opening possession against the Broncos.

Denver answered on its next possession with a 47-yard field goal by Jason Elam at 8:44 of the first quarter. Baltimore had two scoring chances in the second quarter but had a drive stall at Denver's 35-yard line (punt) and was intercepted (safety Nick Ferguson) in the end zone on a third-and-10 from the Broncos' 24-yard line.

Elam's 48-yard field goal as time expired in the first half put the Broncos ahead 6-3 at halftime.

Plummer's 7-yard touchdown pass to fullback Kyle Johnson gave Denver a 12-3 lead at the 6:08 mark of the third quarter. Elam, who is the NFL's all-time leader in extra-point accuracy, had his attempt go off the right upright a play later.

The miscue proved to be insignificant, however. Clayton's 39-yard touchdown grab with 1:52 left in the fourth quarter trimmed the Ravens' deficit to 12-10, but Denver was able to pick up a first down on the next possession to eventually force the Ravens to use their final two timeouts.

14 Denver 28, Buffalo 17

Saturday, Dec. 17, 2005 • 8:36 p.m. EST • Ralph Wilson Stadium • Orchard Park, N.Y.

WEATHER: Mostly Cloudy, 28º, Wind WSW light • TIME: 3:27 • ATTENDANCE: 71,887

In an ESPN nationally televised game on Saturday night in upstate New York, the Denver Broncos clinched a playoff berth for the third consecutive season with a 28-17 win against the Buffalo Bills in front of 71,887 fans at Ralph Wilson Stadium.

The win improved Denver's record to 11-3 and put the club one win or tie away from clinching its first AFC West title since 1998.

Broncos kicker Jason Elam became the first player in NFL history to score 100 points in each of his first 13 seasons with four extra points. Denver wide receiver Rod Smith went above the 1,000-yard receiving mark (1,003 yds.) for the eighth time in his career with a game-high 11 catches for 137 yards (12.5 avg.) with one touchdown.

Smith's 11 receptions tied for the third-highest single-game total in his career and were the most since he had a career-best 14 catches at Arizona on Sept. 23, 2001.

Quarterback Jake Plummer completed 20-of-37 passes (54.1%) for 259 yards with two touchdowns, including a 1-yard toss to rookie Wesley Duke to mark the tight end's first career reception. Running back Mike Anderson scored twice on runs and finished the contest with 97 yards on 21 carries (4.6 avg.).

One of the NFL's best teams at scoring on its opening possession, Buffalo continued that trend with a 1-yard touchdown run by running back Willis McGahee on the game's first series.

Denver did not answer until late in the second quarter when Plummer found Smith for a 3-yard score, tying the game at 7 with 43 seconds left in the first half. The pass was tipped in the end zone by cornerback Eric King before Smith plucked it out of the air in traffic for the touchdown.

The Broncos moved the ball efficiently on the opening drive of the third quarter, converting three third downs on a touchdown drive that covered 69 yards in 10 plays. Duke, a rookie who played basketball only at Mercer University, caught a fade route from Plummer from 1-yard out for his first touchdown to give Denver a 14-7 lead at 10:53 of the third quarter.

The Bills cut Denver's lead to 14-10 on Ryan Lindell's 31-yard field goal with 5:11 remaining in the third quarter. The Broncos responded on their next two drives with touchdown runs of 11 and 6 yards by Mike Anderson, giving them a 28-10 advantage with 5:49 remaining in the game.

Buffalo quarterback Kelly Holcomb connected with running back Joe Burns for a 19-yard score with 3:49 left to pull the team within 11, 28-17. Denver, which finished the day 7-for-14 (50%) on third downs, converted two third downs after recovering the onside kick and ran out the clock for the win.

The Denver Broncos secured the AFC West title for the first time since 1998 and for the 10th time in franchise annals with a 22-3 win against the Oakland Raiders on Saturday in front of 76,212 fans at INVESCO Field at Mile High. The Christmas Eve victory also gave the 12-3 Broncos a bye in the first round of the playoffs as the AFC's No. 2 seed.

The Broncos, who extended their home winning streak to 10 games to tie Seattle for the longest active streak in the league, also finished the season with an undefeated home record for the fifth time in team history. Denver's five undefeated home schedules are the most in the NFL since the 16-game schedule was implemented in 1978.

With 46 rushing yards and one touchdown, Broncos running back Mike Anderson went above the 1,000-yard mark for the second time in his career (1,014 yds.). Denver wide receiver Ashley Lelie posted the fifth 100-yard receiving game of his career and third against the Raiders with 110 yards on six catches (18.3 avg.).

Broncos quarterback Jake Plummer threw for 268 yards, completing 19-of-29 passes (65.6%) with one interception.

The Broncos set the tone for the contest immediately, building a 10-0 lead in the first quarter. Jason Elam opened the game's scoring with a 29-yard field goal on Denver's first drive and Plummer dove in from 1-yard out for a touchdown with 33 seconds left in the opening period.

Anderson scored on a 2-yard run midway through the second quarter, extending Denver's lead to 16-0 after it could not convert the extra point on a mishandled snap.

Denver received the ball at the start of the third quarter when wide receiver Todd Devoe forced a fumble on a kickoff return by Chris Carr that was recovered by running back Cecil Sapp. Elam capitalized on the turnover with a 33-yard field goal and added a 34-yard conversion on the Broncos' next possession to give the team a 22-0 lead with 9:19 left in the third quarter.

The Raiders ended Denver's chance to record its second shutout of the season when Sebastian Janikowski hit a 43-yard field goal at the 14:10 mark of the fourth quarter. Oakland appeared to be in position to score again later in the quarter when it faced first-and-10 from the Denver 25 with 2:26 remaining, but the Raiders could not gain any yardage from that point forward and lost the ball on a turnover on downs.

Denver continued its success on third downs, posting a success rate of 50 percent or better for the second consecutive game with an 8-for-15 mark (53%). The Broncos also had a commanding lead in time of possession (38:32 to 21:28).

Saturday, Dec. 31, 2005 • 1:35 p.m. PST • Qualcomm Stadium • San Diego

WEATHER: Slight Drizzle, 61º, Wind WSW 8 mph • TIME: 3:04 • ATTENDANCE: 65,513

In their final regular-season tuneup before the playoffs, the Denver Broncos won their fourth consecutive game with a 23-7 win against the San Diego Chargers on Saturday in front of 65,513 fans at Qualcomm Stadium. Although they were already locked into the No. 2 seed in the AFC Playoffs and had several key players resting injuries, the Broncos maintained a high standard of play in a solid performance.

The victory improved Denver's final regular-season record to 13-3, tying for the second-highest win total in franchise history.

Safety John Lynch, playing in his hometown of San Diego, forced two fumbles on two sacks that directly led to nine Broncos points. Denver's defense totaled a season-high six sacks, one safety, one interception and three forced fumbles on the day.

In his first career start, running back Tatum Bell scored all three of Denver's touchdowns on runs of six, one and 19 yards to set a single-game career best for rushing touchdowns. Bell, who entered the game only 131 yards short of joining Mike Anderson as a 1,000-yard rusher for the year, finished with 52 yards against the NFL's No. 1 run defense.

Quarterback Jake Plummer started for Denver, completing 8-of-14 passes (57.1%) for 91 yards. Plummer was replaced by Bradlee Van Pelt to begin the second half, and in the first significant game action of his career, the second-year quarterback rushed for 41 yards on 10 carries and added two completions for seven yards.

After a scoreless first quarter, Bell gave Denver a 7-0 lead with a 6-yard touchdown run at 11:48 of the second quarter. Denver would score again later in the quarter when Chargers quarterback Drew Brees was sacked by Lynch and lost a fumble at his 1-yard line with 3:37 left in the first half, setting up a Bell touchdown run one play later.

Philip Rivers took over as the Chargers' quarterback on the next series in place of Brees, who was injured on the Lynch sack. Rivers led the team on a 69-yard scoring drive that culminated in a 6-yard touchdown run by running back LaDainian Tomlinson, trimming Denver's lead to 14-7 at halftime.

On the Chargers' first offensive series of the third quarter, Lynch sacked Rivers in the end zone and forced a fumble. It was recovered in the end zone by San Diego tackle Shane Olivea, who was pounced on by defensive tackle Demetrin Veal for a safety and a 16-7 Broncos lead at 5:30 of the third quarter.

Safety Curome Cox intercepted the first pass of his career late in the fourth quarter. His 48-yard return put Denver at the San Diego 19-yard line, setting up its final score on a 19-yard Bell run on the next play.

2005 AFC Divisional Playoff Game

The Denver Broncos ended the New England Patriots' NFL-record 10-game postseason winning streak with a 27-13 victory in an AFC Divisional Playoff Game on Saturday night in front of 76,238 fans at INVESCO Field at Mile High.

The Broncos' win against the two-time defending Super Bowl champions was their first playoff victory since the 1998 season and first ever at INVESCO Field at Mile High. Denver forced five turnovers against the Patriots, totaling two interceptions and three fumble recoveries that led to their first 24 points scored.

Broncos cornerback Champ Bailey recorded the longest non-scoring interception return and second-longest overall interception return in NFL postseason history with a key 100-yard return late in the third quarter. Bailey's play ended a potential go-ahead scoring drive by the Patriots and set up a touchdown to give the Broncos a 17-6 lead entering the final period.

Denver quarterback Jake Plummer completed 15-of-26 passes (57.7%) for 197 yards with one touchdown and one interception. Wide receiver Rod Smith (96 yds., 1 TD) became Denver's all-time playoff leader in receiving yards and kicker Jason Elam (2 FGs, 9 pts.) became its all-time leading scorer in the postseason with their performances against the Patriots.

The game was scoreless for the first quarter-and-a-half before Adam Vinatieri's 40-yard field goal put the Patriots ahead 3-0 at 3:48 of the second quarter. A 40-yard pass interference penalty drawn by Broncos wide receiver Ashley Lelie in the end zone with less than two minutes remaining in the first half led to a 1-yard scoring run by Mike Anderson to give Denver a 7-3 lead.

On the ensuing kickoff, Broncos kicker/punter Todd Sauerbrun forced a fumble that Denver recovered to set up a 50-yard field goal by Elam to put the Broncos ahead 10-3 at halftime.

Vinatieri's 32-yard field goal at 7:49 of the third quarter narrowed Denver's lead to 10-6, but that would be as close as the Patriots got. Bailey intercepted Tom Brady, who finished the game with 341 passing yards, in the end zone with 1:03 left in the third quarter to halt a potential go-ahead touchdown drive. After Bailey was forced out of bounds at the 1-yard line following a 100-yard return, Anderson scored on a run to put Denver up 17-6.

Plummer's 4-yard touchdown pass to Smith at 8:38 of the fourth quarter extended the Broncos' lead to 24-6. A Patriots touchdown moved the team to within 11, 24-13, with 8:05 left to play, but Elam's 34-yard field goal on Denver's next drive sealed the Broncos' victory.

2005 AFC Championship Game

The Denver Broncos' 2005 season ended one game short of Super Bowl XL with a 34-17 loss to the Pittsburgh Steelers in the AFC Championship Game on Sunday at INVESCO Field at Mile High in front of 76,775 fans.

The Broncos' defeat was their first ever at home in an AFC title game as the team entered its contest against Pittsburgh 4-0 in those situations. The loss snapped Denver's 11-game overall home winning streak and was only the Broncos' third in their 15 all-time home postseason playoff games.

A week after forcing five turnovers to beat the Patriots in the Divisional Round, Denver recorded four giveaways against the Steelers. Pittsburgh scored 24 points off two interceptions and two fumbles by the Broncos, who surrendered only 27 points off giveaways for the entire 2005 regular season.

Pittsburgh converted 10-of-16 third-down attempts (62.5%), including eight of its first nine such attempts, to take control of the game. Quarterback Ben Roethlisberger compiled a 124.9 passer rating, throwing for 275 yards with two touchdowns and no interceptions to lead Pittsburgh to its sixth Super Bowl.

Broncos quarterback Jake Plummer completed 18-of-30 passes (60.0%) for 223 yards with one touchdown and two interceptions. Denver wide receiver Rod Smith caught four passes for 61 yards (15.3 avg.), becoming the Broncos' all-time leader in career postseason receptions (49).

The Steelers scored the game's first points on a 47-yard field goal by Jeff Reed at 4:11 of the first quarter and extended their lead to 10-0 on a 12-yard touchdown grab by wide receiver Cedric Wilson at 14:54 of the second quarter.

Jason Elam's 23-yard field goal on Denver's next drive trimmed the Broncos' deficit, but the Steelers went ahead 17-3 on a 3-yard touchdown run by Jerome Bettis with 1:55 left in the first half.

Plummer was intercepted on the first play of Denver's ensuing series. The turnover proved costly as wide receiver Hines Ward caught a 17-yard touchdown pass with seven seconds remaining in the first half to put Denver behind 24-3.

Plummer moved the Broncos within 14, 24-10, on a 30-yard touchdown pass to wide receiver Ashley Lelie with 3:36 left in the third quarter. Denver also closed its deficit to 10, 27-17, on a 3-yard touchdown run by Mike Anderson with 7:52 left in the game.

The Steelers sealed the win on Roethlisberger's 4-yard touchdown run at 2:59 of the fourth quarter.

The term NFL ROOKIE is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A ROOKIE is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional league or players who have NFL experience, including their preseason training camp or being on an Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve / Physically Unable to Perform for fewer than six regular season games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player is credited with an additional year of experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List or Inactive List, or on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.

DID YOU KNOW?

The Broncos' five undefeated home records in regular-season play since the NFL adopted a 16-game schedule in 1978 are the highest such total in the NFL. Denver has been undefeated at home in 1981, 1996, 1997, 1998 and 2005. The Packers and Chiefs each rank behind the Broncos with three undefeted home records in the regular season since 1978.

Denver Broncos Starters, 1960-2005

Listed below are the usual starters, by position, for the Denver Broncos on a season-by-season basis from 1960-2005. A player must have been the starter for the majority of the games that season to be designated as the starter. If the number of starting assignments at a position were virtually equal, two players have been listed, with the player who had the greater playing time listed first. The term "Ret" is used to designate someone who was a kick return specialist.

2005 AFC Championship Game

The Denver Broncos' 2005 season ended one game short of Super Bowl XL with a 34-17 loss to the Pittsburgh Steelers in the AFC Championship Game on Sunday at INVESCO Field at Mile High in front of 76,775 fans.

The Broncos' defeat was their first ever at home in an AFC title game as the team entered its contest against Pittsburgh 4-0 in those situations. The loss snapped Denver's 11-game overall home winning streak and was only the Broncos' third in their 15 all-time home postseason playoff games.

A week after forcing five turnovers to beat the Patriots in the Divisional Round, Denver recorded four giveaways against the Steelers. Pittsburgh scored 24 points off two interceptions and two fumbles by the Broncos, who surrendered only 27 points off giveaways for the entire 2005 regular season.

Pittsburgh converted 10-of-16 third-down attempts (62.5%), including eight of its first nine such attempts, to take control of the game. Quarterback Ben Roethlisberger compiled a 124.9 passer rating, throwing for 275 yards with two touchdowns and no interceptions to lead Pittsburgh to its sixth Super Bowl.

Broncos quarterback Jake Plummer completed 18-of-30 passes (60.0%) for 223 yards with one touchdown and two interceptions. Denver wide receiver Rod Smith caught four passes for 61 yards (15.3 avg.), becoming the Broncos' all-time leader in career postseason receptions (49).

The Steelers scored the game's first points on a 47-yard field goal by Jeff Reed at 4:11 of the first quarter and extended their lead to 10-0 on a 12-yard touchdown grab by wide receiver Cedric Wilson at 14:54 of the second quarter.

Jason Elam's 23-yard field goal on Denver's next drive trimmed the Broncos' deficit, but the Steelers went ahead 17-3 on a 3-yard touchdown run by Jerome Bettis with 1:55 left in the first half.

Plummer was intercepted on the first play of Denver's ensuing series. The turnover proved costly as wide receiver Hines Ward caught a 17-yard touchdown pass with seven seconds remaining in the first half to put Denver behind 24-3.

Plummer moved the Broncos within 14, 24-10, on a 30-yard touchdown pass to wide receiver Ashley Lelie with 3:36 left in the third quarter. Denver also closed its deficit to 10, 27-17, on a 3-yard touchdown run by Mike Anderson with 7:52 left in the game.

The Steelers sealed the win on Roethlisberger's 4-yard touchdown run at 2:59 of the fourth quarter.

2005 AFC Divisional Playoff Game

The Denver Broncos ended the New England Patriots' NFL-record 10-game postseason winning streak with a 27-13 victory in an AFC Divisional Playoff Game on Saturday night in front of 76,238 fans at INVESCO Field at Mile High.

The Broncos' win against the two-time defending Super Bowl champions was their first playoff victory since the 1998 season and first ever at INVESCO Field at Mile High. Denver forced five turnovers against the Patriots, totaling two interceptions and three fumble recoveries that led to their first 24 points scored.

Broncos cornerback Champ Bailey recorded the longest non-scoring interception return and second-longest overall interception return in NFL postseason history with a key 100-yard return late in the third quarter. Bailey's play ended a potential go-ahead scoring drive by the Patriots and set up a touchdown to give the Broncos a 17-6 lead entering the final period.

Denver quarterback Jake Plummer completed 15-of-26 passes (57.7%) for 197 yards with one touchdown and one interception. Wide receiver Rod Smith (96 yds., 1 TD) became Denver's all-time playoff leader in receiving yards and kicker Jason Elam (2 FGs, 9 pts.) became its all-time leading scorer in the postseason with their performances against the Patriots.

The game was scoreless for the first quarter-and-a-half before Adam Vinatieri's 40-yard field goal put the Patriots ahead 3-0 at 3:48 of the second quarter. A 40-yard pass interference penalty drawn by Broncos wide receiver Ashley Lelie in the end zone with less than two minutes remaining in the first half led to a 1-yard scoring run by Mike Anderson to give Denver a 7-3 lead.

On the ensuing kickoff, Broncos kicker/punter Todd Sauerbrun forced a fumble that Denver recovered to set up a 50-yard field goal by Elam to put the Broncos ahead 10-3 at halftime.

Vinatieri's 32-yard field goal at 7:49 of the third quarter narrowed Denver's lead to 10-6, but that would be as close as the Patriots got. Bailey intercepted Tom Brady, who finished the game with 341 passing yards, in the end zone with 1:03 left in the third quarter to halt a potential go-ahead touchdown drive. After Bailey was forced out of bounds at the 1-yard line following a 100-yard return, Anderson scored on a run to put Denver up 17-6.

Plummer's 4-yard touchdown pass to Smith at 8:38 of the fourth quarter extended the Broncos' lead to 24-6. A Patriots touchdown moved the team to within 11, 24-13, with 8:05 left to play, but Elam's 34-yard field goal on Denver's next drive sealed the Broncos' victory.

2004 AFC Wild Card Playoff Game

Peyton Manning threw for 458 yards with four touchdowns while also running for a score to lead the Indianapolis Colts over the Denver Broncos 49-24 in an AFC Wild Card Playoff Game in the RCA Dome in Indianapolis in front of 56,609 fans.

The Colts jumped out to a quick 14-0 first-quarter lead after Manning found James Mungro for a 2-yard touchdown pass and running back Edgerrin James scored on a 1-yard run.

After Manning's second touchdown of the day, a 19-yard strike to tight end Dallas Clark, the Broncos' Jason Elam put Denver on the scoreboard with a 33-yard field goal.

The Colts' offense responded quickly, however, as Manning increased the lead to 35-3 with a 35-yard touchdown pass to Reggie Wayne and a 1-yard quarterback sneak in the closing seconds of the half.

The Broncos fought back in the third quarter when quarterback Jake Plummer capped off a 10-play, 71-yard drive with a 9-yard touchdown pass to Rod Smith.

After forcing the Colts to punt for just the second time all day, Plummer led Denver downfield once again and hit tight end Jeb Putzier for a 35-yard score. The touchdown concluded an 85-yard drive, cutting the Broncos' deficit to 35-17.

Indianapolis denied Denver any thoughts of coming back when Manning connected with Wayne for the second time in the game for a 43-yard touchdown pass.

The Broncos scored their final points on a 1-yard touchdown run by Tatum Bell in the fourth quarter, but it was not enough to catch up to the potent Colts offense, which amassed 530 total yards for the game.

Smith paced the Denver receivers with seven catches for 99 yards with a touchdown to give him 39 career postseason catches and move him past Ed McCaffrey (36) for third on the Broncos' all-time playoff list. Putzier finished the contest with 67 yards on three catches, including the 35-yard touchdown.

Plummer completed 24-of-34 passes for 284 yards with two touchdowns while posting a passer rating of 103.1.

For the Colts, Manning's 458 passing yards were the most the Broncos have ever yielded in a game and ranked as the second-most passing yards in a playoff game in NFL history. Wayne also posted an impressive day, catching 10 passes for 221 yards with two scores, while Clark added 112 yards on six catches along with a touchdown.

Denver suffered a 41-10 loss to Indianapolis in an AFC Wild Card Playoff Game in front of 55,331 fans at the RCA Dome.

On the game's opening drive, Peyton Manning led the Colts 70 yards and capped the drive when he found Brandon Stokley for a 31-yard touchdown and an early lead. Denver answered on its first drive but could only manage a 49-yard Jason Elam field goal after penalties caused the drive to stall.

Late in the first quarter, Manning hit Marvin Harrison, who fell near the Colts' 29-yard line, and after not being touched by a Broncos' defender, got up and ran the ball in for a touchdown and a 14-3 lead. With Denver unable to sustain a drive after picking up two holding penalties, Indianapolis took possession on its 20-yard-line after a Broncos punt. Manning engineered another successful touchdown drive (8 plays, 80 yards), culminating in a 23-yard touchdown pass to Harrison.

After another Denver punt, Manning hit Stokley in stride and scampered 87 yards for a touchdown, giving the Colts a 28-3 lead with less than two minutes remaining in the half. Denver began to mount a drive, but Plummer's pass, intended for Rod Smith, was intercepted by David Macklin and returned 21 yards to the Colts' 42-yard-line. Mike Vanderjagt's 27-yard field goal gave the Colts a 31-3 halftime lead as the first half ended.

On their first drive of the second half, Plummer connected with Rod Smith for a 34-yard reception, moving the Broncos to the Colts' 27-yard line, but Elam's 28-yard field goal attempt was blocked and the Colts took over on their own 36-yard line. Indianapolis was able to add to its lead by capping a 64-yard drive with a 7-yard touchdown pass from Manning to Reggie Wayne. Plummer—when hit from behind by Dwight Freeney—fumbled on Denver's next possession, and the ball was recovered by Rob Morris on Denver's 20-yard line. Indianapolis settled for a 20-yard field goal and a 41-3 lead. Midway through the fourth quarter—after recovering a Colts fumble on its 38-yard-line—Denver finally found the end zone for the game's final score when Plummer connected with Smith for a 7-yard touchdown.

Plummer completed 23-of-30 passes for 181 yards with a touchdown but had a pair of interceptions. Clinton Portis led the Broncos with 68 yards rushing, and rookie Quentin Griffin added 60 yards on six carries. Smith pitched in with five catches for 66 yards, and Shannon Sharpe also caught five balls for 31 yards.

2000 AFC Wild Card Playoff Game

The Broncos' 2000 season ended in a disappointing 21-3 defeat at the hands of the Baltimore Ravens in an AFC Wild Card Playoff Game at PSINet Stadium in Baltimore on a blustery New Year's Eve day in front of 69,638 fans.

Denver's offense managed just 177 yards—the club's third lowest output in 28 postseason games—and nine first downs against a record-setting Ravens defense, which put an end to the Broncos' seven-game postseason win streak.

After a scoreless first quarter, Baltimore put up the first points when Jamal Lewis reached the end zone from 1 yard out early in the second quarter to cap a 10-play, 75-yard drive.

The Broncos answered with a 31-yard Jason Elam field goal to narrow the deficit to 7-3 when a promising 12-play, 68-yard drive stalled after a third-and-1 opportunity at the Ravens' 12-yard line. What followed would prove to be the play of the game, if not one of the more bizarre plays of the year.

The Ravens' Corey Harris returned the ensuing kickoff 15 yards to the Baltimore 42-yard line. On first-and-10, Baltimore's Trent Dilfer attempted a screen pass to Lewis, who tipped the ball into and out of the hands of Denver cornerback Terrell Buckley. The loose ball was grabbed out of the air by former Broncos tight end Shannon Sharpe, who dashed 58 yards for a touchdown, boosting the lead to 14-3.

Baltimore increased its halftime lead to 21-3 late in the third quarter when Lewis ran 27 yards for his second touchdown of the day to cap the scoring.

Denver managed just 83 yards on its eight second-half possessions and was held scoreless to preserve the lowest scoring output (3) in franchise postseason history. The Broncos penetrated Ravens territory just once all day and ran just seven plays on the Baltimore side of the field.

Broncos quarterback Gus Frerotte, subbing for the injured Brian Griese, completed 13-of-28 passes for 124 yards with one interception while Ed McCaffrey led all receivers with eight catches for 75 yards (9.4 avg.).

Mike Anderson led the Broncos in rushing with 40 yards on 15 carries. Safety Billy Jenkins and defensive end Maa Tanuvasa each had sacks for the Broncos' defense, which held Baltimore to 240 net yards of total offense and forced 10 punts.

Super Bowl XXXIII

The Denver Broncos clinched their second consecutive World Championship with a 34-19 victory over the Atlanta Falcons in Super Bowl XXXIII before 74,803 fans at Miami's Pro Player Stadium and millions more watching around the world. With the win, Denver joined just five other franchises that won back-to-back Super Bowl titles and posted just the seventh repeat championship in Super Bowl history.

Quarterback John Elway claimed the game's Most Valuable Player award by completing 18-of-29 passes for 336 yards (3rd-most in Super Bowl history at the time), including an 80-yard scoring toss to Rod Smith in the second quarter that tied for the second-longest TD pass in Super Bowl history. He also ran for a 3-yard score in the fourth quarter, making him the the oldest player (38) to score a touchdown in the Super Bowl, eclipsing the mark he set a year earlier by scoring in Super Bowl XXXII.

Elway's accurate passing and the effective running of Terrell Davis (25 carries, 102 yards), who set an NFL record with his seventh consecutive 100-yard game in the postseason, kept the Falcons off balance all day. The Broncos' defense chipped in with two sacks and four forced turnovers, including two interceptions by Darrien Gordon, who set a Super Bowl records for most interception return yards in a game (108).

Atlanta took the opening kickoff and capped its drive with a 32-yard Morten Andersen field goal before Denver answered with the game's next 17 points. The first score came on a 1-yard run by Howard Griffith that capped a 10-play, 80-yard opening drive by the Broncos, and the lead was increased to 10-3 on a 26-yard Jason Elam field goal that capped Denver's third possession. After Andersen missed a 26-yard field goal attempt, the Broncos answered with the Elway-to-Smith 80-yard score on the next play to push the lead to 17-3. The Falcons narrowed the margin to 17-6 at halftime with a 28-yard Andersen field goal.

After a scoreless third quarter, Denver took advantage of Gordon's first interception by capping a short 24-yard drive with another Griffith 1-yard touchdown run early in the fourth quarter. Gordon's second pickoff set up Elway's 3-yard touchdown run that put Denver ahead 31-6 with 11:20 remaining. Two late touchdowns by Atlanta, sandwiched around a 37-yard Elam field goal, produced the final margin.

1998 AFC Championship Game

The Broncos clinched their AFC-record sixth berth in a Super Bowl by defeating the New York Jets 23-10 in the AFC Championship Game before a crowd of 75,482 fans at Mile High Stadium and a CBS national television audience.

After failing to score in the first half, the Broncos scored 20 third-quarter points and reached the Super Bowl for the second consecutive season—matching the back-to-back AFC Championships of the 1986 and '87 Broncos.

The Jets had taken a 10-0 lead on a John Hall 32-yard field goal and a 1-yard Curtis Martin touchdown run that was set up by a blocked punt at the Broncos' 1-yard line. That touchdown proved to be just the wake-up call that Denver needed to ignite its offense as well as the unusually quiet Mile High crowd. On first-and-10 from the 36-yard line, John Elway connected with Ed McCaffrey on a 47-yard pass play and two plays later found fullback Howard Griffith with an 11-yard touchdown pass to get Denver on the board and narrow the Jets' lead to 10-7.

Then, a wind-stifled kickoff fumble was recovered by Keith Burns and turned into a 44-yard Jason Elam field goal. Another Elam kick of 48 yards gave Denver the lead, and then a 31-yard touchdown run by Terrell Davis gave the Broncos a 10-point cushion they never relinquished.

The Broncos' defense—which deserved credit for keeping the club in the game in the first half while the offense sputtered—forced six turnovers (including two interceptions by Darrien Gordon) on the day and held the Jets to 14 yards rushing on 13 carries. The four opponent fumbles recovered by Denver set a franchise postseason record.

Davis set numerous records during the contest, including passing his own NFL-record total of 2,331 yards rushing in an entire season (regular and postseason combined) set in 1997 and rushing for 100 yards for the sixth consecutive postseason game, tying John Riggins for the most all time. He also passed Larry Csonka and Riggins for seventh and sixth place in career postseason rushing yards. Tight end Shannon Sharpe tied Vance Johnson (40) for the most receptions in postseason by a Bronco. Elam's three field goals also tied a Denver single-game postseason record. Denver maintained a perfect record (10-0) in the postseason when outrushing its opponent and a perfect mark (12-0) when leading after three quarters.

1998 AFC Divisional Playoff Game

The Denver Broncos won their fifth consecutive postseason contest and advanced to the AFC Championship Game for the second year in a row with a record-setting 38-3 win over Miami in an AFC Divisional Playoff Game played before 75,729 raucous fans at Mile High Stadium.

The 35-point differential represented Denver's largest margin of victory in a postseason game and was punctuated by a defensive effort that limited Miami to just 14 yards on 13 carries for an average of 1.1 yards per rush—all of which set franchise records. The three points allowed also were the fewest allowed by Denver in a postseason game.

The Broncos' offense was just as sharp, putting points on the board in all four quarters, including 14 in both the first and fourth quarters. Denver's two first-quarter TDs both came courtesy of T.D. himself—Terrell Davis—who scored on runs of 1 and 20 yards, the latter of which would qualify for any highlight film as Davis juked two Dolphins defenders with separate moves as he dashed to the end zone. Davis was, unequivocally, the offensive star, posting a franchise-record 199 yards on 21 carries, which also represented the fourth-highest single-game total in NFL postseason history.

Miami closed the gap to 14-3 in the second quarter, scoring its only points of the game on a 22-yard Olindo Mare field goal, but Denver answered with an 11-play, 87-yard drive capped by Derek Loville's 11-yard TD run to increase the lead to 21-3 at halftime. The Broncos pushed the margin to 24-3 early in the third quarter when Jason Elam converted a 32-yard field goal and put the game far out of reach early in the fourth quarter when John Elway hooked up with Rod Smith for a 28-yard touchdown play that was his 25th career postseason TD, tying him for fourth place in NFL history.

The icing on the cake was provided when Neil Smith picked up a fumble forced by Darrius Johnson at the Broncos' 21-yard line and ran it back 79 yards for his first career postseason score and a 38-3 Broncos lead that would stand up over the final 9:49 for Denver's most lopsided postseason win.

Shannon Sharpe led all Denver receivers with five catches, while Smith was the top yardage-gainer through the air with 71 on four catches. Defensively, Johnson and Bill Romanowski each intercepted Dan Marino, with Johnson returning his pick-off 48 yards for the second-longest interception return in franchise postseason history.

Super Bowl XXXII

The Denver Broncos won their first Super Bowl and became the first AFC team in 14 years to claim the Vince Lombardi trophy as they used a powerful running game and a solid defensive performance to dethrone the defending Super Bowl champion Green Bay Packers 31-24 in front of 68,912 fans at Qualcomm Stadium in San Diego.

Denver running back Terrell Davis was named the game's Most Valuable Player in recognition of his 157-yard rushing effort on 30 carries, which included a Super Bowl-record three rushing touchdowns, each from one yard out. Davis' three total touchdowns and 18 points each tied Super Bowl records and were made even more remarkable by the fact that he missed almost the entire second quarter when he was sidelined by the onset of a migraine headache.

Both offenses displayed their talents immediately as Super Bowl XXXII became the first ever in which each team scored a touchdown on its opening possession. The Packers struck first when Brett Favre connected with Antonio Freeman on a 22-yard scoring pass, and the Broncos answered by driving 58 yards in 10 plays the first time they touched the ball, culminating in a 1-yard Davis touchdown run with 5:39 left in the first quarter.

The Broncos turned two Packers turnovers into 10 more points to take a 17-7 lead in the second quarter. The first opportunity was created when strong safety Tyrone Braxton intercepted a Favre pass, and eight plays later, John Elway rushed around right end for a 1-yard touchdown. Free safety Steve Atwater sacked Favre on the next Green Bay possession, forcing a fumble that was recovered by defensive end Neil Smith. Four plays later, Jason Elam converted a 51-yard field goal, the second-longest in Super Bowl history.

Green Bay pulled to within 17-14 with a touchdown just before halftime and tied the score early in the third quarter on a 27-yard Ryan Longwell field goal. Denver broke the tie late in the third quarter on a 1-yard Davis touchdown run. After a Denver interception, Green Bay would move 85 yards in just four plays to tie the game at 24, setting the stage for Davis' late-game heroics.

After the Denver defense turned back the Packers on their next two possessions, the Broncos set up shop at the Packers' 49-yard line for their game-winning drive. Five plays later, Davis scored his third touchdown of the day, from one yard out to give Denver a 31-24 lead that would hold up over the final 1:45 for the victory.

1997 AFC Championship Game

The Denver Broncos advanced to their fifth Super Bowl—and their first since 1989—with a 24-21 victory at Pittsburgh in the AFC Championship Game in front of 61,382 fans at Three Rivers Stadium. The Broncos became just the fifth Wild Card team to advance to the Super Bowl since the Wild Card format was established in 1970.

Denver quarterback John Elway was intercepted by Levon Kirkland on the game's second play, but the Steelers failed to capitalize when Norm Johnson's 38-yard field goal attempt sailed wide to the left. Denver then got on the board when Davis—who would rush for 139 yards and become the club's all-time postseason rushing leader—capped a six-play, 72-yard drive with an 8-yard scoring run on its second possession.

Pittsburgh evened the score on its next possession as quarterback Kordell Stewart rushed 33 yards around right end for a touchdown to punctuate a 6-play, 65-yard drive that covered 3:02 on the clock. The Steelers then broke the deadlock early in the second quarter when Jerome Bettis powered his way into the end zone from one yard out to put the finishing touches on an 11-play, 68-yard drive.

The Broncos would score the game's next 17 points, and, in effect, put the game away as the defense held up its end of the bargain down the stretch. The scoring began with a 43-yard Jason Elam field goal with 8:20 remaining in the half. After each team punted on its next possession, Denver got the ball back when Ray Crockett intercepted a Stewart bomb in the end zone, setting up a 14-point assault that would send Denver to the locker room ahead 24-14. Elway hit Howard Griffith for a 15-yard touchdown with 1:47 remaining, and Denver then forced a Pittsburgh punt and found the end zone again when Elway connected with Ed McCaffrey for a 1-yard touchdown with 13 seconds left in the half.

Denver rode that 24-14 lead into the fourth quarter before the Steelers scored the only points of the second half on a 14-yard Stewart-to-Charles Johnson touchdown pass with 2:46 remaining. But the Broncos succeeded in running out the clock on their final possession and established a new franchise record with their 15th win of the season.

Elway tied Roger Staubach for fourth place on the NFL's all-time list for postseason touchdown passes (24) with his two on the day, and the Broncos' three interceptions tied the franchise postseason record for most in a game.

1997 AFC Divisional Playoff Game

The Denver Broncos posted their first road playoff win in 11 years—and only the second in franchise history—with a 14-10 victory over Kansas City in front of 76,965 fans at Arrowhead Stadium. Denver advanced to its first AFC Championship Game since 1991 on the strength of two Terrell Davis touchdowns—tying the franchise postseason record for the second week in a row—and a defensive effort that limited the Chiefs to just 10 points, tying for the fewest in club playoff history.

Davis broke a scoreless tie late in the second quarter, plowing into the end zone from one yard out to give Denver a 7-0 lead with 1:56 remaining in the half to cap an 8-play, 65-yard drive that covered 4:51 on the clock. Key to the drive was a 17-yard John Elway completion to Rod Smith on a third-and-7 play that gave the Broncos a first down at the Kansas City 4-yard line.

The Chiefs, limited to 58 yards total offense in the first half, came out strong after the break, moving the ball to the Denver 6-yard line, before settling for a 20-yard Pete Stoyanovich field goal. Kansas City struck again late in the quarter when Elvis Grbac found tight end Tony Gonzalez in the back of the end zone for a 12-yard score, the Chiefs' only touchdown of the day.

Denver, however, would answer on its ensuing possession, driving 49 yards in six plays for what would prove to be the game-winning touchdown. The key play of the drive was a 43-yard Elway-to-Ed McCaffrey completion on third-and-5 from the Chiefs' 44-yard line that gave Denver a first down at the Chiefs' 1-yard line.

After two unsuccessful attempts from close range, Davis muscled his way through the middle of the Chiefs' line for his second touchdown of the day and the fifth of his career in the postseason to establish a franchise record.

Kansas City had possession three more times in the game but was turned back each time by the Broncos' defense after reaching Denver's 31 (punt), their own 36 (punt) and the Broncos' 20 with 0:19 left (downs). The final play was a pass to the end zone on fourth-and-2 that was knocked down by Darrien Gordon, ending the Chiefs' hopes and propelling Denver to the AFC title game.

Elway, with 170 passing yards on the day, moved into second place in NFL postseason history in that category, supplanting both Terry Bradshaw (3,833) and Jim Kelly (3,863) to finish the day at 3,940.

1997 AFC Wild Card Playoff Game

The Denver Broncos advanced to the AFC Divisional Playoff Round by literally running the Jacksonville Jaguars out of town as they piled up a club postseason-record 310 rushing yards en route to a 42-17 victory in front of 74,481 fans at Mile High Stadium. Denver set numerous team postseason records during the contest, including new standards for rushing attempts (49), total yards (511), points in a quarter (21; 4th qtr.), total points (42), first downs (28), rushing first downs (18) and third-down efficiency (75%), while the 237 yards allowed by the defense was the second-lowest total in Denver's 21-game playoff history.

The Broncos scored touchdowns on each of their first three possessions, racking up a 21-0 lead on 32 offensive plays, during which time the Jaguars ran only six. Terrell Davis capped Denver's opening drive with a 2-yard touchdown run, and Rod Smith punctuated the next when he reeled in a 43-yard touchdown pass from John Elway. The lead was increased to 21-0 when Davis—who set franchise postseason records for rushing attempts (31), rushing yards (184) and longest run from scrimmage (59) before leaving in the third quarter with bruised ribs—tied the franchise records for rushing touchdowns and total touchdowns in a postseason game with his second of the day, this one from five yards out.

The Jaguars answered by scoring the game's next 17 points, courtesy of a 1-yard Natrone Means touchdown run, a 38-yard Mike Hollis field goal early in the third quarter and a blocked punt by safety Travis Davis, who returned it 29 yards for a touchdown to pull the Jaguars to within 21-17.

But the Broncos dominated from there as Derek Loville took over for the injured Davis and slashed his way to 103 yards (second-most by a Bronco in the postseason) on 11 attempts and scored two fourth-quarter touchdowns on runs of 25 and eight yards to tie the club touchdown record already achieved in the game by Davis. Vaughn Hebron then got into the act, scoring Denver's fifth rushing touchdown of the day on a 6-yard run with 1:11 remaining to push the lead to its final margin of 42-17. With Davis' 184 rushing yards and Loville's 103, Denver became just the third team in NFL postseason history to boast two 100-yard rushers in the same game. Additionally, Denver's 40 minutes and 59 seconds of possession time and their 310 rushing yards both were the fifth-highest recorded in an NFL playoff game.

1996 AFC Divisional Playoff Game

The Broncos' most successful season since 1991 came to a surprising end at the hands of the Jacksonville Jaguars with a 30-27 loss in an AFC Divisional Playoff Game in front of 75,678 stunned fans at Mile High Stadium.

The loss was Denver's first of the season at home and only their second ever at home in the postseason.

The contest began on a promising note for the Broncos as they scored on two of their first three possessions to take a 12-0 lead into the second quarter. First, Vaughn Hebron scored his first-ever postseason touchdown on a 1-yard plunge on fourth down. During that drive, Terrell Davis set a franchise record for the longest postseason run with a 47-yard scamper. On Denver's next possession, Shannon Sharpe hauled in an 18-yard pass from John Elway to produce the 12-point margin.

The Jaguars proceeded to score on their next six possessions with the first five being unanswered by the Broncos, producing a 23-12 advantage for Jacksonville.

The Broncos responded with a 9-play, 57-yard drive, capped by a 2-yard touchdown run by Davis, who then tacked on the two-point conversion himself to cut the deficit to 3. But then Mark Brunell, who threw for 245 yards with two touchdowns on the day, connected with Jimmy Smith for a touchdown on a critical third-and-5 play at the Broncos' 16-yard line with 3:39 remaining in the game to restore a 10-point advantage.

The Broncos again pulled to within three points when Elway found Ed McCaffrey in the end zone for a 15-yard touchdown with 1:50 left, but Denver's magic ran out as the Jaguars held on for the 30-27 win.

During the contest, Elway—who played in his franchise-record 15th postseason game—passed Terry Bradshaw for fourth place on the all-time NFL postseason list for pass attempts. He finished the day with 226 yards on 25-of-38 passing with two touchdowns. Davis gained 91 yards on the ground and scored a touchdown, but it was not enough to overcome Jacksonville's onslaught.

Natrone Means, who led Jacksonville's 203-yard ground attack, rushed for 140 yards on 21 carries (6.7 avg.). Brunell added 44 more on seven rushes and completed 18-of-29 passes (62.1%) for 245 yards with two touchdowns.

1993 AFC Wild Card Game

Facing the Los Angeles Raiders for the second time in as many weeks, the Denver Broncos saw the Raiders pull away from a 21-21 halftime tie en route to a 42-24 win in an AFC Wild Card Game in front of 66,094 fans at the Los Angeles Coliseum.

Denver quarterback John Elway completed 29-of-47 passes (61.7%) for 302 yards with three touchdowns and one interception while tight end Shannon Sharpe hauled in a game-high 13 receptions for 156 yards (12.0 avg.) with one touchdown.

The Raiders struck first on a 7-play, 80-yard drive that was capped with a 9-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Jeff Hostetler to tight end Ethan Horton at 9:17 of the first quarter.

Elway and the Broncos responded with a scoring drive of their own, going 65 yards in seven plays with Elway finding Sharpe for a 23-yard touchdown. The Raiders bounced back with a 65-yard touchdown toss to wide receiver Tim Brown to take a 14-7 lead at 2:25 of the first quarter. The Broncos responded by driving 80 yards in 12 plays, setting up a 16-yard touchdown toss from Elway to tight end Reggie Johnson to tie the score. Hostetler continued to be red hot on the Raiders' next possession, throwing a 54-yard touchdown pass to wide receiver James Jett for a 21-14 lead at 7:28 of the second quarter.

In the Broncos' final drive of the half, the offense chewed up nearly seven minutes and went 77 yards to tie the score at 21 on wide receiver Derek Russell's 6-yard touchdown reception. Elway showed his ability to create plays for the offense, completing passes to six different receivers and taking off on two rushes of his own.

The two teams combined for nearly 500 yards of total offense by halftime, but only the Raiders continued that pace in the second half. After receiving the opening kickoff, the Broncos failed to move the ball on their first three possessions, giving the Raiders great field position after three punts that averaged 30 yards by Tom Rouen. The Raiders took advantage of excellent field position, converting two of those possessions into touchdowns on drives of three and five plays, respectively, to take a commanding 35-21 lead at 4:27 of the third quarter.

The Broncos made a dent in the score at the beginning of the fourth period on a 33-yard field goal by Jason Elam at 12:37. The Raiders responded to that with a 10-play, 76-yard drive that was capped by Napoleon McCallum's third touchdown of the game from one yard out at 6:43 to mark the final points scored on the afternoon.

1991 AFC Championship Game

The Broncos were denied their fifth AFC Championship, losing 10-7 to the Bills before 80,272 fans at Rich Stadium. Denver's defense shut down the high-powered Buffalo offense, limiting it to just 213 total yards and only 12 first downs, but the Broncos' offense failed to capitalize on several first-half opportunities.

Both teams struggled to find their offenses in the first half, and the game was scoreless at halftime. Buffalo punted on its first two drives of the contest after a total net of minus-2 yards and had its third drive end when nose tackle Greg Kragen tipped and then intercepted a pass on the Buffalo 29. But Denver could not take advantage as David Treadwell's 47-yard field goal attempt sailed wide left. After the Broncos halted another Buffalo drive, Treadwell missed a 42-yard field-goal attempt.

Once again, the Bills punted after failing to get a first down, and a 10-yard punt return by Vance Johnson set Denver up on the 50. On first down, quarterback John Elway threw a middle screen to running back Steve Sewell, who gained 26 yards to the Buffalo 24. The Broncos could move no closer than the 20, and David Treadwell's 37-yard attempt was wide right to end the last scoring threat of the first half.

The Bills' second drive of the third quarter began at their 20, and 11 plays later, they faced a third-and-7 on Denver's 26. Quarterback Jim Kelly's pass to James Lofton was intercepted by cornerback Tyrone Braxton and returned to the Denver 19. On second-and-10, Elway attempted another middle screen to Sewell, but linebacker Carlton Bailey picked off the pass and ran 11 yards for a touchdown and a 7-0 Buffalo lead.

The Broncos' first possession of the fourth quarter began with Gary Kubiak at quarterback, replacing Elway, who left the game with an injured thigh muscle. Kubiak drove Denver from its 21 to the Buffalo 23, but the Broncos failed to convert a fourth-down attempt. The Bills then drove 50 yards in nine plays to score on a 44-yard field goal by Scott Norwood. Now down 10-0, Kubiak engineered a frantic drive in which Denver covered 85 yards in eight plays, and Kubiak scored a 3-yard quarterback draw to pull Denver within 3 points, 10-7.

The ensuing onside kick was recovered by the Broncos' Steve Atwater, and Denver began its last-chance drive on its 49 with 1:43 left on the clock and two time-outs. On first down, Kubiak hit Sewell for seven yards, but cornerback Kirby Jackson stripped the ball away and he recovered on the Buffalo 44. The Broncos' defense forced the Bills to punt, but Denver could only reach the 50 as time ran out.

1991 AFC Divisional Playoff Game

The Denver Broncos advanced to their fourth AFC Championship Game in six years after defeating Houston 26-24 before 75,301 fans at Mile High Stadium.

Houston quarterback Warren Moon drove his team 70 yards in four plays for a touchdown to put Houston up 7-0 with only 1:46 gone in the game. After a Denver punt, Moon again drove the Oilers down the field and threw his second touchdown pass, this one for nine yards to wide receiver Drew Hill.

The Broncos started their next possession on the 35 and covered 65 yards in eight plays to score on a 10-yard pass from quarterback John Elway to wide receiver Vance Johnson, but a fumbled snap on the conversion attempt left the score 14-6. On the sixth play of the ensuing Oilers' drive, Moon was intercepted by free safety Steve Atwater, but a roughing the passer call nullified the effort. Three plays later, Houston scored on a 6-yard pass from Moon to wide receiver Curtis Duncan.

The next Oilers possession ended when Atwater intercepted a pass and gave Denver the ball on its own 12 with 6:03 left in the half. In a drive that saw Elway complete all six passes for 64 yards and Steve Sewell complete one to Johnson for 10, the Broncos covered 88 yards in 12 plays to score on a 1-yard run by running back Greg Lewis, cutting the Houston lead to 21-13. After a missed Houston field goal attempt, the Broncos drove from their 20 to Houston's 31 and David Treadwell nailed a 49-yard field goal, the longest in Denver postseason history. Now up by only five at 21-16, the Oilers reached the Broncos' seven on their next drive, but had to settle for a 25-yard field goal.

Denver started on its 20 and nine plays later faced a fourth-and-4 from the Houston 41. Elway threw a short pass to wide receiver Michael Young, who broke two tackles and was finally brought down on Houston's 15 for a gain of 26 yards. Three plays later, Lewis scored on a 1-yard run for his second touchdown of the day, making the score 24-23. With 2:07 left and on their 2-yard-line, Elway hit Young for a 22-yard gain on first down, but three plays later, the Broncos had a fourth-and-six on the 28. Elway dropped back, then scrambled left upfield and ran out of bounds a yard past the first-down marker. Three consecutive incompletions again left Denver with a do-or-die fourth-down situation. Elway again dropped back and scrambled left, but as he headed upfield he tossed a pass to Johnson, who ran to the Houston 21 for a 44-yard gain. Running back Steve Sewell ran for 10 yards on first down, and two plays later, Treadwell came on for the winning 28-yard field goal.

Super Bowl XXIV

The San Francisco 49ers captured their fourth World Championship with a 55-10 victory over Denver in Super Bowl XXIV at the Louisiana Superdome in front of 72,919 fans. San Francisco quarterback Joe Montana completed 22-of-29 passes for 297 yards and five touchdowns—three to wide receiver Jerry Rice.

The 49ers scored two touchdowns in every quarter and outgained the Broncos 461 yards to 167. After stopping Denver on the game's initial possession, San Francisco drove 66 yards in 10 plays, scoring on a 20-yard pass from Montana to Rice. The Broncos' next possession covered 49 yards in 10 plays and resulted in a 42-yard field goal by David Treadwell.

After limiting the 49ers to four yards on their next drive, Denver took possession on its own 49, but on first down, running back Bobby Humphrey fumbled and defensive end Kevin Fagan recovered for San Francisco on its 46. That turnover led to a 7-yard touchdown pass from Montana to tight end Brent Jones, and after a failed extra point attempt, San Francisco led 13-3 with 3 seconds left in the first quarter.

The Broncos failed to cross midfield in the second period while the 49ers scored on a 1-yard run by running back Tom Rathman and a 38-yard pass from Montana to Rice.

San Francisco was unable to move the ball on the initial drive of the second half, but Elway was intercepted on the first play of Denver's next drive to give the 49ers possession on the Broncos' 28. On first down, Montana threw a touchdown pass to Rice to put his team up 34-3.

The next Denver drive also ended with an interception, leading to a 35-yard scoring pass from Montana to John Taylor.

The Broncos, spurred by a 34-yard run by Humphrey, moved 61 yards in five plays and a penalty to score on a 3-yard run by Elway. San Francisco roared back with an 11-play, 75-yard drive that ended with a 3-yard touchdown run by Rathman. Following another Broncos fumble, running back Roger Craig plowed one yard into the end zone to round out the scoring.

1989 AFC Championship Game

The Denver Broncos won their third American Football Conference Championship in four years with a dynamic 37-21 victory over Cleveland before 76,005 fans at Mile High Stadium.

Broncos quarterback John Elway threw for 385 yards and three touchdowns, running back Sammy Winder tied a Denver postseason record with two touchdowns and strong safety Dennis Smith nabbed two of the Broncos' three interceptions. Denver also totaled 497 yards of total offense.

The Broncos took the opening kickoff and drove to the Cleveland 1, but on third down, Elway's pitch to running back Bobby Humphrey was fumbled and the Browns' Andrew Stewart recovered on the 8. With 5 minutes left in the first quarter, Smith picked off a Bernie Kosar pass and returned it to the Cleveland 32. Denver moved to the Cleveland 12 but had to settle for a 29-yard field goal by David Treadwell.

Neither team mounted scoring drives until the Broncos took possession on their own 18 with 6:54 left in the half. On first down, Elway hit wide receiver Mark Jackson for 12 yards, and three plays later he connected with wide receiver Michael Young for a 70-yard touchdown play. The Browns took the opening kickoff of the second half and drove 70 yards in eight plays, scoring a 27-yard pass from Kosar to Brian Brennan. Denver roared right back on its next possession, going 80 yards in six plays and scoring on a 5-yard pass from Elway to tight end Orson Mobley. The key play on that drive was a 53-yard pass from Elway to Young. Cleveland was unable to move the ball and punted back to Denver. The Broncos moved from their own 40, and buoyed by a 25-yard run by Elway, covered 60 yards in six plays and scored on a 7-yard run by Winder, making the score 24-7.

The Browns needed just six plays to go 72 yards and score on a 10-yard Kosar-to-Brennan pass, and two plays into Denver's next drive, Cleveland's Felix Wright recovered a Denver fumble and returned it to the Broncos' 1. On second down, Tim Manoa barreled over from the 2, cutting Denver's lead to 24-21 with one second left in the third quarter. The Broncos shut out the Browns in the final quarter while posting 13 points. Their initial drive of the quarter covered 80 yards in 6 plays and ended with a 39-yard touchdown pass from Elway to Winder. Denver's Kip Corrington intercepted Kosar to set the Broncos up on the Cleveland 39. Denver got as far as the Browns' 17 but had to settle for a 34-yard Treadwell field goal. Smith grabbed his second interception to end the Browns' next drive, leading to a 31-yard field goal.

1989 AFC Divisional Playoff Game

The Denver Broncos advanced to their third AFC Championship Game in four years with a come-from-behind 24-23 victory over the Steelers before 75,868 fans at Mile High Stadium. Although Pittsburgh held the upper hand in total yards (404 to 364) and time of possession (34:14 to 25:46), Denver was able to mount a late fourth quarter drive and score the winning touchdown with just 2:27 remaining.

The Steelers took the opening kickoff and drove 65 yards in 13 plays, scoring on a 32-yard Gary Anderson field goal. Late in the opening quarter, Pittsburgh took possession at its own 7-yard line, but after a 45-yard run by Merril Hoge and a 33-yard Bubby Brister to Tim Worley pass play, Pittsburgh was knocking on the door and scored three plays later on a 7-yard run by Hoge to put Pittsburgh up 10-0.

The Broncos took their first possession of the second quarter and drove 75 yards in 12 plays to score on a 1-yard plunge by running back Mel Bratton on third-and-goal. The Steelers roared back, traveling 77 yards in 12 plays to score on a 9-yard pass from Brister to wide receiver Louis Lipps. The Broncos got the ball back on their own 33 with 20 seconds left in the half. Two Elway passes put Denver at the Pittsburgh 26 with 2 seconds left, setting up David Treadwell's 43-yard field goal that pulled Denver within 17-10 at the half.

Early in the third quarter, Denver nose tackle Greg Kragen forced a Tim Worley fumble and cornerback Tyrone Braxton recovered for the Broncos on the Steelers' 37. On first down, Elway hit wide receiver Vance Johnson for a touchdown to tie the score at 17. Pittsburgh's next two possessions ended in Anderson field goals, and the Steelers held a 23-17 lead in the early stages of the fourth quarter.

After an exchange of punts, the Broncos took possession on their own 29 with 7:06 left in the game. Elway hit Jackson for 18 yards and then handed off to running back Bobby Humphrey, who pitched the ball back to Elway, and he threw a 36-yard strike to Johnson, giving Denver a first down on the Steelers' 26. Humphrey ran on the next four plays, gaining 24 yards and taking the ball to the 2. On third-and-goal from the 1, Bratton scored again and Treadwell's extra point gave Denver its first lead of the game with 2:27 left.

Pittsburgh got the ball on its own 20, but on third down Brister's signals were drowned out by the crowd and he mishandled the snap. Randy Robbins recovered for Denver on the Pittsburgh 18, and the Broncos were able to run out the clock.

Super Bowl XXII

The Washington Redskins scored 35 points in the second quarter to power their way to a 42-10 victory over the Broncos in Super Bowl XXII at Jack Murphy Stadium in San Diego in front of 73,302 fans.

Super Bowl MVP Doug Williams of Washington completed 18-of-29 passes for 340 yards with four touchdowns while running back Timmy Smith gained 204 yards on 22 carries, scoring twice, and wide receiver Ricky Sanders caught nine passes for 193 yards (21.4 avg.) with two touchdowns.

The Broncos took the early lead on their first play from scrimmage, a 56-yard bomb from John Elway to Ricky Nattiel, coming with 1:57 gone in the game. Denver's next possession stalled at the Redskins' 7-yard line, but Rich Karlis put the Broncos up 10-0 with a 24-yard field goal.

In the second quarter, however, Denver's dreams of a World Championship were blown apart by the Redskins. On Washington's first play of the quarter, Williams and Sanders combined for an 80-yard touchdown to bring the score to 10-7. The Redskins took the lead for good on the fifth play of their next possession when Williams hit Gary Clark for 27 yards and a score.

Denver got as far as the Washington 26 on its next drive, but Karlis' 43-yards field goal attempt sailed wide left. Two plays later, Smith scored on a 58-yard run to increase the Washington lead to 21-10. The Redskins' next possession ended with a 50-yard Williams-to-Sanders touchdown pass, and minutes later, Williams and Clint Didier combined for an 8-yard touchdown pass to give the Redskins a 35-10 lead at halftime.

The Broncos could move only as far as the Redskins' 48-yard line in the second half, and Washington closed out the scoring late in the game on a 4-yard run by Smith.

The Redskins finished with 602 total yards, including the 340 passing from Williams. Their defense limited Denver to just 327 total while holding Elway to just 14-of-38 passing for 257 yards, and intercepted him three times. The Broncos were only able to muster 97 yards rushing in the game, but surrendered 280 to Washington while being held to 2-of-12 (16.7%) on third down.

Denver's Jeremiah Castille recovered a Cleveland fumble on the Broncos' 3-yard line with just over a minute left in the game, preserving a 38-33 victory for Denver in the AFC Championship Game in front of 75,993 fans at Mile High Stadium.

An interception by defensive end Freddie Gilbert set up the Broncos' first score of the afternoon. Quarterback John Elway found wide receiver Ricky Nattiel for an 8-yard touchdown at 3:38 of the first quarter that put Denver ahead 7-0.

After Gene Lang took off on a 42-yard run, which set a franchise record for longest postseason rush, Denver faced third-and-goal from the Cleveland 3 late in the first quarter. Elway threw incomplete into the end zone, but the Browns were penalized for holding, giving the Broncos new life at the 1-yard line. Running back Steve Sewell scored on first down to give Denver a 14-0 lead at 11:06 of the first quarter.

The Browns scored their first points of the game on a 24-yard Matt Bahr field goal at 1:41 of the second quarter. Denver answered at 6:59 of the quarter with a 1-yard Gene Lang touchdown run that upped its lead to 21-3.

After Elway was intercepted by Felix Wright four plays into the second half, Cleveland needed just three plays to go 35 yards and score on an 18-yard pass from Bernie Kosar to Reggie Langhorne. The Broncos answered when Elway scrambled right and threw to Mark Jackson, who caught the ball at the Broncos' 25, evaded two tacklers and sprinted for an 80-yard touchdown giving the Broncos a 28-10 lead at 5:03 of the third quarter. Cleveland pulled within 28-17 when Kosar found Earnest Byner for a 32-yard touchdown at 8:10 of the quarter.

Cleveland narrowed the Broncos' lead to 28-24 on a Byner 4-yard run at 11:15 of the third quarter. Just before the end of the third period, Rich Karlis capped off a Denver possession with a 38-yard field goal.

The Browns tied the score at 31 on a 4-yard pass from Kosar to wide receiver Webster Slaughter at 4:12 of the final period. After an exchange of punts, Denver began a drive at its 25 with 5:14 left in the game. A pair of 26-yard pass plays to Nattiel put Denver at the Cleveland 20 and set up a 20-yard Elway-to-Sammy Winder pass for a touchdown that put the Broncos up 38-31 with just more than 4 minutes left. Kosar and the Browns advanced to the Denver 8-yard line with 1:12 remaining when Byner ran to the 3 and had the ball stripped by Castille, who recovered the ball. Denver was charged with a late safety before time ran out on the Browns.

1987 AFC Divisional Playoff Game

The Denver Broncos advanced to the AFC Championship game after beating the Oilers 34-10 in front of 75,968 fans at Mile High Stadium. Denver's 24-point win was the largest margin of victory ever for the club in postseason play.

The Broncos were led on defense by Mark Haynes and Karl Mecklenburg, who both picked up key interceptions. Offensively, the club was led by quarterback John Elway (14 of 25, 259 yards, two touchdowns) and receivers Vance Johnson (4 catches for 105 yards) and Clarence Kay (3 catches for 57 yards with two touchdowns).

Punter Mike Horan put the Oilers in a hole after the Broncos' first drive stalled, sending a punt to the Houston 5-yard line, where two plays later, a lateral pass from Warren Moon to Mike Rozier was fumbled, and Steve Wilson recovered for Denver on the 1. Gene Lang scored two plays later to give the Broncos an early 7-0 lead.

Houston's next drive reached the Broncos' 20-yard line before Mecklenburg intercepted a pass and returned it to the Denver 28. Elway hit Kay for 29 yards to move into Houston territory, and five plays later the same connection was made for a 27-yard touchdown pass, giving the Broncos a 14-0 lead.

Both teams added field goals on their first drive of the second quarter to make the score 17-3 in Denver's favor.

After the Houston field goal, Elway threw a 55-yard bomb to Johnson, moving the ball to the Oilers' 11. Five plays later, Elway hit Kay again for a touchdown on a 1-yard pass to up the lead to 24-3 with less than 2 minutes left in the half.

Denver's first possession of the second half resulted in a Rich Karlis field goal. Houston then took 10 plays to reach the Denver 7, but Mark Haynes picked off a Moon pass in the end zone and returned it 57 yards to set a Broncos playoff record.

Houston's next drive reached the Broncos' 11, but a pass on fourth down fell incomplete. The Oilers got the ball back three plays later when Patrick Allen intercepted an Elway pass, and that led to a 19-yard touchdown pass from Moon to Ernest Givins, cutting Denver's lead to 27-10.

The Broncos' Kevin Clark recovered the onside kick that followed, and Denver moved 52 yards in seven plays to score the final points of the game on a 3-yard run by Elway.

Super Bowl XXI

The New York Giants broke open a close game with 24 unanswered points to begin the second half, capturing a 39-20 win over the Broncos in Super Bowl XXI at the Rose Bowl.

The Broncos drove to the Giants' 31-yard line on their opening drive and took a 3-0 lead when Rich Karlis booted a Super Bowl record-tying 48-yard field goal. New York answered with a 78-yard scoring drive that culminated with a 6-yard touchdown pass from Phil Simms to Zeke Mowatt.

Midway through the first quarter, Elway scored the team's first touchdown from four yards out on a quarterback draw to give Denver a 10-7 lead. The Giants' next drive stalled, and the Broncos got the ball back at the 14-minute mark of the second quarter. On the third play of the drive, on third-and-18, Elway unleashed a 54-yard bomb to Vance Johnson, giving the Broncos a first down on the Giants' 28. Seven plays later, Denver had a first-and-goal at the New York 1 but failed to score in three plays and Karlis was wide right on a 23-yard field goal attempt.

Denver's defense stifled the next Giants drive at the New York 47, and after a punt, the Broncos got the ball back on their own 15. Controversy entered the game when, on second-and-12, Elway threw an apparent completion for a first down to Clarence Kay. The pass was ruled incomplete, a call that was upheld after review of the television replay. On the next play, Giants defensive end George Martin sacked Elway in the end zone for a safety to pull New York within a point of Denver at 10-9. The Denver defense held again, giving it the ball at its own 37. The Broncos drove down to New York's 16-yard-line, but Karlis was wide right on a 34-yard field goal attempt with 13 seconds left in the half.

New York scored on all three third-quarter drives and outgained Denver in the period 163 yards to 2. With the score at 26-10, the Giants mounted a scoring drive on their first possession of the fourth quarter, and they went ahead 33-10 after Phil McConkey caught a deflected pass in the end zone for Simms' third touchdown strike of the day. Denver got the ball back at its own 16 and Elway moved the squad to the New York 10 as Karlis kicked a 28-yard field goal to make the score 33-13. The Giants took only five plays to move 46 yards for their next touchdown, a 2-yard run by Ottis Anderson that made the score 39-13. Elway took Denver down the field again and hit Vance Johnson with a 47-yard touchdown pass for the game's final points at 12:54.

1986 AFC Championship Game

In a game which will forever be remembered as "The Drive," Rich Karlis kicked a 33-yard field goal 5:48 into overtime to give the Broncos a 23-20 victory in the 1986 AFC Championship Game. The game was played at Cleveland Stadium before a crowd of 79,915 fans, who braved a wind-chill of -5 degrees.

Cleveland took a 7-0 led when Bernie Kosar threw a 6-yard touchdown pass to Herman Fontenot in the first quarter. The Broncos stopped the next two Cleveland drives with interceptions, including the second by Jim Ryan, whose return set up a 19-yard field goal by Karlis to make the score 7-3. Ken Woodard recovered a fumble on Cleveland's next drive, putting the club in position for Gerald Willhite's fourth-down 1-yard touchdown run at 4:24 of the second quarter that gave Denver a 10-7 lead.

Browns kicker Mark Moseley tied the score at 10 with a 29-yard field goal with 20 seconds left in the first half. Denver scored on a 26-yard Rich Karlis field goal 12 minutes into the third quarter, but the Browns responded as Mack rushed for 34 yards in a 10-play, 76-yard drive that culminated with a 24-yard Moseley field goal that tied the score at 13. After two Denver punts, Kosar's 48-yard touchdown strike to Brian Brennan put Cleveland ahead 20-13 with 5:43 left in the game.

The kickoff rolled to the Denver 2-yard line, where the Broncos and Elway began "The Drive." On the fifth play (2nd-and-7 from the Broncos' 15), Elway rushed for 11 yards and a first down. He then hit Steve Sewell for a 22-yard gain, followed by a 12-yard strike to Steve Watson to give Denver a first down on the Cleveland 40. After an incompletion and an 8-yard sack, Elway threw a 20-yard pass to Mark Jackson, moving the team to the Cleveland 28. An Elway-to-Sewell pass gave the Broncos a first down on the Browns' 14 with 57 seconds left. After an incompletion, Elway ran nine yards to the Cleveland 5-yard line. On the next play, he hit Jackson for a touchdown, and Karlis' extra point tied the score at 20 with 37 seconds left.

The Browns won the coin toss in overtime and elected to receive, but Denver's defense stopped them. Cleveland punted and Willhite returned it to the Broncos' 25, where the Denver offense went to work. On second-and-5, Elway hit Orson Mobley for a 22-yard gain and three plays later threw a 28-yard pass to Watson. With a first down on Cleveland's 22-yard line, the Broncos rushed three times to get to the 15, and on fourth down, Karlis hit the 33-yard game-winning field goal.

1986 AFC Divisional Playoff Game

Rulon Jones sacked Tony Eason in the end zone for a safety with 1:37 left on the clock to put Denver up 22-17 and halt the Patriots' final comeback drive in an AFC Divisional Playoff Game played in front of 76,105 fans at Mile High Stadium. The playoff victory was the first for the Broncos since the 1977 season.

The two teams traded punts for the first 9 minutes of the game before Denver posed the initial scoring threat. Starting at their own 20, the Broncos took four plays to reach the New England 7 behind John Elway completions of 39 and 21 yards. On second-and-goal from the 4, Elway rolled around the left side and was hit just short of the goal line. He was penalized (delay of game) for spiking the ball after the play, and that sent Denver back to the 6. Two plays later, Rich Karlis nailed a 27-yard field goal to give Denver a 3-0 lead.

New England mounted a 7-play, 87-yard drive later in the quarter with Eason hitting Stanley Morgan for a 19-yard touchdown. The Broncos roared right back with a 13-play, 82-yard drive that was punctuated by a 22-yard touchdown run by Elway, giving Denver a 10-7 lead midway through the second quarter. The Patriots tied the score on the last play of the half with a 38-yard Tony Franklin field goal.

Denver received the kickoff to open the second half and proceeded to chew up more than 9 minutes off the clock. The Broncos ran the ball 11 times on the drive, which stalled on the Patriots' 5. Karlis' 22-yard field goal put Denver up 13-10.

Five plays into the next New England drive, the Patriots took a page out of Dan Reeves' bag of tricks, scoring on a flea-flicker that ended with a 45-yard touchdown pass from Eason to Morgan to give New England its first lead of the game at 17-13. Denver jumped right back on top, traveling 86 yards in six plays to score on a 48-yard Elway-to-Vance Johnson pass on the last play of the third quarter.

The two teams both punted three times in the fourth quarter, and the last one, a Mike Horan punt of 54 yards, backed New England to its own 10. On first down, Eason dropped back to pass but was sacked for a safety by Jones. Denver recovered the onside free kick and held on to the ball and the win.

Elway finished the game 13-of-32 passing for 257 yards and a touchdown, and Sammy Winder rushed for 102 yards on 19 carries. Johnson led the Broncos with 89 yards receiving.

The Broncos, after posting the best regular-season finish in franchise history (13-3), lost in an AFC Divisional Playoff Game to the Pittsburgh Steelers 24-17 in front of 74,981 fans at Mile High Stadium.

Denver had two possessions in the final two minutes of the game but failed to score as Pittsburgh advanced to the AFC Championship Game and ended the Broncos' season.

Denver's opportunistic defense recovered two Steelers fumbles in the first quarter. The first one resulted in a 39-yard Rich Karlis field-goal attempt that was no good. Pittsburgh lost a fumble on the next play, setting up a 9-yard touchdown pass from John Elway to halfback Jim Wright.

Pittsburgh scored on a 28-yard field goal on the first play of the second period, and just before intermission, the Steelers took the lead on Frank Pollard's 1-yard touchdown plunge.

Denver tied the game early in the third quarter on a 21-yard Karlis field goal and regained the lead on its next possession, scoring on a 20-yard pass from Elway to Steve Watson.

The Steelers then mounted a scoring drive of their own, tying the game at 17 on a 10-yard Mark Malone to Louis Lipps pass late in the quarter.

Later, Pittsburgh's Eric Williams intercepted an Elway pass and returned it to the Denver 2-yard line with only 2:45 left in the game. Pollard scored two plays later to give the Steelers the lead at 24-17. Denver couldn't move the ball on its final two possessions as time expired.

Elway did not have the best of luck in the game, completing 19-of-37 passes for 184 yards. While throwing for two touchdowns, he was intercepted twice in the game. Watson led all receivers with 177 yards on 11 catches with one touchdown and a long reception of 52 yards, but it wasn't enough for the Broncos to move past the Steelers.

Pittsburgh's defense limited the Broncos to just 51 yards rushing on 22 carries (2.3 avg.) and held Denver to just four of 13 (31%) on third down.

The Steelers' offense racked up 381 yards of total offense, and Malone completed 17-of-28 passes for 224 yards and a touchdown. Pollard led all rushers with 99 yards on 16 carries and scored a pair of touchdowns, while Walter Abercrombie added 75 yards rushing on 17 carries.

1983 AFC Wild Card Playoff Game

Seattle broke open a close contest with two second-half Dave Krieg touchdown passes as the Seahawks beat Denver 31-7 in an AFC Wild Card Playoff Game in front of 60,752 fans at the Kingdome.

It didn't take the Seahawks long to get on the scoreboard as they traveled 62 yards in eight plays on their first offensive possession for a touchdown. Quarterback Dave Krieg hit Steve Largent on a 17-yard pass for a 7-0 lead with less than five minutes gone in the first quarter.

Later that quarter, Denver came back to tie the score after it mounted a 9-play, 76-yard touchdown drive. The score came on a 13-yard pass from Steve DeBerg to Jesse Myles.

Denver looked poised to take the lead in the game, but Seattle cornerback Kerry Justin intercepted a DeBerg pass on the Broncos' next drive to end the threat. Seattle drove to Denver's 20-yard line and Norm Johnson converted a 37-yard field goal.

On its next possession, Denver drove to the Seattle 4-yard line, but a fumble by running back Gerald Willhite was recovered by Seattle safety Paul Moyer, and the Seahawks were able to run out the clock and hold onto their 10-7 lead.

The second half belonged to the Seahawks as Krieg passed for two more touchdowns and fullback David Hughes ran for another, making the final score 31-7.

In the third quarter, Seattle travelled 73 yards on five plays and scored on Krieg's second touchdown pass of the game that went to tight end Pete Metzelaars.

Krieg threw his third touchdown pass of the game early in the fourth quarter to give Seattle a 24-7 lead. He hit wide receiver Paul Johns on an 18-yard touchdown strike, which capped a nine-play, 61-yard drive.

The Seahawks' final points came late in the fourth quarter with Hughes scoring on a 2-yard run.

Despite racking up 360 total yards of offense in the game, Denver could not keep up with Seattle on the scoreboard. Three turnovers, including interceptions by DeBerg and John Elway, and a fumble by Willhite proved to be the difference in the game. DeBerg ended the game with 131 yards passing on 14-of-19 passing, and Elway added 123 yards passing on 10-of-15 passing in his first career postseason game.

Krieg finished the game 12-of-13 passing for 200 yards with three touchdowns and posted a perfect 158.3 passer rating.

1979 AFC Wild Card Playoff Game

Toni Fritsch kicked two field goals to provide the margin of victory as the Houston Oilers played strong second-half defense and defeated the Broncos 13-7 in an AFC Wild Card Playoff Game at the Astrodome in front of 48,776 fans.

Fritsch opened the scoring with a 31-yard first-quarter field goal, which capped an 11-play, 64-yard drive.

Denver came back to take a 7-3 lead later in the first quarter on a 7-yard pass from Craig Morton to running back Dave Preston on an 80-yard drive that took the Broncos 11 plays.

Houston went ahead to stay on a 3-yard burst by Earl Campbell at 14:14 of the second period. The drive amassed 74 yards on nine plays, but Campbell was injured on the scoring play and did not return to action in the second half. Houston took the 10-7 lead into halftime.

Denver linebacker Bob Swenson intercepted a Gifford Nielsen pass at the Oilers' 26-yard line midway through the fourth period but two sacks of Morton led to a 50-yard field goal attempt by Fred Steinfort, but the kick hit the upright.

On the ensuing possession, the Oilers drove for a second field goal by Fritsch, this one of 20 yards, providing the final victory margin.

Denver drove to the Houston 27 at the 2-minute mark, but the Oilers' defense again rose to the occasion to stifle the threat and secure the win.

Oilers quarterback Dan Pastorini and wide receiver Ken Burrough left the contest due to injuries, both early in the second half, putting a severe crimp in the Houston attack. But the Broncos were able to move the ball for only 216 yards, and the tenacious Houston defense sacked Morton six times for 40 yards on the afternoon.

Morton finished the game with only 144 yards passing on 14-of-27 attempts with one touchdown and one interception. On the ground, Houston's defense limited the Broncos to just 51 yards by Otis Armstrong and 29 by Larry Canada. Denver also was limited to just 4-of-13 (31%) on third down and was forced to punt six times in the contest.

Pastorini threw for 147 yards on 8-of-18 passing with an interception. Campbell rushed for 50 yards on 16 carries and Carpenter added 59 yards rushing on 16 carries.

1978 AFC Divisional Playoff Game

Two fourth-quarter touchdown passes by Pittsburgh quarterback Terry Bradshaw lifted the Steelers to a 33-10 victory over the Denver Broncos in an AFC Divisional Playoff Game played in front of 48,921 fans at Three Rivers Stadium.

Bradshaw's scoring tosses included a 45-yard bomb to John Stallworth and a 38-yarder to Lynn Swann, capping a brilliant performance by the Pittsburgh passer.

The Broncos took an early 3-0 lead on a 37-yard Jim Turner field goal, but the Steelers were able to come right back and take control of the game.

Pittsburgh running back Franco Harris scored his first touchdown of the game on a 1-yard plunge, which capped a 66-yard, 8-play drive. After the point after try was missed, the Steelers held a 6-3 lead at the 12:27 mark of the first quarter.

The Steelers upped the margin on Harris' second touchdown of the game, early in the second quarter. He scored on an 18-yard run to give Pittsburgh a 13-3 advantage.

Denver was able to cut into the deficit on a 3-yard Dave Preston touchdown run. But later in the first half, Roy Gerela kicked another field goal to make the halftime margin 19-10.

Denver threatened to pull closer in the third quarter, but Turner's 29-yard field goal attempt was blocked, and Bradshaw's passing sealed Denver's fate early in the final stanza.

Bradshaw hit John Stallworth for a 45-yard touchdown pass to cap a 71-yard, 4-play drive. He later connected with Swann from 38 yards out to give the Steelers the 33-10 win.

Pittsburgh recorded 425 yards of total offense with Bradshaw accounting for 272 through the air. He completed 16-of-29 passes (55.2%) to go along with the two touchdowns. Stallworth led all receivers with 156 yards on 10 receptions, and Swann finished with 52 yards on two catches.

The eventual World Champion Steelers limited the Broncos' ground game to just 87 yards and held the offense to just 218 yards. Broncos quarterback Norris Weese finished the game with 118 yards passing on 8-of-16 attempts and was sacked five times. He also was the team's leading rusher, accounting for 43 yards on four carries, while Dave Preston was held to 14 yards on four rushes.

Dallas 27, Denver 10

Super Bowl XII

The Dallas Cowboys evened their Super Bowl record at 2-2 by defeating the Denver Broncos 27-10 in Super Bowl XII before a sellout crowd of 76,400 fans at the Louisiana Superdome and 90 million television viewers, the largest audience ever to watch a sporting event at the time.

Dallas converted two pass interceptions by safety Randy Hughes and cornerback Aaron Kyle into 10 points in the first quarter. Efren Herrera added a 43-yard field goal in the second quarter to give the Cowboys a 13-0 halftime advantage.

The Denver offense struggled in the first half. The Broncos lost three fumbles and had two interceptions on their last five possessions of the first half.

The Broncos came back momentarily at the outset of the third period. Craig Morton engineered a drive to the Cowboys' 30-yard line, where Jim Turner booted a 47-yard field goal to make the score 13-3. After an exchange of punts, Dallas wide receiver Butch Johnson made a spectacular diving catch in the end zone to complete a 45-yard pass from Roger Staubach to put the Cowboys ahead 20-3 at 8:01 of the third quarter.

However, the momentum swung back to the Broncos as Rick Upchurch returned the kickoff 67 yards to the Dallas 26. On the second play of the series, Norris Weese relieved Craig Morton at quarterback. Morton, who was intercepted only eight times during the regular season, had thrown a Super Bowl record four interceptions. Weese guided the Broncos to a touchdown—a 1-yard run by Ron Lytle—to cut the Dallas lead to 20-10 with 5:39 left in the third.

But Dallas clinched the victory when running back Robert Newhouse threw a 29-yard touchdown pass to Golden Richards on an option play with 7:56 remaining in the game. It was the first pass thrown by Newhouse since the 1975 regular season. The Cowboys' offense amassed 325 yards while the defense limited the Broncos to 156 in a game that saw the Cowboys control the ball 38:34 to Denver's 21:26.

Roger Staubach completed 17-of-25 passes (68.0%) for 183 yards while Harvey Martin and Randy White—who were named co-MVPs—led a Cowboys defense that recovered four fumbles and intercepted four passes.

1977 AFC Championship Game

Denver Broncos quarterback Craig Morton threw two touchdown passes to Haven Moses as the Broncos defeated the defending NFL Champion Oakland Raiders 20-17 in the AFC Championship Game in front of 74,982 fans at Mile High Stadium.

Morton completed 10-of-20 passes (50.0%) for 224 yards with two touchdowns and one interception, steering the Broncos to their first-ever Super Bowl berth. The win was the Broncos' second against the Raiders in three meetings with the team during the 1977 season.

The Raiders scored on their initial possession as Errol Mann kicked a 20-yard field goal to end an 18-play, 54-yard drive at 10:34 of the first quarter. Morton hit wide receiver Haven Moses for their first touchdown two plays later on a 74-yard scoring pass, giving Denver a 7-3 advantage. Despite several Raiders comeback attempts, Denver would not surrender the lead for the remainder of the contest.

Denver took advantage of two costly Oakland turnovers to increase its lead in the second half. Defensive end Brison Manor recovered running back Clarence Davis' fumble at the Oakland 17, and running back Jon Keyworth scored from the 1-yard line to increase the Broncos' lead to 14-3 at 6:23 of the third quarter.

Oakland quarterback Ken Stabler hit tight end Dave Casper on the first of two scoring passes to narrow the lead to 14-10 with 39 seconds elapsed in the final period. On Oakland's next possession, linebacker Bob Swenson intercepted a Stabler pass and ran to the Raiders' 14. Morton then threw 12 yards to Moses for the Broncos' final touchdown at 7:17 of the period.

Oakland finished the scoring on the next series as Stabler threw 17 yards to Casper for the game's last touchdown.

Denver controlled the ball for the final 3:08 and gave Red Miller the AFC title in his first year as head coach.

Moses, a 10-year veteran, led all receivers with 168 yards on five catches (33.6 avg.) with two touchdowns. On the ground, Denver used a balanced attack to gain 91 yards with Lonnie Perrin leading the way with 42.

The Denver defense, which was No. 1 against the rush in the NFL during the regular season, held the Raiders to 94 yards on the ground and limited Oakland to just 204 passing yards while picking up one interception and one sack.

1977 AFC Divisional Playoff Game

After ties at 7, 14 and 21, veteran Jim Turner kicked a 44-yard field goal in the fourth quarter to put Denver ahead to stay as the Broncos beat the Pittsburgh Steelers 34-21 in an AFC Divisional Playoff Game in front of 75,011 fans at Mile High Stadium.

Denver, in its first-ever playoff game, jumped out to a 7-0 lead after running back Rob Lytle broke through the Steelers' defense to score on a 7-yard run midway through the first quarter. The score came four plays after a Steelers punt was blocked by John Schultz and recovered at Pittsburgh's 17-yard line.

Pittsburgh pulled even in the second quarter when quarterback Terry Bradshaw scampered in from 1-yard out. Later in the period, linebacker Tom Jackson recovered a fumble at Pittsburgh's 10-yard line that set up a 10-yard touchdown run by Otis Armstrong on the next play to give Denver a 14-7 lead. The teams went into the locker room tied at 14 after Franco Harris scored on a 1-yard touchdown run late in the half.

The Broncos once again regained the lead (21-14) after Riley Odoms hauled in a 30-yard pass from Craig Morton for a touchdown. Pittsburgh answered early in the fourth quarter with a 1-yard touchdown pass from Bradshaw to Larry Brown.

Midway through the fourth quarter, Denver went on top to stay on the strength of a 44-yard field goal by Jim Turner. On their next drive, the Broncos opened a 6-point lead when Turner hit a 25-yard field goal with just less than six minutes left in the game. Denver then was able to put the game out of reach after Morton tossed his second touchdown of the game on a strike to Jack Dolbin from 34 yards out. The score was set up after Jackson intercepted his second pass of the game, giving the Broncos the ball on Pittsburgh's 33-yard line.

Morton finished the game 11-of-23 passing for 164 yards with two touchdowns as the Broncos racked up 258 yards of total offense against one of the NFL's top defenses. Odoms led the Broncos with five catches for 43 yards, and Moses chipped in 45 yards receiving on two catches.

Denver's "Orange Crush" defense kept the Steelers off balance all game, holding Bradshaw to just 177 yards passing on 19-of-37 attempts and intercepting him three times.

The Denver victory set up a third game between the AFC Western Champion Broncos and the AFC Wild Card Raiders in the AFC Championship game. The teams split the two regular-season games earlier in the 1977 season.

What is the Origin of the Name Denver Broncos?

The name "Denver Broncos" was chosen from 500 entries in a name-the-team contest in January 1960. The name was suggested by Ward M. Vining of Lakewood. But the football team isn't the first Denver Broncos. Denver's 1921 entry in the Midwest Baseball League was also called the Broncos.

RETIRED JERSEY NUMBERS

The Denver Broncos have retired three jersey numbers in their 46-year history: the No. 7 worn by quarterback John Elway (1983-98), the No. 18 worn by quarterback Frank Tripucka (1960-63) and the No. 44 worn by running back Floyd Little (1967-75). The most recent addition was Elway's, retired Sept. 13, 1999, in a ceremony at halftime of the Broncos' season-opening game vs. Miami.

John Elway

John Elway, who wore number 7 from 1983-98, led the Broncos to five Super Bowl appearances and two World Championships and retired ranked second in nearly every all-time NFL passing category. Inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 2004, he passed for 51,475 yards and 300 touchdowns in his 16-year career and retired as the all-time winningest starting quarterback in NFL history with a career mark of 148-82-1 (.643). Elway was named Most Valuable Player of Super Bowl XXXIII, leading Denver to its second consecutive World Championship with a 34-19 defeat of the Atlanta Falcons, becoming the only player in NFL history to close his career by earning Super Bowl MVP honors in his final game. His image was forged early in his career as he developed a reputation for leading the Broncos to victory against seemingly insurmountable odds. Elway directed the Broncos on an NFL-record 47 fourth-quarter or overtime, game-winning or game-saving drives in his legendary career. Elway was inducted into the Denver Broncos' Ring of Fame in 1999—the first inductee for whom the customary five-year waiting period was waived. The only other players to wear No. 7 in franchise history were quarterbacks Mickey Slaughter (1963-66) and Craig Morton (1977-82).

Frank Tripucka

Frank Tripucka, who wore number 18 from 1960-63, was Denver's first quarterback and helped lay the foundation for the club's future success. One of the original Broncos, Tripucka played in the American Football League all-star game in 1962 and passed for 7,676 yards in his Denver career. His best statistical season came in 1960 when he completed 248-of-478 passes (51.9%) for 3,038 yards and 24 touchdowns. Tripucka's career passing total still ranks fifth in franchise history, and his single-game record of 447 yards at Buffalo, Sept. 15, 1962, remained the franchise record until broken in 2000. He also ranks fifth in completions (662) and attempts (1,277), sixth in touchdown passes (51) and guided Denver to its first .500 season with a 7-7 mark in 1962. Tripucka was inducted into the Broncos' Ring of Fame in 1986. Tripucka is the only player in Broncos history to wear No. 18.

Floyd Little, who wore number 44 from 1967-75 with the Denver Broncos, as well as during his legendary college career at Syracuse, retired as the club's all-time career leader in rushing yards (6,323) and total touchdowns (54). He held both marks until 1998 when they were eclipsed by Terrell Davis. Little was All-AFL in 1969 and played in two AFL all-star games (1968, 1969) and three Pro Bowls (1970-71, '73). He is still ranked second in career rushing attempts (1,641) by a Bronco, and his 89-yard kickoff return in 1968 is the longest non-scoring kickoff return in club history. When Little retired, he ranked among the top 10 rushers in NFL history. Little joined the Broncos in 1967 as the club's No. 1 draft choice, becoming the first No. 1 pick to sign with the team in its eight-year history. During his career, Little helped the Broncos to their first winning seasons in 1973 and '74 with back-to-back 7-5-2 and 7-6-1 marks, and he retired in 1975 with Denver just two years away from its first Super Bowl appearance. He was inducted into the club's Ring of Fame as part of its inaugural class in 1984. The only other players to wear No. 44 in franchise history were defensive back Miller Farr in 1965 and halfback Bruce Starling in 1963.

BRONCOS IN THE PRO FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

JOHN ELWAY — QB — INDUCTED: 2004

Quarterback John Elway is the Broncos' first inductee into the Pro Football Hall of Fame to have spent his entire career with the club, playing a franchise-record 16 seasons (1983-1998). Elected on Jan. 31, 2004, and inducted on Aug. 8, 2004, as a "first-ballot" Hall of Famer, Elway is arguably the best quarterback to have played the game. Whether judged by wins (he is the NFL's career quarterback leader with 148), championships (he capped his career with back-to-back Super Bowl wins and started in an NFL quarterback-record five Super Bowl games), statistical achievement (he ranks No. 3 in NFL history in passing yards, attempts and completions) or his flair for the dramatic (he holds the NFL record with 47 fourth-quarter or overtime game-winning or game-tying drives) Elway's combined accomplishments are unparalleled in the history of pro football. He is the only player in NFL history to pass for 3,000 yards and rush for 200 yards in the same season seven consecutive times, and is only the second player in NFL history to record 40,000-plus passing yards and 3,000-plus yards rushing during his career.

Elway was selected to nine Pro Bowls, tied for most ever by a quarterback (Dan Marino and Warren Moon); was named first or second-team All-Pro three times and was voted first or second-team All-AFC five times. He was named the NFL's Most Valuable Player in 1987; was AFC Offensive Player of the Year in 1993; was voted the NFL's All-Decade Team of the 1990s and was chosen Most Valuable Player of Super Bowl XXXIII, his final NFL game. Elway is the only player in NFL history to win that honor in his final NFL game.

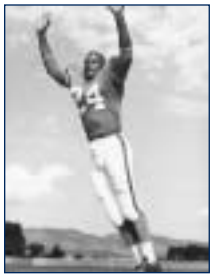
Reflective of the rare place he holds in the history of the National Football League and in the hearts of Broncos fans around the world, Elway's uniform number seven was retired by Broncos owner Pat Bowlen in 1999. At that time, he was also inducted into the Broncos' Ring of Fame as the only member of the now 20-member group for whom the customary five-year waiting period was waived.

TONY DORSETT — RB — INDUCTED: 1994

Running Back Tony Dorsett, though best known for his brilliant 11-year tenure with the Dallas Cowboys, was a Denver Bronco during the 1988 and 1989 seasons. He joined the Broncos in 1988 and went on to lead the club in rushing that season with 703 yards on 181 carries. He spent the 1989 season on injured reserve before his retirement and was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1994.

Dorsett finished his career ranked second on the all-time NFL rushing list with 12,739 yards and now ranks seventh on that list. He captured rookie of the year honors in 1977 with the Cowboys, en route to four Pro Bowl selections (1978, 1981-83). His highest rushing total came in 1981 when he ran for 1,646 yards, just one of eight 1,000-yard seasons during his brilliant career. Dorsett also caught 398 passes for 3,554 yards (8.9) and accounted for 91 total touchdowns (77 rushing, 13 receiving, 1 fumble recovery).

Dorsett was a college star at the University of Pittsburgh, where he won the Heisman Trophy in 1976 while leading the Panthers to the national title.



WILLIE BROWN — CB — INDUCTED: 1984

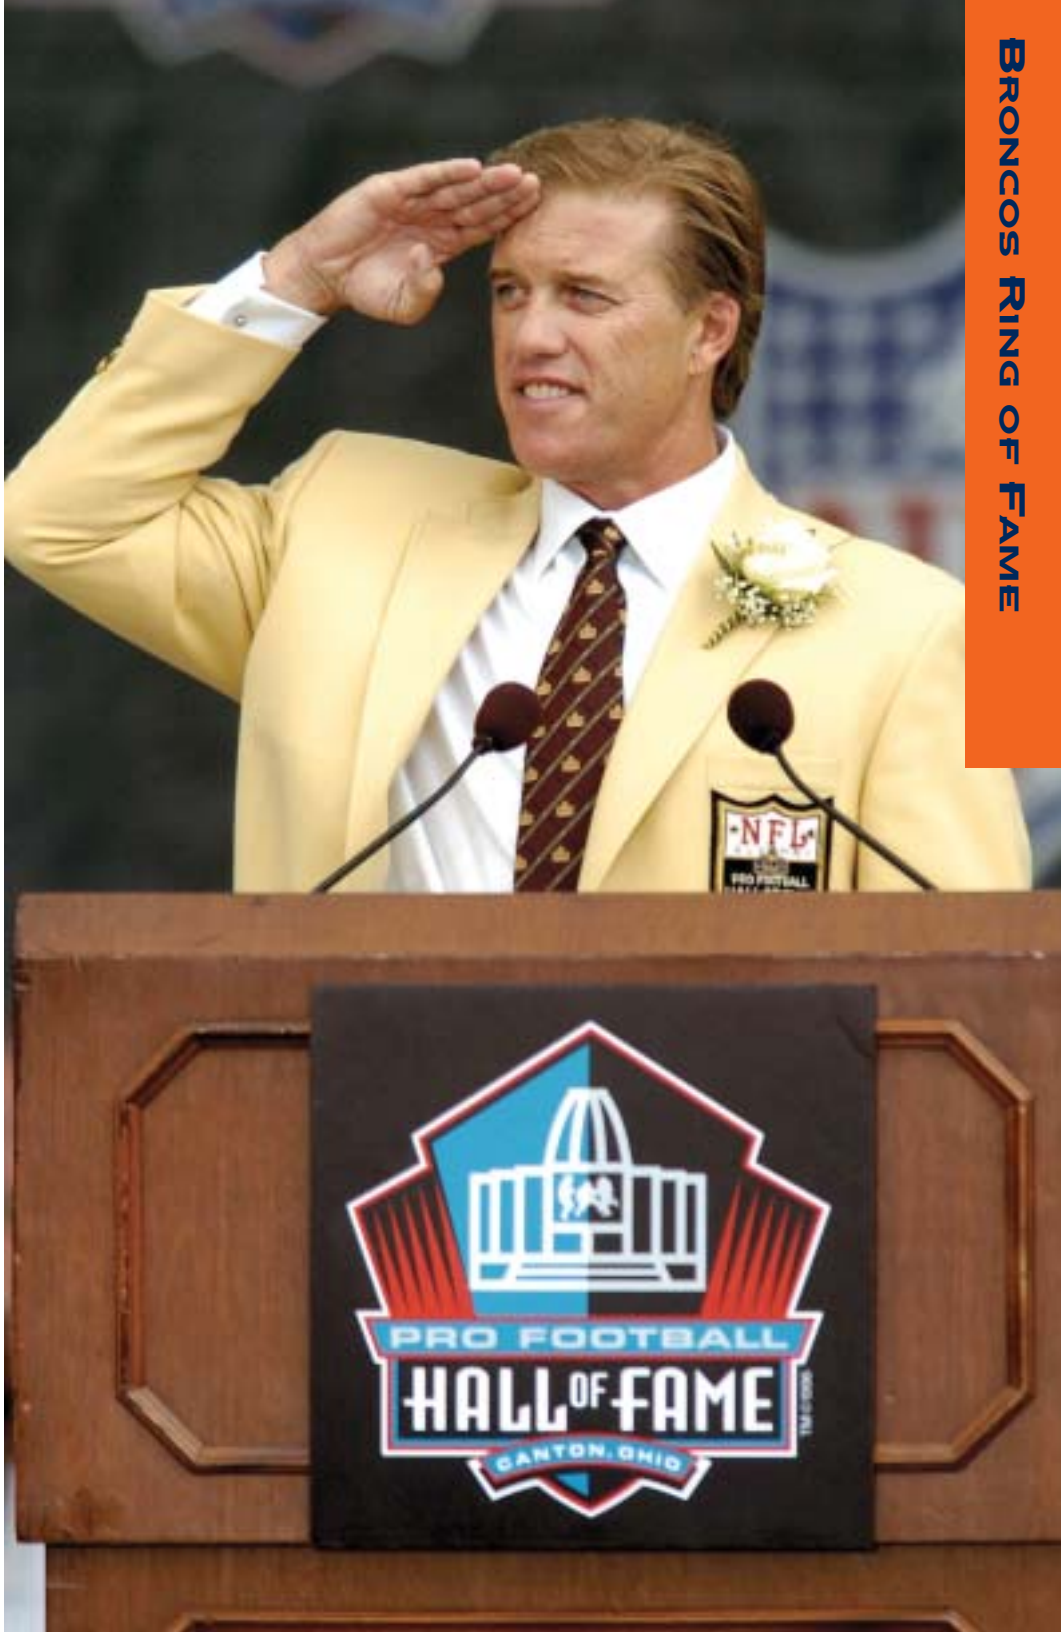
Cornerback Willie Brown, inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1984, played for the Broncos from 1963-66 and was named All-American Football League in 1964. He intercepted nine passes that season, including a team-record four in one game (vs. New York, 11/15/64), and was named the outstanding back in the AFL All-Star game in January, 1965.

The 6-foot-1, 195-pound Brown, who played his college ball at Grambling, joined the Broncos as a free agent in August 1963 and played four seasons with the club. In 50 games, he intercepted 15 passes and tallied 195 yards in returns, while also returning three punts for 29 yards (9.7) and three kickoffs for 70 yards (23.3).

Brown was traded to Oakland in 1967 and played 12 seasons with the Raiders (1967-78). He was an all-league performer every year from 1968-73 while making three AFL All-Star game (1967-69) and four Pro Bowl (1970-73) appearances. In 16 seasons, Brown played in 204 games, intercepting 54 passes and returning two for touchdowns.

Other Hall of Fame members with ties to the Denver Broncos:

- Stan Jones—Inducted 1991: Honored for his 12-year playing career, he coached Denver's defensive line for 18 years (1967-71, 76-88).
- Doak Walker—Inducted 1986: Honored for his six-year playing career, he coached Denver's wide receivers in 1966.
- Fred Gehrke—Hall of Fame Pioneer Award, 1972: Sixteen-year team employee and Broncos General Manager from 1977-80. As a Los Angeles Rams halfback in 1948, he painted golden rams' horns on his team's helmets and thus started the trend toward today's colorful, uniquely-decorated helmets worn by all NFL teams.



DENVER BRONCOS RING OF FAME PROFILES

The Denver Broncos Ring of Fame was created in 1984 by team owner Pat Bowlen to honor former players and administrators who played significant roles in the franchise's history.

The Denver Broncos Ring of Fame roster grew to 20 in 2005 when safety Steve Atwater (1989-98) joined the Ring's distinguished membership. Before Atwater's induction, the most recent additions came in 2003 when tackle Gary Zimmerman was inducted and in 2001 when linebacker Karl Mecklenburg (1983-94) and safety Dennis Smith (1981-94) were enshrined.

Quarterback John Elway (1983-98) was inducted into the Ring of Fame in 1999 in a ceremony held at halftime of the Broncos' season-opening Monday Night Football game vs. Miami on Sept. 13, 1999. As testament to the legend he established during his 16-year career, Elway is the only inductee for whom the customary five-year waiting period was waived.

Elway's induction was the first since 1993 when cornerback Louis Wright (1975-86) joined the Ring of Fame, a year after linebacker Tom Jackson (1973-86) entered the Ring in 1992.

Linebacker Randy Gradishar (1974-83) was the only 1989 inductee, following the 1988 inductions of quarterback Craig Morton (1977-82), wide receiver Haven Moses (1972-81) and kicker Jim Turner (1971-79).

Former defensive back Bill Thompson (1969-81) was honored in 1987, and three players joined the elite group in 1986: quarterbacks Frank Tripucka (1960-63) and Charley Johnson (1972-75), and defensive end Paul Smith (1968-78).

In 1985, former owner Gerald H. Phipps became the first non-player to have his name placed on the Ring.

The Ring of Fame was established in 1984 with an inaugural class of four members: running back Floyd Little (1967-75), defensive end Rich Jackson (1967-72), wide receiver Lionel Taylor (1960-66) and safety Austin "Goose" Gonsoulin (1960-66).

The Ring of Fame is displayed on the Level 5 facade of INVESCO Field at Mile High. The following are biographical sketches of each of the 20 Ring of Fame members, in alphabetical order. The profiles begin below with Elway's and continue with Atwater's on page 625.

JOHN ELWAY

YEAR INDUCTED: 1999

QUARTERBACK

CAREER—REGULAR SEASON: John Elway, whose No. 7 jersey was retired Sept. 13, 1999, in a ceremony at halftime of the Broncos' season opener vs. Miami, capped his brilliant career in 1998 by winning Most Valuable Player honors in Super Bowl XXXIII, leading the Denver Broncos to their second consecutive World Championship. Following his playing career, Elway was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame on Aug. 8, 2004, in a ceremony held at Fawcett Stadium in Canton, Ohio. He wrapped up his stellar career by posting the highest quarterback rating of his career (93.0) in his final campaign. At the close of the 1998 season, Elway ranked second among active NFL players for number of appearances with one team (234) and retired having played in and started more games (231) in more seasons (16) than any player in Denver Broncos history. Elway, the NFL's all-time winningest starting quarterback (148-82-1; .643), was voted to a franchise-record nine Pro Bowl appearances (1986 season, '87, '89, '91, '93, '94, '96, '97 and '98)—tied for the most ever by a quarterback (Marino, Moon)—and as a starter six times ('87, '89, '93, '96, '97 and '98). He was the NFL's Most Valuable Player in 1987 and AFC Player of the Year in 1993, and was named AFC Offensive Player of the Week 15 times and AFC Offensive Player of the Month twice. Elway was named the Edge NFL Man of the Year for 1992, and was inducted into the Colorado Sports Hall of Fame in 1999, while also being named to the NFL's All-Decade team for the 1990s (first team). He ranks third behind Dan Marino and Brett Favre in most major NFL career passing categories, including passing yards (51,475), attempts (7,250) and and total offense (54,882). His 4,123 completions also rank third in NFL annals. He also figures fourth in total touchdowns (behind Marino, Fran Tarkenton and Brett Favre) with 334 (300 passing/33 rushing/1 receiving), fourth in passing touchdowns with 300 and ranks second among NFL quarterbacks in career rushing attempts (774) while figuring fifth in rushing yards (3,407). Elway is the only player in NFL history to pass for more than 3,000 yards and rush for more than 200 yards in the same season for seven consecutive years (1985-91). He generated 4,771 of the 5,806 points (82.2%) scored by the Broncos during his 16-year tenure with the club. Elway ranks No. 1 in NFL history in fourth-quarter, game-winning or game-saving drives with 47 (46-0-1 record), and had 36 career 300-yard passing games in the regular season, third among active quarterbacks at the time of his retirement (Marino, Moon). He also caught three passes in regular season play for 61 yards, including a touchdown of 23 yards from Steve Sewell in 1986. In 1997 Elway broke his franchise record for consecutive passes without an interception, with the streak reaching 189 attempts. For his career, Elway had 19 games in which he completed 70 percent or more of his passes (min. 20 att.) and fashioned a 17-2 record in those games. He started 2,595 drives as a pro and was replaced just 10 times due to injury (.039%).

CAREER—POSTSEASON: Elway played in a franchise-record 22 postseason games (including five Super Bowls), with 21 starts, and produced a 14-7 record (9-2 at home, 3-2 on the road and 2-3 at neutral sites). He is the only quarterback ever to start in five Super Bowls, and has the NFL's all-time best record as a starting quarterback in Conference Championship Games, at 5-1. The other quarterbacks with four Super Bowl starts are Joe Montana, Terry Bradshaw, Roger Staubach and Jim Kelly. Elway owns or shares 18 Broncos' postseason records, including most passing yards, most touchdown passes and total offense (combined rushing and passing yards). He completed 355 of 651 passes (54.5%) for 4,964 yards, 27 touchdowns and 21 interceptions. He also rushed 94 times for 461 yards (4.9 avg.) and six touchdowns and caught one pass for 23 yards in postseason play. Elway ranks second in NFL postseason history in passing yardage (trailing only Montana-5,772), fourth in pass attempts (Montana-734, Marino-687, Favre-663), fourth in completions (Montana-460, Favre-401, Marino-385) and fifth in passing touchdowns (Montana-45, Favre-34, Marino-32, Bradshaw-30). In Super Bowl play, Elway ranks No. 1 in pass attempts (152), No. 3 in completions (76), No. 2 in passing yards (1,128) and tied for second in rushing TDs (4) with Franco Harris and Thurman Thomas (Emmitt Smith has 5). Six of Elway's NFL-record 47 fourth-quarter, game-winning or game-saving drives came in the postseason.

1998: Elway was selected to his ninth Pro Bowl (tying Dan Marino and Warren Moon for most by a QB)—his sixth as a starter and his third consecutive selection—while being inducted in the Colorado Sports Hall of Fame with the Class of 1999 after a season in which he played in 13 of the 16 games (12 starts) and showed that he still ranked among the NFL's most dangerous signal-callers, completing 210 of 356 passes (59.0) for 2,806 yards and 22 touchdowns with 10 interceptions. He was sacked 18 times (-135) and his longest completion was a 58-yd. toss to Rod Smith in Week 14 vs. Kansas City, 12/6). Elway also rushed 37 times for 94 yards (2.5) with a long of 16 (at Miami, 12/21) and one touchdown (vs. Dal., 9/13/98), and caught a 14-yd. pass from Smith (vs. Oak., 11/22). Elway ranked second in the AFC (5th NFL) in passer rating (93.0), first in average gain per attempt (7.88; 4th NFL), while also figuring third in completion pct. (11th NFL), fourth in TD passes (9th NFL) and sixth (12th NFL) in passing yards. He was named AFC Offensive Player of the Week and Miller Lite NFL Player of the Week for his 400-yard passing performance Dec. 6 vs. Kansas City, marking the 15th time in his career he has earned the AFC honor chosen by the NFL. Elway started all three playoff games and completed 45 of 86 passes (52.3%) for 691 yards and three touchdowns with one interception and a long of 80 yds. (TD), and was awarded the Pete Rozelle Trophy as Most Valuable Player of Super Bowl XXXIII, the only player ever to win such honors in his final game. Elway's performance, which lifted Denver to its second consecutive title, was his best performance in a league-record five Super Bowl starts. Setting a record by being the oldest quarterback to start a Super Bowl (38 years, 7 mos.), Elway completed 18 of 29 passes (.621) for 336 yards—the fourth-highest total in Super Bowl history (third at the time)—and a touchdown with one interception, en route to becoming the first No. 7 in the championship game's history—and the oldest player—to be named MVP. Elway cemented the honor by rushing for a 3-yd. touchdown in the 4th qtr. to give Denver a 31-6 lead, making Elway the oldest player in Super Bowl history to score a touchdown, adding a year onto the record he set with his rushing TD in Super Bowl XXXII. Elway's passing touchdown was perhaps the play of the game, however, as he found Rod Smith deep down the middle of the field in the 2nd qtr. for an 80-yd. scoring play to put Denver on top 17-3. It tied for the second-longest play from scrimmage in Super Bowl history, and was the longest by a Bronco in a Super Bowl.

1997: Elway enjoyed yet another stellar season, quarterbacking the Broncos to the first World Championship in franchise history with a 31-24 win over Green Bay in Super Bowl XXXII. He was voted to his eighth Pro Bowl (fifth as a starter), and was named to the All-AFC team by Pro Football Weekly and Football News, and was named second-team All-Pro by College and Pro Football Newsweekly. Elway was also the recipient of the NFL Players Association's Mackey Award as the top quarterback in the AFC. For the year he completed 280 of his 502 pass attempts (55.8%) for 3,635 yards, 27 touchdowns and 11 interceptions. The 27 passing touchdowns set a new franchise record, and his 28 total touchdowns (one rushing) were the second-most of his career (30 in 1996). Elway also had 50 carries for 218 yards rushing (4.4 avg.) on the season, posted a quarterback rating of 87.5 (4th-best in the AFC, 7th in the NFL), and was 10th in the AFC in completion percentage. His third-down passer rating of 87.7 ranked 3rd in the AFC (5th NFL) as did his 27 touchdown passes (4th NFL). Elway helped Denver lead the NFL in total offense (second consecutive season) and in scoring offense for the 1997 season. He was named AFC Offensive Player of the Week for Week 10 (Nov. 2) when he moved into second place all-time in passing yardage and eclipsed 50,000 yards in total offense for his career in a win over Seattle. Elway would later be named AFC Offensive Player of the Month for November (92-149, 61.7%, 1,231 yards, 8 TDs, 0 INT) as the Broncos went 4-1, marking his second such award ever (October 1996). Elway started all four postseason games and engineered the Denver offense on its four-game run to the World Championship, completing 56 of 96 passes (58.3) for 726 yards and three touchdowns, with two interceptions. He was sacked six times (-44) and carried the ball nine times for 25 yards (2.8) with a long of 10 yards and one touchdown.

1996: Elway put together one of the finest seasons of his phenomenal 14-year career, being voted to his seventh Pro Bowl (third as a starter); named second-team All-Pro by AP, College & Pro Football Newsweekly and Football Digest and first-team All-AFC by UPI, Pro Football Weekly and Football News; voted second in the AP NFL Most Valuable Player balloting; voted AFC Player of the Year by the Touchdown Club of Columbus; AFC Offensive Player of the Year by the Kansas City 101 Club; Mackey Award winner for highest quarterback rating in the AFC and AFC MVP by the NFL Players Association. He started 15 of the 16 regular season games and completed 287 of 466 pass attempts (61.6) for 3,328 yards and 26 touchdowns with 14 interceptions, and also rushed 50 times for 249 yards (5.0) with a long of 22 and four touchdowns. His 26 touchdowns tied a career high and franchise record set in 1995. Elway led the AFC in quarterback rating (89.2; 4th NFL), was second in completion percentage (61.6; 5th NFL), third in touchdown passes (26; 4th NFL) and fifth in passing yardage (3,328; 7th NFL), completions (287; 8th NFL) and attempts (466; 9th NFL). His start at Seattle (9/8) marked the 192nd game he has played in his career, most by any player in Broncos franchise history, surpassing Tom Jackson who played in 191 games from 1973-86. In Denver's AFC Divisional Playoff loss to Jacksonville (1/4/97), Elway started and completed 25 of 38 passes for 226 yards and two touchdowns with a long of 18. He also rushed five times for 30 yards with a long of 19.

1995: Elway started all 16 games, completing 316 of 542 passes (58.3%) for 3,970 yards, a then-career-best 26 touchdowns and 14 interceptions. He threw for more than 300 yards on five occasions, also a career best. It was the 10th time in his 13-year NFL career that he had topped the 3,000-yard mark, joining him with Dan Marino (11) as the only quarterbacks in NFL history to accomplish that feat 10 or more times. He also rushed 40 times for 179 yards (4.5) and one touchdown with a long of 15. He led the AFC (tied for 5th NFL) in passing yards, finished third (8th NFL) in completions and was third (8th NFL) in pass attempts. Meanwhile, his fourth-quarter passer rating of 95.2 ranked third in the AFC and fifth in the NFL.

1994: Elway earned his sixth AFC Pro Bowl berth though he missed two of the final three games (at Los Angeles and vs. New Orleans) due to a strained left knee. He finished the season second in the AFC and fourth in the NFL in passer rating with an 85.7, and third in the AFC in passing yards (3,490), attempts (494) and completions (307), with a 2.0 interception percentage. His 62.1 completion percentage was second in the AFC and sixth overall. Elway went over the 3,000-yard passing mark for the ninth time in his career, second only to Dan Marino's 10, and went over the 40,000-yard career total-offense mark. He rushed for 235 yards (second on the team and his ninth 200-yard season), giving him a season total offense figure of 3,725 in the 14 games he played.

1993: Elway was named AFC Most Valuable Player (NFL Players Association), AFC Offensive Player of the Year (UPI, and the Kansas City 101 Club) and AFC Player of the Year (Football News) in 1993. Elway performed at an MVP-pace all year, earning all-AFC (UPI, Football News) and second-team All-NFL (AP, College and Pro Football Newsweekly, and Football Digest), and he was the starting quarterback in the 1994 Pro Bowl (fifth Pro Bowl berth) after a regular season that saw him lead the AFC in all six major quarterback stats categories. Elway's 1993 stats and rankings included a 92.8 rating (first in the AFC, third in the NFL), 551 attempts (first in the entire NFL), 348 completions (first in the entire NFL), a 63.2 completion percentage (first in the AFC and third in the NFL), 25 TD passes (first in the AFC and second in the NFL), 4,030 yards (first in the AFC). Elway's 1.8 interception avoidance percentage was fourth in the AFC but stands as the best in Denver history for any quarterback with more than 75 single-season attempts. In 1993 he set new personal and Denver records for total yards offensively (4,183), completions (348), passing yards (4,030), TD passes (25), and completion percentage (that 63.2 mark tied the figure set by Norris Weese in 1978). The 1993 season was Elway's first 4,000-yard campaign and his eighth 3,000-yard season. He also rushed for 153 yards. Elway was named the AFC Offensive Player of the Week twice and was named by his teammates as Denver's offensive MVP.

1992: Elway completed 174 of 316 passes for 2,242 yards, with 10 touchdowns and 17 interceptions. He gained 94 yards and scored twice on 34 rushing attempts. He missed games 11 through 14 because of a bruised tendon in his right shoulder, suffered while running for a first down against the Giants (11/15). Elway earned two AFC Offensive Player of the Week honors for the year.

1991: Elway completed 242 of 351 passes for 3,253 yards, a total ranked sixth in the AFC and ninth in the NFL, as he was voted to his fourth career Pro Bowl berth. He threw 12 touchdown passes and tied a career low with just 12 interceptions. He had 36 pass completions of 20+ yards, nine of 40+, five of 50+, and four of 60+. Elway was third on the team with 258 yards rushing, and his six TDs led the team and set a new career single season high. He was bothered throughout the second half of the season by a shoulder problem that was corrected by arthroscopic surgery in the 1992 offseason. Elway started both of Denver's playoff contests, completing 30 of 54 passes (55.6%) for 378 yards and one touchdown with two interceptions. He also rushed 10 times for 49 yards (4.9). Elway completed 11 of 21 passes for 121 yards and an interception before leaving the AFC Championship Game in the fourth quarter with a thigh injury.

1990: Elway completed 294 of 502 passes in 1990 (a .586 completion percentage that stood as the highest over the first 10 years of his career) for 3,526 yards, 15 touchdowns, and 14 interceptions. He gained 258 yards on 50 rushing attempts and scored three touchdowns on the ground.

1989: Elway led Denver to its third AFC Championship in four years and earned his third career Pro Bowl invitation. He completed 223 of 416 passes for 3,051 yards, with 18 touchdowns and 18 interceptions, and he rushed for 244 yards on 48 carries, scoring three times. Elway started all three Denver playoff games, including Super Bowl XXIV vs. San Francisco, and completed 42 of 82 passes (51.2%) for 732 yards and four touchdowns with three interceptions, while also rushing for 91 yards on 16 carries (5.7) with a long of 32 and one touchdown.

1988: Elway threw for 3,309 yards and rushed for 234 yards despite being bothered for most of the season by several nagging injuries. He was voted by teammates as Denver's most valuable offensive player for the fourth consecutive year, sharing the award with running back Sammy Winder, following a campaign in which he completed 274 of 496 passes, with 17 touchdowns and 19 interceptions to earn his second consecutive Pro Bowl invitation.

1987: Elway was named the NFL's Most Valuable Player (AP) and the AFC's starting quarterback in the Pro Bowl after turning in a tremendous season in 1987, a year in which he became the first AFC signal-caller since Terry Bradshaw (1978-79) to lead his team to consecutive conference crowns. Elway was named All-NFL (The Sporting News, NEA, AP-second team) and All-AFC (UPI, Pro Football Weekly, The Football News), in addition to being tabbed as the AFC MVP (NFLPA), AFC Player of the Year (The Football News), AFC Offensive Player of the Year (UPI, Kansas City 101 Club), and Colorado Pro Athlete of the Year (Colorado Sports Hall of Fame), as well as earning his second Pro Bowl invitation. He was voted the Broncos' offensive MVP for a regular season performance in which he completed 224 of 410 passes for 3,198 yards, an average of 267 yards per game, with 19 TD passes. He led all AFC quarterbacks in rushing for the fourth consecutive season was second on the team with a career-high 304 yards, scoring four times. Elway started all three of Denver's playoff contests, including Super Bowl XXII vs. Washington, and completed 42 of 89 passes (47.2%) for 797 yards and six touchdowns with five interceptions, while also rushing 18 times for 76 yards

(4.2) with a long of 21 and one touchdown. His 56-yard scoring strike to Ricky Nattiel on Denver's first play from scrimmage provided the earliest touchdown in Super Bowl history (elapsed time of 1:57).

1986: Elway led the Broncos to their first AFC Championship in nine seasons in 1986, while earning his first Pro Bowl berth. He was honored with the Seattle Gold Helmet Award (Professional Football Player of the Year) and received the King of the Hill award from the Colorado Sports Hall of Fame, in addition to being named honorable mention All-NFL (AP) and All-AFC (UPI-second team). Along with his 18 TD passes that year, Elway also scored on an 11-yard run and a 23-yard pass reception from Steve Sewell that is the longest TD catch by a full-time starting QB in NFL history. For the year he completed 280 of 504 passes (55.6%) for 3,485 yards and 19 touchdowns with 13 interceptions, while also rushing 52 times for 257 yards (4.9) with a long of 24 and one touchdown. In the postseason, he added 805 more yards on 57 of 107 passing efficiency (53.3%), with three touchdowns and four interceptions, while rushing 15 times for 101 yards (6.7) with a long of 34 and two touchdowns. Elway directed one of the greatest drives in NFL postseason history in pacing Denver to a 23-20 overtime win over Cleveland for the AFC title. He completed 22 of 38 passes for 244 yards and a TD, that coming on a five-yard strike to Mark Jackson that capped a 15-play, 98-yard drive that tied the game at the end of regulation. In overtime Elway drove the team 60 yards in nine plays to the winning field goal.

1985: Elway took some spectacular steps forward in 1985 as he re-wrote the Denver record book. Elway set Broncos single season records for attempts (605, which led the NFL and fell just four passes short of the NFL record of 609 held by Dan Fouts), completions (327, second in the NFL), passing yards (3,891, second in the NFL), total rushing and passing plays (656, first in the NFL), and total offense (4,414, also first in the league).

1984: Elway led the Broncos to a 12-2 record in his 14 regular season starts in 1984. He completed 214 of 380 passes for 2,598 yards, with 18 TDs and 15 interceptions. Not only was his passing a factor in his leadership of the offense, but he finished third on the team in rushing with 237 yards.

1983: Elway started 10 games in 1983, including the first five before being replaced by Steve DeBerg, and five more after DeBerg was injured. While Elway did not have impressive stats as a rookie, finishing 17th among AFC passers, he carried a tremendous emotional burden, having come to the NFL as the most publicized college prospect since Joe Namath in 1965. Elway was the first player chosen in the 1983 draft and joined the Broncos by trade with Baltimore on May 2. The Broncos, in return, gave the Colts quarterback Mark Herrmann, the rights to OL Chris Hinton and a first-round pick in the 1984 Draft (G Ron Solt). He was also chosen by the Oakland Invaders in the 1983 USFL territorial draft.

COLLEGE: Elway concluded his college career with five major NCAA Division I-A records and nine major Pac-10 marks. He completed 62.1 percent of his career passes (774 of 1,243, both NCAA highs) for 9,349 yards and 77 touchdowns, while setting an NCAA record for the lowest percentage of passes intercepted in a career (3.13 percent). As a senior, Elway was a consensus All-American and finished second in Heisman Trophy balloting while setting virtually every Pac-10 and Stanford career record for total offense and passing. A two-sport star, he played baseball for the New York Yankees' Oneonta (N.Y.) single-A farm club in 1982, hitting for a .318 average and knocking in a team-high 25 RBI in 42 games. Elway, who batted left-handed and threw right-handed, was the Yankees' first selection in the 1981 summer draft (June 8). He hit .349 with nine homers and 50 RBI in 49 games in his final college baseball season as a sophomore. Elway has a degree in economics from Stanford.

PERSONAL: Elway officially announced his retirement from the Denver Broncos on May 2, 1999 in a press conference at the Inverness Hotel and Golf Club in suburban Denver. He is now President and Chief Executive Officer of the Colorado Crush of the Arena Football League, a franchise that he co-owns with Pat Bowlen and Stan Kroenke. On June 12, 2005, the Crush defeated the Georgia Force 51-48 to capture ArenaBowl XIX. The team was formed in June 2002 and began play in 2003. In addition to the considerable time he has spent on the football field and with his various business endeavors, John has poured a great deal of energy into The Elway Foundation—an organization that contributes funds and resources to the prevention and treatment of child abuse. He owned and operated seven automobile franchises in the Denver area until selling them in late 1997 and now is associated with 17 John Elway AutoNation dealerships in the Denver area. A native of Port Angeles, Wash., Elway was the most highly recruited prep athlete in the nation in 1979 and was listed on Parade, Scholastic Coach, Football News and National Coaches Association All-America teams. He had an unparalleled football and baseball career at Granada Hills High School. John was 129 of 200 for 1,837 yards and 19 TDs as a senior, while leading the baseball team to the Los Angeles City championship with a .491 batting average and a 4-2 pitching record. He completed 60 percent of his high school passes for 5,711 yards and 49 touchdowns. The football field at Granada Hills High School was re-named in John's honor in a ceremony June 5, 1998. The Kansas City Royals selected him in the 18th round of the 1979 summer draft (June 5), although he already had signed a national letter of intent with Stanford. John's late father, Jack, coached his son in the East–West Shrine contest in which John earned Offensive MVP laurels. Jack, who passed away in 2001, retired from the Broncos in 2000 after seven years with the club, the last five as the Director of Pro Scouting. John has four children: daughters Jessica Gwen (20), Jordan Marie (19) and Juliana (15), and a son, Jack (16).

(—the second number is the percentage the quarterback has put his team in position to score, allowing for missed field goal and subtracting those drives ended by the clock and replaced due to injury. #—drives for 1984 add to one more than drives started because Elway replaced Kubiak on one drive.)*

DRIVE-ENGINEERING NOTES:

- For his career, he directed Denver to scores in better than 3 in 10 drives; when you adjust the figure as stated above, the figures work to just over 40 in 100.
- In 2,608 career drives started, he was replaced only 10 times due to injury (based on if a replacement QB earned at least one first down on the drive; that's 0.383 percent, or 3.83 in 1,000).
- As far as drive efficiency is concerned, Elway had his best seasons in 1995 and '98.

JOHN ELWAY'S FOURTH-QUARTER HEROICS

In his career (1983-98) John Elway engineered 47 fourth-quarter or overtime, game-saving or game-winning drives for the Broncos, and the team had a record of 46-0-1 in those contests. Those games include:

- 40 fourth-quarter or overtime, game-winning drives (marked below with an asterisk). The Broncos scored the winning points 23 times with fewer than three minutes remaining, 21 times under two minutes and 13 times with less than a minute left.
- seven fourth-quarter, game-tying drives. Denver went on to win six of those contests in regulation or overtime, and one game ended in a tie. The Broncos won in regulation vs. New England (11/4/84) and at Seattle (12/20/85). In overtime, Elway directed the game-winning drive in the AFC Championship Game at Cleveland (1/11/87), while the defense and special teams set up OT wins vs. San Diego (11/17/85), at San Francisco (10/9/88) and at Seattle (10/22/89). The game at Green Bay (9/20/87) ended in a tie.

Elway vs. Hall of Fame Quarterbacks

At the time of his retirement, after 16 seasons, John Elway had thrown and completed more passes, and thrown for more yards than all 18 quarterbacks then enshrined in the Hall of Fame at the equivalent point in each of their careers. He also ranked first in rushing attempts and total offense (combined rushing and passing yards), second in rushing yards, tied for second in rushing touchdowns, second in completion percentage and second in touchdown passes. Among those enshrined in Canton, only Fran Tarkenton had thrown more touchdown passes in his first 16 seasons than Elway, and only Otto Graham had more rushing touchdowns.

Elway Named 1992 Edge NFL Man of the Year

John Elway was named the 1992 Edge NFL Man of the Year for his work with the Elway Foundation, a non-profit organization that has raised millions of dollars that have been directed toward the prevention and treatment of child abuse throughout Colorado.

Among the groups assisted by the Elway Foundation are Family Focus and the Kempe Children's Foundation. The Elway Foundation in 1991 alone raised over $400,000.

Elway was also a member of the Mayor's Council on Physical Fitness and has served as chairman of the National Kidney Foundation for the Rocky Mountain region.

The NFL Man of the Year award is truly unique in that it is the only league-sponsored award that recognizes a player's off-the-field community service work as well as his playing excellence. Perhaps the most prestigious of all NFL awards, it has been in existence since 1970.

He started all 155 regular-season games he played with Denver, a total that ranked seventh all-time in franchise history at the end of his Broncos career, and recorded 24 interceptions that stood as the eighth-highest total in team annals. Atwater's play against Green Bay in Super Bowl XXXII, a game in which he totaled six tackles, one sack, one forced fumble and two pass breakups, was instrumental in Denver winning its first-ever World Championship. He also is remembered for his devastating hit on Chiefs running back Christian Okoye in a 1990 Monday Night Football game. Then: Gerald H. Phipps became the first and only non-player to be inducted into Denver Broncos' Ring of Fame in 1985. Following the takeover by the Phipps brothers, Denver Broncos season ticket sales improved from 8,002 in 1964 to 22,905 in 1965. Before purchasing the Broncos on Feb. 15, 1965, Phipps was the president of the Gerald H. Phipps Inc. Construction Company, which he continued to operate. Phipps was born March 4, 1915, in Denver.

Before joining the Broncos in 1971, Turner was an outstanding kicker for the New York Jets (1964-70), helping lead the club to a victory in Super Bowl III. He was a three-time letterman as a quarterback at Utah State in the early 1960s.

Now: Turner resides in the Denver area and is active in the community. He is an academic tutor at Jefferson Senior High School and is involved with the NFL's Play it Smart program.

Louis Wright

6-2 • 200 • San Jose State

Year Inducted: 1993

Years With Broncos: 1975-86

Cornerback

Then: Louis Wright was the most recent inductee into the Broncos' Ring of Fame before John Elway (1999), entering the Ring in 1993. Wright enjoyed a stellar career at cornerback for Denver, playing in 166 games (163 starts, fourth on all-time Broncos list at the time of his retirement), reeling in 26 interceptions—one of which he returned for a touchdown—and 11 fumble recoveries. Selected by the Broncos in the first round (17th overall) of the 1975 NFL Draft, Wright was named to the Pro Bowl five times in his career (1977-79, '83 and '85). He was named All-NFL by The Sporting News, Pro Football Weekly and the NEA in 1977. He also received All-AFC honors from UPI in 1985. Wright was named Most Valuable Defensive Player by his teammates on two different occasions. He played collegiately at San Jose State, where he lettered twice as a defensive back. He also won two letters in track and once ran the 100 in 9.6 seconds.

Now: Wright teaches at Mrachek Middle School in Aurora, Colo., where he currently resides. He also is an assistant coach for the Rangeview High School football team.

Did You Know?

The Broncos have drafted more players (15) from the University of Florida than any other college since participating in their first draft in 1960. The club also has chosen 14 players from the University of Colorado and 13 players from four different schools: the University of Houston, the University of Miami (Fla.), the University of Nebraska and the University of Southern California.

Gary Zimmerman

Year Inducted: 2003

Tackle

Then: Gary Zimmerman, a 2003 inductee into the Ring of Fame, is the first offensive lineman in the history of the Broncos to be honored with inclusion in the Ring. A Bronco from 1993-97, he played 12 seasons in the NFL (1986-97), and in that time, became one of just a few players ever to be named to two National Football League All-Decade teams. Zimmerman earned first or second-team All-Pro honors eight times and was selected to play in seven Pro Bowls. The 6-6, 294-pound tackle, who played for the Minnesota Vikings from 1986 to 1992 and for the Denver Broncos from 1993 to 1997, was selected to the 1980s and 1990s all-decade squads. He was one of 15 finalists for the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 2003, '04 and '06. Selected in the first round (third overall) of the 1984 supplemental draft by the New York Giants, his signing rights were traded to the Vikings for two second-round picks in the 1986 draft. He spent two seasons with the L.A. Express of the USFL before reporting to the Vikings, where he began a streak of 169 consecutive starts that lasted until 1996 when surgery sidelined him. Zimmerman anchored an offensive line that helped the Vikings lead the NFC in rushing in 1991. He was acquired by the Broncos in a trade before the start of the 1993 season, and with Zimmerman blocking, the Broncos recorded the most successful offensive output in franchise history. Denver led the AFC in total combined yards in 1995, and led the NFL in the same category in 1996 and 1997, a year in which Denver won its first-ever Super Bowl. Additionally, Zimmerman helped the Broncos lead the NFL in rushing in 1996. Equally adept at pass blocking, he protected the quarterbacks in Minnesota and Denver enough to enable them to lead their respective conferences in passing in 1986, 1988, 1993 and 1996.

Now: Zimmerman and his family make their home in Bend, Ore.

JANUARY 14 — The Broncos defeat the Patriots 27-13 in an AFC Divisional Playoff Game to mark the club's first postseason victory at INVESCO Field at Mile High and propel the team to the AFC Championship Game. The win, which was Denver's first in the postseason since defeating Atlanta to capture Super Bowl XXXIII on Jan. 31, 1999, ended the Patriots' NFL-record 10-game postseason winning streak and halted the title hopes of the two-time defending Super Bowl champions. Kicker Jason Elam becomes Denver's all-time postseason leader in points and field goals against the Patriots. In addition, the win gave Head Coach Mike Shanahan more postseason victories (8) than any coach in Broncos history. JANUARY 22 — The Broncos host the Steelers in the AFC Championship Game at INVESCO Field at Mile High but lose 34-17, marking the club's first home loss in a conference championship game (4-1). FEBRUARY 12 — Cornerback Champ Bailey, safety John Lynch, wide receiver Rod Smith and linebacker Al Wilson play in the Pro Bowl. Quarterback Jake Plummer was selected to play in the all-star game as an alternate but was unable to participate due to an injury. FEBRUARY 22 — The Broncos extended the contract of General Manager Ted Sundquist through the 2008 season with an option for the 2009 campaign. MARCH 14 — The Broncos promote Director of Player Personnel Rick Smith to assistant general manager. APRIL 26 — The Broncos promote Director of College Scouting Jim Goodman to Director of Player Personnel. APRIL 29 — On the first day of the 2006 NFL Draft, the Broncos make a pair of major trades to improve the club. Denver acquires the 11th overall pick from St. Louis (in exchange for the 15th overall pick and a 2006 third-round choice) and selects highly touted Vanderbilt quarterback Jay Cutler. A few hours later, the Broncos acquire Pro Bowl wide receiver Javon Walker from Green Bay in exchange for a 2006 second-round pick (37th overall). MAY — The Broncos conclude season ticket renewals and waiting list additions for 2006, leading to an anticipated 37th consecutive season of home sellouts.

Miscellaneous

The Denver Broncos' Pledge to Community Development

The Denver Broncos, in collaboration with Broncos Charities, strive to improve the lives of Coloradoans through youth, health and hunger relief initiatives.

YOUTH PROGRAMS

Denver Broncos Boys and Girls Club

The Denver Broncos Boys and Girls Club was established in August of 2003 with a $1.2 million investment over a minimum of five years. Additionally, the Broncos have committed to integrating community programs and player visits to the Club's operations, truly building upon a legacy of investment that transcends a mere monetary contribution. Currently, the Club's membership has swelled to capacity with more than 1,500 members and an average nightly attendance of over 200 kids.

Youth Football

The Denver Broncos are committed to promoting and supporting youth football throughout Colorado. In this spirit, the Broncos established a Youth Football Task Force in 2004 comprised of major youth leagues in the metro Denver area to address common issues such as expansion, new programming and cross league play. NFL programs such as Junior Player Development and High School Player Development continue to grow as they have proven their effectiveness in successfully engaging youth players. In addition, the Denver Broncos will host the third annual Broncos Bowl—a preseason celebration of youth football held at INVESCO Field at Mile High that kicks off the youth seasons with an invitation to local teams to scrimmage one another in a Broncos game-day atmosphere.

Kids Caravan

Entering its third year, Kids Caravan travels to bring the excitement of the Denver Broncos to the young fan base in the Colorado community. Broncos players, cheerleaders and Miles are just a few of the perks of the Caravan. Gatorade Jr. Training Camps along with organized activities and inflatables round out an action-packed day for kids ages 6-12. Participants are recruited from local Boys and Girls Club chapters and through marketing and sponsor giveaways.

Broncos Charities Reading Corners

Broncos Charities Reading Corners is a program that provides a library reading corner with Broncos-colored kid-friendly furniture in elementary schools throughout the Denver Public Schools system. The program hopes to establish five-to-seven reading corners every year and works with Denver Public Schools Foundation to select the schools based on need and reading scores.

HEALTH PROGRAMS

Drive for Life

Since 1998, The Denver Broncos Community Blood Drive, Drive For Life, has been held on a Tuesday during the football season at INVESCO Field at Mile High. Working in conjunction with Bonfils Blood Center, Drive For Life has grown into one of Denver's best Broncos traditions with record numbers of donors helping to bolster Colorado's blood supply just in time for the difficult winter months. "Drive for Life" has become the largest single-day blood drive in the history of Colorado and one of the largest in the nation.

HUNGER AND HOMELESSNESS

Prostate and Breast Cancer Awareness Programs

The health of Coloradoans has been identified by the Broncos as a major initiative, and prostate and breast cancer awareness have emerged as a major focus of the Broncos health efforts. Prostate Cancer Education Council spokesperson Al Wilson leads the charge in promoting prostate cancer screening and early detection and in the month of October hosts a pink hat awareness campaign for the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation at Broncos home games.

Broncos Wives Food Drive

The annual Broncos Wives Food Drive is perhaps the best-known DBC program benefiting Colorado's hungry and homeless. Since 1981, the wives of Broncos players, coaches and staff have collected cash donations and non-perishable food items outside the gates of the stadium from generous Broncos fans before a home football game.

CHAMPIONS IN THE COMMUNITY

Denver Broncos Holiday Party

For the third consecutive year, the Denver Broncos invite families of the Denver Rescue Mission and other local hunger relief agencies to enjoy a holiday meal alongside Broncos players and cheerleaders during the holiday season at INVESCO Field at Mile High. Families are selected based upon need and given a holiday gift bag with gift certificates and small gifts to enjoy.

Walter Payton Man of the Year

The Denver Broncos are proud to honor their nominees for the annual NFL Walter Payton Man of the Year Award given to the player who best provides leadership for his teammates on the gridiron and his fellow citizens in the community. John Lynch was the Broncos' 2005 Walter Payton Man of the Year. 2005 Nominees: Ashley Lelie, Rod Smith and Al Wilson.

In addition to the four nominees for Man of the Year, the Broncos began recognizing Ambassador Awards in 2002 to honor those players within the organization who are developing into strong community leaders. 2005 Ambassadors: Todd Devoe, Ian Gold, George Foster, Kyle Johnson and Jake Plummer.

The Denver Broncos Cheerleaders

In 2005, the 34 members of the Denver Broncos cheerleading squad divided more than 1,400 hours of civic involvement among 85 Colorado organizations. Many associations, from Craig Hospital to the Race for the Cure, were visited by members of last year's team. For the upcoming season, the squad will continue to promote community involvement as its primary commitment.

Members of the Denver Broncos cheerleaders toured eight military bases in Afghanistan and the Middle East to celebrate July 4, 2005. The two-week tour traveled military bases to boost the troops' morale and thank them for their service to our country.

In April 2005, three Broncos cheerleaders and five players traveled to Walter Reed Medical Center in Washington, D.C., to visit soldiers who have been injured in the war in Iraq. The cheerleaders are committed to helping the U.S. military and were honored to be able to thank them on behalf of the Denver Broncos.

Entering their 14th season, the Denver Broncos cheerleaders are one of the premier teams in the National Football League. The Broncos brought cheerleaders back in 1993 after a 17-year absence and are proud of the work the team does, both on the field and more importantly, in the community.

The Broncos cheerleaders are selected through auditions held each spring.

In 2006, 250 women tried out for the 34 available positions. Auditions focus primarily on dance ability; however, appearance, personal accomplishments and community involvement also are contributing factors.

Known for their distinctive western uniforms, the cheerleaders wear long leather chaps and jackets in the fall months, ski-wear for cold games and a more traditional cheerleading leather skirt and vest in the summer months. The three uniform changes give the group flexibility with the rapidly changing Colorado weather.

In 2006, the cheerleaders will have a calendar, poster and other merchandise available for sale. For more information on the cheerleaders, contact Teresa Shear at (720) 258-3176 or look up their page on the official Denver Broncos Web site, www.DenverBroncos.com.

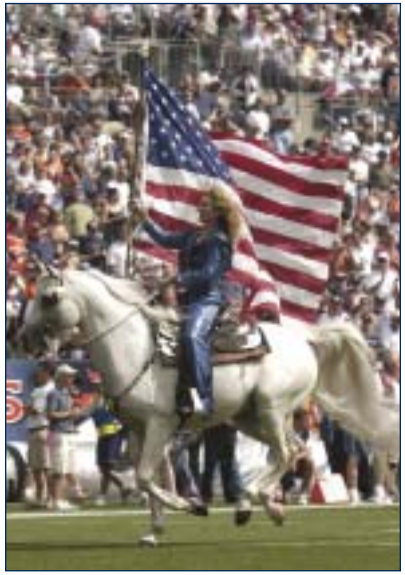
Mascots

"Thunder"

The Denver Broncos are notorious for having thunderstorms throughout the fall and winter—That is Thunder storming the field. Thunder is a purebred Arabian stallion that acts as the team's mascot. Following every Denver Broncos touchdown, Thunder displays his impressive canter from one end zone to the other.



Thunder, provided by Magness Racing Ventures of Denver, will be entering his third year during the Broncos' 2006 campaign. Thunder took the reins as the Broncos' mascot during a ceremony at the Sunday night game against the Kansas City Chiefs on Sept. 12, 2004.

The original Thunder served as the Broncos' mascot for 11 years before retiring at the start of the 2004 campaign. Its registered name is JB Kobask, but the stallion was given the "stage name" Thunder for his mascot duties. Thunder made his Mile High debut Sept. 12, 1993, during a Broncos victory over the San Diego Chargers. In addition to his appearances at all Broncos home games, Thunder also appeared at Super Bowls XXXII in San Diego and XXXIII in Miami. The original Thunder will continue making appearances at events and community functions.

Thunder had been Sharon Magness Blake's personal riding horse for five years before assuming the duties of Broncos mascot last season.

"Miles"

The Denver Broncos also have an official mascot, Miles, introduced in 2001 when the Broncos began play in INVESCO Field at Mile High.

Popular with all fans and especially children, Miles entertains the Broncos' faithful at every home game and makes numerous appearances throughout the Denver community year-round.

Miles has performed all across Colorado and the world, including appearances at the Chinese New Year Parade in Hong Kong, the Macy's Thanksgiving Parade, as well as appearances on MTV and Fox's "Best Damn Sports Show Period."

If you would like to inquire about scheduling Miles to appear at your next event, please contact Brad Post in the Broncos' marketing department at (720) 258-3114.

INVESCO Field at Mile High

The Denver Broncos began a new era in 2001 as they took to the field in a new stadium, INVESCO Field at Mile High. Built adjacent to their previous home of 41 years, Mile High Stadium, the new stadium features first-class, state-of-the art amenities for the teams and fans alike.

With seating capacity set at 76,125, INVESCO Field at Mile High is one of the largest stadiums in the National Football League. It includes 1.7 million square feet of space (approximately twice that of Mile High Stadium), providing the ultimate in comfort and convenience—including wider concourses, wider seats, more restrooms, elevators and escalators and full-service accommodations for people with disabilities.

INVESCO Field at Mile High features 132 luxury suites on two levels, as well as 8,800 club seats. It is highlighted by an emphasis on state-of-the-art technology while maintaining the traditional aspects of Mile High Stadium that gave the Broncos a decided home-field advantage over the years. Those features include the close proximity of the seats to the field as well as steel treads and risers that fans utilize to create the same deafening roar that characterized Mile High Stadium.

The stadium was designed and built by Turner/Empire/Alvarado Construction and HNTB Architects in association with Fentress Bradburn Architects and Bertram A. Bruton Architects. Numerous Colorado companies and hundreds of professional designers, engineers and construction tradesmen were involved in the construction of the new state-of-the-art facility.

Construction began during the summer of 1999, and official groundbreaking on the stadium was held Aug. 17, 1999. The Broncos won the first game ever played in the new stadium, 31-24, over New Orleans on Aug. 25, 2001, in the preseason and won the first regular-season game, 31-20, against the New York Giants on Sept. 10, 2001.

Broncos Stadium History

The Denver Broncos played nearly all of their home games for the first 41 seasons of club history in one building. Known since 1969 as Mile High Stadium, the facility opened in 1948 as Bears Stadium for the Denver Bears of baseball's old Western League with long range plans to utilize it for football as well. When Denver became a charter member of the American Football League in 1959, the south stands (8,100 seats) and portable east stands (9,616 seats) were added to give a capacity of 34,657 for football. The Broncos began play in 1960.

After Denver voters turned down a stadium bond issue to build an all-purpose metropolitan stadium in 1967, a non-profit group began a fund-raising drive with the goal of purchasing the stadium for the city. In February 1968, the group bought the stadium from Rocky Mountain Empire Sports for $1.8 million and presented it to the city of Denver. A 16,000-seat upper deck was immediately constructed over the west stands, raising the capacity to more than 50,000 for the 1968 season. In December 1968, the stadium was renamed Denver Mile High Stadium.

The Broncos posted a home record of 191-109-7 (.634) in 41 seasons of play from 1960-2000. With the exception of two games played at the University of Denver Stadium (1962 and '63 home openers; 1-1 record), every Broncos home game was played in the single facility known either as Bears Stadium or Mile High Stadium with the club posting a 190-108-7 record (.638) in the building. The Broncos went 19-40-2 (.328) from 1960-68 in Bears Stadium then 171-68-5 (.711) from 1969-2000 after the name was changed to Mile High Stadium.

The stadium was filled for every regular-season game from the beginning of the 1970 season through its final season in 2000. The Broncos sold out 237 consecutive regular-season games, and with postseason contests the total reached 250 over the 31-year period.

Expansion of Mile High Stadium, begun in 1975, was completed for the 1977 season to give the Broncos the seventh-largest home facility in the league. Denver voters passed a $25 million bond issue in 1974 to expand and improve the stadium from its capacity of 51,706 to 75,100. The stadium held 63,532 for the 1976 season, halfway through the project.

Bringing the stadium to its final capacity of 76,098 in 1986 was the construction of 60 Penthouse Suites atop the west stands.

One of the unique aspects of Mile High Stadium was its movable east stands. The massive single section, when fully extended, formed a horseshoe configuration for football, and when retracted, was in position for baseball. The three-tiered structure, measuring 535 feet in length, 135 feet in height and 200 feet in depth, weighed nearly nine million pounds and was moved a distance of 145 feet between the two configurations. The move was facilitated by a process involving a thin layer of water on which the structure moved. Water was pumped onto more than 90,000 square feet of runways and formed a .003-inch sheet upon which the stands rested. Hydraulic rams then pushed the stands forward at the rate of three feet per minute, making the move last somewhere around two hours.

Demolition of Mile High Stadium was completed in March 2002.

BRONCOS' RADIO NETWORK

Dave Logan
Play-by-Play

It's a Rocky Mountain tradition: 850 KOA and the Denver Broncos. For the 37th consecutive season, Denver's 50,000-watt station serves as the flagship for the Denver Broncos game broadcast network.

Dave Logan is in his 10th full season as voice of the Broncos, following seven years as color analyst on the broadcasts. Logan's background reads like an All-American dream: A Colorado native and 1971 winner of the Denver Post Gold Helmet Award, he is one of two athletes (along with Dave Winfield) drafted by franchises in Major League Baseball, the NBA and the NFL. Logan chose the latter, starring for the Cleveland Browns from 1976-83, and ascending into the top five of virtually every receiving category in the franchise's record books. He played his final season in Denver in 1984.

Since then, Logan has brought his love for sports and knowledge of the games to Colorado radio listeners as co-host of KOA's award-winning weekday afternoon talk show from 3-7 p.m. He was named 1997 Broadcast Citizen of the Year in Colorado and has been Colorado Sportscaster of the Year three times, in 1992, '93 and '98. Logan also is one of the most accomplished prep football coaches in Colorado state history, coaching three high school football teams to state championships while taking a fourth team (Mullen) to the state semifinals in his first year at the helm in 2003. After leading Mullen to a state championship victory in 2004, Logan helped the school again reach the state finals in 2005 and enters his fourth year at Mullen in 2006. Additionally, Logan led Chatfield (2000-02) to a state title in 2001 and Arvada West (1993-99) to a title in 1997.

David Diaz-Infante
Color Commentary

David Diaz-Infante joins Dave Logan for his second season providing color commentary for the Broncos' radio network. A former Broncos offensive lineman, Diaz-Infante has been involved with local radio broadcasting since retiring from the NFL after the 2001 season, providing color commentary for the radio broadcasts of the Arena Football League's Colorado Crush during the franchise's first three seasons. He played five years for the Broncos (1995-98, 2001) as a center and made key contributions during their back-to-back Super Bowl championships. In addition to appearing in 41 games (9 starts) with Denver, he played his rookie year (1987) with San Diego and the 1999 season with Philadelphia to total 69 career regular-season games. Diaz-Infante also enjoyed successful stints with the Frankfurt Galaxy of the World League of American Football (1991-92) and the Sacramento Gold Miners of the Canadian Football League (1993-94).

BRONCOS PRESEASON TELEVISION NETWORK

Gary Miller
Play-by-Play

For the third season, KCNC is the primary television home of the Denver Broncos. As the Broncos' partner television station, the CBS affiliate will carry three of the team's four preseason contests. KCNC will televise Denver's preseason games at Detroit on Friday, Aug. 11 (7:30 p.m. EDT), vs. Tennessee on Saturday, Aug. 19 (7 p.m. MDT) and at Arizona on Thursday, Aug. 31 (7 p.m. MST).

The broadcast team will consist of Gary Miller (play-by-play), former Broncos fullback Reggie Rivers (color analyst) and Vic Lombardi (broadcast host).

Miller, who is a Brooklyn native, joined KCNC in June of 1991 and has been covering the Broncos since the fall of 1991. He has hosted various Broncos shows, including "Broncos Beat" and "Sports Extra with Terrell Davis" as well as Broncos pre and post-game shows. He is looking forward to hosting "The Mike Shanahan Show" as well as being featured on "Broncos Live" during the 2006 campaign. Miller also is a contributor to "Countdown to Kickoff" for the ninth year and "Broncos All-Access" on Sunday nights. The Long Island University graduate worked in California and Washington before landing the position at KCNC in Denver.

Reggie Rivers
Color Commentary

Rivers, a Broncos fullback from 1991-96, is the newest addition to the KCNC sports family. He has become a fixture in the Denver media landscape since arriving in Denver in 1991. He started with a weekly column in the Rocky Mountain News as a rookie, which was supposed to be a four-week stint but turned into an eight-year relationship. He has been an analyst on KCNC's pregame show since 1997. Beginning in 1993, he served as a guest-host on several local television and radio shows, including "Broncos Beat," "Sports Extra" and a weekly radio segment on 850 KOA called "Rolling with Rivers." In addition to being KCNC's weekend sports anchor, he currently writes a weekly column for Pro Football Weekly, hosts a PBS show called "Global Agenda" and is working toward a Master's degree in International Studies at the University of Denver.

Vic Lombardi
Sideline Reporter

Denver-native Lombardi has wanted to be a sportscaster since he was 10 years old. He grew up on Denver's west side, in the shadow of Mile High Stadium. After interning for KCNC as a student, he later joined the station in June of 1998. After graduating from Holy Family High School in Denver, Lombardi attended the University of Colorado at Boulder but graduated from Notre Dame in 1991. He began his broadcasting career in South Bend, Ind., before moving to Austin, Texas. The 17-time Emmy Award winner took a job in Phoenix before returning to his roots in Denver. Recently named the station's lead sports anchor, Lombardi brings extensive experience as a contributor to Broncos-oriented shows, including hosting "Countdown to Kickoff" since 1999, "Broncos All-Access" since 2003 and "Broncos Live with John Lynch" since 2005. He also hosted all of the station's preseason pre-game shows and in 2004 "Broncos Saturday Night."

KCNC also produces a number of Broncos specials, including weekly programs "The Mike Shanahan Show" and "Broncos Live with John Lynch."

AC Joint — Acromioclavicular joint; joint of the shoulder where acromion process of the scapula and the distal end of the clavicle meet; most shoulder separations occur at this point.

Abduct — Movement of any extremity away from the midline of the body. This action is achieved by an abductor muscle.

Abrasion — Any injury which rubs off the surface of the skin.

Abscess — An infection which produces pus; can be the result of a blister, callus, penetrating wound or laceration.

Adduct — Movement of an extremity toward the midline of the body. This action is achieved by an adductor muscle.

Adhesion — Abnormal adherence of collagen fibers to surrounding structures during immobilization following trauma or as a complication of surgery which restricts normal elasticity of the structures involved.

Aerobic — Exercise in which energy needed is supplied by oxygen inspired and is required for sustained periods of vigorous exercise with a continually high pulse rate.

Deltoid Ligament — Ligament that connects the tibia to bones of the medial aspect of the foot and is primarily responsible for stability of the ankle on the medial side. Is sprained less frequently than other ankle ligaments.

Deltoid Muscle — Muscles at top of the arm, just below the shoulder, responsible for shoulder motions to the front, side and back

Disc, Intelvertebral — A flat, rounded plate between each vertebrae of the spine. The disc consists of a thick fiber ring which surrounds a soft gel-like interior. It functions as a cushion and shock absorber for the spinal column.

Disc, Intervertebral — A flat, rounded plate between each vertebrae of the spine. This disc consists of a thick fiber ring which surrounds a soft gel-like interior. It functions as a cushion and shock absorber for the spinal column.

Dislocation — Complete displacement of joint surfaces.

Eccentric Muscle Contraction — An overall lengthening of the muscles as it develops tension and contracts to control motion performed by an outside force; oft times referred to a "negative" contraction in weight training.

Eccymosis — Bleeding into the surface tissue below the skin, resulting in a "black and blue" effect

Effusion — Accumulation of fluid, in various spaces in the body, or the knee itself. Commonly, the knee has an effusion after an injury.
Electrical Galvanic Stimulation (EGS) — An electrical therapeutic modality that sends a current to the body at select voltages and frequencies in order to stimulate pain receptors, disperse edema, or neutralize muscle spasms among other functional applications.
Electromyogran (EMG) — Test to determine nerve function.
Epicondylitis — Inflammation in the elbow due to overuse.
Ethyl Chloride — "Cold spray," a chemical coolant sprayed onto an injury site to produce a local, mild anesthesia.
Fat Percentage — The amount of body weight that is adipose, fat tissue. Fat percentages can be calculated by underwater weighing, measuring select skinfold thickness, or by analyzing electrical impedance.
Femur Thigh bone; longest bone in the body.
Fibula — Smaller of the two bones in the lower leg; runs from knee to the ankle along the outside of the lower leg.
Flexibility — The ability of muscle to relax and yield to stretch forces.
Flexibility Exercise — General term used to describe exercise performed by a player to passively or actively elongate soft tissue without the assistance of an athletic trainer.
Fracture — Breach of continuity of a bone. Types of fractures include simple, compound, comminuted, greenstick incomplete, impacted, longitudinal, oblique, stress, or transverse.
Gamekeeper's Thumb — Tear of the ulnar collateral ligament of the metacarpophalangeal joint of the thumb.
Glycogen — Form in which foods are stored in the body as energy.
Grade One Injury — A mild injury in which ligament, tendon, or other musculoskeletal tissue may have been stretched or contused, but not torn of otherwise disrupted.
Grade Two Injury — A moderate injury when musculoskeletal tissue has been partially, but not totally, torn which causes appreciable limitation in function of the injured tissue.
Grade Three Injury — A severe injury in which tissue has been significantly, and in some cases totally, torn or otherwise disrupted causing a virtual total loss of function.
Hamstring — Category of muscle that runs from the buttocks to the knee along the back of the thigh. It functions to flex the knee, and is oft times injured as a result of improper conditioning or lack of muscle flexibility.
Heat Cramps — Painful muscle spasms of the arms or legs caused by excessive body heat and depletion of fluids and electrolytes.
Heat Exhaustion — Mild form of shock due to dehydration because of excessive sweating when exposed to heat and humidity.
Heat Stroke — Condition of rapidly rising internal body temperature that overwhelms the body's mechanisms for release of heat and could result in death if not cared for appropriately.
Heel Cup — Orthotic device that is inserted into the shoe and worm under the heel to give support to the Achilles tendon and help absorb impacts at the heel.
Hematoma — Tumor-like mass produced by an accumulation of coagulated blood in a cavity.

Shin Splint — A catch-all syndrome describing pain in the skin that is not a fracture or tumor and cannot be defined otherwise.
Sorbothane — An energy absorbing polyurethane utilized in some foot orthotics to absorb shock forces of the foot.

Spondylosis — Abnormal vertebral fixation or immobility.
Sports hernia — Another name for athletic pubalgia, which is a chronic groin injury involving inflammation around the pelvis and groin musculature.
Sprain — Injury resulting from a stretch or twist of the joint and causes various degrees of stretch or tear of a ligament or other soft tissue at the joint.
Sternum — The breast bone.
Steroids — Any one of a large number of hormone-like substances. See Anabolic steroids and cortical steroids
Strain — Injury resulting from a pull or torsion to the muscle or tendon that causes various degrees of stretch or tear to the muscle or tendon tissue.
Stress Fracture — A hair-line type of break in a bone caused by overuse.
Stress X-ray — A continual X-ray taken when a portion of the body is stressed to its maximum in order to determine joint stability. This is a test utilized in some ankle injuries.
Stretching — Any therapeutic maneuver designed to elongate shortened soft tissue structures and thereby increase flexibility.
Subluxation — Partial dislocation of a joint. The term usually implies that the joint can return to its normal position without formal reduction.
Talus — The ankle bone that articulates with the tibia and fibula to form the ankle joint.
Target Heart Rate — A pre-determined pulse to be obtained during exercise when circulation is working at full efficient capacities.
Tarsals — Group of seven bones of the foot consisting of the calnavicular, talus, cuboid and three cuneiform bones.
Temporomandibular Joint (TMJ) — The articulation of the jaw and skull; considered by some to be vital in resolution of injuries throughout the body.
Tendinities — Inflammation of the tendon and/or tendon sheath, caused by chronic overuse or sudden injury.
Tendon — Tissue that connects muscle to bone.
Tennis Elbow — General term for lateral elbow pain.
Thoracic — Group of twelve vertegrae located in the thorax and articulate with the twelve ribs.
Thoracic Outlet Compression Syndrome — A neuro-vascular disorder of the upper extremity common in throwing.
Tibia — Larger of the two bones of the lower leg and is the weight-bearing bone of the shin.

Trapezius — Flat triangular muscle covering the posterior surface of the neck and shoulder.
Triceps — Muscle of the back of the upper arm, primarily responsible for extending the elbow.
Ulna — Forearm bone that runs from the tip of the elbow to the little finger side of the wrist.
Ulnar Nerve — Nerve in elbow commonly irritated from excessive throwing.
Ultrasound — An electrical modality that transmits a sound wave through an applicator into the skin to the soft tissue in order to heat the local area for relaxing the injured tissue and/or disperse edema.

The Broncos have a media Web site (www.denverbroncos.com/mediaroom) designed to serve the needs of all media who cover the club. The site contains the most up-to-date and complete information on the team, as well as a photo database for convenient download of high-resolution images. The media website also serves as the primary means to request credentials for Broncos home games, through our online credentialing process.

The Broncos do not deliver credentials by mail. Requests for game credentials must be formally made by Tuesday of the week of each home game, and may be picked up at the Media Will-Call window in the North tunnel of INVESCO Field at Mile High on game day. Should transmission facilities be required, please arrange for same through local representatives.

As a general rule, the Denver Broncos do not issue any types of press credentials to weekly newspapers or magazines, unless they are of national circulation on specific assignment.

It is understood that all credentials will be used for the purpose for which they were issued, without exception. Violation of this policy will subject the bearer to ejection from INVESCO Field at Mile High.

WORKING PRESS: Admittance to the Broncos' press box is restricted to the WORKING PRESS ONLY. Credentials are marked with individual identification. Passes are non-transferable.

PHOTOGRAPHERS: Photographers are asked to take special note of the following conditions for use of press credentials, as set by the National Football League:

NOTICE OF CREDENTIAL USE CONDITIONS

"This working credential is issued as a courtesy to an organization (the "Accredited Organization") for the sole purpose of providing stadium access to an individual (the "Bearer") who has a legitimate working function (media or game service) in connection with the game for which this credential is issued (the "Game"). It is Non-Transferable. Any unauthorized use of this credential subjects the Bearer to ejection from the stadium and prosecution for criminal trespass, and subjects the Accredited Organization to revocation of its credentials for future NFL games or events. The NFL is defined for the purposes of this credential to include the National Football League, its affiliates, its member clubs, and their agents and employees. The NFL, at its sole discretion, may revoke any Accredited Organization's or individual Bearer's credentials.

This credential (if issued for a media function) authorizes (i) the use by the Accredited Organization, solely for news and editorial coverage of the Game, of any descriptions (including statistical descriptions), accounts, photographs, films, audio or video recordings, or drawings of the Game or of any player interviews, press conferences, or other stadium activities related to the Game (collectively, "Game Information") taken, made, created, or compiled by the Accredited Organization or the Bearer, and (ii) the use by the Accredited Organization of any NFL or NFL club logos or trademarks (the "Marks") in connection with its authorized use of the Game Information. Any other use or attempted use by the Bearer or the Accredited Organization of Game Information or Marks, including any distribution of Game Information to third parties other than ultimate consumers (e.g., newspaper readers) for their use (whether before or after the conclusion of the Game, and whether or not for editorial purposes) and any authorization of any third party to redistribute Game Information or to use any Marks, is expressly prohibited, unless the Accredited Organization has obtained the advance written permission of the NFL for such other use. While a game is in progress, the Accredited Organization's and Bearer's distribution of textual information, audio reports and photographs must be time-delayed and/or limited in amount as set forth in the transmittal documents accompanying this working credential.

Accredited Organization agrees that Game Information taking the form of film, video, or digital video recordings ("Video Material") may be used only in connection with a regularly scheduled broadcast television newscast aired by the Accredited Organization within a seven-day period following the Game, and further agree that its use of Video Material in such newscasts shall not exceed (a) six (6) minutes of "same-day" post-game highlights on game days and (b) two (2) minutes of current-season highlights on any other day, or (c) if an Accredited Organization airs a continuous-loop news service, Video Material including more than seven (7) plays in any 15-minute segment or fourteen (14) plays in any 30-minute segment of such service. Use of Video Material in any other manner or on any other media distribution platform without the advance written permission of the NFL and, where applicable, NFL Productions LLC (d/b/a NFL Films) is expressly prohibited.

The Accredited Organization and the Bearer assume all risk incident to the performance by the Bearer of his or her services; assume all risk incident to attending NFL games; agree that the NFL has no responsibility for any equipment in use in the stadium; agree that they are not acting for the NFL in any manner whatsoever and are not employees or agents of the NFL; and agree to indemnify and hold harmless the NFL from and against all liability, loss, damage or expense resulting from or arising out of the issuance of this credential or the Bearer's presence in the stadium, except to the extent such liability, loss, damage or expense arises out of the willful or intentional misconduct of the NFL. The Bearer and his or her belongings may be searched upon entry into the stadium and the Bearer consents to such searches and waives any claims that he or she might have against the NFL in connection therewith. If the Bearer fails to consent to such searches, it is agreed and understood that he or she will be denied access to the stadium. Any Bearer who is deemed disorderly, or who fails to comply with these terms or any and all security measures, shall be subject to, if appropriate, ejection from the stadium and prosecution, and shall subject the Accredited Organization to revocation of its credentials for future NFL games or events.

Acceptance of the credential constitutes agreement by the Accredited Organization and the Bearer to abide by the foregoing conditions. Thank you for your cooperation."

As a general rule, field photo passes used for still photography will not be granted locker room access postgame.

2005 BRONCOS IN PRIME TIME

The Broncos were undefeated in prime-time contests during the 2005 campaign, posting a 2-0 record in regular-season action and a 1-0 mark in the postseason in night games. The Broncos defeated the Kansas City Chiefs 30-10 on ABC's Monday Night Football at INVESCO Field at Mile High on Sept. 26 and beat the Buffalo Bills 28-17 on Dec. 17 in a Saturday night contest at Ralph Wilson Stadium that was televised by ESPN. In the postseason, the Broncos won their AFC Divisional Playoff Game against the New England Patriots by a 27-13 margin on Jan. 14 in a home game televised on CBS.

BRONCOS FUTURE OPPONENTS

The National Football League realigned its divisional and conference structure in 2002 with the introduction of the Houston Texans as an expansion franchise, and with that adopted a scheduling format that determines the majority of each team's opponents through the 2009 season. The formula, for each team, includes home and away games against each division foe (6 games), one game against each team in another division within a team's conference (4 games), one game against each team in a division from the other conference (4 games) and two games against conference opponents to be determined by a team's division finish the previous year. For example, in a year when the Broncos play each team from the AFC North (as in 2006), their two additional AFC opponents would be the teams from the East and South who finished first in their respective divisions (as the Broncos did in the West).

INTERCONFERENCE SUCCESS

The Broncos have posted a 77-56-2 (.578) record in interconference play since the 1970 AFL-NFL merger, a winning percentage that ranks as the fourth-best total in the NFL during that period entering the 2006 season. Denver trails only Miami (87-42-0 / .674), Oakland (85-48-1 / .638) and Pittsburgh (76-51-1 / .598) for the best interconference winning percentage since 1970.

Since 1995, the Broncos have compiled a 30-14 (.682) record in games played against NFC clubs. This record includes an impressive 18-4 mark (.818) at home and a 12-10 total (.545) on the road. The Broncos have had only one losing record since 1995 in their four-game annual schedule against NFC teams with the club going 1-3 against the NFC North in 2003.
